The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Library of the Public
Archives of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol $\rightarrow$ (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

La bibliothèque des Archives
publiques du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole $\rightarrow$ signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

CHANGES IN SYNOD ROLLS.

Reports as to the changes in the Rolls of the several Synods and the Presbytery of Manitoba, which had taken place during the past year, were given in. These will be found in the Appendix. The Assembly ordered to be placed on record the following obituary notices of Ministers, who have been removed by death in the course of the year:—

REV. ALEXANDER SPENCE, D.D.

Dr. Spence, who died at Elgin, Scotland, on the 4th September, 1878, in the 74th year of his age, was a man of superior attainments and highly cultivated intellect. He was a native of Aberdeenshire, and studied at the Universities of Aberdeen and Edinburgh. He was ordained by the Presbytery of Aberlour, in the year 1841, as the first Presbyterian Minister of St. Vincent, West Indies, where he officiated for six years and a-half. He was inducted as Minister of St. Andrew's church, Ottawa (then Bytown), on 27th July, 1848, and continued his ministrations till October, 1867, when he retired from the active duties of the Ministry, returned to Scotland, taking up his residence at Elgin, in Morayshire. In 1864 he received from the Queen's University, Kingston, the degree of D.D. As a Minister of the Gospel, and as a member of society, Dr. Spence was highly esteemed and respected. His interest in the Canadian Church continued unabated, and in his last will and testament he gave very substantial proofs of his interest, bequeathing to Queen's University and College, Kingston, $3,800, and $1,000 to found a scholarship in Theology, in addition to handsome legacies for the Ministers' Widows' and Orphans' Fund, and the fund for Aged and Infirm Ministers.

REV. ALEXANDER LEWIS.

The Rev. Alexander Lewis, of Mono Mills, Ont., departed this life on the 4th December, at the ripe age of 88. Mr. Lewis was ordained to the office of the ministry in Nova Scotia in the year 1822. He came to Canada in 1837 and joined the United Synod of Upper Canada which, in 1840, became incorporated with the branch of the Church of Scotland then existing. He retired from the active duties of the ministry in 1865. For many years his parish in reality extended over several Townships. Presbyterianism owes much to his indefatigable labours in this section of the country. The numerous Presbyterian churches that are now to be seen, only six or seven miles apart, for more than twenty miles square, bear witness to his zeal in the Master's cause. Mr. Lewis has left behind the record of a busy and successful life. He died in the assurance of faith.

REV. CHARLES INNES CAMERON.

The Rev. Charles Innes Cameron died at New Edinburgh, on the 3rd March, after a lingering illness borne with great patience and resignation to the Divine will. Mr. Cameron was born at Kilmallie, near Fort William, Scotland, in 1837. He came to Canada in 1858, and immediately entered Queen's College, Kingston, where he graduated and afterwards passed two years in the Theological Hall. He completed his divinity curriculum in Glasgow University in 1865. He was ordained by the Presbytery of Glasgow, on 2nd August following, and immediately proceeded to India as a missionary of the Church of Scotland. On account of impaired health, he left India in 1869, went to Australia, and entered on pastoral work at Geelong. He returned to Canada in March, 1873, and was inducted to the charge of New Edinburgh, on the 31st January, 1876. He had not been long settled, when his health again gave way, and in December, 1878, the Presbytery of Ottawa very reluctantly accepted the resignation of his charge, the duties of which he felt unable longer to discharge. From that time he gradually sank: but though he suffered from long weakness, he was strengthened with might in the inner man, and finished his course rejoicing in God his Saviour, and in the full assurance of the precious faith he had preached to others.

REV. JAMES WHYTE.

The Rev. James Whyte, of Manotick and Gloucester, was born at Perth, Scotland, in 1830. He was a student of Glasgow University, and on his family emigrating to Canada, attended a full course at Knox College, Toronto. He subsequently took an extra session at Edinburgh. He was ordained and inducted to the charge of Ongood in 1858, where he continued his ministrations for seventeen years. In November 1875, he was translated to Manotick. He was a faithful and laborious Minister of the Gospel, whose name was associated with every good work. He took a deep interest in the cause of education, and was many years a member of the Board of Examiners for the County of Carleton. He was also a warm friend of the Temperance cause. His preaching was fresh and powerful. He had also great skill and success in dealing personally with souls. His brethren of the Presbytery, no less than his own congregation appreciated his fidelity, and mourned his early removal. His name will be long in remembrance in the district where he laboured.

REV. WILLIAM RICHARDSON.

Mr. Richardson was a native of Dumfries-shire, where he was born August 1st, 1834. His education he received partly in Scotland and partly in Canada. For two years he studied at Toronto in the Divinity Hall of the United Presbyterian Church, at that time presided over by the Rev. Dr. Taylor. The remainder of his Theological course he took in Knox College, Toronto, and the United Presbyterian Divinity Hall, Edinburgh. He was licensed in the summer of 1862, and in the following year was ordained at Tilsonburg in the Presbytery of Paris. Here he laboured with great diligence for several years, but at length felt obliged to resign his charge in consequence of impaired health. Somewhat more than three years ago he accepted a unanimous call to Greenock Church, St. Andrew's, in the Presbytery of St. John's, where he was inducted April 20th, 1876. About two months before his death he had gone to Bermuda to supply for a short time the congregation left vacant by the removal of Mr. Junor, now a missionary in Formosa. The congregation resolved to give him a call; but another call was soon sent to him by his Master, which could not be declined. On his return voyage he was taken ill, and rapidly sinking after his arrival in New York, entered into his rest on the 18th July, 1878.

REV. JAMES P. BAIKIE.

This young and much esteemed Minister of our Church, died at St. Thomas, on the 30th July, in the 38th year of his age. All who knew him loved him, and agree in their testimony concerning him,—that he was a man of deep and earnest piety, a faithful, laborious and successful minister. His parents came to Canada from Orkney, in 1835. Mr. Baikie was born at Chippawa, Ont., in 1840. Early in life he came under the influences of religion, and resolved to consecrate his life to the Christian ministry. With this view he entered Knox College, Toronto, in 1863. After completing his curriculum, he spent some time in missionary work with a zeal beyond his strength. His health gave way. In 1869, he visited Britain. On his return he accepted a call to Ancaster and Barton, where he was inducted on the 2nd November, 1870. But a return of ill-health compelled him to resign in 1872. In 1875, he was inducted to Port Stanley, and resumed the work that lay so near his heart; but it was only for a short time. A renewed attack of hemorrhage forced him again to retire, and in the end proved fatal. Many friends mourn his loss. But, for him to live was Christ, and to die gain.

REV. JOHN PATERSON.

The Rev. John Paterson, late of Bobcaygeon and Dunsford, died at Chatham, in the 77th year of his age. He had been at church on the previous Sabbath and was sufficiently strong to give a short exhortation. Mr. Paterson was born at Kircaldy, Scotland, in the year 1801, received his literary training at the High School, Edinburgh, studied in the Theological Hall, Edinburgh, and was ordained in 1840. He laboured successively at Hartlepool, at Stornoway, at Haddington, and at Birkhead, where he was greatly blessed in his labours as a town missionary. He came to Canada in 1861, and was inducted to the charge of Bobcaygeon, Dunsford and Cambray. In 1875, from increasing age and infirmities, he retired from the active duties of the ministry and thereafter lived at Chatham with his youngest son, the principal of the High School in that place. Mr. Paterson was remarkable for his faithfulness in all his appointments and duties. He took an active interest in political, social, and educational questions, and was especially earnest in the Temperance cause. His preaching was thoughtful, evangelical, and powerful.

REV. DONALD McDONALD.

Rev. Donald McDonald, Minister of Napier, Ontario, died about the middle of October, after a lingering illness of three months. He had been only about a year at Napier, but during that period he made many warm friends. Mr. McDonald was a native of Scotland. He commenced his studies for the ministry at the University of Edinburgh, and completed his theological curriculum at Queen's College, Kingston, in 1855. His first charge was that of St. Columba's Church, Lochiel, to which he was inducted in 1856. At the end of three years he resigned his charge, went to Scotland and was presented to the parish of Trumisgarry, from which he was soon afterwards translated to Sleat, in the Isle of Skye. Some years ago he returned to Canada, and for a time engaged in teaching in the city of London and elsewhere. He was inducted to the charge of St. Andrew's Church, Westminster, in 1876, and was translated to the charge in which he closed his labours on the 4th September, 1877. He was about 46 years of age, a man of great warmth of heart and urbanity, and ever ready to benefit his fellow-men.

REV. A. C. MORTON.

Mr. Morton was born in the Township of King, County of York, Ontario, on the 24th June, 1850. He pursued his studies at the Normal School and Knox College, Toronto, and the Presbyterian College, Montreal, graduating at the latter in the spring of 1877. He was soon after licensed and ordained as a Missionary for Taylor Church, Montreal. He had not long entered upon his work there, when he received a call from the congregation of North Gower, in the Presbytery of Ottawa. This call he declined, but on a second invitation being extended to him a few months afterwards, he accepted it, and was inducted the 9th April, 1878. Shortly after his settlement his health failed to such an extent that he became unable to preach; and after a lingering illness, borne with great patience and resignation, he passed away on the 22nd March last, at the early age of twenty-nine. Mr. Morton was a man of much ability, piety and zeal, and though permitted for so short a time to labour amongst his flock, they had learned greatly to value and to love him.

REV. JAMES McCONECHY.

Mr. James McConechy was educated at Glasgow University. Shortly after coming to Canada he was inducted into the pastoral charge of Leeds, in 1852, where he laboured with singular earnestness and success for twenty-six years, in an arduous field and among a people scattered over a wide district. For many years he was 50 miles from the nearest co-presbyter, and 220 from the seat of Presbytery, so that it was seldom he could meet his brethren. His stations were far separated, the roads often all but impassable, and yet for 25 years he never failed in an engagement or once caused disappointment. His incessant labours began at length to tell on his health, which was much impaired during the last two years of his ministry, and in consequence he was forced to resign his charge last September, and remove to London, where he died April 12th, aged 64, greatly beloved and deeply regretted by the congregation among whom he had laboured. Mr. McC. was of retiring habits, very modest, and walked humbly before God. He exhibited singular devotion to his Master's work. Though never much known in the Church, and taking little part in the business of her Courts, he lives in the heart of many whom he led to the Saviour. Six young men from his congregation consecrated themselves to the ministry. Some of these died during their course of study, others are now in the active service of the Church. His last end was peace amid great suffering. On being asked by a brother Minister as to the ground of his hope, he replied meekly, but firmly: "My expectation is from Him. My hope is as sure as the purpose and promises of my God."

THE REV. WILLIAM COCHRANE.

Mr. Cochrane, who died on the 29th May last, was licensed by the Presbytery of Glasgow, Scotland, and began his Ministerial work in that city, first in connection with the City Mission, and afterwards as assistant to Dr. Gillan, of St. John's Parish. He laboured here for about sixteen years. His attention having been directed to the Colonial field, he accepted an appointment from the Colonial Committee in 1862. His first appointment in this country was in the congregation of Elgin and Athelstone, where not a few still cherish a kind remembrance of his work among the people there. Next he was settled in Port Hope, from which place he came to Middleville, where he ministered about six years. Mr. Cochrane was a man of very genial disposition, and was endeared by his kindly manner not only to his immediate neighbours, but to all with whom he came in contact. His public ministrations whether in the pulpit, or on the platform, were often marked by a freshness and originality peculiarly his own. He will be greatly missed by his co-presbyters as well as by a large circle of private friends.

THE REV. JAMES BYERS.

Mr. Byers died at Clifton, in Nova Scotia, in the month of May last. He was a native of Dumfriesshire, Scotland, where he was born in 1816. His parents emigrated to this country while he was young and took up their abode in New Annan, which was then almost an unbroken forest. Here Mr. Byers spent his early days amid the toils of a pioneer settler's life. Having passed through a preparatory course at the Pictou Academy, he studied theology under the late Dr. McCulloch of Halifax, taking also a session at Princeton, New Jersey. In May, 1846, he was ordained minister of Shelburne, Clyde River and Barrington, where he laboured for several years. He was afterwards in charge of the congregation of Tatamagouche, and latterly of that of Clifton. Mr. Byers was a man of fine mind and scholarly attainments, of good judgment and genial spirit. His faithful labours in the Lord's vineyard, were, during the whole of his ministry, seldom interrupted, and his last illness was only of ten days' duration. His end was peace.

THE REV. HUGH MCGREGOR.

Mr. McGregor, who died at Aldboro', Ont., a few weeks before the meeting of the Assembly, was born near Martintown, Glengarry, about the year 1838. In early life he was engaged in agricultural pursuits, but having resolved to study for the ministry, he entered Montreal College, and, after completing the usual curriculum there, was licensed to preach the Gospel. After preaching as a probationer for a short time, he was appointed to labour as an ordained Missionary in the Ottawa Valley. From that field he was translated to Kintyre, in the Presbytery of London. His illness was of short duration. Having caught cold through exposure and fatigue while on a journey undertaken for the purpose of assisting a brother minister, he was cut off in early life by inflammation of the lungs.

Mr. McGregor was a man of great meekness, gentleness and tenderness of spirit, and these qualities gave a character to his ministrations which made them very acceptable to his people. He was also prudent in his dealings with his people, who rejoiced in the prospect of a lengthened ministry. But Divine wisdom saw fit to remove him after a very short service in the Church here.

REV. JAMES ADAMS.

Mr. Adams was a native of the North of Ireland. By his parents he was early dedicated to the Christian ministry in connection with the Reformed Presbyterian Church. In the Hall of that Church at Paisley, Scotland, and under the superintendence of the late revered Dr. Symington, his theological training was received. Thereafter he sought and obtained the status of Licentiate in the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, and, by appointment of her Colonial Committee, came to Canada in the year 1851 as an ordained missionary. In 1852 he was inducted by the Presbytery of Toronto into the pastoral charge of several congregations in the vicinity of Nobleton, in the Township of King. In this district he laboured with faithfulness and zeal for more than twenty-five years, and enjoyed the affection of his people and the esteem of the community. Increasing bodily infirmities constrained him, at a comparatively early age, to retire from active duties of the ministry in 1878. On the fifth day of the month of June he was called to his rest and reward.

Said Memorial stated that this College was originally founded by Protestant gentlemen of different religious denominations for the purpose of affording to the young women of the Ottawa Valley a sound English education together with such other accomplishments as might be required to fit them for their several stations in life, under thoroughly evangelical, though non-denominational, influences; that several years' experience has convinced the Directors of the desirableness of entering into close relations with some one of the great religious bodies of the country in order to secure a larger measure of Christian sympathy and active co-operation; and that the Shareholders, the majority of whom were Presbyterians, had unanimously resolved, at a special general meeting, to seek connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Said Memorial further requested that the General Assembly should receive the Ottawa Ladies' College into connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada; commend the Institution to the confidence and patronage of the members of the Church; and appoint annually two visitors, to whom the books and papers of the College shall be open for inspection, and who shall present to the Assembly an annual report on the condition of the College.

REASONS OF DISSENT.

Dr. Waters gave in the following reasons of dissent from the finding of the Assembly anent appointing delegates to the General Presbyterian Council by ballot, viz.:—

1. Because the decision of the General Assembly to take the vote by ballot is a method of procedure unknown to the Supreme Court of the Church.

2. Because the method of taking the vote by ballot is not contemplated by the rules which the Assembly has adopted for taking the vote.

3. Because it seems, at least, very doubtful whether such a method of taking the vote is consistent with the responsibility of the Assembly as a representative body.

Dr. Jenkins, Mr. Middlemiss and the Hon. Alex. Morris joined in these reasons.

REPORT ANENT DEGREES IN DIVINITY.

"The Committee also appointed a Sub-Committee of its number to prepare, in accordance with the above resolution, the details of a Scheme under which Degrees in Divinity might be granted, to report to a meeting of the Committee to be held at Ottawa on June the eleventh.

"At said meeting the Sub-Committee submitted as their report the following draft of an Act, viz.:—

"Whereas the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada has, by petition signed by the Moderator thereof, in the name and by the authority of the said General Assembly, represented that it is desirous of establishing a University in connexion with the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in order to promote the higher scholastic training and instruction in Divinity of students who may propose to enter the Ministry of the said Church, and for the conferring of Degrees in Divinity; and whereas it is expedient to grant the prayer of the said petition,

"Therefore, etc., etc.:—

"1. The following persons, viz.:—(Here fill in the names) and all the persons who may hereafter be appointed to be Chancellor or Members of the Senate as hereinafter mentioned, and all the persons on whom the University hereby created may hereafter confer any Degree are hereby created a body politic and corporate, by the name of 'The Presbyterian University of Canada,' with perpetual succession and a common seal, and by that name to sue and be sued.

"2. By the same name they and their successors shall be able and capable in law to take, purchase and hold to them and their successors any goods, chattels or personal property whatsoever, and shall also be able and capable in law, notwithstanding the Statutes of Mortmain, to take, purchase and hold to them and their successors not only all such lands, buildings, hereditaments and premises as may be from time to time exclusively used and occupied for the immediate purposes of the said University, but also any other lands, buildings, hereditaments and premises situate within , not exceeding the annual value of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), such annual value to be calculated and ascertained at the period of taking, purchasing or acquiring the same, and that they and their successors shall be able and capable in law to grant, demise, alien or "otherwise dispose of all or any of the property, real or personal, belonging to the said University, and also to do all other matters incidental or appertaining to a body corporate.

"3. The said corporation shall consist of a Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Members of the Senate and Graduates; and the Members of the Senate shall be the Chancellor, elected as hereinafter provided for, the Vice-Chancellor, who shall be elected by the Members of the Senate from among their own number, the Moderator of the General Assembly for the time being, the Professors of the various Theological Colleges or Halls under the care of the said General Assembly, which may affiliate with the said University as hereinafter provided for, and twenty-four persons, of whom twelve shall be Ministers and twelve Elders or Members in full communion with the Presbyterian Church in Canada, to be appointed as hereinafter mentioned. The Moderator of the General Assembly and the several persons named in the first Section of this Act shall constitute the Senate of the said University, and shall have power to transact all the business of the said University until the election of a Chancellor, as hereinafter provided for.

"4. Within three months after the passing of this Act a meeting of the Members of the Senate, called by the person whose name stands first in the first Section of this Act, shall be held at such place as he shall deem most convenient, at least ten days notice of such meeting being given to each Member of the Senate; and the members shall, by a vote of the majority of those then present, proceed to elect some fit and proper person to be the first Chancellor of the said University, and one of their own number to be the first Vice-Chancellor.

"5. The Chancellor, elected as in the preceding Section mentioned, shall hold office for the period of three years, and then his successor shall be elected by the Members of the Corporation, who shall vote by ballot-papers in such form and sent to such person as the Senate may from time to time by any By-law in that behalf determine; and in like manner once in every three years there shall be elected a Chancellor of the said University.

6. "Of the persons named in the first section of this Act the two ministers and the two elders or members, whose names stand lowest in the said section, shall retire from office at the first meeting of the General Assembly after the passing of this Act and the two ministers and the two elders or members whose names stand next to the names of those who have previously retired, shall retire from office at the second meeting of the General Assembly after the passing of this Act, and so at each meeting of the General Assembly thereafter the two ministers and the two elders or members, whose names stand next to the names of those who have previously retired, shall retire from office, until all the persons named in the first section of this Act shall have retired. And at the first meeting of the said General Assembly after the passing of this Act the said General Assembly shall elect two ministers and two elders or members to fill the places of those retiring and so, at each meeting of the General Assembly thereafter, there shall be elected two ministers and two elders or members to fill the places of those retiring; the intention being that the elected members of the Senate shall hold office for six years, two ministers and two elders or members retiring each year. The Professors in the Theological Colleges or Halls, which may affiliate with the said University, shall continue to be members of the said Senate so long as they continue to be Professors in such Theological Colleges or Halls. And in the event of any member of the Senate elected by the General Assembly as aforesaid dying, resigning, or ceasing to be a minister, elder or member of the said Church, the General Assembly at the first meeting thereof after such death, resignation or ceasing to be a Minister, elder or member, as aforesaid, shall elect a minister, elder or member, as the case may be, to be a member of the Senate for the remainder then unexpired of the term for which the minister, elder or member, so dying, resigning or ceasing to be a minister, elder or member, had been elected.

7. "At the first meeting of the Senate, as hereinbefore provided for by section 4 of this Act, the Senate shall, as therein provided, elect one of their own number to be Vice-Chancellor of the said University, and the Vice-Chancellor, so elected, shall hold office for the period of three years, and thereafter, once in every three years, the Senate shall elect one of their own number to be Vice-Chancellor for the three years then next ensuing, and the person selected Vice-Chancellor shall "continue to hold office until the expiry of the term for which he has been elected and to be a member of the said Senate, notwithstanding that, being a member of the Senate elected thereto by the General Assembly, the term for which he was so elected may have expired and he has not been re-elected by the said General Assembly. And in the event of the Vice-Chancellor dying, resigning, or ceasing to be a minister, elder or member of the said Church, as the case may be, then the Senate shall proceed to elect another of their own number as a Vice-Chancellor for the remainder then unexpired of the term for which the Vice-Chancellor so dying, or resigning, or ceasing to be a minister, elder or member of the Church had been elected.

"8. The Senate shall have the power to confer the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity, after examination, upon students who shall have completed the regular course in Theology, in such of the Theological Colleges or Halls under the care of the said General Assembly, as may enter into affiliation with the said University, or upon any Minister or Licentiate of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, or upon such others as the Senate may from time to time by any By-law in that behalf admit to compete for the Degrees, provided always that the Degree of Bachelor in Divinity shall not be conferred, unless the candidate has previously graduated in Arts in some University in the Dominion of Canada, or in Great Britain, or Ireland, or in some other University approved of by the Senate; and the Senate may also confer the Degree of Doctor in Divinity upon such persons as, on account of distinguished merit and eminent Theological attainments, it may deem entitled to the said honour.

"9. The Senate shall have power from time to time to make and alter any By-laws and regulations (not being repugnant to any law in force in , or to this Act), respecting the examinations for Degrees, Honours, and Scholarships, and the granting of the same and charging reasonable fees in that behalf; also the appointment and duties of Examiners and the course of study to be pursued; also as to the quorum of the Senate, the time and mode of summoning the meetings thereof, and generally respecting all other matters for promoting the purposes of the University, or for carrying into effect the intent and spirit of this Act, and all such By-laws and regulations, when reduced into writing and under the common seal of the University, shall be held to be binding on all persons, members thereof, and upon all candidates for Degrees, Honours, or Scholarships, and upon all others whom this may concern.

"10. The Senate shall also have power and authority to pass By-laws and regulations, defining the terms upon which the Theological Colleges or Halls under the care of the General Assembly may affiliate with the said University, provided that no By-law or regulation, passed under this Section, shall take effect until the same has been submitted to and receive the sanction of the said General Assembly.

"11. The Senate shall have the management of and the superintendence over the affairs, concerns, and property of the University, and shall have full power to invest the moneys from time to time belonging to the University for the purposes thereof, or upon any special trusts connected therewith in the public securities of , or upon first mortgage of freehold lands, or in approved debentures of Municipal Corporations, and may make such regulations and appoint such officers as the Senate may deem expedient for all or any of said purposes."

"Whereupon, it was moved by Professor McLaren and seconded by Principal McVicar, That the report be received, adopted and submitted to the General Assembly as the judgment of the Committee. It was moved in amendment by Hon. A. Morris and seconded by Mr. T. W. Taylor, That, inasmuch as two modes have been proposed for the establishment of a joint authority for the conferring of Degrees in Theology—the one, the creation by Act of Parliament of a University in connection with the Church, designed to effect this end, and the other, the accomplishing a like object, by an adaptation of the powers now existing in the University of Queen's College under the Royal Charter—the Committee recommend the Assembly to re-appoint the Committee to consider the whole subject maturely and report to the next General Assembly."

"The motion was carried by the vote of the Convener."

Dr. Jenkins having intimated that the minority of the Committee had prepared a report to be submitted to the Assembly, it was moved by Dr. Kemp, seconded by Dr. Ure and carried, That the Assembly now hear said report. The report was read and is of the following tenor, viz. :—

"The undersigned members of the Committee, to whom the last General Assembly referred the matter of granting Degrees in Divinity, with instructions to consider it in relation to the several Colleges of the Church, and to mature a scheme in accordance with which such Degrees may be conferred, ask leave to present to the Venerable Assembly the following Minority report :—

"They are unable to agree with the resolution reported to the Assembly, and carried by the casting vote of the Convener, for the following reasons :—

"1. That they require more time to consider and decide upon a scheme so new and so large as that which contemplates the erection by the General Assembly, through powers to be sought from one or more Legislatures or other authority, of a Presbyterian University in connection with the Church and under the control of the General Assembly, with the view of conferring Degrees in Divinity, Academic and Honorary, upon its members, or at least upon some of them.

"2. That as to many members of the Committee the proposed Bill or a copy thereof has not been placed in their hands, and that indeed its provisions have become known to them for the first time since the meeting of Assembly, and this by simply being read in their hearing by the Convener. A Bill of such magnitude and importance, they venture to think, might fitly have been printed and transmitted to members of Committee for their use, so that every one concerned might secure sufficient time for deliberation, and come to the Assembly prepared to discuss the question and to vote on it intelligently.

"3. That, in the present financial condition of the Colleges and of the other benevolent schemes of the Church, it would be unwise to burden the Church with a new scheme which would involve considerable outlay.

"In view of these considerations, the undersigned would respectfully urge the General Assembly to adopt the resolution, which in the Committee secured a nearly equal vote—rather than that, which contemplates the immediate adoption of the draft Bill; the more that so wide a divergence of opinion on the general subject exists in the Committee."

A. MCKNIGHT, D.D.,
ALEX. MORRIS, D.C.L.,

To this it was moved in amendment by the Hon. Alex. Morris and seconded by Mr. D. L. McKechnie, That the Assembly appoint a Committee, to be named by the Moderator, to consider maturely the whole subject involved in the Act now submitted of taking steps for the conferring, by some authority on behalf of the Church, of Degrees in Divinity, and to report thereon to the next General Assembly. A further amendment was proposed by Dr. Ure and seconded by Mr. Moore, That the report, now submitted, be sent down to Presbyteries, with instructions to report as to the principle of the Act to the next General Assembly. REPORT ON REMITS.

Dr. Topp, Convener of the Committee appointed to examine and classify Returns from the Presbyteries to the Remits sent down for consideration, gave in and read a report.

1. Returns anent Hymn Book.

On this point sixteen Presbyteries approve with suggestions, thirteen Presbyteries recommend the Assembly to re-commit, one reports disapproval, and three send no report.

2. Returns anent the Sustentation or Supplemental Scheme.

Nine Presbyteries report approval of a Sustentation Fund, and seven of a Supplemental Fund, whilst eight Presbyteries desire no change. One Presbytery is desirous of having an adequate stipend to all Ministers, and seems indifferent as to whether that be supplied by a Sustentation or Aid-giving Scheme. Eight Presbyteries make no return.

The report was received and adopted.

REPORT ON HYMN BOOK.

Dr. Gregg, Joint Convener of the Committee appointed to prepare a Hymn Book, presented and read a report. In connection with this there was read an Overture from the Synod of Hamilton and London "recommending the Assembly to give further time for "the preparation of the proposed Hymn Book, and to enlarge the Committee so as to secure a fuller representation of the mind of the Church." The Overture was supported by Messrs. McMullen, D. D. McLeod, and J. A. Murray. It was moved by Dr. Jenkins and seconded by Mr. Forrest:—

1. That the report be received and the Committee re-appointed with instructions to avail themselves of the suggestions of Presbyteries, for the purpose of making the Hymn Book as complete as possible, and also that they be empowered to publish the Book for the use of congregations in our Church.

2. That the Committee be empowered to make arrangements with publishers to secure the copyright for the benefit of the Church.

3. That the expenses incurred by the Committee be paid in the meantime from the Assembly Fund, to be repaid from the profits of publication.

4. That a Committee be appointed to select suitable music for the Hymns adopted, in order that an edition with music may be published as early as practicable. To this it was moved in amendment by Principal Caven, and seconded by Principal McVicar, That the Assembly receive the report and thank the Committee for their diligence. Further, the General Assembly express their appreciation of the progress made by the Committee, and re-appoint the Committee with instructions to continue their labours for the improvement of the collection of Hymns presented by them, giving full consideration to the criticisms of Presbyteries forwarded to them or which may be yet forwarded, and report to the next General Assembly. Further, Presbyteries are invited still to assist the Committee by remitting to them any well-considered suggestions which may seem to them of importance.

A vote having been taken, the amendment was carried over the motion by 71 to 57. The Roll having been called, the main motion, thus amended, was carried by 84 to 62.

The Assembly adjourned to meet in this place this evening at half-past seven o'clock, of which public intimation was made, and this Sederunt was closed with the Benediction.

TWENTIEH SEDERUNT.

In the same place and on the same day, at half-past seven o'clock in the evening:—

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada met pursuant to adjournment, and was constituted by the Moderator.

The Rev. James Ballantine led in prayer.

REPORT OF JUDICIAL COMMITTEE.

Dr. Topp, Convener of the Judicial Committee, presented a report in the causes:—

Dodds vs. the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew, Holliday vs. the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew. Parties were called. The report was read, bearing that by a majority of ten to seven the Committee had adopted the following finding, viz.:

"That the complaint and appeal be dismissed. At the same time the Assembly express the hope that in any further proceedings which may be taken in this matter the Presbytery will have careful regard to the maintenance of the peace of the congregation."

Messrs. Dodds and Holliday, having intimated non-acquiescence in the proposed finding, and having expressed a desire to be heard by the House, stated their case and presented their objections to the report of the Committee. Dr. Mann and Dr. Bain were heard for the Presbytery and Mr. Holliday in reply. Whereupon it was moved by Dr. Topp and seconded by Mr. J. Laing, That the report be received and adopted. It was moved in amendment by Mr. McMullen, and seconded by Mr. J. K. Blair, Find that the refusal of the Presbytery to reconsider a previous decision, in reference to which no new light had arisen, cannot be regarded a valid ground of protest and appeal, and therefore dismiss the same. At the same time, the Assembly regard the decision petitioned against as ill-advised and fitted, however unintentionally, to intensify division in the congregation, and therefore find that the appellants have so far cause of complaint. Further, the Assembly counsel all concerned to follow after the things which make for peace. A vote having been taken, the motion was carried over the amendment and the deliverance recommended in the report thus became the judgment of the Court. The decision was intimated to parties by the Moderator.

COMMUNICATION ANENT WALDENSIAN CHURCH.

The Clerk produced and read a communication from the Committee of the General Presbyterian Council appointed to provide means for increasing the salaries of the Pastors of the Waldensian Church in the valleys of Piedmont, Italy. Mr. Sprott, Delegate from the Church of Scotland, addressed the Assembly in support of the appeal made in this communication. It was moved by Dr. Topp, seconded by Dr. Burns and carried unanimously, That the Assembly express sympathy with the proposal submitted by the Continental Committee of the General Presbyterian Council as to the Waldensian Pastors, and commend the object to the favorable consideration of the members of the Church.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSION REPORTS.

Mr. R. H. Warden, Convener of the Committee appointed to prepare a deliverance on the several reports connected with Home Missions, gave in and read a report. The consideration of the same was deferred owing to the lateness of the hour.

The Rev. Donald Ross, recently appointed Missionary to Prince Albert, addressed the Assembly in reference to the extent and claims of his field, the circumstances of his departure and the spirit of self-denial which should animate the Church in the cause of missions. It was moved by Principal Grant, seconded by Dr. Cochrane and passed unanimously, That the General Assembly, having heard Mr. Ross, commend him and his family to the prayers of the Church, and trust that he may be eminently successful in the important Mission to which he has been appointed by the Church.

On the call of the Moderator, Principal Grant led the Assembly in prayer, and commended Mr. Ross to the guidance and care of the Great Head of the Church.

The Assembly adjourned to meet in this place to-morrow forenoon at half-past nine o'clock, of which public intimation was made, and this Sederunt was closed with the Benediction.

TWENTY-FIRST SEDERUNT.

At Ottawa, and within St. Andrew's Church there; Friday, the twentieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine years :—

REPORT ON THE LICENSURE OF STUDENTS.

Mr. Young, Convener of the Committee on the Licensure of Students, gave in and read a supplementary report in regard to Mr. Angus McLeod, whose case had been recommended to the Committee. Said report is of the following tenor, viz :—

"The Committee, having heard the Commissioners of the Presbytery and others interested in the case, beg to recommend to the Assembly that the application be not granted, but that the matter be referred back to the Presbytery of Lindsay, in order that they may examine Mr. McLeod more fully, and make all necessary inquiries in reference to him."

On motion to that effect, the report was unanimously adopted.

HYMN BOOK.

Mr. Robert Murray, on behalf of the Committee on the preparation of a Hymn Book, presented to the Assembly certain recommendations.

The Assembly unanimously resolved—

1. To empower the Committee on Hymnology to make such arrangements as shall secure the copyright of the Hymn Book to be issued.
2. To instruct Presbyteries to forward their suggestions, referred to in the minute adopted yesterday, not later than November 30th.
3. To empower the Committee to select suitable music for the hymns.
4. To authorize the payment from the Assembly Fund of the expenses incurred by the Committee.

5. To instruct the Committee to print and send down to Presbyteries the new list of hymns submitted in their report.

DELIVERANCE ON HOME MISSION REPORTS.

The Assembly resumed consideration of the report of the Committee on the Home Mission reports, laid over from last evening. It was agreed to receive the report, and consider its recommendations seriatim.

In accordance with its tenor, the General Assembly decreed as follows, viz. :—

1. That the Assembly record their thankfulness for the large measure of success which, by the blessing of God, has crowned the labours of their Home Missionaries during the past year.

2. That the thanks of the Assembly be given to the Colonial Committees of the Church of Scotland, the Free Church of Scotland, and the Presbyterian Church of Ireland, for their continued interest in our Home Mission work, and their contributions in aid thereof; and also to the Students' Missionary Societies of our several Colleges for their valuable services during the year.

3. That the Assembly approve of the changes suggested by the Committee on Continuous Supply; and grant leave to the Committee of the Western Section to supplement the congregations of Balsover and Vittoria, as asked by the Presbyteries of Lindsay and Hamilton respectively.

4. That the Assembly approve of the appointment of the Rev. Donald Ross to Prince Albert, North-West Territory, and commend him and his field to the special interest of the Church.

5. That the Assembly approve of the resolution of the Supplementing Committee of the Maritime Provinces respecting the payment of the half-yearly supplements due on the first day of July next, with this modification, that one-half to be obtained by loan shall be paid on the first of July, and the other half so soon as the funds are supplied by the congregations, which result it is confidently hoped will be realized before the first of October.

6. That the proposal of the Committee of the Western Section as to the reduction of the salaries of the Missionaries in Manitoba be not acceded to; but that these salaries be paid as heretofore, and that the attention of the Presbytery of Manitoba be specially directed to the eleventh recommendation.

7. That the request of the Committee of the Eastern Section, as to Manitoba College, be not acceded to; but that that Committee be required to contribute five hundred dollars ($500), and the Committee of the Western Section two thousand dollars ($2,000), as hitherto, for the support of the College in Manitoba.

8. That the Assembly approve of the estimate of the amount required for the ensuing year, based on the payment in full of grants for the current six months:

Western Section :—

Debt, ($11,000) eleven thousand dollars.

For the current year, ($35,000) thirty-five thousand dollars.

Total estimate, ($46,000) forty-six thousand dollars.

Eastern Section :—

Debt, two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400).

For the current year, eleven thousand dollars ($11,000).

Total estimate, thirteen thousand four hundred dollars ($13,400).

That, instead of making a special appeal for the removal of the present deficits, there be but one appeal for the deficits and the current year's expenditure combined, and that congregations be instructed to forward contributions to the respective Treasurers as early as possible, as there is due on the first of October (including the present debt) about thirty-two thousand dollars ($32,000), so as to warrant the Committee's paying in full all grants, and to render unnecessary the reduction of twenty-five per cent. as contemplated by the Committee of the Western Section.

9. That a Committee be appointed, consisting of the Moderator, Dr. W. rs, Messrs. D. J. Macdonnell, Pitblado, Warden; J. L. Blaikie and W. B. McMurriel, to prepare a short appeal, to be signed by the Moderator, to the members and adherents of the Church, setting forth the condition and requirements of the Fund, and enjoin every Minister to read this appeal from the pulpit on some Lord's Day on or before the last Sabbath of September next, and to afford opportunity to every individual to contribute by subscription or in any other way that the Session or the Deacons' Court may have previously resolved upon. The Assembly further enjoin Presbyteries to take order at their first meeting thereafter that this injunction has been complied with, and report to next Assembly. The Assembly further require that a copy of the appeal be addressed to each Presbytery, together with a statement of the amount which may reasonably be expected as the fair proportion of the Presbytery's share of the total sum required.

10. The Assembly instruct the Committees, in their future administration of the Fund, to equalize the expenditure and income of each year.

11. The Assembly instruct the Committees to entertain no applications for new grants or for the continuance of old grants, for either Supplemented Congregations or Mission Stations, until there be laid on the table of the Committee an Extract Minute of the Presbytery making the application, showing that the grants have been revised since the meeting of Assembly, and that deputies have visited the Supplemented Congregations and Mission Stations within the bounds, with a view to the reduction of the grants.

12. The Assembly instruct the Committees to entertain no new applications for grants until the state of the Fund shall warrant them in so doing.

A discussion arose on the following recommendation of the Committee: "That the action of the Committee of the Western Section in reducing the grants by twenty-five per cent., for the six months ending March 31st, 1879, be sustained so far as it applies to the Presbyteries in Quebec and Ontario, with the exception of the District of Algoma, in the Presbytery of Bruce."

It was moved by Mr. Warden, seconded by Mr. McCuaig and carried, That this recommendation be amended so as to read thus: The Assembly instruct the Western Section of the Home Mission Committee to take such action as may secure the payment in full of the twenty-five per cent. which the Committee were reluctantly constrained, from lack of funds, to withhold from the several Presbyteries of the Church in April last for services rendered during the preceding half-year.

From this decision Messrs. John Laing and Straith dissented.

The Assembly agreed to print the foregoing resolutions, with instructions to forward a copy thereof to each Presbytery without delay.

MISSION TO THE LUMBERMEN.

The annual report of the Committee entrusted with the management of the Mission to the Lumbermen in the valley of the Ottawa and its tributaries was presented and read by Mr. Moore. It was moved, seconded and carried unanimously, That the report be received and adopted; that the thanks of the Assembly be given to the Convener and members of the Committee; and that they be encouraged to prosecute the work of the Mission, as they may be able, with the means contributed for this purpose. The report was ordered to be printed.

REPORT ON KNOX COLLEGE.

The Assembly resumed consideration of the report on Knox College, laid over from a previous Sederunt. It was moved, seconded and passed unanimously, That the Assembly adopt the report; approve of the efforts made to pay off the indebtedness on the ordinary revenue of the College, and encourage the Board of Management to prosecute the work with all diligence in order to a successful termination; approve also of the following recommendations contained in the report, and instruct all the Ministers of the Church to carry it out on the last Sabbath of November, viz.:—"Having respect to the great importance of the work of Ministerial Education, and to the need of more fully enlisting the sympathy and co-operation of all our congregations in this work, so that young men of suitable qualifications may have their attention more effectually directed to the claims of the Ministry upon them, and may be encouraged to enter upon the requisite course of study, whilst the more adequate support of our Theological Seminaries may be secured, the Board respectfully recommend to the General Assembly the appointment of a Sabbath during the ensuing year, on which in all our congregations the subject of Ministerial Education shall be specially brought before the members of the Church and its claims and necessities represented and enforced."

It was further moved by Dr. Cochrane and seconded by Professor Mackerras, Considering that the district lying between the Brockville and Ottawa Railway and the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway, assigned to Knox College and Queen's Theological Hall has failed to yield the amount which the Assembly in the year 1877 instructed these Colleges to give from their funds to the Montreal College yearly, the Assembly resolve to give said district to the Montreal College and to relieve these Colleges of their obligation to pay from year to year the above mentioned sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars, ($750). It was moved in amendment by Mr. Warden and duly seconded, That the subject referred to in the foregoing motion be referred to the following Committee, viz.:—Mr. Moore, Convener, Principal Caven, Professor Hart, Messrs D. J. Macdonnell, T. G. Smith, Seringer, Wright, Warden; Dr. Christie, Messrs. Hay, Thomas McCrae, Robert Bell. A vote having been taken, the amendment was carried over the motion and the Moderator declared accordingly.

The Assembly adjourned to meet in this place this afternoon at half-past two o'clock, of which public intimation was made, and this Sederunt was closed with the Benediction.

Said report is of the following tenor, viz.:—

1. That no change be made in the territories assigned to the Colleges in the Western Section.
2. That the Treasurer of the Western Section be instructed to pay to the Montreal College the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for the current year.
3. That the Assembly appoint a Committee to consider the whole question of the support of Theological Colleges in the Western Section, and to report to the next Assembly; said Committee to consist of Dr. Reid, Convener, Dr. Caven, Dr. Grant, Dr. McVicar, Messrs. David Morrice, George M. Macdonnell, J. L. Blaikie, and John McLennan, with power to fill up vacancies arising from inability to act.

The first and third recommendations were unanimously adopted. In amendment to the second it was moved by Mr. Warden and seconded by Mr. Patterson, That the sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars ($750) be inserted instead of five hundred dollars ($500). A vote having been taken, the motion was carried over the amendment by 35 to 23, and became the judgment of the House.

From this decision Mr. Warden craved leave to dissent, promising to give in reasons in due time.

"(5.) How long has he resided within the bounds of the Presbytery ?

"8. The Presbytery, if satisfied with the answers to these questions, shall further inquire as to the degree of success which has attended the previous ministry of the applicant. If satisfied as to the probability of his usefulness in the Church and as to his Christian character and good report, the Presbytery shall record its judgment on the whole case and apply for leave to admit him. The answers given and the information obtained must be embodied in a report transmitted to the General Assembly along with extracts of the Presbytery's proceedings and other documents.

REPORT
OF THE
(WESTERN SECTION),
FOR 1878-79.

REPORT

OF THE
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF CANADA,
(WESTERN SECTION),

In presenting the Annual Report to the General Assembly, the Home Mission Committee, have cause for thankfulness to God for the large measure of success that continues to attend the labours of our missionaries, and also cause for regret, that the contributions of the Church for this great work, are so far below what the necessities of the case demand. Unless in very special instances, the Committee have been unable to enter any new fields, and have found it very difficult to meet their engagements with old and faithful servants. As will be seen from the Financial Statement on page 25 the contributions from all sources for the past year have been $29,688.34, and the expenditure $40,739.73, leaving a balance against the fund of $11,051.39.

The following sketch of Mission Work in certain Presbyteries and in the more distant and important mission fields, will indicate the extent of the work during the year. Complete statistics of all the mission stations and supplemented congregations, under the care of the Committee will be found in the appendix to this report.

PRESBYTERY OF LANARK AND RENFREW.

This Presbytery, organized since last meeting of Assembly, enters upon its work with a large and necessitous mission field.

Notwithstanding the difficulties arising from the continuous depression in the lumber trade, and the reduction in Home Mission grants, arrangements have been made for supplying every station under the care of the Presbytery during the summer. It is to be noted also that substantial progress has been made in several directions during the past year. Such progress is especially to be noted in the following cases:

Admaston, long drawing supplement, has been settled during the year as a self-sustaining charge. Arrangements have been made for the continuous supply of Balderson's and Drummond, Ross and Cobden, Alice and Pettawawa, Litchfield, and the mission district at Mattawa; and those arrangements due regard has been had to the husbanding of the Home Mission Funds.

Eganville, with associated stations, is still earnestly asking for settlement, and presents desirable field for a young man who will throw himself earnestly into the work, as there abundant material for the formation of a flourishing congregation.

New churches have been built at Eganville, Cobden, Mattawa, and Barr's Settlement—latter two being free from debt.

In other stations such as Castleford, Darling, Lavant, and Bathurst the prospects are more or less encouraging, and altogether the Presbytery have reasons for thanksgiving and hope as they review the work of the past and the outlook for the future.

The Rev. W. D. Ballantyne, who has laid the Home Mission Committee and his Presbytery under deep obligations by his visits to the Mattawa Mission field during the year, thus speaks of this district:—This mission it is hoped has entered upon a new and brighter era of its history. Until last summer the supply of preaching in and around the village of Mattawa had been rather scanty and intermittent. Last season by means of the missionary student, Mr. Mitchell, who was indefatigable in his labours, preaching services were held regularly, and the whole country for miles around thoroughly explored. The good effect of this more regular and fuller supply of preaching soon began to appear in the people making proposals to build a place of worship. The public meetings for worship have, I believe, been held at one time or other in the house of every Protestant family in the place, and in several other buildings besides, all of them being very unsuitable for such a purpose. During the summer and autumn preparations for building were set on foot and work actually began. The building which has been put up is an exceedingly neat one, and when fully finished will look still better. It was erected according to plans kindly furnished by the Rev. D. M. Gordon, of Ottawa. It is of logs, sided, built on a good stone foundation, forty feet in length, twenty-six feet wide, and eighteen feet from floor to ceiling. It is already exceedingly warm, an important consideration in a climate like this where the snow is just beginning to go, and the ice can scarcely yet be said to be moved at all; and when it is lathed and plastered inside, and breiked or clapboarded outside, it will be improved in every way. The Protestants in Mattawa do not number more than a dozen or fifteen families, of whom Presbyterians are the majority. As the village is the centre of a large lumbering district, and a great thoroughfare for men and all kinds of supplies for the shanties, assistance was sought from among the lumbermen and in almost every instance willingly and in not a few cases liberally responded to. Five hundred and thirty-five dollars and thirty-nine cents have up to this time been expended, and everything is paid for so far, the people having wisely resolved at the outset to build according to their ability, and keep out of debt, a feat so rare in these days that it deserves to be chronicled. There is still sufficient money to come in to lath and plaster the church and provide comfortable seats, and this will be done during the summer. The nearest Protestant church, so far as I am aware, is sixty miles distant.

Taking a deep interest in this mission field and in the labour of love of the handful of Protestants there, it was not only willingly but gladly that I took a hundred mile sleigh-ride to open and dedicate this church on Sabbath, the 23rd of March. It was an occasion of much interest, as was shown by the attendance of almost every Protestant in the place. Service was again held in the afternoon and on every evening of three days of the week, the length of my stay at this time. It is a union church. It may be explained that while it is held by trustees for the Presbyterian body, it is to be open for ten years for the religious services of all Protestants and then to become the property wholly of our Church.

The Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew regards this as a very important centre for evangelistic work, as a link between our stations in the Upper Ottawa country and those in the Nipissing district, and as Mattawa may possibly become a village of yet greater importance through the extension of the Canada Central Railway to Lake Nipissing passing near it, a student has been obtained for the field who can be ordained as a missionary, and from his labours in time to come we look forward to much good being accomplished in that region of country.

PRESBYTERY OF OTTAWA.

The division of the Presbytery during the year has slightly reduced the extent of our Mission Field, but of the 13 fields reported last year 10 are still under our charge. Several of these have been grouped together and thus a great saving has been effected in the cost of supply.

CHELSEA AND EAST TEMPLETON are among this class. Formerly they were wrought separately and a grant was necessary for each of them, but last summer they were put together and under the efficient services of Mr. Seouler, student, the attendance at both largely increased, and they were able to meet nearly the whole of their indebtedness without any assistance from the Fund. The progress made in East Templeton was specially encouraging, and it seems evident that all that is necessary to gather a large congregation there, is the continuous services of a suitable laborer.

AYLWIN AND THE DESERT were also supplied separately last year; but the progress made was not encouraging. A very general desire was expressed by the people there to have the services of an ordained minister for some years, as the good done by the students in summer was counteracted by the want of service throughout the entire winter. The services of one of the Probationers have accordingly been secured for this field, and it is hoped that the result of a three months' trial, will be such as to warrant his permanent appointment as an ordained missionary.

CANTLY AND PORTLAND has for several summers been supplied by the 'Students' Missionary Society of Montreal College and excellent service has been rendered by the students sent. Within the past year, however, the phosphate lands scattered throughout this region have given to it new prominence and importance, and rendered it necessary that something more be done to meet its spiritual requirements than has been done in the past. There are two churches in this field which are about eighteen miles apart and each of these has a station in connection with it. There is thus a range embraced of some thirty or forty miles in extent, containing a population of some fifty families engaged in agriculture, and a large number of miners. The mines are spread at short distances apart over the entire field, and as these are wrought in winter as well as summer, and many are owned by Presbyterians, there is an urgent necessity for more continuous services than has been given to it in the past. One of the graduating students of Knox College has consented to go there on trial, and it is earnestly hoped that upon receiving license he will accept and receive an appointment as ordained missionary for several years.

The other Mission Stations occupy much the same position as they did a year ago. A little progress has doubtless been made, and notwithstanding the hard times all have been able to implement their financial engagements.

Two Congregations have been settled during the year, namely, Buckingham and Lochaber and Cumberland, Clarence and Nayan; but three others, Manotick and Gloucester, New Edinburgh, and North Gower, have been thrown upon the list by the death of their respected pastors.

The CARP and KINBURN has been raised to the status of a vacant congregation, and under the fostering care of a good pastor would soon become a strong self-sustaining charge.

The number of SUPPLEMENTED CHARGES remain the same as last year. New Edinburgh was, for a short time added to the list; but efforts recently put forth in the way of securing a pastor indicate that aid will not be any longer required.

The separation of RUSSELL and EAST GLOUCESTER, and the union of the former with Metcalfe, makes a workable and self-sustaining charge, and though the grant formerly given to Metcalfe has been transferred to East Gloucester, and slightly increased, it is confidently expected that the necessity for such aid will rapidly diminish under the attention and labor it will now be able to receive.

In common with other parts of the church, all our fields have suffered from the general depression in trade, which has in many instances greatly diminished their numbers and financial ability. The Ottawa valley depends so much upon the lumbering interests, that the almost entire stagnation of that business, such as exists at present, very seriously affects every congregation and mission station within the bounds.

KINGSTON PRESBYTERY.

The Rev. David Wishart, who has in addition to his own pastoral charge, given a large portion of his time to missionary work in and around his neighborhood, thus writes of his fifth trip in thirteen months to the

and the lumber shanties:

My first trip was performed partly on foot and partly with a jumper amid considerable difficulties; my fourth trip in November on horseback, when the roads were at their worst; and my last amid snow so deep that it was causing several shanties to break up. In these the distance travelled was fully one thousand miles, the time spent, forty entire days; the services given, fully fifty, apart from visitation to the sick and other work; and the labor may be said to be both free and voluntary.

THE FIELD.

The 1st is called "Thanet and the Ridge." The church at the Ridge is enclosed, and another is projected for Thanet. There is a glebe at the latter place of three acres; there are four stations, fifty-four communicants, and the missionary has the range of four townships. A church is now in progress of erection.

The 2nd, L'Amable. This is an important centre, and the land around is good. A fine glebe of seventeen acres has been purchased, a beautiful plan of a church and near $100 towards building it have been procured, nearly $600 more subscribed; and within a radius of six miles there are over sixty possible contributors; a church is also in process of erection here. The Montreal Students' Missionary Society has done much to bring both of these to their present state of efficiency, and I trust two of the best men belonging to it and about to be licensed, are willing to go in this fall and take possession for the Lord.

The 3rd, Carlow. The soil is magnificent; the communicants are over sixty; promised contributions foot up to near $100; the Church is almost free of debt, and a fine glebe of 36 acres attached should tempt the best licentiate of the year from Knox College to spend a term in it with a view of a call. Mayo has been hitherto attached to Carlow, but as all obstruction is now removed, as we lay claim to thirty families in it, and still they come, and as the development eastward along the Mississippi Road is unlimited, Knox College Missionary Society should send a student here for the summer months.

The 4th, Maynooth, represents from four to eight townships. The Knox College Missionary Society deserted it. Let Queen's College Missionary Society win its spurs here. Two men are needed. The difficulties to be overcome are great, but when their labors are crowned with success, the glory will be the greater.

The country east, west and north of these mission fields has yet to be opened up. Ought not other Colonization Roads to yield as large returns? What about the Opeongo, Addington, Mississippi, Peterson, Bechaygeon, Victoria and Muskoka Roads? I know of thirteen Presbyterian families in Monmouth, on the Burleigh Road, who daily hear the railway whistle and have not seen the face of a Presbyterian missionary since they went in there 11 years ago. In other words, infant congregations along our great highways are allowed to perish, because we are unwilling to help pay for their upbringing.

MISSION TO THE LUMBERMEN.

We also sinfully neglect this class. Many of our young men work in the shanties all winter. They only know of the Sabbath, in many cases, by its being washing day. They only hear God's name accompanied with an oath. When they return home they neglect God's house and become indifferent to all religion. There are over 2,000 lumbermen in my diocese. Having received considerable literature from the Rev. Mr. Gordon of Ottawa, for their benefit, I resolved to visit as many shanties as I could, but my limited time only permitted me to reach 100 men. This additional work shows that there is more need of missionaries in the winter in such outlying districts than in the summer. The Lord develop to proper proportions this most important branch of Church work.

The whole field occupied at the present is as follows:

1. St. Paul's and St. Columba, Madoc. Two churches, occupied by Mr. Miller, applicant for license.
2. Thanet and the Ridge. Two churches now building, occupied by Mr. McFarland, student from Montreal College.
3. L'Annable and York River. One church building, occupied by Mr. Shuter, from Montreal College.
4. Mayo and the Snow Road. Occupied by Mr. Nixon, a student from Knox College.
5. Carlow and Kernihan. One church, occupied by Mr. Bickell, a student from Knox College.
6. Maynooth. Occupied by Mr. McLean, a student from Queen's College.

PRESBYTERY OF BARRIE.

The work in the mission field progresses favorably, and several new stations have been opened during the past year.

Gravenhurst has been settled since our last report. Under the pastoral care of the Rev. Alex. Dawson, the congregation is doing well, is rapidly gaining strength, and gives promise at no distant day of being self-supporting.

Bracebridge continues to be faithfully worked by our missionary, Mr. Findlay. The people have been somewhat burdened with a debt on the church. But during the year they paid off $756 besides contributing over $400 for the support of ordinances. This we think is highly creditable and gives good promise for the future.

At Magallowan and adjoining station great interest has been manifested, and a very strong desire expressed for the stated supply of ordinances. During last summer the Students' Missionary Society did good work in opening up and cultivating the field, and during the winter, the Rev. Mark Turnbull has been laboring there as an ordained missionary.

At Huntsville and associated stations Mr. J. K. Andrews has labored with great zeal and untiring energy. The surrounding district has been explored. At least two churches are in process of erection, if not already completed, and one new church was opened last summer. The district is but sparsely settled and the people are poor, but they are willing to do as they are able to further the Lord's work.

Another point deserves to be noticed. The Rev. J. McKay is now settled as ordained missionary to Parry Sound. His labors during the winter have proved to be acceptable. The people are uniting more earnestly and harmoniously to sustain the cause, and from present appearances the prospect for the future is very encouraging. In some parts of the field difficulties, sometimes rather serious, are to be met. These arise from two causes, inability and indifference, and the last not less than the first. But we trust that on the whole a good work is being done and important foundations being laid for the future.

The Rev. Allan Findlay, in a recent communication to the Convener, says:

"During the winter, service has been given in seven of the stations by three catechists, Messrs. Hemming, Armstrong and Craswellie. Mr. Andrews has continued in the Huntsville group, and I have attended to Bracebridge and associated stations, Mr. Dawson and myself holding 12 in the southern portion of the field, and Messrs. Turnbull and Andrews holding at least an equal number in the north. While the interest in these meetings, judging by the attendance, is by no means abated, but rather increased, our collections were very far short of previous years, evidence I think of the very stringent condition of money matters. What Mr. McKay and Turnbull may have done in the portion of the field assigned to them I cannot say, not having heard anything from them. My own health has suffered very much during the past winter, so much so that the doctor ordered me to cease all work both mental and physical for a time. I obeyed so far as to drop our evening service for a few weeks, but I could not see my way clear to obeying him fully, not that I did not need rest, but the work is pressing. The Presbytery have given me four weeks to recruit, but I am afraid I shall not be able to take advantage of it. To recruit, means to leave the field and this means money, and that is an article of which I cannot get sufficient to meet ordinary daily expenses. The experience of the past teaches me that it is possible to undertake too much. I feel that the work in the north must pass into other hands. If we have a man permanently appointed to Maganatewan—he with the man at Parry Sound could lessen my work very considerably. No new fields will be opened this season so far as I know, under the care of the Presbytery.

TORONTO PRESBYTERY.

The present has been a year of marked progress in the mission field of the Toronto Presbytery. A congregation has been organized in Parkdale; and the congregation at Horning's Mills, has been re-organized with encouraging prospects. Three churches have been erected at places where, up to this time, the Presbyterian people had to meet in school-houses, or churches, the uses of which were given them by other bodies of Christians. The places thus supplied are, Leslieville, Queensville and Ballinafad. Also a church has been purchased for the congregation of Horning's Mills. More important than all, several of the fields hitherto wrought as mission stations have received settled pastors. It should also be mentioned that the 25 per cent. deduction rendered necessary by the state of the Central Fund has been made up in the Presbytery.*

PRESBYTERY OF HAMILTON.

There is very little of special interest since last report. Excellent work was done by the missionaries during the summer, and with some encouragement, but owing to the circumstances mentioned last year, the results are, outwardly, almost nothing. One thing has become, if possible, more evident than ever to the Presbytery, that in order to make any permanent impression, good missionaries must be in the field for several years, as our present or past system seems money and energy expended in vain.

The Presbytery have expressed their grateful recognition of the kind and disinterested services of Rev. Mr. Gay, of Buffalo, in supplying the congregation in Fort Erie, during a time of great discouragement with them, in the midst of his otherwise very numerous and arduous duties. The Presbytery hope to have an ordained missionary in this field almost immediately, and if this hope shall be fulfilled, there is no doubt of the result, although the work may be for a time discouraging. Mr. Gay speaks in a letter to the Presbytery of a growing interest in the congregation at Fort Erie, especially among the young people. In St. Catharines good work has been done in the Hospital and Jail, and among the sailors and others along the canal. Outdoor services were held in the evenings for several months last summer. The attendance was good. The addresses, earnest and practical, were listened to, often with deep interest, and by many who do not attend any place of worship.

MANITOULIN ISLANDS.

This distant and hitherto destitute field has for the last two or three years received special attention from the Bruce Presbytery, and the Committee have as far as possible met the urgent call for missionaries, addressed to them from time to time. The Rev. H. McKay, assisted by his brother, Mr. A. McKay, and Mr. Joseph Builder—with occasional help from members of the Presbytery of Bruce—have maintained ordinances in many parts of the Island. Eleven stations in all have been regularly worked during the past year, and six occasionally. Two churches have been built and opened for service—one at Gore Bay and another at Manitawaning, the latter having now a membership of 40. The people have contributed very generously towards the erection of these churches, and also given a little for the support of ordinances. It is difficult at this early stage of our work to present accurate statistics of the field, but that much good has been done, the letters of our missionaries and settlers in the Islands, abundantly testify.

SAINT JOSEPH'S ISLAND.

The Rev. Mr. Straith visited this field last summer, and rendered the Committee excellent service, by his missionary labors. No regular missionary has so far been appointed, nor are the people in a position to do much, if anything, for his support. According to reliable accounts, the crops have during the past year been a total failure, and there is much suffering for want of bread.

*Many of the Presbyteries of the church have, like Toronto made up the amount deducted from the salaries of missionaries.—W. C.

LAKE SUPERIOR STATIONS.

SAULT STE. MARIE.

The stations along the Lake Superior route have been regularly supplied during the year. The Rev. J. R. McLeod has had charge of Sault Ste. Marie, and his services have been highly appreciated by the people. Mr. McLeod continues in charge for the ensuing year, at the request of the Committee. From his annual report, we make the following extracts:

"I would say in the outset that thus far it is but 'the day of small things' for the Sault. The growth of the mission has been, and still is, discouragingly slow. The number of families in connection with us in the town is not larger at present than it was five (5) years ago. This is not because there is no growth or increase, but owing to the fluctuating nature of the population, from which the town part suffers much. In the country the number is increasing. There are at present about thirty (30) families nominally Presbyterian in the town and in Korah township. A few Presbyterians bought land here last fall, and intend coming in the spring. These are not included in the above number. Services have been held regularly in the town in the morning and evening of every Sabbath; and in the summer I preached in the country two Sabbaths in succession, remaining in town altogether on the third. But throughout the winter (the roads being so much better), I have given almost regular weekly supply to the country portion of the congregation.

In addition to the regular work in and around Sault Ste. Marie, I made a missionary tour thirty (30) miles up Lake Superior to the lumbering camp and mills of Messrs. McDonald & Cockburn. Through the kindness of Mr. McDonald (who is a worthy son of our church, from Dr. McKay's congregation, Pussineh), I had the privilege of preaching the everlasting gospel both at the mills and in "the camp." Here I preached three (3) times to nearly forty (40) souls all told, and administered the ordinance of baptism. To-morrow I leave (D. V.) for a missionary tour to St. Joseph's Island and the Bruce mines.

In July last a new church was opened in the Sault, by the Rev. J. Straith, Paisley.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered on the 13th of Oct. last when seven (7) were added to the roll, five (5) by profession. The total membership at present is thirty-one (31). Three (3) elders have been ordained and inducted. Baptisms, five (5), one adult.

Of the two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars promised towards the minister's salary, one hundred and ninety ($190) dollars have been paid, leaving a balance of sixty dollars ($60) to be paid by the 31st of March next.* A small portion of this amount has been subscribed; but I entertain doubt in regard to the full amount being paid before, or at the expiration of the year, (31st March). But the amount paid on the stipend ($190) is but a fraction of the congregation's contributions during the year. At the beginning of the year there was a debt upon the church edifice of eleven hundred and sixty-four dollars ($1164). Of this amount the sum of three hundred dollars ($300) was paid during the year. Eleven dollars (11) has been contributed to the schemes of the church, and sixty dollars ($60) towards the running expenses of the church, making a total of five hundred and sixty one dollars ($561), an increase of about three hundred dollars ($300) over any previous year. The whole amount may seem small when contrasted with the contributions of larger and wealthier congregations. But it is very creditable for a more handful of people, the most of whom are in very ordinary circumstances; and perhaps more praiseworthy when it is borne in mind that the male membership is only ten (10). Moreover, as the greater part of the burden has been borne by two individuals, I am confident that even the present rate of giving can't be maintained; and that the mission is in a critical state unless a helping hand be lent from without until the church debt is lifted off.

I may say in conclusion that the mission, notwithstanding some evidences of growth, is not very encouraging. Its interest lies in the future rather than in the present; and with the more rapid settling of the agricultural districts and with the growth of the town, both of which are likely, our cause may flourish. Notwithstanding slow growth and discouragements I could not recommend abandoning the field at this late day. There are a few whose hearts are in warm sympathy with our doctrines and polity, and who have struggled nobly for many years to build up the cause in this place. Moreover, were I to consult my own interest and desires I would ask to be released on the expiration of the year. Yet I cannot assume the responsibility of leaving the few who have toiled so long at so critical a period. Therefore for their sakes and for the sake of our beloved Zion, I leave myself in the hands of the Presbytery and of the Home Mission Committee. If they see fit to discontinue the mission in case of the latter falling short of their engagements, or to remove me I will leave gladly, so far as I am concerned myself. When I formed this resolution it is in the face of several difficulties. With house rent at $80 (and likely to increase soon to $100—$120); being under the necessity of keeping a horse when hay is $20 per ton, and oats 75 cents per bushel, and most of the necessities in proportion, the Fathers and Brethren will not be surprised that more than rigid economy is necessary to make both ends meet. (Since Mr. McLeod's report was prepared, the Presbyterians—new settlers—in Plummer's Township, 10 miles from Bruce Mines, have begun a church building.)—W. C.

SILVER ISLET.

Mr. J. R. Johnston labored here during a portion of the summer under the Students' Missionary Society of Knox College, Toronto. The Convener having reported that the people petitioned for the services of Mr. Johnston for a year, from 1st October, 1878, offering to contribute $300 towards his salary; the Committee granted the application, and agreed to guarantee $300 towards Mr. Johnston's salary.

Mr. Johnston in his annual report writes as follows: "Silver Islet cannot be called an out and out Presbyterian station, as the Presbyterian Element at present is considerably in the minority of either Methodists or Episcopalians. But they all sympathise with our cause and your Missionary has felt as entirely at home among them, as if they were all brother denominationalists. The Agent at the Mine has been a Methodist, but is desirous that the Presbyterians should continue to occupy the station. Quite a number of the members and office-bearers of the company are friends, and give your Missionary every encouragement. The Mine at Silver Islet will certainly be worked for a long time to come. In fact it is likely to become a permanent mining location, as silver is being turned out in considerable quantities, and as they have opened up five other mines upon the main land, with every encouragement.

The population—about 300—is by no means permanent, coming and going constantly, which is not very pleasant. It is composed almost entirely of working people.

We have had only one Communion season since I came. The Sacrament was dispensed by the Rev. Mr. McKerracher of Prince Arthur's Landing, when twelve Presbyterians—two for the first time—with a number of persons from other denominations, engaged in the solemn service.

During the past summer I had two weekly meetings for young men, which were well attended. These I shall resume again at the opening of navigation. Morning and evening service has been regularly kept up through the entire year, the evening congregation numbering one hundred, the morning somewhat less. The Sabbath School has had an attendance of fifty, the Bible Class of ten.

PRINCE ARTHUR'S LANDING.

The Rev. D. McKerracher continues his services at this most important point, to the great satisfaction of the Committee. A church has been erected at Fort William, with an encouraging attendance. At the Landing, owing chiefly to removals, the attendance has been somewhat smaller than during previous winters; but during the present summer, the congregation is expected to improve.

Mr. McKerracher, at the last meeting of the Committee, presented an urgent request for the appointment of a student, to labour along the line of the Pacific Railway, near Thunder Bay. On account of the low state of the funds, the Committee did not feel themselves in a position to make the appointment, without knowing definitely how much the men would contribute towards the salary of the missionary. Final action in the matter was left in the hands of the Convener, after correspondence with Mr. McKerracher.

Since the meeting of the Committee, Mr. McKerracher has undertaken the supply of this field, assisted by Mr. Johnston, the missionary at Silver Islet. He writes as follows regarding it:

"Two weeks ago I made a hurried trip along the line of railway, and after conversation with some of the men then on the work, came to the conclusion not to send for a special missionary for them, but to visit them as often as I can conveniently myself. Mr. Johnston, of Silver Islet, will assist me. He intends going for a trip among them next week, and will probably remain over Sabbath, and in about two weeks I intend making a similar trip, but will likely go further west than he will. Our plan is to hold service every evening in the camps, distribute tracts, sell Bibles, and religious books to such as may wish to buy. On Sabbath we usually arrange to preach at three or four different places, returning home about the middle of the week, about seventy miles. Almost always at these services I have had some Roman Catholics. They listen attentively, and always treat me kindly and courteously. There are a large number of Swedes employed. They are nearly all Lutheran, many of them yet, with very imperfect English, yet will attend service, and are apparently pleased to have the missionary visit them.

Our great difficulty here is the fluctuating character of the population, and I suppose it will be so, at least until the railway is completed to Winnipeg. Still I think, with the Divine blessing, good has been, and is being done. It may not in some respects be very apparent, yet looking back to the summer of 1874, our position is far in advance of what it was then. Our comfort and our hope is, that although it is the lot of one to sow, and another to reap, in the harvest they shall both rejoice together.

MANITOBA AND THE NORTH WEST TERRITORY.

The Presbytery of Manitoba thus reports for the year 1878-9. The year has been one of extended labour and of outward progress. The Missionaries of the Presbytery have pushed their way over the prairies to some eighty different points, and while lamenting that the work done has not resulted in complete organization, the Presbytery would yet rejoice that hopeful nuclei of congregations of future strength and influence have during the year increased. Missionary work on the Northwestern prairies must be done on a different plan from that in the backwoods of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, where the settlements progress with slow and certain step, reclaiming the soil just as colonization roads advance. In the Northwest it is nothing unusual to see the enterprising settler pushing out five, ten, or even twenty miles over the prairie, and leaving all others behind. The settlers are for a time consequently widely scattered. The task of reaching distant stations which is imposed on almost all the missionaries is a heavy one. One missionary going a regular journey every other Sabbath of twenty-six miles; another twenty-eight; another forty; another fifty and the like. The missionary is frequently called upon to pass over open prairies from five to fifty miles wide without having a house to call at; the land being a reserve either for the half-breed, the railway, the foreigner, or the immigration company. Physical hardship is accordingly the common experience of the Manitoba missionary. It is gratifying to the Presbytery to have to report that good health, and safety from danger by storm or accident has been vouchsafed to the missionaries of the Presbytery. The long and lonely journey's of the missionary make it necessary that he should be provided with the means of transport, both as to horses and vehicles of the most suitable description. It is well the Church should know that the missionaries salary in the Northwest has a very heavy demand upon it in the necessity of providing for safe and speedy locomotion. It is but necessary to mention that the mission operations directed by the Presbytery from Winnipeg extending six hundred miles west and to points requiring nine weeks at the soonest to receive an answer from to a letter sent, and that the whole distance must be accomplished by ordinary conveyance, to understand that the Northwest mission work is of a kind hitherto unattempted and unexampled in the history of the Church in Canada. It is a gratifying thing for the missionary in the Northwest that so large a proportion of the immigration is Presbyterian in character. A prospect is thus afforded of congregations becoming self-sustaining in a comparatively short time—but the weighty responsibility is also involved of our being represented as a church in almost every new settlement as it is formed. In order to do this the Presbytery is constantly under the necessity of making use of suitable catechists, students, or other available laborers—other than the regular appointees of the Assembly's Home Mission Committee—and this on account of the circumstances already referred to, involves a certain amount of extra expense.

The Presbytery endeavouring most earnestly to carry out the policy of the Home Mission Committee has used every legitimate influence in its power to increase the contributions of the stations. The Presbytery at its meeting in Portage La Prairie, in September, fixed the amount to be contributed by stations according to the best information at its disposal: these amounts have in all cases been deducted from the salaries promised by your Committee; these amounts have, in the case of several missionaries who were absent at that meeting, and from whom no data had been received, been, 'I. Presbytery fears, too large for the resources of the fields and some suffering has undoubtedly been entailed on the missionaries concerned. It was gratifying to the Presbytery to be able to report an advance in the amounts so laid on the congregations of $2,235 in excess of last year, the amount of last year being $2,855; it is furthermore believed that though there are at present arrears in several localities, those will in most cases be met—in a few instances this may not be the case. Missionaries have, in almost all instances, shown a willingness to meet their people by taking agricultural products such as could be supplied, however undesirable this may seem to the minister in his comfortable charge at home, who gets his salary in money and on the quarter day.

These constitute some of the facts on the personal side of the work in the Northwest. It is no doubt inspiring to see communities rise from utter disorganization into strength and compactness; it is a great joy to the missionary to see the little bandful with whom he struggled, becoming in five or ten years a good, or large congregation; it is a precious privilege to comfort and pray with the sick and poor of smooth the unevenness of the way for the struggling settler; but it is a nobler thing to have to endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ, for the sake of one who endured so great suffering for men.

In mentioning a few details of the mission work carried on by the Presbytery, it may be well to begin with some of the more exceptional fields and the labourers in them.

REV. A. H. CAMERON, (C. P. RAILWAY.)

This gentleman from the Presbytery of Brookville, reached "the line" in June 1878. 37 miles of railway cutting and levelling through a region of rock and lake, lying 80 or 100 miles east of Winnipeg, consisting of the Western fringe of the great Laurentian belt lying Northwest of Lake Superior, gives very full employment to the missionary. The qualities of physical endurance, resoluteness, good preaching power, and kindness seem united in Mr. Cameron; and to be able for a year to succeed among 1000 or 1500 navvies passing through two strikes, speaks well for the man. It is but right to mention that a large proportion of the workmen on the C. P. Railway are from Ontario and Nova Scotia, and are not of the ordinary navvy class. The contractor, Mr. Whitehead, has generously given the missionary board and accommodation, and the men by free offerings have contributed about $900 salary for the year ending June proximo. The plan pursued is of passing from camp to camp, which are from half-a-mile to two or three miles apart. Holding four or five services each Sabbath, and occasional week night services, the missionary takes about a month to make his circuit of some twenty-eight stations. The seed is sown broadcast here, who can tell the harvest? The mission is self-sustaining.

CONTRACT 42, C. P. R.

Contract forty-two— a heavy rock contract beginning at Lake of the Woods, extends eastward. The contractors are now engaging men, and will have from 1600 to 2000 employed. A deputation of the Home Mission of the Presbytery had a Conference with the contractors and received every encouragement. Another missionary is now wanted. Can he be obtained? Determination, bodily strength, tact, and patience are all required for this work.

REV. P. STRAITH, (Battleford.)
 REV. D. C. JOHNSON } Prince Albert.
 REV. J. DUNCAN }

In the Saskatchewan Valley, Messrs. Straith and Duncan represent the Home Mission interests of the Church, though Mr. Johnson, of the Foreign Mission has rendered good service to the Home Missions. This Saskatchewan field is to be distinguished from that of the Little Saskatchewan, to which so large a portion of the immigration coming to the Northwest is directed, being 350 miles further West. Indeed, Battleford and Prince Albert in the valley of the Great Saskatchewan are 180 miles apart. Battleford the present Capital of the Northwest, is a place of 200 people, whites and half-breeds. Mr. Straith holds service at a hall in the village and also in the Government House. He has done good service in teaching a school on one-half of each week day.

Whether Battleford is to be the future Capital of the Northwest is open to question. Good service has been done the Church by being represented by a missionary. Should Prince Albert be selected as the Capital, it is worthy of consideration, whether the second missionary in the Saskatchewan valley should not be stationed at Prince Albert. Prince Albert has been of late so prominently before the Church that but little need be said regarding it. Mr. Straith of Battleford, spent several months during last summer at Prince Albert, and received very favorable recognition from the people. In view of the Assembly's Committee, being unable to send a missionary there last autumn, the Presbytery ordained and sent to Prince Albert, Rev. J. Duncan, who had shortly before finished his course in Manitoba College. Mr. Duncan has labored with great acceptance, has made a beginning in organization, and has sent in the first lists of subscription to the funds of the church ever received from Prince Albert, amounting to something above $200. The prospects of Prince Albert are good. It is however, a long way in advance of the stream of immigration settling westward. It will receive gradual additions of population however, and being placed under the care of Rev. Mr. Ross, we may be expected to hold our position as a Church, and retain what has been the subject of much anxiety to the Presbytery.

REV. A. SMITH, (Little Saskatchewan).
 Mr. J. WILLERT, (Beautiful and Big Plains)

The immigration of the summer of 1878 opened up a region for settlement of the best description, to which only an occasional settler had hitherto gone. One hundred and fifty miles from Winnipeg begins the second of the three great plateaux extending to the Rocky Mountains. Riding Mountains, Little Saskatchewan, Shoal Lake, and Bird's Tail Creek are all localities now being settled up. Rapid City and Prairie City, points now of little importance, will probably become centres of future influence. Rev. Mr. Smith occupies both of these points besides several other places in which buildings for church purposes are being erected. For a short time last summer Mr. Smith had the assistance of a catechist, but during the autumn and winter, has been in the wide field single handed. Rev. Mr. Roddie, a minister from Nova Scotia, who went with a colony of some 80 persons, with others to join them, has settled in this district on this side of the Little Saskatchewan. In the scarcity of laborers arising from the position of the Home Mission Funds, it is hoped that he may be able to give some assistance. Beautiful and Big Plains' districts are between the Western boundary of the Province of Manitoba and the Little Saskatchewan. Last Summer Mr. J. Willert, a student of Knox College, occupied the wide district with much efficiency. The settlement of this district will go on with great rapidity this year. It is usually a year after the land is taken up in a district, before the settlement fills up and becomes ready for anything like organization. It is said timber for 110 houses was got out for building on Big Plains alone during last winter. After the departure of Mr. Willert for College, the services of such catechist assistance as was available by the Presbytery's Home Mission Committee, was employed, and during the present summer, a student of Knox College, Mr. K. Grant, is at work in the district.

REV. A. BELL, (Portage La Prairie.
 " H. McKELLAR, (High Bluff, &c.)
 " J. S. STUART, (Palestine, &c.)
 " S. DONALDSON, (Woodlands &c)

One of the most fertile and best agricultural districts of Manitoba, extends from the Western boundary of the Province for 70 miles to within 30 miles of Winnipeg. In this region (largely settled by Canadians) the four missionaries above named, have been laboring in some twelve stations. The present liberal scheme of Railways proposed by the Dominion Government, will give this region a greater importance than ever. Portage La Prairie, the principal business centre west of Winnipeg, having joined with it Burnside, has increased in contributions during the past year, but the Presbytery expect a still further advance during the current year, and an approximation towards paying the minister's whole salary. High Bluffs &c., are doing exceedingly well, and are contributing fully up to their ability. At Palestine peculiar difficulties have stood in the way of the people, but the erection of a church in Gladstone (to be opened in July) the chief point of the group, will it is hoped be attended with advantage to the congregations. Palestine is sufficiently removed from business centres to feel very much on account of the want of market facilities, the difficulty of raising money. Woodland group of stations is not a large large one, though the Presbytery does not well see how it can be given up. The experiment of connecting Headingly with it, and its missionary giving half supply to Headingly, which received the other half from Winnipeg, was carried out for the year, but can hardly be said to have been successful.

REV. H. J. BORTHWICK, (PEMBINA MOUNTAINS.)
 REV. W. R. ROSS, (BOYNE RIVER.)

This district, and that of the Little Saskatchewan previously mentioned, now afford the principal districts in which Free Grant Lands can be had. The great distance from Railway communication and markets is a difficulty affecting the contributing power of this region. Farmers may have grain to sell, but by the time such a load as the state of the roads will allow, can be brought to Winnipeg, sold at a low rate, and the return home made, the expenditure is nearly equal to the amount received. The scheme of Colonization Railways at present proposed, and likely to be carried out, will include this one of the finest districts of the Province, and give great financial relief.

ROCK LAKE DISTRICT.

The Western part of the Pembina Mountains' region has gone on settling up to a point known as Rock Lake. It is estimated that there are 200 families in the Southern Pembina Mountains' and Rock Lake districts. Rev. Mr. Berthwick is the only missionary in this large extent. If at all possible another missionary must be had for the Western part of this field. The Boyne River District under charge of Rev. Mr. Ross, has during the year been pretty well organized, and the work is advancing in the group. Several churches are in process of erection in this region.

REV. J. SCOTT, (EMERSON, &c.)
 REV. J. DOUGLAS, (MORRIS &c.)

During the past year the church in Emerson—a comfortable structure, holding 300—has been furnished and opened. Emerson is now a place of some importance, being situated on the southern terminus of the Pembina Branch Railway. The congregation here has been very much hampered in its contributions to the Home Mission Fund by the erection of the church building, which was an absolute necessity. The building was opened free of debt. A system of weekly offerings has been adopted which promises well. In connection with Emerson and two other stations in its vicinity Rev. Mr. Scott has given a portion of his time to the village of Pembina. This place, one of the oldest in the Northwest, is a border village—the resort of refugees from older settlements in the United States, and of refugees from Manitoba. No church has hitherto succeeded in getting any foothold whatever. Several attempts have been made by different denominations represented in Emerson to maintain service. Mr. Scott's efforts are the only ones that have been at all successful. He has a weekly service well attended. The people of Pembina have subscribed $500, which they expect to raise to $800, and the American Church Board is expected to advance $400. The Presbytery regrets to have to state that the $250 given to Mr. Scott in 1877 by the American Board has not been forthcoming for 1878, on account of the organization not bringing it within the regulations of that Board. Steps have been taken to meet the difficulty this year. It is not right that so useful and self-denying a missionary as Mr. Scott should lose this amount on account of circumstances over which he had no control.

At Morris is the nucleus of a rising and influential town. It is perfectly new missionary ground, and two other stations are connected with it. Mr. Douglas on going to the place in May last had no church, no house, no congregation awaiting him. A new church erected by another body, having absolutely no adherents in the locality, was rented. Mr. Douglass, out of his own savings, erected a house, and a fair congregation was gathered. The two hundred dollars laid on the grant by the Presbytery was, there can be no doubt, too high. It is an easy matter sitting in the committee room, or even at the meeting of the Presbytery, to make laws, but it is hard to carry them out in a field absolutely unorganized up to that time. The congregation, with the help of some friends in Winnipeg, will make an effort to build a church this summer, and tenders are to be called for immediately.

REV. A. MATHESON, LITTLE BRITAIN, &C.

The work under Mr. Matheson's care has prospered during the past year. The church at Little Britain has been freed from the last instalment of debt during the past year. The station of Selkirk, the prospective crossing of the C. P. Railway, has grown considerably during the past year. Twenty members have been received during the year. The people of Selkirk have taken steps toward the erection of a church. At the last meeting Rev. Mr. Matheson was transferred by the Presbytery to the charge of Springfield and Sunnyside, these stations having given him a hearty call.

A number of stations without missionaries placed over them are of necessity left vacant. On account of the central position of Winnipeg, and its having a number of others as the pastors of the settled congregations, the professors and students of the ministry of Manitoba College, who take an interest in missionary work; the Presbytery usually inclines to man the out-ports and supply such stations about the centre, when the supply of labourers is limited as it has been for several years. No less than nine stations have received their chief supply from the source above referred to during the past year.

FUTURE SUPPLY.

The Presbytery would reiterate its oft repeated application for more men. The immigration already this season—only two months—is estimated at not less than 7000 or 8000. How can their wants be supplied? A large proportion are Presbyterians. Much of the money contributed by congregations in all parts of Canada is contributed with the North-West in view, for since the mission work in the North-West has been taken up there has been a great increase in the amounts contributed for Home Mission purposes. Shall not the Gospel be carried along with the advancing march of settlement? Patriotism—the expectation of the Canadian people—the encouraging voice of the Mother Land—the policy deliberately adopted by the Assembly for several years past, and the Saviour's own command leave us no alternative but to go forward.

PRINCE ALBERT MISSION.

Your Committee are happy to report that the Rev. Donald Ross, of Lancaster, has accepted the appointment to the Prince Albert Mission, and leaves at once for his distant field of labor. At a meeting of the Committee, held during the session of the General Assembly in Hamilton last year, the appointment was offered Mr. Ross, who was unable at that time to accept it. At the ordinary meeting of the Committee held in October, Mr. Ross having intimated his readiness to accept provided the Committee could wait till next spring, it was unanimously resolved, after hearing Mr. Ross give expression to his mind on the matter, to appoint him to Prince Albert for a term of at least four years, with a salary of $1,250 per annum and travelling expenses to the field, with the understanding that these do not exceed $500.

At the meeting of the Committee held in March last, Mr. Ross addressed the Committee, and presented a report embodying information as to the field obtained by him during the winter with the amounts collected towards the mission.

It was then unanimously resolved, "That in view of the information presented to the Committee regarding the cost of transportation to Prince Albert, and the present expense of living there, the Committee increase the allowance to Mr. Ross for travelling expenses to a sum not exceeding $900, and that for the first year a special grant of $250 be made to Mr. Ross in addition to his salary."

It was also agreed to ask Mr. Ross to obtain his commission from his present charge as early as convenient, and to spend several weeks in visiting a number of congregations of the Church in the interests of his mission, and that for the present he should report directly to this Committee, and the Treasurer be instructed to remit his salary direct to himself.

Mr. Ross, since the meeting of the Committee in March, has visited several of the churches in Ontario, and addressed meetings on the work of the Church in the North-West, with gratifying success.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The following is the report of St Andrew's Church New, Westminster, for the past year, Mr. Jamieson says:—

There has been in some respect a little progress made. My labors have been confined to the town. The state of my health compelled me to give up the monthly supply of the North Arm

Station, 15 miles down the river, which I have so long attended. The Rev. A. Dunn, stationed at Langley, about 20 miles up the river, now supplies the North Arm once in three weeks, in addition to four other stations, three of which were formerly attended to by me for many years. There has been quite an increase of population in those districts, and the attendance at Mr. Dunn's services is very encouraging. To overtake all the wants of our church in this district, however, we ought to have another missionary at work at once. The money question is the barrier. It is so far encouraging that the conditional $800 required towards my salary is now made up by the town congregation alone, and paid weekly. St. Andrew's formerly paid $600, and the North Arm $200. We have had the purely voluntary system of support in operation for some years. We have no pew rents, no subscription lists (for ordinary revenue), no envelopes nor check of any kind:—just the Sabbath collections in the ordinary way, appealing to all to give "upon the first day as God hath prospered them." Hence the practice above stated—weekly payment of salary. Our stated congregation is small, and the general attendance very irregular, yet the sabbath collections amount to $861; including special collection of $43, for the Ministers' Widows' and Orphans' Fund. It is to the few regular worshippers we are indebted for the greater portion of the whole amount. Proceeds of social meetings at re-opening of church, 112 50. Total ordinary revenue, 973 11. Raised during the year for repairs, alterations and additions to the church, with liberal assistance from friends in the town and elsewhere in the Province, 1,100. Total for all purposes, $2,073 11. While the Church was undergoing repairs we worshipped for about two months in the Court House. The debt on the church is still $300. Towards its payment we have obtained a conditional promise of £50 sterling from the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland. That church pays yearly five thousand dollars towards the support of five ministers in the Province, three of them from Nova Scotia, and two from Scotland; besides grants of £30 sterling to the building fund of every new church erected: Our church would have loitered far behind but for the prompt and liberal action of the old Kirk four years ago. As things now appear, we hope to be able very soon to do much more towards self-support in New Westminster. This country, however, has been such a continual scene of disappointments all along, and of railway "surprises" since confederation that we must not make rash promises. If people had never heard of "railways," and had settled down to work more and waste and drink less, we would all have been much better off to-day in every respect. We shall relieve you of the burden of our supplementary support as soon as it is possible for us to do so. Connected with St. Andrews we have 33 families. Communicants, 25; excluding North Arm. Three Elders. Seven baptisms. Communion quarterly. Prayer meeting weekly. Two services every sabbath. Fifty names on Sabbath-school roll. Five teachers. International Lessons and Shorter Catechism are used; also Westminster Question Book by the teachers. A Sabbath-school paper, the Visitor, given out every week, and some copies of the "Sunbeam" to the younger scholars. Forty-three copies of the Presbyterian Record for the Dominion of Canada are paid for by the Congregational Committee, and distributed monthly. Though the regular congregation is small, my labours, and I trust, usefulness are not to be understood as limited to it. There is a constant succession of people belonging to our church passing and re-passing, and remaining a longer or shorter period in attendance upon our services whom no statistics can include. Indeed, for the seventeen years I have spent in the Province, it may be said that my work has been really an "itinerating mission," with this difference, that I remain in one place, and the people do the "itinerating." Hence our very slow growth, and our unusually long need of the liberal pecuniary aid generously granted by the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Thousands of our people have been more or less benefited by the ministrations of our church in this country, but they do not help our statistical tables—in this world.

I feel very much assisted and comforted in my work, since the General Assembly in Canada granted me permission to connect myself with the Presbytery of British Columbia, in connection with the Church of Scotland. My many years of isolation under the most discouraging conditions made the change a peculiarly gratifying one to me. The connection has not only strengthened my hands in many ways, direct and indirect, but my respected brethren have shown me much kindness during my severe illness last winter, and a similar attack this one from which I am just now beginning to recover. With some help from Mr. Dunn, and the conducting of the services on several Sabbaths by Mr. J. A. Halliday, one of the elders, and Mr. John S. Clute, (public school teacher and collector of customs respectively), we have been able to rejoice in uninterrupted sabbath supply. I am very glad to say that there was an encouraging attendance upon the temporary services. I regret to say that the Presbyterian Church in the Province does not, as yet, present an undivided front. The first Presbyterian Church, Victoria, is not connected with our Presbytery, nor with any other Presbytery or body. Its able and much respected minister, the Rev. John Reid, is connected with a Presbytery on the American side. The cause of the want of union does not arise from denominational partiality or prejudice. It is purely local, and limited to a few on each side, and therefore it is to be hoped only temporary.

In the month of December last, the Presbytery of British Columbia asked the Committee to appoint and send out a Missionary to relieve the Rev. Mr. Jamieson for six months or a year, on account of the weak state of his health. The Sub-committee, owing to the state of the fund, decided not to make the appointment without the concurrence of the entire Committee. When the Committee met in March, a communication was received from Mr. Jamieson asking that no further action be taken in the matter.

ANNUAL REPORT OF KNOX COLLEGE STUDENTS' MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The main object of the Society is to carry the Gospel to the more recently settled portions of the country. During the summer months missionaries are sent to these districts, and stations are established and cared for until strong enough to take their place among the regular mission stations of the Church; then they pass into the charge of the Presbytery within the bounds of which they are situated, and the Society's missionaries are sent forward to new fields. The work is thus largely of a pioneer kind. A considerable number of fields first occupied by the Society are now healthy mission stations or pastoral charges. In the Parry Sound District an ordained missionary now labors where a few years ago our missionaries were breaking ground. At Prince Arthur's Landing a pastor is now settled where he first laboured as our missionary. In Manitoulin Island an ordained missionary has now the oversight of fields which owe their origin to our Society. Fields have also in the past years been occupied in the Ottawa Presbytery, in the Counties of Essex, Lambton and Simcoe, at Sault Ste Marie, Silver Islet, and as far west as Manitoba.

Supply is sometimes given to fields in which there is little prospect of establishing permanent stations, the prosperity of the districts depending almost wholly on lumbering or mining operations. In most cases, however, the stations become permanent. New fields are asking for supply every year, but the work can be extended only as the funds permit.

The expenses in connection with the work are defrayed by contributions obtained by the missionaries in their respective fields, and by donations from friends throughout the Church. The fields generally contribute well, but the very fact that they are handed over to Presbyteries as soon as they become self-sustaining, will indicate how essential to the progress of our work is the liberality of friends outside of the fields. The attention of friends of the Society is invited to the nature of our work as worthy of a generous support. The following fields have been occupied during the past year, viz.: Rosseau, Maganctawan, Doe Lake, Manitoulin South, North Hastings, Cobocok, Wanbaushene and Nipissing.

The following items may be specially noted.

MUSKOKA.

In 1872 the Society sent a missionary to Muskoka, which was at that time almost an unknown land to both immigrants and missionaries. He was invested with discretionary powers as to location, but was able to hold services with some degree of regularity at all the places where it was possible to gather together a little congregation, from Muskosh on the south, to Maganctawan on the north. This region and the country to the north and east are now occupied by eight missionaries, four of whom are supported by the Students' Society.

Of these places, Rosseau and South Lake soon asked for a missionary of their own, and they have gradually grown in numbers and strength from that day to this. The congregation at each place has been properly organized with the assistance of the Rev. Allan Findlay, of Bracebridge, and elders and managers have been elected. In Rosseau village a neat little frame church was erected a year ago, and during the past summer it was advanced a stage toward completion by the addition of interior fittings. This field now passes into the care of the Presbytery.

Maganctawan which lies 34 miles north of Rosseau, on the Nipissing Colonization Road, and is the leading depot for supplies in the northern part of the country, received a missionary for itself, in connection with Doe Lake, only three years ago, but settlement has been so rapid that year it was found necessary to erect Doe Lake and the surrounding settlements into a separate charge. The Maganctawan people built a frame church, 30x50, during the summer, and 31 names were added to the communion roll. Since the departure of our missionary last fall they have been placed under the care of an ordained missionary, and they will therefore no longer appear on our list.

North of this, the Society has for two years occupied a station south of Lake Nipissing. Nipissingan, where the missionary held service regularly, is to be the terminus of the Canada Pacific Railway, and is likely therefore to be a point of some importance. For the present, the large number of settlers who are taking up land here and at Commanada in the same neighborhood afford ample room for missionary effort, and the sphere of operation will be enlarged during the coming summer by the workmen employed in the construction of the railway.

East of Maganetawan a very interesting field was occupied. It included Myerson, Burgessboro', Katrine and Emsdale. The first two stations pass into the care of the ordained missionary at Maganetawan; but the other two places will continue under the care of the Society in connection with new settlements to the East and North. A church was built at Emsdale, and measures were taken for the erection of one at Burgessboro'.

The Society has undertaken to send a missionary during the coming summer to the township of Strong, which lies N.E. of Maganetawan, and between Nipissing and Katrine; by this means the whole of this Northern country will be supplied, although in an inadequate manner, with gospel ordinances.

A student will also be sent to the eastern part of the Muskoka District. He will make his headquarters at Baysville, and will visit the settlements around Trading Lake and the Lake of Bays.

It would be unjust to close the report of the work in Muskoka without acknowledging the debt of gratitude which both the missionaries and the fields owe to the Rev Allan Findlay, of Bracebridge. He visits the mission stations each summer for the purpose of administering the ordinance of baptism and the Lord's Supper, and his experience in mission work, his knowledge of Muskoka, and his constant presence on the field make him an invaluable adviser to the Society.

MANITOULIN.

For the last seven years the Society has been sending missionaries to Manitoulin Island. Although the beginnings were small, and although for some years the progress, on account of the dullness of the lumber trade, was not very marked, yet on the whole, there has been a steady and in latter years, a rapid advancement, which showed itself last year in the erection of two comfortable churches—one at Gore Bay, and the other at Manitowaning. Two years ago the Rev. Hugh McKay was sent by the Bruce Presbytery to this field, and last year they sent a student as well, so that it has been gradually passing from the Society's care into that of the Presbytery which will henceforth assume entire control of the field. The Society intends this summer to transfer its energies to St. Joseph's Island to which there has been a large influx of settlers during the last year.*

The North Hastings field has been for a number of years under the care of the Society. The progress last summer was very satisfactory—a new station was taken up and an effort was made to secure an ordained missionary. Since they have not succeeded in securing a minister in this way, the Society has agreed to take up the field for another year and to send two students. It is proper to state here that last spring, after the publication of the Annual Report, the sum of $76 75 was received in payment of the missionary of 1877.

Coboconk is not a newly settled district but it came into the care of the Society only two years ago. The results have been very satisfactory, both financially and in other respects. The membership two years ago was 16, now it is 85.

Waubushene was occupied as formerly, but the work was interfered with by the illness and death of the missionary, Mr. J. M. Rogers, whose early removal is keenly felt both by his fellow-students and by the many friends he made during his stay of a few months in Waubushene.

An idea of the work done in all our fields, and of the strength of each, may be gathered from the statistical table subjoined to this report.

In reference to work done during the College Session of 1878 but a word need be said. Assistance has been given to those engaged in Christian work at the Jail, the Central Prison, and the Hospital. Leslieville and Davenport, which last year received Sabbath service from the Society have this winter been supplied as regular mission fields. The work has been continued in Brockton and evening services have been commenced in Parkdale.

*Since the publication of this report, the Society has generously offered to send a missionary this year also to Manitoulin, the Bruce Presbytery being unable otherwise to meet the necessities of the field.

The Society acknowledges its indebtedness to Mrs. Reid, of Rosseau; Mr. English, of Michael's Bay, Manitoulin; Mrs. Carr, of Commanda, and the Georgian Bay Lumbering Company, of Waukegan, for boarding the missionaries in their respective fields free of charge. Sincere thanks are tendered to all the friends of the Society who have enabled it to carry on its work. While God has been pleased to own and bless our labors, we are not forgetful of the fact that our whole work in the Mission Field and in our monthly meetings is a valuable means of fostering the missionary spirit and quickening religious life among us.

Our prayer is that the Great Head of the Church may grant blessings still more abundant in years to come.

REPORT OF QUEEN'S COLLEGE MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION

This Association opens for the Session on the first Saturday after the opening of Divinity Hall, and thereafter meets regularly until the close of classes in Theology.

The work of the Association during the Session is threefold :—(1) Supplying Mission Fields on behalf of Kingston Presbytery ; (2) Giving occasional supply to vacant charges, and also to settled congregations in the temporary absence of their own pastor ; and (3) attending to special work within the city, such as Sabbath School teaching, weekly prayer meetings on Sabbath morning, visitation of hospital and jail, tract distribution, holding regular Sabbath services in House of Industry, Asylum, and in the Village of Portsmouth.

The following Mission Stations within the bounds of Kingston Presbytery have been supplied by the Association during the Session at the request of the Presbytery's Convener of Home Missions.

WOLFE ISLAND.—This field lies across the bay from Kingston, it received weekly supply during the Session and, owing to the earnest and energetic efforts of our missionary stationed there last summer, a new church is in course of erection and the field is in a more hopeful state than ever before.

MILL HAVEN AND BATH.—There are three preaching stations on this field, Mill Haven, Bath and the Lutheran Church. Mill Haven along with one of the others in alternate order received supply every fortnight throughout the Session.

CAMDEN AND SHEFFIELD.—For the greater part of the winter this field received weekly supply, i. e., fortnightly supply for the front stations, viz., Fifth Concession Church (Camden), Newburgh, and Clarke's Mills ; and fortnightly supply for the back stations, viz., Bell's School House (Tamworth), Eighth Concession Church (Camden), and Centreville.

MORTON.—This field received regular monthly supply from the Association, besides occasional supply also given by Association on behalf of members of Presbytery, when unable to fulfil their Presbyterial appointments to this field.

SHARBOT LAKE AND PARHAM.—This field was supplied fortnightly during the Session, other stations adjoining received occasional supply.

During the Christmas holidays a student was sent out by the Association to each of the above fields, including Consec. These students remained on their respective fields during the week, engaged in house to house visitation, and endeavoured, not without success, to press the claims of the gospel upon the people.

Steps were taken by the Association during the Session to bring Portsmouth preaching station into closer alliance with the Society, and to endeavour thereby the better to further the cause of Christ in that place. A public meeting under the auspices of the Association was held in the Town Hall, which was attended by some of the city ministers, by members of the Association, and by those in the village interested in the work. After due discussion a committee was appointed to take steps for the erection of a church. The service was changed from the afternoon to the evening, and the change has already largely increased the attendance and deepened the interests of the people in the Master's cause.

Contrary to its former plan of letting the Church provide all the work for its members during the summer, the Association agreed this Session to assume the responsibility of providing supply for two destitute fields, which would otherwise have been left without the ordinary means of grace. This, it is thought, is a step in the right direction, and the Association hopes in the future to be able still further to widen its influence and extend its field of operations.

Four members of the Association having finished their Theological course are candidates for license; and twenty-three members in all have gone forth at the close of the Session to different parts of the country, to engage in a live mission work.

Besides the amount received from the Home Mission Fund, which after defraying expenses to and from the field amounted to 85 cents a Sabbath, the Association has received during the Session the following amounts from mission fields, viz.: Mill Haven $30, Newburgh $12, Morton $1.30. It will be seen from these returns that some places sent in nothing at all. It must, however, be remembered that these fields have all contributed more or less on behalf of members of this Association who were engaged thereon as missionaries last summer.

In conclusion, the Association desires to thank Almighty God for the measure of success He has granted to it in the past; for the encouraging reports of conversions to Christ and of additions to the Church accomplished through its instrumentality; and for the hopeful position in which it finds itself at the present time; and it earnestly prays that the Holy Spirit may bless every effort it puts forth to extend the cause of Christ and advance the glory of His name.

MISSIONARIES FOR SUMMER OF 1879.

A. ANDERSON,	-	-	-	-	Coaticooke.
J. A. ANDERSON, B. A.,	-	-	-	-	Massawippi.
J. McFARLAND,	-	-	-	-	Tuanet.

This Society has been in existence since 1869. It consists of all students in connection with the College. During the summer months, several students are sustained in fields selected by the Society. During College session its members engage in mission work in the city, as opportunity offers.

The annual report shews that the work of the Society in the various mission fields, has been greatly prospered and owned of the Lord. The members of the Society raise the necessary funds, partly by subscription in the fields occupied during the summer, and partly by the aid of Christian friends in the city and elsewhere.

MISSION FIELDS 1878-9.

CANTLEY AND PORTLAND.—This field is within the bounds of the Ottawa Presbytery, and is situated between the Gatineau and Du Lievre rivers. Mr. A. Anderson labored in this extensive district during last summer, with much acceptance. A new church has just been completed at Portland. Services were held at four stations. Upper Cantley, average attendance, 50; Lower Cantley, 60; Wakefield, 55; Portland, 46. Amount collected, $96. The Society at its last meeting decided to hand this field over to the Presbytery.

MATTAWA.—This is a new field also within the bounds of the Ottawa Presbytery, and covers a district extending from Pembroke to the head of the Ottawa River. Mr. J. Mitchell laboured here last summer with marked success. Services were held at six stations. Average attendance 230 (at all stations). Amount collected, $136; besides $650 for building purposes. The Society has dropped this field also, and the Presbytery of Ottawa have ordained a missionary to labour here permanently.

MASSAWIPPI, RICHBY AND COATICOOKE.—Our missionaries have labored in this field with great success. Mr. Scott returned with a very encouraging report, services were held at three stations each Sabbath. Average collections, $250; amount collected $390. During last winter, members of our society supplied these stations with Sabbath services. We have divided this field for the coming summer, and appointed Mr. A. Anderson to Richby and Coaticooke, and Mr. J. A. Anderson, B. A., to Massawippi.

L'AMBLE.—This field has been worked by our Society for many years. Mr. J. Munro, B. A., was missionary last summer, and did a good work. The people have nearly completed their church. Services were held at three stations. Average attendance, 125; amount collected, $90. The Kingston Presbytery have taken charge of this field for the future.

THANET AND THE RIDGE.—Mr. J. McFarland labored in this field last summer, and at the request of the people, has returned for the coming summer. Services were held at three stations. Average attendance, 200; amount collected $80.00.

Rev. W. P. McKay, M. A., of Hull, England, at the request of the Society, delivered a lecture in Erskine Church on the evening of December 3rd, 1878, on "The highest function of the Church of God." Dr. McKay received the hearty thanks of the audience. The proceeds were devoted to the funds of the Society.

EXPENDITURE.

1878-79—$1100.00

The members of the Society desire to thank the many friends who have assisted them in various ways, and would bespeak for them a continuance of their liberality.

They would record their gratitude to Almighty God, who has so greatly blessed their humble efforts to extend the knowledge of the Gospel, and pray that His favour may still be continued to them.

CONTINUOUS SUPPLY OF MISSION STATIONS.

The scheme for the continuous supply of mission stations, submitted and approved of generally by last Assembly, has been submitted to Presbyteries during the year, and several applications made to the Home Mission Committee, for supply in accordance with its provisions. Correspondence has been held with the members of the Committee connected with our colleges, in reference to bringing the scheme under the notice of the students or graduates, who may be willing to accept appointments to such mission fields. Mr. Bruce has also met with the students of Knox College, and addressed them on the subject.

The Committee would respectively recommend the following changes in the scheme as presented to last General Assembly.

I. That in the clause (3) in (II) instead of the words "who are willing to engage in this work" the following be inserted:—"who may in exceptional cases, be engaged in this work."

II. That in the case of Students the term of appointment be for eighteen months, in place of two years.

III. That the following blank form be prepared and distributed to Presbyteries, and that it be required that a copy of this, duly filled, accompany every application to the Home Mission Committee, for supply under the provisions of this scheme.

"BLANK FORM FOR CONTINUOUS SUPPLY."

A copy of this form duly filled must accompany every application to the Home Mission Committee for supply under the provisions of this scheme.

1st. Name or designation of field and its location.

2d. Distances apart from Presbyterian Churches nearest to the field.

3d. Number and denomination of other Churches in or near the field.

4th. Estimated total number of families of all denominations within the range of the field.

5th. Number of families professedly Presbyterian?

" Communicants " " ?

6th. Number of families not attached to any Church.

7th. General character of the field and prospects as to its growth and development.

8th. Amount per annum to be raised by the field or provided some other way in connection with it?

9th. Is the field taken up by the Church now for the first time?

10. If not, how long has it been supplied, and in what way.

11. Remarks.

IV. That a period of three months be allowed, in which the Missionary elect may be in the field on probation before the engagement be considered as completed; such time however being counted as part of the two years, if the engagement is finally confirmed.

GRANTS FROM BRITISH CHURCHES.

The Committee have again to report the continued kindness of the Free Church of Scotland, in sending the sum of £300, and of the Presbyterian Church of Ireland, in sending the sum of £110 for Home Mission work in the Western District.

FINANCE.

The Committee began the year with a debt of $5,867.40. At the meeting of the Committee held in October, it was found that after paying the claims then due—for service performed from April to October, 1878—the indebtedness had increased to $19,000 and that the entire amount required to meet engagements for the year ending April, 1879, would be not less than $43,000. As instructed, the Convener at once issued a brief statement of the condition and urgent demands of the fund, which was sent to every minister of the church, to be submitted to their congregations, in the way deemed most effective, and at the earliest possible date. A circular letter was also addressed to the various Presbyteries of the Church, with a view to a special effort being made to have the contributions increased; and accompanied by a copy of the following resolution adopted by the Committee:

"Whereas, the indebtedness of the Fund at this date exceeds $19,000—nearly $6,000 above the debt at the same period last year; Whereas the estimated expenditure of the current year is about $43,000; and whereas, the Committee are satisfied that only by a strong and general effort the income of the year can be made equal to the expenditure; Resolved, that the Convener be instructed to request all the Presbyteries of the Church to use the utmost diligence to secure liberal contributions to the Home Mission Scheme from every congregation and station within their bounds, and hereby intimates that in the event of sufficient funds not being forthcoming prior to the March meeting of the Committee, they will be under the necessity of deducting a percentage from the claims of all Presbyteries for Supplemented Congregations and Mission Stations for the half year ending 31st March next, so as to equalize the expenditure with the income of the year."

The Committee further earnestly request Presbyteries carefully to revise every application for aid with a view to increase the contributions of the people in the respective fields, and to reduce the grants from the Home Mission Fund."

At the meeting of the Committee held in March, it was found that notwithstanding every effort on the part of the Committee, there was a balance against the fund of $8,300—leaving also the claims for the six months—October to April—unpaid, and other claims to the extent of $4,000 additional: in other words, that the sum received fell short, of the amount necessary to pay in full, the claims upon the fund, by the sum of $22,000, with only five weeks contributions to be received, before the close of the ecclesiastical year.

This very serious state of the fund, occupied the attention of the Committee for several sittings, when after lengthened consideration, it was moved by Mr. T. W. Taylor, seconded by Mr. J. Laing:

"Whereas the Committee, at its meeting in October last, resolved that in the event of sufficient funds not being forthcoming prior to the March meeting of the Committee, they would be under the necessity of deducting a percentage from the claims of all Presbyteries for Supplemented Congregations and Mission Stations for the half-year ending 31st March then next, so as to equalize the expenditure with the income for the year. And whereas the amount received up to this date is the sum of $18,500, which falls short of the amount necessary to pay in full the claims upon the fund by the sum of $22,000, the Committee, in view of that fact, and the small prospect, judging from the experience of the past three or four years, that the contributions yet to be received before the close of the financial year will meet the deficiency, while expressing their deep sympathy with those labourers who may suffer so severely from the results of the action now forced upon the Committee through the Church's failure to give a hearty response to their urgent appeals for more liberal contributions, resolve to appoint a Sub-Committee to meet during the first week in May next and reduce all the claims of Presbyteries for Supplemented Congregations and Mission Stations for the half-year ending 31st March next by such a percentage as will equalize the expenditure and income for the year."

It was moved in amendment, by Mr. J. M. King, seconded by Mr. D. M. Gordon:

"In view of the fact that, according to present appearances, the expenditure of the Home Mission Committee will be found to have exceeded the income by about $7,000, it is agreed, with great reluctance, to deduct 25 per cent. from the amounts due to Presbyteries, including the Manitoba and other Mission fields, at this date, for the labour of the past six months, making a sum of $3,500, and to appeal to the Ministers of the Church for a similar amount."

A vote being taken, the amendment was carried, the vote being 10 for the motion and 11 for the amendment.

At a later stage of the proceedings the members of the Committee subscribed about $500, and agreed to carry out the latter part of the resolution by making application to the Ministers in their respective Presbyteries, and the following were appointed a Sub-Committee to take charge of the matter:—Dr. Cochrane, Messrs. Macdonnell and King,—Mr. King to be Treasurer.

It was further resolved, on motion of Mr. Macdonnell, seconded by Mr. Black, "That 25 per cent. be deducted from the grants to all Supplemented Congregations and Mission Stations for the next six months, and that leave be asked of the General Assembly to reduce proportionately the amounts paid by the Committee to the Missionaries in the Presbytery of Manitoba, with the understanding that this resolution does not affect the salary of the Missionary at Prince Albert as settled at this meeting of the Committee."

The above-named Committee at once prepared a circular which was sent to every minister in Ontario and Quebec, in which an appeal was made to raise the sum of $3,500—a sum equal to the amount deducted from the salaries of the missionaries for the labour of the six months ending 1st April. The result of that appeal, up to the date of printing this report, was the sum of $1,384.50. In spite, however, of this effort, and grants received from the British Churches and other special contributions, the indebtedness of the fund at the present date is $11,051.39.

The third column contains sums due to Presbyteries, April 1st--after deducting 25 per cent, amounting to $6283.50. These have now all been paid, making the balance against the fund $9551.29. To this sum there remains to be added, the salaries of the Missionaries in the Manitoulin Islands, not yet paid, amounting to nearly $1000, and other items making a total of at the lowest estimate of $1500.

The financial statement completed is then as follows:

Your committee refrain from advising, as to what means should be employed for liquidating this large indebtedness. It is evident that something must be done, and that speedily. During the past year, there has been no lack of labourers, but inability to make appointments. This state of matters, and the reduction made in the slender salaries paid to our Missionaries for the past six months, offers little inducement for promising young men to enter the service of the Committee.

*If the sums collected by the Missionary Societies of Knox, Queen's and Montreal Colleges amounting to $2612.70 are added, the total amount received during the year will be $32,301.04.

Various causes may doubtless be suggested for the decrease in our funds. To some extent it may be the long continued financial depression, which has affected all classes more or less; or in some cases the want of systematic organization in many of our congregations, for collecting money in aid of Missions, and the failure on the part of many ministers, to make themselves acquainted with facts connected with this great work, so as to interest their people and call forth their sympathies. Whatever be the cause or causes, unless the contributions of the Church are greatly increased and kept increasing from year to year, somewhat in proportion to the demands made upon the committee, many of the important fields must be abandoned and the Missionaries recalled.

It need hardly be added that the success of the Home Mission scheme of our Church contributes to the success of every other. Unless the Missionary spirit is quickened at home and for home work, our missions to the Heathen must eventually suffer. As Dr. W. Fleming Stevenson, of Dublin, on his return from India last year well said "There is no opposition between our missions, no room for any anxious or jealous rivalry. And if there is one mission which comes first, it is surely that at home, that which lies among our own neighbors, and in our own land. It is that which peculiarly God has given us, and from which nothing must distract us until the simple truth of God is as free and as well known in one part of the land as in another. I do not value the sentimental sympathy that is produced by a distant land and a dark face. When the heart of the Church is touched, and when the heart is renewed and quickened all will benefit, and the strength of the pulse be felt in every mission. To sustain one work at the cost of another is no real strength to that work and no real gain to the Church. Each mission has its own individuality, and it must have its own place in the affections of our people, but all our missions are the one house of Christian service, and it, by our appeals, we were to divide from one another, the house would not stand."

Aylwin & The Desert :—

At the Meeting of the Committee in March the following Extract Minute of Presbytery was read: "Resolved that the Rev. D. McNaughton be sent to Aylwin and the Desert on trial for three months beginning with the middle of March, or as soon thereafter as possible, at Probationers' rates, but with the understanding that should a permanent engagement be entered into, the Salary of $750.00 (seven hundred and fifty dollars) per annum be given him from the time he first enters the field; that the Home Mission Committee be asked to sanction the appointment and give a grant of $400.00 (four hundred dollars) per annum on condition of it being made permanent by the Pre-bytery, or sufficient to make up the $8.00 (eight dollars) per Sabbath should his services not be continued beyond the three months."

The Committee agreed to grant $4 per Sabbath for Probationer Supply, and $400 per annum for a permanent ordained Missionary, conditional upon the appointment of the ordained Missionary meeting the approval of the Sub-Committee.

Cantly & Fortland :—

At the Meeting of the Committee in March the Presbytery asked $4 per Sabbath for a Student and $500 per annum for an ordained Missionary. The following resolution was adopted by the Committee: That a grant of $4 per Sabbath be given to this field while supplied by a Student, that the Presbytery be requested to secure increased contributions from the field and report to the Sub-Committee any such increase of contributions, together with their opinion of the suitability of the Missionary, and the Sub-Committee are hereby authorized, if the report of the Presbytery be satisfactory, to sanction the appointment of an ordained Missionary under the scheme for the continuous supply of Mission Stations.

At the Meeting of the Committee in March, the following resolution was adopted:—"That 25 per cent be deducted from the grants to all Supplemented Congregations and Mission Stations for the next six months, and that leave be asked of the General Assembly to reduce proportionately the amounts paid by the Committee to the Missionaries in the Presbytery of Manitoba, with the understanding that this resolution does not affect the salary of the Missionary to Prince Albert, as settled at this meeting of the Committee." In accordance with this resolution 25 per cent. falls to be deducted for the current six months from the grants to the foregoing list of Supplemented Congregations and Mission Stations.

HOME MISSION REPORT.

(EASTERN SECTION).

The Committee in closing the year can say that the amount of mission work done in the Maritime Provinces has not been exceeded by the work of any preceding year. Our agents were less by two than last year, but the number of ministers who gave their time for the whole year was greater, so that the amount of work done was at least equal and probably greater.

During the year ending May, 1878, the Committee directed the labours of seven ordained ministers, seven probationers, and thirty-nine students—in all fifty-three agents; and during last year twelve ordained ministers, eight probationers, and thirty-one students—fifty-one in all.

In 1878 the Committee reported twenty-six vacant charges and thirteen preachers to supply them; this year the same number of vacancies, and nineteen preachers on the list, and as several vacancies are being supplied by students, there are available at the present as many preachers as there are congregations requiring supply, and more.

As the appendices to the report will furnish full lists of preachers and of student catechists, with the places in which the latter have been employed, of all vacancies, and also of statistics and finances from the mission stations in all the Presbyteries—Sydney and Victoria and Richmond excepted—it seems unwise and unnecessary to enter into details on any of these matters.

It will be expected, however, that some information should be furnished respecting our special fields from which we have no reports of the same kind.

SPECIAL FIELDS IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

In this large island there are two respecting which the Committee has formerly reported to the General Assembly: the first, the Bay of Islands, on the western coast, a fishing and lumbering district; the second, Bett's Cove, a mineral district on the eastern coast.

In the first, Rev. F. Creelman has been called and settled as pastor, the Committee aided by the Congregations of St. John's and Harbour Grace, being responsible for half the salary. The other half, $400, is provided by the scattered Presbyterians of the district, who now feel drawn together in happy unity and regard themselves as having entered on a new era of social and spiritual life. Having joyfully entered and occupied, without the incumbrance of debt, their new Church one year ago, they have followed up this success by commencing the building of a manse, an effort in which they are also succeeding, and by this time it is probably occupied by their pastor, who has been greatly encouraged by the zeal and kindness of the people. Thus far then, by the good hand of God upon them, they have mutually cheered each other, and have worked their way through all difficulties.

BETTS' COVE.

Rev. W. R. Cruickshank, now of Montreal, having returned last summer from Betts' Cove, was succeeded, after the interval of a few months, by Mr. Archibald Gunn, who was well received by the Presbyterians there, and by Mr. Ellershous, the chief owner and enterprising manager of the copper works, around which miners and other workmen have suddenly congregated. A new mine however having been recently opened at Little Bay, some ten miles distant, part of the Presbyterian population of Betts' Cove has been drafted thither; and as the new mine is likely to be, for a time at least, the great mine of the locality, it is highly probable that Mr. Gunn, with the advice of the Presbytery of Newfoundland, has divided his services in some way between the two places; but of Mr. Gunn's winter's work the Committee has no definite information, either from the Presbytery or from Mr. Gunn himself.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

The Presbyteries of St. John and of Miramichi—besides Probationers employed during summer—fourteen Students and two Catechists. From Albert County, in St. John Presbytery, one writes:—"It is a notorious fact that proper observance of the Sabbath and religious instruction of the youth are neglected. The Sabbath is generally spent in visiting, and the youth are allowed to 'grow up'. It seems to me that there is a great work here for the Presbyterian Church, and that the time has come to do it. The services during the summer have been very well attended, and in some of the stations with unceasing interest and numbers. There are many who strongly incline towards our Church, but prefer connecting themselves with one of the Churches which have regular services the year round, to the Presbyterian, which exists for four or five months only every summer. Too much cannot be said in praise of the handful of Presbyterians in the field: some of them are exemplary christians, while all are liberal, generous, and energetic. What they ask is, to be re-united with Salisbury Church, and an ordained Missionary to be placed over the two places, so that they may enjoy regular services, and have a man to perform the duties of pastor and minister.

The other Protestant denominations are very kind and friendly; but their form of Church government seem to have rendered them unstable. There is needed a consolidation, which many of themselves say the Presbyterian Church alone can give.

NEW KINCARDINE, VICTORIA Co., NEW BRUNSWICK.

If our material is deficient in reference to the stations in Newfoundland, it is quite otherwise respecting New Kincardine. Rev. S. Russell having spent a month or two there last summer, accepted from St. John Presbytery an invitation to return and be located for a year, or more, according to circumstances. Mr. Russell has submitted a full report, which the Committee presents as a document containing needed information respecting the New Kincardine colony, and the surrounding district in Victoria County, which may be regarded as one of the most clamant missionary districts in St. John Presbytery.

KINCARDINE, April 23rd, 1879

To the Secretary of the Home Mission Board.

REV. AND DEAR SIR,—I beg to submit the following report of my labours in New Kincardine during the past half-year:—

I may remind the Board that the first company of colonists, numbering 545 souls, arrived at St. John, May 10th, 1873, and was followed May 14th, 1874, by another comprising 219 souls. Since that time, however, a large number of the original settlers have left the colony, some returning to Scotland, others going to the United States, and many settling in other parts of the Province. At the present time there are within the limits of New Kincardine about 86 families, and the total population of the colony may be put at 500 souls.

Immediately on their arrival in this country, successful efforts were made by the Presbytery of St. John, to supply them with religious ordinances, and members of Presbytery and such missionaries as were placed at its disposal, were sent from time to time, so that, with the exception of a few brief intervals, the colony may be said to have been regularly supplied with ministerial services. In November, 1875, Rev. P. Melville, having received his appointment from the Board, entered upon his duties, and continued in charge of the congregation until June, 1878. During his stay a neat and commodious Church was erected, and four school-houses were begun and nearly completed.

Receiving my appointment in the beginning of November, I immediately entered on my duties, and have endeavoured to perform the arduous labours which devolve upon a missionary to a new field like this, with, I hope, some measure of success. The settlements, it will be well to remember, extend along two roads, called respectively the Stonehaven and Kintore. The former extends easterly from "The Forks" eight, and the latter north-easterly about twelve miles. Services are held on alternate Sabbaths on each road, each road for that purpose being divided into two districts. Melville Church is situated on the Stonehaven road, about half a mile from the Forks.

During the past winter, services have been conducted twice every Sabbath without any interruption. Taking into consideration many circumstances incidental to a new colony, the attendance has been generally satisfactory. The number of habitual non-church-goers is comparatively small. It is a matter of regret for me to state, however, that there are a few who manifest an indifference to religious ordinances.

The division of the colony into, what may be termed, four separate congregations entails no small amount of labour on the missionary, but for the present, at least, no different arrangement can very well be made. The people of each section attend the services in their own neighbourhood, few going beyond the limits of their own district.

The number of elders at present is eight, two having been recently ordained to fill vacancies caused by death and removal; eight deacons attend to the temporal affairs of the congregation. Several of the office-bearers take a hearty interest in congregational matters, superintending and teaching in Sabbath schools, and conducting devotional exercises in those districts from which the missionary is occasionally absent on Sabbath.

Immediately after entering upon my work I opened Bible-classes in all four districts for the benefit of young men and women of the congregation. These being held weekly in each district occasioned much additional labour, your missionary's mode of locomotion being on foot, yet I feel myself amply repaid for my trouble by the good attendance and the hearty and intelligent interest manifested by the members of the different classes. The total attendance was 67.

My attention was early directed to the necessity of re-organizing the Sabbath schools which, in the absence of regular supply, had, in some instances, been closed. There are now schools in each of the four districts, with a total attendance of 108 children and 19 teachers.

The colonists have every reason to be thankful for the good health which has prevailed among them since their arrival in this country. During the past year there were five deaths, and I have to record during the same period one marriage and seventeen baptisms.

Financially, I am afraid, our exhibit will appear small, and perhaps not altogether satisfactory to the Board. Only six years have elapsed since the settlement of the colony, and although much has been done in the way of clearing and improving land still it is easy to see that, in most cases, the produce of the farm is nearly all required for the sustenance of families and the feeding of stock. On account of the great depression in business money cannot be got for what little produce is left for disposal, business being chiefly conducted here on the barter principle; and moreover employment during the past year has been scarce and unremunerative. For these reasons therefore the amounts raised may appear small. However it would not be quite correct to refer the state of affairs altogether to the "hard times" as, I presume, our failure is partly to be ascribed to negligence.

I have just completed my winter's work by holding a series of congregational meetings. These were decidedly successful. Our past efforts and future prospects were discussed, and I have reason to believe that the meetings have already been productive of much good, as they have excited a greater interest in your congregational work, and I trust that financially as well as otherwise, the next report from this important field will be more satisfactory to the Church. The colonists despite many difficulties and hardships have made good progress; they are now more contented with their lot; and I have no doubt whatever of their future success.

VICTORIA COUNTY.

In reference to Church extension in other parts of Victoria Co. I have not much to say. Owing no doubt to the apathy of Presbyterians in the early history of the County we have as yet only two organized congregations in the County—New Kincardine and Grand Falls. Other denominations occupy nearly all the other fields; although, I understand, their congregations are nearly all composed of detached stations, and none of them self-sustaining. At Andover, and at various settlements along the Tobique River there are many families, several of them influential, who claim connection with our Church. Mr. Dawson, lay catechist, laboured in that field last summer. The land along the Tobique, being of a superior description, is being rapidly taken up by new settlers, so that it is possible that if we had an energetic missionary stationed at Andover or Arthurette, lost ground might be recovered, and a flourishing congregation gathered together. It might, at first entail considerable expense upon the Church, but the experiment might at least be tried.

In conclusion, I cannot but acknowledge my thankfulness to the people of New Kincardine for the kindness which they have uniformly extended to me in my work, and I trust and pray that my labours amongst them have not been altogether in vain in the Lord.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. RUSSELL,

FINANCES.

The Committee are pained to acknowledge that the balance, the first time for a series of years, is on the wrong side. There were indeed some signs that we were drifting in this direction, but the result was something of a shock, as the Committee had no apprehension that we were so near to the rocks. In May, 1876, our balance was $520.60. In 1877, $507.65, our expenditure being thus $12.95 in excess of income. Last year our balance came down to $170.76, shewing an excess of expenditure of $336.89, but this year the over expenditure has arisen to $1,477.80, so that the actual balance against us in the account amounts to $1,307.04. It was during the last month and by payments for travelling expenses of Catechists, by special grants paid to New Kincardine, Bay of Islands and Bedford, agent's salary and Manitoba College, amounting in all to $1,834.50, that this reverse was precipitated, and the Committee rather taken by surprise. In these circumstances we will first submit the facts, as they are, and then state what the Committee proposes to meet the difficulty.

The Committee on ascertaining the situation, determined that this process of overrunning income shall cease at once, and to that end decided:—

First,—To decline any further payment of travelling expenses of students from Theological Colleges in the United States, and also from distant portions of our own Church.

Secondly,—To pay no travelling expenses to preachers so long as we are in debt.

Thirdly,—To decline payment of board bills, either for students or preachers; giving Presbyteries immediate notice, so that all stations may be instructed to make their arrangements accordingly.

Fourthly,—To decline responsibility for arrears in all cases in which Presbyteries refuse or neglect to consider and recommend a rate of payment per Sabbath, to be sanctioned by this Committee, according to the directions of the General Assembly.

Fifthly,—To decline all payments to students for travelling expenses within Presbyteries, and within Congregations where they may be labouring.

Sixthly,—To request the General Assembly to relieve the Committee from the annual payment of $500 to Manitoba College.

Seventhly,—While gratefully acknowledging the steady and liberal support of many Congregations and expressing to them hearty thanks, to remind those from whom no aid has been received, that they are losing a high privilege and evading an important duty; that they are acting in a way which is neither patriotic as respects their country, wise as respects their own prosperity, nor loyal to the Great Lord of all.

In fine the Committee would most earnestly ask the co-operation of all their brethren in the ministry. If they, following out the order of the General Assembly, which is in the spirit of the higher law of the Master, will lay before their people the claims of our fellow-countrymen settled in small groups along the sounding sea shore, on the highlands of Cape Breton and in the interior districts of New Brunswick, we are persuaded that all the means required will be provided.

While deprecating the idea of curtailing our Home Mission work, the Committee, if re-appointed, will regard itself as pledged to such a course of economy in the management of their funds, as will, if at all practicable, sweep away this debt in a single year; and to this end they earnestly ask the hearty co-operation of the Presbyteries, who are really more potent than the Committee in securing a "consummation so devoutly to be wished."

All which, with grateful acknowledgement to the God of all grace for His mercies to the Committee and to their agents, is respectfully submitted to the General Assembly.

D. WATERS, Convener.
P. G. MCGREGOR, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE DISTRIBUTION OF PROBATIONERS, 1878-79.

At the first meeting of the Committee after last General Assembly, applications were made by some Ministers directly for appointments, and when there was certainty that there was no obstacle in the way, provisional admission to the Roll was granted, because there had not been sufficient time for Presbyteries and Probationers to become acquainted with the Regulation that the Committee should not receive the names of any but those transmitted and certified by some Presbytery. While doing this the Convener was instructed to write to the parties and request them to have their names forwarded as the Assembly provided, otherwise any further appointments would be withheld. In every instance the necessary documents were furnished, and the names of the Probationers retained.

Two applications were made to the Committee which they felt themselves, however reluctant, unable to grant, on the ground that the persons applying had retired for a time from the ministry and been engaged in secular professions. To this action they felt themselves bound by Regulation 3, on page 59, of the printed Minutes of Assembly, 1876, and which is as follows: "Ministers or Probationers who have retired from the ministry, and entered on some other calling for a time, shall not have their names put on the list of distribution without the permission of the General Assembly." Another, lately from Scotland, had his application declined because he had not been delegated nor received by any Presbytery of this Church. He has been lately called, and inducted in one of the pastoral charges in the Presbytery of Hamilton.

The vacancies of Chalmers' Church, Quebec, and Crescent Street Church, Montreal, were not reported for supply from the Roll of Probationers, the claim having been set up in their behalf that the Presbyteries within whose bounds they are situated had granted them leave to procure their own supply. The attention of each of these Presbyteries was called to the Regulation adopted by the last Assembly, No. 5, under IV. Supply of Vacancies, "Presbyteries are instructed to place all their vacant congregations, prepared to call, on the list of vacancies, and congregations are allowed to procure their own supply, through the Presbytery, for half of the time when they so desire," and the Committee made distribution accordingly. The appointments made have, however, been refused, the Presbytery of Montreal giving as their reason that they had granted permission to Crescent Street Church, before the regulation of the Assembly came into operation, the decision of an inferior Court thus rendering inoperative that of the Supreme Court of the Church on the plea that it was prior to it. The Committee could not admit the force of the reason, and, in their judgment, the Probationers who were thus thrown out of employment are entitled to remuneration.

Forty-three vacancies are published in the Scheme of Distribution for the first quarter of the year, but it should be mentioned that, in consequence of the commencement of that Quarter coming so soon after the meeting of the Assembly at which the Committee were appointed, communication could not be had with all Presbyteries, and answers received from them, as to the amount of supply they required, so that some appear for which students had been obtained, while, in other cases, vacancies had taken place of which the Committee had no knowledge. For the same Quarter thirty-six Probationers were available. Forty-eight vacancies appear for the second Quarter, and thirty-nine Probationers; fifty-nine for the third, and thirty-three Probationers, and thirty-five for the fourth, with thirty-four Probationers. It will be seen that there is a decided falling off in the number of vacancies reported for the last Quarter, and this cannot be owing altogether to settlements that have been made, but, to some extent at least, to the employment of Students, who, at the close of the session, were free for summer work, and whose labours are not confined to Mission Stations, properly so called; and, in a few instances, to the reduction of what had been vacancies to the rank of Mission Stations.

From Appendix I. it will be seen that one hundred and seventeen vacancies had been reported by Presbyteries in the course of the year, but some of these do not occur in the Quarterly Scheme of Distribution, having been reported to the Convener since the beginning of the current Quarter. It will be seen, further, that fifty-three settlements have taken place, nineteen of these being from the Probationers' Roll, as is shown in Appendix II. At the present time there are fifty-three vacancies, although only thirty-five appear in the Scheme, but the apparent discrepancy is owing to causes implied in some of the statements previously made, viz.: returns sent in since the present Quarter began, supply by Students, the vacancies thus provided for not being reported for supply from the Committee, and the placing of some among Mission Stations, or treating them as such, that were at one time regarded as vacancies, and may be again when the opportunity of Student supply has passed. In the Presbytery of Hamilton no vacancies have been reported for this Quarter, yet Kilbride and Nelson have not been settled, and they were reported for the first Quarter, and in the Statistical and Financial Returns of that Presbytery, Merritton, and Ayne Avenue Church, St. Catharines, and Blackheath, East Seneca and Caistor are reported as vacant, and your Committee have good reason to conclude that the former, at least, was so before the Quarter began. The latter appears in Appendix I., but it may have been vacant since the last meeting of the Committee.

Appendix II. shows that sixty three names were on the Probationers' Roll in the course of the year. The number for each Quarter has been previously stated. Of these names twenty-nine were passed from the previous year; the others, thirty-four, have been added since this year began. Of the former, ten were settled in pastoral charges; three were removed from the Roll, under the Regulation of the Assembly limiting the time of probation; two withdrew, besides two others who had their names replaced, and one has passed out of the knowledge of the Committee. Of the latter, ten have obtained settlements, four have withdrawn, and one, it is supposed, has removed from this part of the Dominion, leaving twenty of these still on the Roll, and twelve of the other. The term of some of these is about expiring, and a considerable number will be removed, for this cause, before the end of 1879.

The provision of the Assembly adopted last year allowing vacant congregations, when they desired, to obtain one-half of their supply through their Presbyteries, has complicated, to a considerable extent, the work of your committee, and rendered the distribution much more difficult. They have reason to be thankful that it has been conducted in a manner even so satisfactory the first year. Greater experience will render it easier. For the Quarter from October to January last, they were able to give Probationers only nine Sabbaths' appointments, and for the current one only ten. It is altogether probable that through the omission of names beginning next Quarter the Roll will be so reduced that those on it will have constant employment, unless there is a large increase from the license of Students who have completed their curriculum, or from the reception of Ministers by this Assembly applying from other Churches.

Complaints have been lodged with the Committee by some Presbyteries against Probationers for not having fulfilled their appointments. In all instances in which the names were still on the Roll correspondence has been had with them, and explanations requested, if their address was known. If satisfactory answers had not been received subsequent appointments would have been withheld. There has been some correspondence about the placing or retaining of the names of some on the Roll. The Committee can only say, that they consider themselves bound to receive all names transmitted by Presbyteries if there has been no violation of the Regulations of the Supreme Court; and they suppose that Presbyteries likewise feel themselves bound to transmit them when the persons are in good standing as Ministers or Licentiates. In the regulations submitted to the Assembly in 1876, and then adopted ad interim,—said adoption being repeated in 1877,—and which the Committee regard as still in force, in as far as they are not repealed by the action of the Assembly in 1878, it is provided that "Probationers concerning whom complaints of inefficiency have been received from the Presbyteries by the Committee may have their appointments withdrawn till a decision of the Assembly shall be given in the case." Evidently, therefore, it is not the business of the Committee to originate any process, or take any step that would affect the position and privileges of the Probationer, but of Presbyteries.

Your Committee have no means of knowing to what extent Probationers fulfil the duties assigned them when supplying vacant congregations. A summary of these duties is printed and issued in each Quarterly Scheme, but it rests with Presbyteries to see that they are discharged. It is known that some of the Probationers, and only some of them, although enjoined upon all, send in to Presbytery Clerks written reports of their labours before leaving the bounds, but it is not known that all do so—there is good reason to conclude that they do not—or if all Presbyteries require them, or provide appropriate blank forms to be filled up.

So far as your Committee are aware, the following are the only claims pressed against Presbyteries: Mr. West, one Sabbath in Brockville Presbytery, July, 1877, $11; one in Glengarry Presbytery, August, 1877, $12; and three in Quebec Presbytery, September, 1877, $33. Some of these were before the last Assembly, which referred them to the Presbyteries against which they lay, to be dealt with as they might deem best. Your Committee judge, that according to this the decision of the Presbyteries is final, but they do not know if Mr. West has been informed what that action was,—the Committee have not,—and, as he has renewed his claim, it was thought only proper to mention it. Mr. Hawthorne has claims against the Presbyteries of Kingston and Sauguen, and the Committee have corresponded, through their Convener, respecting them, but the result has not been communicated. A claim by Mr. A. Macdonnan, against the Presbytery of Brockville, for supply given but not paid for, has been sent to that Presbytery that they may correspond with the congregation in default, and it is hoped that a satisfactory issue has been reached before this. All of which is respectfully submitted.

ROBERT TORRANCE, Convener.

In submitting this statement of their indebtedness, the Committee must freely acknowledge, that they recommended the scale of last year with great hesitation, and they might say, with much fear. But on the other hand, they found that each Presbytery in sending in its application assured the Committee that reduction would prove injurious in all cases, and disastrous in some. The Committee believing in these circumstances, that Presbyteries would strongly support them, and that nearly all the congregations would heartily sustain them in recommending the continuance of the grants, determined accordingly. In doing so, they issued special circulars explaining the situation, and asking for increased support from all the congregations in the Maritime Provinces, giving notice that unless increased support were furnished, that a reduction of one-fourth must inevitably take place in the future.

When the July payments were made, the fund was $2,000 in debt, and when the month of December arrived, and only a month remained to elapse before the second payment of $2,500 would be due, there was simply nothing in fund to meet such payment, but the debt remained at about $1,400.

In these circumstances the Committee met on the 10th of December, and the first question considered was will a partial payment on January 1st suffice, to be followed by a second at an interval of two or three months?

It was decided that the expectations and pecuniary arrangements of the brethren who were partially dependent on the fund, and the honour of the Church, alike required that payment of what was promised should be made in full, and up to time. The Treasurer was therefore authorized and directed to secure a loan, on as favourable terms as possible, for whatever sum may be required, to make the semi-annual payment in January. It was further agreed that a vigorous effort should be made to bring up the liberality of the congregations that have not contributed since the 1st of May, the beginning of the current ecclesiastical year.

It appears that out of a total of 171 congregations, only 55 had as yet paid in their contribution, leaving 116 to be heard from, whereupon lists were furnished by order of the Committee to all Presbyteries, with request that each Presbytery should make strenuous efforts to secure an early response from all. The result has already been stated—one hundred and twenty-six in all have responded, and the whole facts in detail have already been published in another form, accessible to all the ministers and elders of the Church, and the fund remains over a thousand dollars in debt, and the half-yearly payment on the first of July just at hand.

The Committee would record with deep gratitude, the great kindness and most valuable aid of Churches in Great Britain and Ireland, already recorded, and would state that the grant of the Free Church distinct from their aid to New Kincardine of £50, and to a theological student of £60, amounted to one hundred and fifty pounds for Home Mission purposes, of which ann fifty pounds were paid to the funds of the Board of Home Missions, leaving £100 stg. for this account. The whole grant from the other Churches for Home Missions went to the Supplementing Fund.

The Committee would also record donations from our own people to the extent of over a thousand dollars. In this sum is included $100 each from a young man of business of St. John, Newfoundland and from John McKinlay, Esq., of Pictou, with a New Year's gift of $700 from friends in Halifax, additional to the sums given by all the congregations of that city.

* Besides the gift of $700.

It will thus be seen that while the Congregations responding by support last year were one hundred and eleven, the number this year is one hundred and twenty-six. The increase being most marked in the Presbyteries of Pictou, St. John and Miramichi. Pictou and Truro Presbyteries can say that with the exception of a single Congregation in each, all have given, while Pictou Presbytery receives only $60 out of $512.49 paid in. Halifax Presbytery contributed most largely, and, including the special gift at New Year's, has given double the amount of any other, but it drew out the large sum of $780.

But while an increased number of congregations have given, the amount thus raised is less than last year, the congregational receipts last year having been $3,116 and this year $2,528.24—diminution, $587.76. On the other hand, our total from all sources has risen from $5,060.58 to $5,339.78,—the increase arising wholly from the donations from our own people.

The Committee deeply regrets that forty congregations should still refuse to aid in this work, and though they are aware that in some cases this may be the result of pressing claims at home, they cannot overlook the fact that among the non-contributors are congregations of standing who have no greater difficulties and responsibilities to meet than their neighbours. With the undeniable facts before us that the congregations in the Maritime Provinces will not support the Committee in their present rates in aid, and that they have official notice from the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland of the possible and probable discontinuance of the aid granted so far, nothing remains to the Committee but to withdraw all promises which they have not any reasonable prospect of fulfilling, and this means a reduction of our expenditure by at least one-third.

At the December meeting already referred to it was agreed to notify Presbyteries that hereafter the following rule of the General Assembly will be rigidly enforced: (Assembly Minutes, 1877, page 84) "A congregation which does not return full statistics and contribute to the schemes of the Church shall not receive aid," the Committee understanding the schemes to include Missions, Home and Foreign, College, French Evangelization, and in the Maritime Provinces, the Supplementary Fund.

The Committee held its meeting on May 27th, for considering applications from Presbyteries for next year, when the amount applied for, notwithstanding that some Presbyteries had cut down their estimates materially, was only less by $250 than that asked last year. These applications were strongly urged, and the Committee would have been most happy to recommend payment of all had they an overflowing exchequer; but they could not forget the unwelcome truths that they had no funds, and no prospect of being furnished with the means of paying the amount asked.

Long and anxious deliberation followed, with the following result: First,—The Committee decided to pay the amount, sanctioned by the General Assembly of 1878, for the half year ending in July in full, and authorize the treasurer to effect a loan for the amount required to complete this.

Secondly,—That the list now to be prepared shall be for six months only, from July 1st, 1879, to January, 1st, 1880; and that payments shall be made pro rata from funds in the treasurer's hands, after the loan, for July 1879 payments, has been repaid—the present debt of $1,084.28 to remain.

Thirdly,—That as a preparation to reducing grants, especially to the larger congregations on the list, a circular be prepared and issued by the secretary, embracing the various regulations of the General Assembly respecting congregations on supplemented list; and that a copy be sent to clerks of Presbyteries, and to all ministers of each Presbytery, and to all supplemented congregations in the Maritime Provinces.

The following table will show the grants for the current year, the applications for next year, and the amount to be paid for the first half of next year, if funds are provided.

THE CLAIMS OF PRESBYTERIES submitted at Truro to the Committee May 27, 1879, compared with the grant of the year previous, and shewing increase or diminution by Presbyteries, and amount to be paid pro rata for the half-year ending 31st December, 1879.

For the first time, the Committee feel humiliated in presenting their report, because they can only offer the probability of payment to their brethren, who are doing their full share of work for Christ in the weaker charges. They have the consciousness however that the present insolvent state of the fund has arisen from no negligence on their part, nor can they complain of any general apathy or want of hearty sympathy from the people before whom the question is fully and fairly laid. Many congregations have been responding with great regularity and liberality, but there are others, whether their pastors are to blame or not the Committee will not say, but the fact remains that they "put not their neck to the work of the Lord."

The Committee think the time has come when all Presbyteries are called to shew their zeal and sympathy for their brethren not merely by asking for grants, but by going heartily to work to raise the means of paying. Of the former cheap and superficial sympathy, there has been enough; of the more earnest and practical kind let us have an increase all round, and that without delay. A well wrought sustentation fund may be the more excellent way, but until it is reached, let us develop to the utmost, the Christ-like principle "to look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others." Let us act on the apostolic charge, "For I mean not that other men be eased and ye burthened but by an equality that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be an equality."

The Committee have to request the General Assembly once more to express the thanks of the Church to the Colonial Committees of the Free and the Established Churches of Scotland and to the Presbyterian Church of Ireland for their princely gifts which have proved most cheering to the Committee in their great anxiety from failure of funds. These churches should know that aid is applied where the need is greatest. In explanation it may be stated that there are three Presbyteries, and three only, which contribute more than they receive—first in the list the Presbytery of Picton, next Truro and thirdly Halifax. The latter Presbytery having an extensive Sea Coast, and some districts with few Presbyterians, generally draws out the greater part of its contributions, but Truro, gives two dollars and a half for every one it asks for (or $180.60 from $158.42), while Picton Presbytery received only $60 out of $512.49. The gifts from Scotland and Ireland are therefore expended exclusively for the benefit of Cape Breton, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, as the surplus of the three Nova Scotia Presbyteries named more than provides for the deficiency of the Presbyteries of Wallace and of Lunenburg and Yarmouth.

This is mentioned to show that the older and more fully organized portions of the Church are thoroughly self-sustaining, and that the aid received is applied, as it ought to be, for the benefit of those parts of the Church, more recently organized, or so mixed up with other denominations, that the number of Presbyterians is limited, their organization less perfect, and their liberality more slowly developed. The help of British Christians has not been wasted, and is not applied for the benefit of those who are perfectly able to provide for themselves. Our brethren are helping us to make "the wilderness and solitary place glad for them, and the desert to rejoice and blossom as the rose."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

NEW HEBRIDES MISSION.

The Committee would refer to the record of the year past with thankful acknowledgement of the Divine blessing experienced in many ways. The missionaries and their wives have been preserved in health, and strengthened for their work. In making this general statement, they do not forget that Mr. McKenzie was an invalid for a time, and that he and his wife met with another painful bereavement in the death of their little boy, but when the child was taken the father was restored, and both parents sustained by grace. All the missionaries have prosecuted their work with good heart, and with not a little encouragement. They all report progress, and write hopefully. In truth their greatest anxiety is about the Church at home, for whether with or without cause, they are apprehensive that our faith is wavering, and our zeal declining. Their only, at least their chief discouragement, is, that there is no prospect, so far as they can learn, of any reinforcement. Mr. McKenzie returning from an exploratory voyage in the "Dayspring," among the heathen islands, writes, "Mr. Neilson and I visited Api, Mallicolla, Malo or St. Bartholomew and Santo, and on all these islands we found the natives very friendly. But what is the use of visiting them, year after year, unless we can give them missionaries?"

On reviewing the work of the year, as gathered from the letters and reports of our missionaries, as well as from the minutes of the Synod of the New Hebrides, the Committee recorded their impressions in the subjoined resolution:—"That this Committee has heard with much satisfaction the written statements from the missionaries just submitted, and desires to express gratitude to God for their health, energy, and continued devotion to the Lord's work in their respective spheres. The Committee further desires to express its sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie in their recent bereavement, and would commend the missionaries and their families all to God, for his continued blessing upon their labours." With this resolution, the Committee beg leave to submit the leading facts which led to its adoption.

ERROMANOA.

Rev. H. A. Robertson, Missionary.

Chief Station, Dillon's Bay. Other Stations, Cook's Bay and Portinia Bay.

Teachers in number, 21 throughout the Island.

The prominent facts reported by Mr. Robertson, are:—First, the health and welfare, by the good hand of God upon them, of himself, wife and three children, so that he has been able to devote himself continuously to the work of the mission. Secondly, the distribution of about 800 copies of the last edition of Mr. Gordon's Catechism, published during Mr. Robertson's visit to Sydney in 1877, at the expense of the Heathen Missions Committee of the Presbyterian Church of New South Wales. Thirdly, the arrival and good services of a new mission boat, cutter rigged, 27 feet in length, and an excellent sailer. This little craft cost £47 stg., of which £30 were provided by this Church, and £17 by the Presbytery of Pictou, in connection with the Church of Scotland; and she has been fairly tried, Mr. Robertson having made five trips in her to Cook's and Portinia Bays, besides five shorter excursions. Fourthly, Mr. Robertson and family spent a month at Cook's Bay, of which he gives the following interesting narrative:—

A MONTH AT COOK'S BAY.

"We travelled across the island from Dillon's Bay to Cook's Bay, and after dispensing the Communion to fifty-two adults, thirteen of whom were baptized on the previous day (and three infants), we visited all the districts inland, and on the coast from Ifwa in the south-east, to Potasiviv in the north; and heard them reading in every school, thirteen in number. We secured a settlement at Mr. James Gordon's district, in Portinia Bay, and placed a young man as teacher there. We also secured an opening at Potasiviv in the north, and one at Jmbunker near Jefwa, and one at Ifwa."

"At the two last named places they have each a good school house completed, and we expect to settle three young men at those districts as soon as the 'Dayspring' leaves us for Sydney. Of these, two have been with us at Dillon's Bay for four years, and will, I think, do well. At the close of each school, sometimes three, four or more young men would ask me to take down their names, as those who would no more have anything to do with heathenism. Since the Communion in July, 1877, six chiefs of that side of the island, have given up heathenism, and the most powerful of these, Norowo, assembled his people, and in the presence of 200 persons, in the public square, laid down at my feet all his heathen relics, consisting of a very large and a smaller ring stone, the large one, 56 inches in circumference, through which a small-sized man can pass, and weighing 46 lbs., also a number of strings of pigs' tusks, etc., etc., etc. For giving up these relics Norowo has had to meet the anger of the other chiefs, and their sacred men have been trying to make him sick, and have succeeded too, so they say, because he has had a sharp attack of fever and ague!"

This visit to Cook's Bay was cheering to the Missionary, because he saw many evidences of progress, since the last extended visit of four months, which he made two years ago. Among these encouragements are the following:—The teacher and people put up for Mr. Robertson a large two-roomed grass house, without being asked, and without payment, and cleared an acre of ground, removing stumps and nicely clearing up the whole premises. The people themselves were improved. They observed the Sabbath better, were cleaner, more polite, more anxious to be instructed and more willing to assist in every way. Besides the people of the Bay, with some from a distance, supplied the Mission family with food without accepting payment during the whole month.

POTNARENN.

At this place, by Traitor's Head, and near to Captain Fraser's anchorage for the "Dayspring," when calling at Mr. Gordon's station in Potnuma [Portinia Bay], a suitable place for a Mission Station has been procured. There is a good boat landing with a supply of fresh water.

DILLON'S BAY.

Here, where the Missionary resides, there are changes to be noted which certainly should call forth our gratitude. The sons of Kowiwi, the murderer of Williams, promise to give up heathen feasting this summer or next winter: but already, their people now regularly attend church and Sabbath school, and the boys attend the morning week-day school. Besides, Mr. Robertson adds, "Our own people seem more anxious to learn, attend classes well (for natives), keep themselves cleaner (a very great need here), and what is to us the most surprising of all, are actually shewing a strong desire to learn to sing. Every Sabbath evening about half the village assemble in our house to practice singing the hymns we have printed, and a few sing correctly."

CLASSES FOR INSTRUCTION.

Besides public worship, a Sabbath school is held for all, but at an earlier hour, for those who can read. These are teachers in the general classes, which are attended by old and young, of whom with a few exceptions only the younger will really become readers. Day-school is held four mornings in the week, prayer-meeting on Wednesday afternoon, and candidates' class usually on afternoons of Tuesday and Friday, taught by Mr. R., and a class for little girls taught one hour by Mrs. Robertson five evenings a week.

EVIDENCES OF EARNESTNESS.

The majority of the people at this station are young men who have left their friends in different parts of the Island, in order that they may "hear the Word," and Mr. R. reports, "They have made two kilns of lime for me this year, built a boat-house, and helped me to lay down ways by which to draw up my craft, and have done freely all the boating of a missionary character; while the women have brought grass for a building, reeds for a fence, and are now gathering and sewing sugar-cane-leaf thatching, for our dwelling house. Any other work we have paid for."

STATISTICS.

Attendance—average, 60; extremes, 40 and 150. Native teachers—at Dillon's Bay, 1; Cook's Bay, 1; Out-stations, 19: total 21. Of these 21, three have been settled at new districts within two months. There are two old stations vacant by death of teachers. Christian marriages solemnized, 3. Adult baptisms, 13; Infants, 5. Deaths of church members, 3. Cases of discipline, none. Adult church members in full communion—men, 37; women, 15; total, 52.

EXPLORATION.

During the year, Mr. R. visited the whole district, South, between Dillon's Bay and Unessang settling two teachers, one being two miles beyond Bunkil. To the settlement of a third teacher in another district, Yalinyow presented opposition, and it was delayed. In this tour he met with the murderers of Rev. G. N. Gordon and wife, still heathen, though one was partially clothed, one of the first steps on the abandonment of heathenism; and the son of another, a young man of promise, was learning to read. The instigator of the murder lives in hardened impenitence. The murderers of James Gordon as well as the men who slew Williams and Harris are all dead.

North of Dillon's Bay Mr. R. visited Elizabeth's Bay, and has probably by this time settled a teacher there at the request of the chief of the district.

ANEITEUM.

CHIEF STATION, ANELCAUHAT.

Missionary, Rev. Joseph Annand.

Schools—Twenty-one in Mr. Annand's district.

The success of the Gospel in years past in bringing the Aneiteumase to renounce heathenism being well known, it is almost needless to say that the missionary can report no exploratory visits to heathens. Mr. Annand has, however, visited the whole island; first, his own district, and next, the vacant charge of Aname, and found all the schools open save one, which was closed for want of a teacher. In his own schools he was able, by aid from kind friends and Sabbath school contributions, to introduce some improvements, which, it is hoped, will be sustained by a continuance of the help furnished.

Mr. Annand reports a busy, prosperous and pleasant year; and mentions, among his encouragements, improved morality, with only three cases of discipline, an attendance on religious ordinances of one half of the population, and on the prayer meeting, of one fifth. Old heathenism being dead, the present opposition to progress arises from old habits, the remains of heathen ideas and customs, and more recently from the introduction by traders of intoxicating liquors, and simultaneously by the withdrawal of some "advanced thinkers" from public worship with disregard of family prayer. Offences will come, but they more frequently indicate the progress than the retreat of Christ's cause, and, when the enemy came in like a flood, and a promising young man was slain by strong drink, public opinion caused by the Gospel, the Sabbath, the school and the Christian church, awarded to the guilty vendor the alternative of banishment from the island or a speedy retirement from the liquor business. Notwithstanding, therefore, occasional pauses, and at particular points, momentary loss of ground, there is real and gratifying progress in the Christianity of Aneiteum.

FATE.

Missionary at Erakor : Rev. J. W. McKenzie.

Other Stations : Pango, Eratap, Bufo, Fila.

There are two missionaries on this island, but while rejoicing in the work of both, our report will have exclusive reference to our own missionary. Mr. McKenzie reports his work as conducted very much as detailed in former reports. He makes known the truth by preaching and teaching publicly, and from house to house. Morning school five days a week; prayer-meeting every Wednesday afternoon. candidate's class weekly; accessions to church membership 14, and as there were 76 on the communicant's roll last year, the total will now be close on 90, out of a population, nominally Christian at all the villages, of about 300. There have also been accessions to the candidates' class.

In our last report Bufo was referred to as a heathen village, but in all the four divisions of Bufo, viz., Tokalourick, Map, Malasor and Ebounalan, the missionary has been well received, his word has been heard with some attention, and by visitors reported in the heart of heathenism. On the Sabbath day, the people now refrain from their heathen dances and revelry, so that an influence for good is silently and slowly, but surely spreading. One fact, mentioned by the missionary, shows change in a way that can neither be denied nor forgotten. Thirty years ago the ship "British Sovereign" was wrecked near Eratap, when nearly the whole company were murdered and their bodies distributed among the surrounding villages for cannibal feasts. On the 9th of January, 1878, a vessel was wrecked some three miles from the same village, with about one hundred and sixty souls on board; and these, reaching land, were distributed among surrounding villages at a time of general scarcity; and yet the natives received them into their houses and shared with them their food, until the means of removal were provided. Such is the return which Christian missions make to the men by whom they are so often both opposed and calumniated.

TRINIDAD MISSION.

The Committee are thankful to be able to report favourably of this mission, also, during the year past. When the reports of the three Missionaries and of Miss Blackadder, teacher at Savanna Grande, were read, with accompanying letters, the following resolution expressed the feeling of the Committee:—

"The Reports of Messrs Morton, Grant and Christie, sanctioned by the Mission Conference, having been read with report of Miss Blackadder, it was agreed to receive them with approval, to record satisfaction, and to express gratitude to God for the measure of success granted." It was further agreed "that the Committee express the pleasure with which they have heard the interesting statement read from Miss Blackadder."

The Committee, while anxious to avoid minute details of the work of our Missionaries, are persuaded that no statements of a general character will give the Church the information needful to maintain a proper interest in their work; and as the annual report is regarded as a storehouse of facts, constituting the ground work of speeches from a thousand platforms, it seems desirable that those who resort to it for material to intensify the interest of the people, should not be disappointed.

I. MR. MORTON'S DISTRICT.—SAVANNA GRANDE.

Missionary, Rev. J. Morton, appointed 1867; Teacher, Miss Blackadder; Native Evangelist, Joseph Annajee; Stations—Savanna Grande, Jordan Hill, Mount Stewart and Morichal.

Mr. Morton lives in the mission-house at Savanna Grande, the central station, and the work there may be briefly presented thus: At 8 a.m., Sabbath school—attendance and interest well sustained; at 11 a.m., Public Worship, at which all helpers, as well as Coolies in the neighbourhood attend, and at least as well as formerly. Lately an increased interest in the service and in Christian facts has been shewn by Mahomedans; three have been baptised, and others are hesitating. Discussion must be going on among themselves, and recent converts defend their change and new position vigorously.

This also is the site of Miss Blackadder's school, of which the report for the year is already before the Church, shewing a most successful year of work, numbers increasing, classes advancing and young lads passing from the school in considerable numbers qualified for situations of trust and usefulness, while girls have been fitted for acting their part at home with intelligence and discretion.

2.—Jordan Hill District receives a Sabbath service on alternate afternoons, and here also the attendance is encouraging, while on alternate Sabbaths a number walk to Savanna Grande. Here the converts keep up a prayer meeting among themselves, and John Kunto kept up meetings on the estate hospital and occasionally in a neighbouring village. Since Kunto's departure to India, Banka, the most advanced monitor, has taken up his work, but the school has been hindered by prevailing sickness among the children.

3.—Mount Stewart has also an alternate afternoon service, which has been well attended, and people much interested, with, among other results, one baptism.

4.—Morichal.—"Last year," says Mr. Morton. "Fairfield Hindustani School was our most distant point." Within the year, however, Mr. Morton has extended his line to the new and more distant district of Morichal, where a house was built and a school opened in September, and

Mr. Morton writes, "Joseph Annajee was then transferred to the care of that field, the responsibilities of which he bears well, and the duties of which with my superintendence and aid he discharges well." The peculiarity of this district is that the people are landowners, and few of them likely to return to India. The work has only begun, is full of interest and hope, and Annajee is throwing his energies into it.

Besides the regular course of supply already indicated, Mr. Morton has visited regularly seven estate hospitals weekly or fortnightly, with extra services occasionally on estates and at villages, with visitation from house to house. Mr. Morton also, with the concurrence of his brethren, devoted four weeks to the assembled from the different stations in a special course of biblical study. Brought together for the study of the Bible, they showed deep interest in the class exercises, and returned to their respective spheres, like students from a course of theology, with new ideas, enlarged zeal, and recuperated energies.

STATISTICS.

Children on the roll, 169; average attendance, 118; baptized 15, of whom 1 was under 8 years of age.

II. MR. GRANT'S DISTRICT—SAN FERNANDO. APPOINTED 1870.

Native Evangelists—Lal Behari, supported by young men of Prince Street, Picton.

Sadaphal, supported by United Church, New Glasgow.

Jaipargasal, supported by Sabbath School, Fort Massey Church, Halifax.

Stations—Concord or Harmony Hall and Colonial Hospital, Canaan Estate, La Fortune and Wellington.

Mr. Grant describes his district as including thirty sugar estates, with schools which supply eighteen of these estates. On twenty of them the Gospel is preached weekly, either by himself or by helpers, and the other ten are visited occasionally. The Sabbath services are held in five places—San Fernando, La Fortune, Wellington, Canaan, and Concord, now centralized at Harmony Hall, where a house has been built by the aid of Mr. Gittins, the estate manager. In San Fernando, the Lord's day services include one Hindustani diet, one English service, and Sabbath School—no English service is held at any other place. The Sabbath services conducted by Mr. Grant, are at La Fortune or Wellington at 8; at San Fernando at 11, at 1.45, at 3; and at Colonial Hospital or Harmony Hall at 4.30—attendance at the former 120, of which about one-third are coolies.

HELPERS.

Mr. Grant gratefully acknowledges the aid of Messrs. James Drennan and James Alston, resident gentlemen of San Fernando. Among orientals, Soudeen, an elder in our church and cash-keeper in a large drygoods store, gives valuable aid. Lal Behari, of whom it may be said that his praise is in the churches, having been shipwrecked after sailing for India, has returned and resumed his work. Sadaphal has much to show for his devoted service. Jaipargasal having retired from shop-keeping that he may devote himself to the work, labours hard and successfully for the great Master. The names of Seeboo, Birgoo, and Vishoo must also have a place among those who are entitled to honourable mention in this list of worthies, and also among teachers, Mr. Seale and Mr. Kinsale.

Mr. Grant further mentions the interesting fact that several of the young people who are under Christian training are gaining employment in places of trust, and a few commencing business in a small way on their own account.

These statements show progress, and the following figures give confirmation: Adult baptisms, 46; children, 26,—total 72. At the communion 160 were present at the Hindustani service. On the roll 62 orientals—present 58, "who partook most reverently of the memorials which tell of the sacrifice offered once for all." These are Mr. Grant's words, and he adds, "It was truly a high day to us—converts from one section of my field for the first time met those recently admitted from other sections, and I am sure that we were spiritually strengthened."

When it is considered that the aim of our missionaries is that all under Christian influence should be taught to read, the schools properly receive great attention, and it is gratifying to learn that this field shows a roll of about 400, with an average daily attendance of about 252.

III. MR. CHRISTIE'S DISTRICT—COUVA.

Mr. Christie being settled in January, 1874, is the junior missionary in Trinidad. For five years he has been in charge, and the last year has proved the most productive of tangible results. Early in 1878 the first church for orientals was opened in that district at a cost of £200 stg., of which £100 came from our Church funds, the greater part therefore was furnished by proprietors with £30 stg. from the coolies. This church is in size 52 feet by 40, pitch pine frame and floor, sides and ceiling of white pine, and will accommodate 150 persons, and has had an average attendance of about fifty, chiefly Christian adults, some of whom travel thither from five to seven miles. Besides this building, there are six well-furnished rooms for school purposes, and for holding meetings for worship. Instruction in Bible and Catechism is given in all these every day.

The Lord's day services are, at 9 a.m. in spring, school; at 12, principal service in the new church in the centre of the field, followed by Bible-class—attendance twenty—and S. School, the former taught by the missionary, the latter by helpers; at 3 p.m., service in one or more places on Mr. Burnley's estates at the other extremity of the field. It may be added that weekly services are held in hospitals and on estates, and three small Sabbath schools are conducted by ordinary school teachers.

By the departure of Benjamin Balaram, who was supported by the joint efforts of young men of James Church, New Glasgow, and of River John congregation, to Indore, India, Mr. Christie has lost his right hand man; yet the blank has been filled, as far as possible, by two teachers, and it is hoped the work will not suffer to any great extent. Mr. Christie's own absence is, in the present state of the mission, even more serious, but as this could not be well avoided the Committee trusts that the Lord will provide, and that the report of next year may shew that the good work has not suffered seriously.

SCHOOLS—PROGRESS.

Branch schools have been opened at Camden and Phoenix Park in connection with schools at Exchange and Esperanza, the teacher devoting half of the day to each, forty more children being thus brought under instruction with no additional expense. Roll, 242; increase on the year, 95; average attendance 130,—increase 47.

Subjoined will be found names of all the schools connected with the mission, with details of numbers and attendance.

The Committee commenced and continued the work of the year past under much financial embarrassment. The last year's accounts shewed a debt on main fund of $2,894.08, and on the Dayspring and Mission Schools fund of $1,488.73, in all $4,382.81, for the removal of which the congregations in the Maritime Provinces had been asked for a special contribution.

Even before a response to this had been reported to any large extent, the Committee were placed under the necessity of considering the subject of increasing the salaries of their Trinidad Missionaries. It was by an unlooked for incident that the matter came up, but the facts, which came before the Committee were as follows: The Senior Missionary required an allowance for the education in Nova Scotia of one at least of his family, and until a general rule on this subject should be framed, the Assembly remitted to the Committee the duty of meeting the case practically by a grant in aid. Their second Missionary notified the Committee that while his salary was £250 stg. per annum, he had in living and pushing on his work expended £300 per annum, or within a small fraction of that sum; that the private means which enabled him to do this, were exhausted; and that it was simply impossible for him on his present salary, to keep up a horse and carriage, and conduct his work as in the past. Their third Missionary's salary was paid at the same rate with the other two, by proprietors of estates, but not in advance, and they knew that it was with great difficulty that he was able to live and keep up the means of visiting over all his field.

Other facts coming to the knowledge of the Committee, led to the unanimous decision that some increase was needful, and the following minute was adopted :

1st. That it is the opinion of this Committee that the salaries of our missionaries in Trinidad should be increased to £300 stg. per annum, and that the Secretary be directed to pay at that rate from July 1st, 1878, reporting the same to the next General Assembly, and asking their sanction, for said addition for the year, and a decision as regards the future.

2nd. That in consequence of this increase, the Board think it inexpedient at present, to vote anything in aid of the education of the children of the Trinidad missionaries.

This decision of the Committee was adopted after much thought, as a measure required in order that our missionaries might be in a position to maintain the outfit of horse and carriage (always most expensive in the West Indies, both as respects purchase and upholding), indispensable to the full discharge of the duties of their office. In recommending its sanction and continuance by the authority of the Assembly, the Committee would present it as de facto a grant for the providing of adequate means of travel in their respective mission districts.

The application thus made and responded to, was quickly followed by another of a similar character, though utterly independent, from the Missionary Synod of the New Hebrides, for an increase to the salaries of our missionaries there, from the rate of £150 stg. per annum, with £10 stg. for each child, with widows' and orphans' rates paid by the Committee, to £200 a year with £10 for each child till 10 years of age, £15 per annum from 10 to 15, and £20 till 18 years of age, the arguments urged being that this was the rate of the London Missionary Society for Polynesia; and that it was acted on in the New Hebrides by all the co-operating Churches except the Free Church of Scotland and the Presbyterian Church in Canada to both of whom consequently the request for increase was sent.

The Committee would have felt thankful to meet this application in a liberal spirit and to have conceded at once the request that our missionaries should be placed on the same scale of support as those from New Zealand and Victoria. But in this case, they had no evidence that our missionaries could not continue their work without embarrassment on their present salaries. Though desirable that their salaries should be made equal to some others, it was not all important to their comfort or to the success of their work, and as the Committee had not in their possession the means of paying the ordinary salaries, without borrowing for the purpose annually, they saw their way to the following resolution, "That while the Committee recognizes its obligation to provide for the comfortable support of its missionaries, yet as no facts have been submitted to show that the salaries now paid to them are inadequate, it does not feel free in consequence of the embarrassing condition of our funds, to make, at the present time, any change in the rate of payment."

Doubtless the state of the funds was a chief factor in the passing of this resolution, and may here be presented.

Receipts over expenditure $261 34

Notwithstanding our special effort and draft from our reserve, as already stated, our debt has been reduced only by the sum of $261.34, or from $4382.81 last year to $4121.47 this year. Our extra expenditure of ($730 in Trinidad for salaries, of $260.19 sent to Dr. Steel to meet contingencies, and advance of $160 to a missionary's widow to be repaid next year) $1150.19 has prevented progress to any appreciable extent in the reduction of the debt, so that had it not been for the draft from our well-nigh exhausted reserve, our debt would have been increased.

The deficiency for the year has been in the Sabbath-school or children's scheme for support of Dayspring and Mission schools. On this fund, taken by itself, the debt has increased from $1488.73 last year to $2607.69. And why? Has the Dayspring failed in her work? On the contrary, it has been well done. Her voyages have been successfully performed, to the great benefit of the New Hebrides Mission and to the satisfaction of the missionaries. From imminent jeopardy in a terrific storm her captain, crew and passengers were graciously delivered, and the ship now recovered without any call on us, is carrying the missionaries to or from Synod. Have the Trinidad schools been closed or diminished in interest? If not then why has the fund fallen off? Because a large number of ministers and superintendents of Sabbath-schools have ignored both Dayspring and mission schools, and have neglected practical training of the children under their charge in the duty and joy of giving to the Lord. Hence, in several instances, a single Congregation gives as much as a whole Presbytery, and as many as eighty Sabbath-schools have not been encouraged to take any part in this work. The Committee would therefore respectfully ask the General Assembly to use its influence so as to induce all Sabbath-school superintendents to bring the missionary work of the Church before the schools, and to make arrangements for the systematic gathering of the children's gifts into the Lord's treasury.

In conclusion, the Committee are happy to inform the General Assembly, First, That Mrs. Morton has regained her health and rejoined her husband, whom she is aiding in his work; and that Rev. Thomas M. Christie, after five years absence, has returned with wife and family for six months, and will be happy to give an account of his work to the Assembly.

Secondly. That earnest appeals have been presented by both missions, in each case for a fourth missionary. Mr. Robertson's appeal on behalf of Erromanga has been placed before the Church in the "Record." The case for Trinidad will be stated by Mr. Christie. This section of the General Committee cannot move forward for want of means, but should the General Assembly from the vast resources of the West provide the fourth missionary to Trinidad and his support, there will be great joy prepared for the missionaries on that island, great good done to Christ's cause in the West Indies, and a rich heritage of blessing secured to those who come forward to rescue the perishing. The Committee are free to state, that while rejoicing in the progress of the New Hebrides mission and heartily supporting our men there, their conviction is that the enlargement of the mission force must be looked for to the Colonies of Australia and New Zealand, on whom the duty seems naturally to devolve.

Thirdly. This Committee is persuaded of coming revival in missionary zeal and liberality in our Churches. The era of depression and debt must end. Even now if one-half of our Church members gave as our converted coolies of Trinidad, one-tenth of their earnings to Christ's cause, we could send forth a fourth, a fifth and a sixth missionary at once. As a people we are not sowing bountifully but sparingly, and seem not more than half convinced of the truth of the wondrous words, which fell from the lips and illustrated the life of Him who said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Finally. We ask the Assembly to order the Foreign Mission Reports to be published in the "Missionary Record." At present they are perused only by the office-bearers of the Church, and a few others. If published in the "Record" they would reach the whole body of the people, without the cost of a cent; and this Committee know of no step better fitted to increase the interest and to draw forth the liberality of the whole Church.

All which is respectfully submitted,

GEORGE WALKER, Chairman.

P. G. MCGREGOR, Secretary.

In presenting to the General Assembly the usual Annual Statement of what has been accomplished on behalf of Foreign Missions by the Western Section of the Church, your Committee have nothing very striking to report. The work placed under their care has gone on much as usual. In the various fields occupied the missionaries continue to labour with fidelity and energy, and an encouraging measure of success has been granted, but no very signal achievements can be registered. It has been, on the whole, rather a time of sowing the seed than of gathering in the harvest. It is, however, matter of thankfulness that the good results already manifest in the fields in which your Committee have been operating are sufficient to make sense auxiliary to faith in grasping the assurance that in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

I. MISSION TO THE INDIANS IN THE NORTH-WEST.

At Prince Albert, on the Saskatchewan, the oldest of our mission stations, two ordained missionaries have laboured during the year, viz.: Rev. Messrs. D. C. Johnson and John Mackay. Mr. Johnson has taken the general oversight of the mission interests, and has conducted the mission school with marked ability and satisfactory results. Owing to the scattered nature of the settlement and the presence in it, at no great distance, of a rival school recently established by another denomination, the attendance has not increased to any large extent, but it is quite as good as could be reasonably expected. The average has been about thirty during the year. The school has been kept open regularly, with the exception of a few weeks when, owing to the outbreak of scarlet fever in the settlement, it was found necessary to close it. The pupils have been taught the ordinary branches of a sound English education, and carefully trained in the knowledge of the Scriptures and of the shorter catechism. A considerable portion of Mr. Johnson's salary has been met by the contributions of the parents whose children attend the school. Your Committee hope that at no distant day it will be found possible, with due regard to all the interests which require to be conserved, to transfer the entire support of the school to the community more specially benefited by it. Owing to the removal of the Indians from the neighbourhood, it can no longer be regarded as to any large extent a mission agency. It is, however, doing work of great importance to the Church in the settlement; and it has been considered expedient to continue to the school a reduced grant, for at least one year, after Mr. Johnson leaves the field. The period for which he went to Prince Albert expires in autumn, and it is expected he will then return to Ontario. Rev. Donald Ross who goes out to take charge of the Home mission work at Prince Albert, and from whose presence your Committee anticipates much good, both to the Home and Foreign mission work, is very anxious to have the school continued for a time. And it is understood that when he removes to that distant out-post with his family, he will be accompanied by a lady of whose experience and ability as a teacher your Committee have had the most satisfactory testimonials. She will be prepared to take charge of the school when Mr. Johnson leaves. And for her support the Committee have agreed to make a grant for one year.

Rev. John Mackay has had special charge of the work among the Cree Indians in connection with the Prince Albert Mission, and very satisfactory accounts of his labours have been received. From his intimate knowledge of the language, character and habits of the Cree Indians, there seems good reason to hope that, through the divine blessing, he will accomplish much good. He has two fields to which he chiefly devotes himself. The one lies on the south branch of the Saskatchewan, about twenty-eight miles from Prince Albert. At this point a considerable number of Indians are settled upon two Reserves nearly adjoining each other. Between these Reserves a grant of land has been obtained for the benefit of the mission, and steps have been taken to erect upon it, without delay, a plain building in which religious meetings can be held, or a school kept. The other field is Sturgeon Lake, on the north side of the north branch of the Saskatchewan, and about twenty miles from Prince Albert. The Indians settled on this reserve are heathen, and have hitherto refused to permit missionaries to settle among them. Mr. Mackay is personally acceptable to them, and there seems every reason to believe that they will allow him to labour permanently among them. When this has been definitely ascertained steps will require to be taken to erect a suitable building for meetings.

Rev. Geo. Flett continues to reside at Okanase, and from this centre he travels over a field two or three hundred miles in extent, preaching to the Indians in their own tongue, and administering, as occasion requires, Christian ordinances. He seems to be doing excellent service. He has visited Fort Ellice five times, Shoal Lake seven times, and Fort Pelly and Bird-Tail Creek once each during the year. When he is at home he preaches twice, and occasionally three times every Sabbath, and holds a prayer meeting on a week day. He conducts a Sabbath school once or twice, according to circumstances, on the Lord's Day. Mr. Flett reports for a period of less than ten months, twenty-nine baptisms, five marriages, and four deaths. He has twelve communicants enrolled in the fellowship of the church at Okanase, and four more preparing for admission at the next sacramental season. He is constantly coming in contact with heathen Indians, and finds many opportunities of commending to them the Gospel of Christ. Not a few of the Indians to whom he ministers had been baptized in the Romish Church, and the priest is now making great exertions to recover them to the fold, but the great majority of them remain steadfast in their attachment to the truth. He mentions as many as twenty-five who were baptized in the Romish faith who appear to have broken completely with that system of error.

Near Fort Ellice, an interesting work has been carried on among the Sioux or Dakota Indians who came over from the United States to British soil some years ago. Reserves have been set apart for them and they are likely to be permanent residents. The missionary, Rev. Solomon Tunkansniewe, is himself a Dakota Indian who cannot write in the English language, and consequently the information your committee are in a position to give respecting his work, is not very abundant. He appears, however, to be prosecuting his work quietly and faithfully, and to enjoy the confidence of the members of the Presbytery of Manitoba who are best acquainted with his labours. It is stated that many of the Dakota Indians appear to be anxious about their future state, but not many of the heathen have made an open confession, although they come to hear the Word. The baptism of only one adult and two children has been reported to us. But as no recent information from the missionary has been received, this statement cannot be regarded as giving any idea of the work accomplished during the year. An old chief named Enoch has recently been made an elder. The missionary visited during the winter Portage La Prairie and all the Sioux tents in that neighbourhood. It is to be hoped that your committee next year will be in a position to give fuller details of this department of the work. The attendance at the Roseau School, near Pembina, has not increased during the year. Indeed it is reported as showing only an average of 11½ during the time the school has been kept open. Your committee did not feel warranted in expending any large amount of the funds entrusted to them upon the school; they agreed, however, to grant $150.00 upon the condition that the school should be kept open for seven months. This arrangement has been carried out.

II.—MISSION TO CHINA.

In this field steady progress continues to be made, and a growing body of the people are obedient to the faith. Rev. G. L. McKay pursues the course which he has followed with such marked success from the beginning. He travels almost constantly through the country dispensing medicine to the sick and preaching the glorious gospel from place to place until almost every corner of Northern Formosa has had an opportunity of hearing the glad-tidings of salvation. He is usually attended on his tours by a body of students whom he is training by his example and by the instructions imparted daily, to become intelligent and effective heralds of the cross. There are now fifteen chapels connected with the mission, each of which enjoys the services of a trained native helper. Last year thirteen chapels were reported. Since the last Report Teck-Chham, the largest city in Northern Formosa, has been occupied. It is the only walled city in the north of the island, and has a population of 50,000 or 60,000 inhabitants. Bangka and Teck-Chham, are the most important centres in the region in which the Canadian Mission operates, and they are now both occupied for Christ. The opposition has been very bitter in these large cities where the influence of the literary and official class is powerful. In Teck-Chham, if the hostility was less violent, at first, than at Bangka, it does not appear to be less deep seated. From a letter lately received from Mr. McKay, we learn that there has been a recent outbreak of opposition. A report reached him at Tamsui that the chapel at Teck-Chham had been plundered. He set off at once to ascertain the facts and face the enemy. When after two days' journey he reached the spot, he soon learned that the report was true. "A party," he writes, "who hated us from the beginning, forced the door in, tore maps, broke away baskets, and threatened the life of the teacher in charge. There are several in prison already, but we don't know what the end will be. I know this, however, the enemy there is beginning to feel that the gospel of Jesus is a stern reality, and therefore bestir themselves to trample it under their feet, if possible, but that they cannot do, though hell should be emptied to assist them. I believe there is a day of bitter persecution in store for the Church in Formosa. Let us beseech Jehovah to help each one in darkness or sunshine, to shout, "God is our refuge and our strength, in straits a present aid."

A site for the hospital at Tamsui has not yet been secured. Almost innumerable difficulties have baffled the efforts of the missionaries up to the present time, but they hope in the end to be able to erect on some suitable site an edifice more adapted for the purpose. They have, however, rented a commodious house which they use in the meantime for an hospital and chapel. Mr. McKay preached five Sabbaths in succession in the new chapel, and the attendance was better than it has been for the past four or five years.

Mr. Junor since his arrival in Formosa has been chiefly engaged in the study of the language, but he has already been able in various ways to render effective service to the cause of the mission. He has met a very cordial welcome from Mr. McKay and his helpers, and has entered on his work with zeal and energy. Both he and Mrs. Junor are making such progress in the language as will enable them soon to communicate freely with the people. Mr. McKay writes, "You will doubtless be glad to learn that my dear colleague is getting on very well studying the language. One of the helpers is his teacher, and though necessarily there are many interruptions, Mr. Junor is making marked progress, and ere long will be proclaiming the gospel of peace in Chinese. Mrs. Junor comes every day to study the language with Mrs. McKay, and she too is making decided progress, and in due time will be able to help on the great work of our adorable Redeemer, Christ Jesus." Mr. and Mrs. Junor have sustained a severe trial since they reached Formosa, in the sudden death of their only child, an interesting boy. Early as he was taken from them, it was not before he had learned to love the Saviour and look forward joyfully to the better country. Your committee feel assured that the afflicted parents have had the hearty sympathy of the Church in their bereavement.

Dr. Ringer, who from the beginning of the mission has rendered it such generous service, has during the year continued to take charge of the hospital at Tamsui gratuitously. In the absence of the Annual Report, which has not come to hand, we cannot give details of work accomplished. But from the incidental notices which have come to hand during the year, we infer that the hospital work has kept up to its usual amount. It is to be hoped that, when a more suitable building has been secured, its usefulness will extend. To Dr. Ringer the Church is under a debt of gratitude for his long continued gratuitous services, well deserving of some special recognition. An interesting feature of the work in China which is full of promise for the future is the steps now being taken to reach the women more effectively. Five Bible Women are undergoing a training to fit them for usefulness among their sisters in Formosa. Mrs. McKay has done excellent service in leading the Chinese women to attend more largely the various gatherings and avail themselves more freely of the public means of grace. At a festive gathering held at Ton-liang-pong in December last, where some five hundred Christians were assembled, it is mentioned by Mr. Junor as a fact specially noteworthy that not fewer than one hundred women were present.

This portion of the report may be suitably closed with a few gleanings from a deeply interesting letter from Mr. McKay, of the 24th March, which arrived after this part of it was nearly completed. He writes, "the 3rd instant was a day of joy mingled with feelings of the deepest sadness to me. I finished my work of teaching the remaining five students, who have been travelling with me for the past two, three and four years. They are now helpers, waiting for openings to go forth and preach salvation through a crucified Redeemer.

Thus you see that, in all, there are twenty trained native preachers here in Northern Formosa all of whom I taught during the past seven years. In many places, and under various circumstances, I endeavoured to teach them the Bible, geography, church history, astronomy, anatomy, physiology, etc." . . . "You need not wonder that when I think of twenty trained native preachers here, I rejoice above measure, and when I think of the glorious time I had travelling with them being at an end, I feel as no words can express. God bless them for ever more!" Mr. McKay has been cheered by the baptism of a large number of members at Lun-a-teng Chapel. Saturday the 22nd of March, until noon, he spent examining the converts, Mrs. McKay also visiting them in their houses. "About mid-day Mr. and Mrs. Junor arrived by boat from Tamsui. In the evening we had a good meeting. Yesterday, converts began to assemble early in the morning, but some from a distance did not arrive until 10 or 11 o'clock a.m. All being seated, the services began, according to the plan I pursued since beginning work here. Myself and several helpers preached. Mr. Junor read a hymn and administered the ordinance of baptism. Twenty-seven were baptized, making a total of 255 members living. Judging from Mr. Junor's first attempt in public, I think it will not be long till he will be able to preach in Chinese. In the afternoon eighty persons sat down at the Lord's table."

It is little more than seven years since Mr. McKay landed in Northern Formosa, where unbroken heathenism then reigned, and when he last wrote he could report, "there are seven schools here, with about one hundred and fifty children in all studying daily. There are fifteen chapels with as many trained native preachers, proclaiming the Gospel to hundreds of hearers. There are five more trained helpers ready to go forth and unfurl the blood-stained banner of Jesus. There are two Bible women going about distributing tracts, etc. There is an hospital at Tamsui doing excellent service. Two hundred and sixty-three persons have been enrolled as members in full communion. There are eleven elders and five deacons, and about two thousand who might be called hearers." Of those baptized eight have been called to be for ever with the Lord, and eight other converts were taken away suddenly before they had been received into the fellowship of the Christian Church, but not before they had given such evidence of discipleship as to inspire the hope that for them to be absent from the body was to be present with the Lord.

III. MISSION TO CENTRAL INDIA.

The mission, for the time that it has been in operation, has been attended by an encouraging measure of success. It is still only in the initial stage of its progress. It employs, however, a great variety of agencies to make known the Gospel to the people of Central India. There has been no addition made to the Canadian labourers. Messrs. Douglas and Campbell and four young ladies have constituted the mission staff for the year at Indore and Mhow. They have, however, been aided by a goodly band of native assistants in the various departments of their work.

INDORE.

At Indore two services are held in English each week, on Sabbath and Thursday evenings. These are attended by Europeans, Eurasians, and English-speaking Hindoos and Mussulmans. At these services the chief officials from the Native States of Indore and Dhar, Dewas and Ihansee have been occasionally present. A Sabbath-school and Bible-class meet each Lord's day. Every morning a short service is held in the vernacular. The Catechists in turn with Mr. Douglas conduct the exercises. At this station there have been three baptisms during the year. "On the 2nd of March," writes Mr. Douglas, "our first communion was dispensed in the vernacular. Eleven in all communicated. It was to us a truly interesting occasion, rendered sad only by the absence of Sookananden and Narayan Sing, who for the truth's sake are still in exile."

The villages around Indore, to the number of fifty-five, have been regularly visited, and the Gospel of Christ has been preached in them to audiences ranging from two or three up to three hundred. Advantage also has been taken of the great gatherings of the natives at their melas or fairs to make known to them the Gospel message.

A school for Christian girls was opened in June last. From the fact that they have to be clothed and fed, the number admitted is necessarily limited. It supplies a home for the children of Christian families, who in search of employment have found their way into these Native States. When able the parents pay a part or the whole of the expenses. This school is under the care of Miss Fairweather.

A school for boys has been opened in the city, which promises to do good service. The average attendance is about fifty-four. "The boys provide their own books, and write on small boards dusted with ground brick. Marathi, Hindi, and English are taught. All think aloud while awaying from side to side. It certainly has the hum of business." One interesting feature of this school is a class of Brahman gentlemen, who meet Mr. Douglas three times a week to study such books as Wayland's Elements of Moral Science, Paley's Natural Theology, and Butler's Analogy of Religion. Fourteen have joined this class, and they assure the missionary that it will increase.

The printing press is proving a powerful auxiliary here to the cause of Christ. By means of the printed page multitudes learn the message of life before they hear it from the lips of the missionary. Mr. Douglas says, "In Indore, we have a large reading population, almost entirely destitute of reading matter. The native press here has as yet produced nothing, and the pernicious literature which the West is pouring into such cities as Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, has not yet largely reached this region. Our Scripture tracts have gone into every lane of the city. They have been found in country villages a hundred miles distant. Fathers have sent them far hence by mail to their sons. In the ancient city of Oogoin, we found that the priests in the temple of Kali had seen and heard them read. We were greeted on the street as 'Kitab dene-wala,' that is, the book-giver. They have been distributed along the line of railway. Thus thousands have had an opportunity of reading for themselves precious portions of the Word of God. The total issues of the press have been 203,906 copies, making in all 773,389 pages. Our Scripture booklets are in size 16mo., containing from ten to sixteen pages, and illustrated. We have supplied Mr. Campbell with them for his work, and sent some also to Poona and Ratlam. The thirst for them continues unabated in the city here. Many are distributed from the office to groups of respectable men, who walk from the city to receive them."

Your Committee are glad to report that Mr. Douglas, after encountering various difficulties, was able to secure suitable locations for mission buildings at Indore. He has been able to occupy in the meantime the building upon one of the properties secured, but steps will have to be taken, without much delay, to erect premises adapted to the wants of the mission. The obtaining of a permanent location for the mission must exert an important influence in giving greater stability to the work in Central India.

MHOW.

A large military cantonment is not regarded as usually a very hopeful field for missionary effort in India. The character of the camp-followers, and of the majority of Europeans, is found to exert a very unfavourable influence. Rev. J. F. Campbell has during the year had to labour on where these malign influences have had full opportunity to make themselves felt. He has not, however, been left without a measure of encouragement in his work. There have been a number of applications for baptism, but while several of them have inspired hope, Mr. Campbell has not seen his way to admit any of them into the fellowship of the Church. The only baptisms he reports are those of the child and grandchild of his catechist.

In October last, Mr. Campbell was happy in securing, through the kindness of Rev. Narayan Sheshadri, an excellent catechist who has proved a great comfort to him in his work. A school for boys with an average attendance of 31½ has been kept up, and Christian instruction has been imparted daily. Some of the boys have learnt the Scripture lessons with great accuracy, and the hope is cherished that in due time God's truth will exert its saving power in their hearts. A school for girls has also been sustained, but details concerning it have not been supplied. A Sabbath school, with an attendance ranging from 37 to 130, has also been kept up. A service in the vernacular has been conducted by Mr. Campbell and his catechists. The natives have evinced considerable interest in these services, and the attendance has ranged from twenty to seventy. Street preaching, itinerating through the surrounding villages and circulating portions of the Scripture are among the means which Mr. Campbell has employed to reach the people. Mr. Campbell calls attention to the necessity there is for more suitable mission buildings at Mhow. It is to be hoped that the liberality of the Church will supply the means at an early day to enable your Committee to provide buildings both at Indore and Mhow.

ZENANA WORK.

The ladies engaged in this department of work have found ready access to the homes of their heathen sisters. There does not appear to be any difficulty in finding more homes ready to welcome the ladies than they are able to visit regularly. Some indeed appear to be closed against them after a time, but more than they can overtake fully are still ready to receive them. Miss Fairweather reports that, she has thirty-eight zenanas which are open to her. Miss McGregor reports the number which she visits as forty-nine. At Mhow, Miss Rodger visits thirty zenanas. In these one hundred and seventeen zenanas the average in each is four or five, but Miss McGregor remarks, "the average in each refers only to the members of the household, whereas it must be remembered that the dwellings are situated so very near one another, that the women from the zenanas gather in one house, making the average number of those who receive instruction weekly in each house from fifteen to twenty persons." These ladies have also all done more or less in teaching, Miss Fairweather conducting a boarding school with nine pupils at Indore, and Miss Rodger teaching the girls' school at Mhow. They have also visited a large number of villages and have had many opportunities of making known the way of salvation both to men and women who have come to converse with them.

Miss Forrester devoted herself chiefly to the acquisition of the Hindustani, but she was able to aid both in the boys' and girls' school, and also in various ways to assist Miss Rodger in her work. Your Committee have learned with much pleasure that on the 22nd February Miss Forrester was married to Rev. J. F. Campbell, and they feel assured that in her new sphere she will render not less important service to the mission cause than she would had she continued one of the regularly recognized members of the mission staff.

Your Committee had hoped to have sent during the present summer another zenana worker to Central India in the person of Miss A. Montgomery, of Charlottetown, P. E. I. This young lady having offered herself for service in India, the Committee last year, having received the highest testimony to her qualifications, very cordially agreed to accept her offer, provided suitable arrangements could be made for her employment and accommodation in India. This condition has been found more difficult to fulfil than was anticipated. Correspondence with the missionaries has failed, partly on account of the lack of suitable house accommodations to secure an opening for her immediate employment. This your Committee much regret, as it may deprive the Church of the services of one whom there is every reason to regard as specially fitted for usefulness in this department.

The following statement of the receipts and expenditure for the year deserves special attention. The prayer meeting is said to be the thermometer of the Church. Perhaps the finances of the Church's mission schemes supply a measure scarcely less accurate of the spiritual temperature.

It will be seen that while this statement is not all that could be desired, it contains much for which the Church should be thankful and nothing which need discourage her in the great work for the evangelization of the heathen on which she has embarked. The total receipts from all sources for the year, are $21,815.39, or $644.65 in advance of any previous year. Last year a special effort was made to increase the Foreign Mission Fund, and it rose in the course of that year from $15,039.18 to $21,170.74. It is peculiarly satisfactory to find that in a year of unusual commercial depression, not only has the ground then gained been without any special effort held, but a further advance has been made. It is pleasing to note that every year the Foreign Mission Fund augments in volume.

In 1875-6 the Receipts from all sources were	$14,811	85

The Foreign Mission Fund, before the Union, had a similar history in the late Canada Presbyterian Church. From 1861-2 when $2,067.06 were raised to 1874-5, when the receipts were $12,588.40; there was not a year wherein the Foreign Mission Fund did not show a certain measure of increase on that of the year which preceded it. And if the Foreign Mission Fund is still miserably small, as compared with the resources of the Church and the demands of the work, it is still surely something, for which gratitude is due to God, that during nineteen years it has not taken one backward step.

It is not pleasant, however, to discover that the expenditure has more than kept pace with the growing income. There is now a debt upon the fund of $5,094.05. The debt reported to last Assembly was only $1,008.83. It has therefore increased $4,085.22 during the year. The increase in the debt is to a very large extent, if not entirely, only apparent. The sum of $550 due on account of China, of which the Treasurer was not advised until the accounts of last year were closed, belongs in reality to the debt of the previous year rather than to the expenditure of the year just closed. There has also been a change made in the mode of transmitting money to China, which requires payments to be provided for in advance. It is believed that the sum which appears in the statement for China will cover the normal expenditure of that mission for at least sixteen months. This alone is sufficient to account for nearly the entire increase in the debt. The purchase of mission property in India which the last Assembly directed, has also entailed a considerable outlay. It was hoped that a very considerable portion of the expense of this undertaking would have been met by special contributions. An appeal was made to the Church for donations, but the response was not such as had been hoped. Only a few donations were sent, and almost the entire expense has come out of the ordinary fund. But while these explanations show how your Committee are in debt, and indicate also that the income has been greater than the ordinary expenditure, they do not remove the disagreeable fact that at the commencement of another year the fund is in debt. It is true, that considering the manner in which this debt has been incurred, it need cause no special anxiety, but debt at the commencement of the financial year is always an element of embarrassment which the liberality of the Church should not suffer to continue.

The comparatively favourable financial statement which your Committee are able to present, is in no inconsiderable degree due to the steady growth of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Western Section. This organization is quietly extending itself over the Western Section of the Church and is doing much to evoke an intelligent interest in Foreign Mission work. At the date of its Annual Meeting, it had forty-two branches and eight mission bands for the young. These subsidiary societies are scattered over fifteen Presbyteries. During the year this society, after meeting all expenses and leaving a balance on hand was able to pay $3,000 to the Treasurer to sustain mission work among the women and children of heathen lands. It has only been three years in existence, but its progress has been very marked. The first year it paid to the Treasurer $1,000.00, the second year $1,870.00, and the third year $3,000.00.

Your Committee were happy to learn that during the year the Woman's F. M. Society, of the Presbytery of Hamilton, which was previously a separate organization, accepted the Constitution, approved of by last General Assembly, and united with the general Society of the Western Section, and has thereby become directly auxiliary to the Foreign Mission Committee. The sum credited to the Hamilton Society in the receipts of the year is the amount paid prior to the union. Since that time its funds have gone into the treasury of the Woman's F. M. Society of the Western Section, for the support of a lady missionary in India.

Cordial acknowledgments are also due for liberal contributions received from St. Matthew's Church, Halifax; the Halifax Woman's F. M. Society; and the Woman's F. M. Society of the Presbytery of Kingston. The growing interest taken by the Christian women of the Church in carrying the knowledge of salvation to the heathen of their own sex, cannot but be regarded as a symptom full of hope for the future. It is also a very hopeful sign that labourers are offering themselves freely for foreign service. Your Committee trust that the liberality of the Church will provide the means that those devoted men and women who are offering themselves to labour among the heathen, may be sent forth on their mission of mercy.

Mr. John Wilkie, who completed his theological studies a year ago, has since been studying Medicine, in Edinburgh, with a view to qualify himself for greater usefulness in the foreign field. His offer of service was accepted by the Committee last year, and it will now be for the Assembly to say whether it is prepared to send him forth. The missions in China and India both need to be strengthened without delay. Most promising fields invite us to labour, and surely when earnest, devoted and carefully trained labourers are anxious to embark in the work the Church should be slow to withhold the means.

Your Committee have drawn up a series of Regulations for the conducting of the Mission in Central India which they trust will aid in the harmonious and orderly prosecution of the work. In preparing them they have been guided largely by the experience of other bodies, which are prosecuting Missionary work in the same field. Time may show the necessity of minor modifications in these rules; but your Committee do not anticipate that any very radical change is likely to be required. A copy of these regulations which have been adopted ad interim will be found appended to this report.

All of which is respectfully submitted, by

WM. McLAREN, Convener.

REGULATIONS FOR MISSIONS IN CENTRAL INDIA, ADOPTED, AD INTERIM, BY THE FOREIGN MISSION COMMITTEE (WESTERN SECTION) OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA, APRIL 4TH, 1879.

I. Until such time as the Presbytery can be established, the male Missionaries shall be instructed to meet as a Council, quarterly at least, and consult in reference to the work of the Mission; and they shall also assume the general oversight and direction of the work, subject to the directions of the General Assembly's Committee.

II. Until there are three or more Missionaries in the field, the ordained Missionaries shall preside alternately, each for a period of one year. The Rev. J. M. Douglas shall be the first President. After three or more Missionaries are in the field, they shall elect their own President annually, in such manner as they may see fit.

III. The Committee will regard the Council as charged with special responsibility for the expenditure of the funds remitted by the Treasurer or Agent of the Church, or received in the field for the use of Missionaries,—it being understood that the salaries of Missionaries shall be paid at the par rate of sterling exchange, and also that the salaries of Canadian Missionaries shall be subject to the current rate of exchange in India; and the Committee will require the Council's recommendation of all estimates and expenses before giving its approval to them.

IV. The Committee shall designate Missionaries to particular fields of labour; and if, in the progress of the work, a change is deemed desirable, it may be determined by the Council, subject to the approval of the Home Committee.

V. All itinerancies or district work shall be determined by the Mission Council, and all expenses they may entail, over and above the Missionary's average home expenditure, shall be borne by the Mission.

VI. No individual Missionary shall incur, in schemes of work, an expenditure exceeding $60 per annum.

VII. The Mission Council shall nominate a Treasurer for appointment by the Assembly's Committee, who shall carefully preserve all deeds of Mission property and other legal papers not transmitted to the Committee; receive moneys from the Treasurer or Agent of the Church and from other sources, for Missionary purposes; pay the salaries of the Missionaries at the end of each month or at such other stated period as the Council shall determine; and defray the regular expenses of the Committee, and in no case exceeding them without its approval. He is expected to keep, in books procured at Mission expense, clear and correct account of all receipts and payments and to have vouchers of the latter; his books must be open to the inspection of the other members, or to any one of them, at any time; his accounts must be audited by a Committee of two members of the Mission appointed each year for this purpose; and a report of all receipts and payments must be made to the Treasurer or Agent of the Church yearly, or more frequently if desired, with a balance sheet, clearly exhibiting the condition of the Mission Treasury. Neither the Treasurer nor any member of a Mission may draw on the Treasurer or Agent of the Church for funds, without first receiving permission, formally expressed.

VIII. All agents employed in the Mission shall be paid from the Treasury of the Foreign Mission Committee, and the names of native agents who may be supported by Congregations or Sabbath Schools, shall be furnished to said Committee from time to time by the Mission Council.

IX. The Mission Council shall prepare, at the end of the year, a general report of missionary work, to be sent to the Committee in the first week in January. Each Missionary is requested to prepare also a personal narrative of his labours during the year, with any statement of his own views of the missionary work, or of the Lord's dealings with him, which he may think proper to give; this narrative, in the form of a letter, should be sent to the Convener of the Assembly's Foreign Mission Committee, early in January. All communications of the nature of complaints, or proposals requiring immediate action on the part of the Assembly's Committee, shall be transmitted through the Mission Council.

X. At the end of one year after the arrival of a missionary in the field, the Mission Council is requested to make a report to the Committee in regard to his knowledge of the native language and his skill in the practical use of it. The ability to write and speak the native language well, is an indispensable qualification for missionary work, without which no one can expect to continue in the service of the Committee.

XI. The Mission Council shall prepare, at the end of each year, a careful estimate of the probable necessary expenses of its work for the year ensuing, specifying the different objects in detail, to be forwarded to the Committee the first week of January. Where there is more than one station in a mission, each station shall prepare its estimates, to be submitted for examination and approval by the Mission Council at its annual meeting. It is the desire of the Committee that the estimates should be so complete as to preclude special application to Churches, Sabbath Schools, or Associations, for objects not specified in them. No missionary should apply to the Committee for funds for mission work without first conferring with the Mission Council. When these Mission estimates have been approved by the Committee, they govern the expenditure of the year, and must not be exceeded. If special cases arise, calling for new expenditure, they should be made matters of correspondence with the Committee, except when funds are provided from other sources than the treasury of the Church, such as the donations of Christian friends at the station or from other sources, as those referred to in the next paragraph.

XII. The object of missionary life must ever be held sacred, that of "preaching Christ and Him crucified;" but if, without turning aside from this object, missionaries should be temporarily led, by Providential circumstances, with the consent of their brethren in the Mission and the approval of the Committee, to engage in work that brings to them pecuniary remuneration, the money so received shall be turned over to the treasury of the Mission, to be used as local funds under its direction, and to be reported to the Committee. In such cases the missionaries will continue to draw their usual salaries from the Committee.

XIII. The salary of a missionary, although varying in different countries, according to the expense of living, is fixed on the principle of giving only a comfortable support to the missionaries while they continue in the service of the Committee, in the mission field and work. Usually a house is provided or house rent paid; a salary to a married man, and an allowance to each child under eighteen years of age; two-thirds of the salary of a married man to one unmarried; and to single women, such salary as may be agreed upon after conference with the Mission Council. The salary in every case begins on the missionary's arrival at his station, and ends when he leaves it on his return to the country from which he was designated, or on connection with the Committee being terminated. Provision for missionaries on visits to Canada, or for a missionary remaining at his post while his wife returns to Canada, will be made from time to time as the Committee may consider equitable.

XIV. All female missionaries employed in zenana work shall be subject to the above regulations; and the Council shall consult them in all matters pertaining to their work.

XV. The Council shall prepare and submit to the Assembly's Committee for approval, a fixed scale of payment for all Native Agency uniform with other missionary societies in the field, which shall be framed with a reference to individual attainments and adaptation for the work.

XVI. The Mission Council is authorized to submit to the Assembly's Committee any alterations or additions to the above regulations which experience or the progress of the work may demand.

THOMAS LOWRY, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE MISSION TO THE LUMBERMEN IN THE VALLEY OF THE OTTAWA.

During the past season the work of the mission has been widely and vigorously prosecuted. Although only one ordained missionary—the Rev. Joseph Gandler, of Fort Coulonge—has been employed in the work, yet through the active co-operation of the Rev. J. Fairlie, of L'Orignal, and the Rev. D. Wishart, of Madoc, and of Messrs. McOrmond and Andrews, colporteurs of the Ottawa Bible Society, the literature published by the Committee has been distributed among a larger number than usual.

Mr. Fairlie reports that the literature received by him from the Committee was carefully distributed among the shantymen employed by Mr. Ward and by Hamilton Bros. on the Rouge, numbering in all about 160, and that portions were left in neighbouring farms and depots.

Mr. Wishart, in visiting some portions of the lumber district of Hastings County and vicinity, distributed books, papers, &c., among the shantymen employed by Messrs. Gilmour, Rathbone, Booth, Bronsons & Weston, Baker and others, numbering over 800, as well as among those at depots, farms and stopping places.

Mr. McOrmond, travelling through the Gatineau and Lievres districts, in the interests of the Ottawa Bible Society, was furnished with a large supply of literature which he distributed in 25 shanties, 34 depots and to 108 scattered families, representing in all about 1000 persons as nearly as he could estimate. He reports a great anxiety on the part of many of the French-Canadians to secure the publications furnished by the Committee.

Mr. Andrews also reports the great eagerness of the French-speaking shantymen to receive the books, papers, &c., they forwarded to them. He visited shanties on the Pickanock, Coulonge, Black River, Schegan and DesMoines, and found that a number of the men had been led to read the Bible, in order to find the original of some of the stories which they had been reading out of the publications of the Tract Society and of the British Workman office.

Mr. Gandler was able during the past season to devote eleven weeks to the work of the mission. He visited the chief shanties in the districts over which Mr. Andrews travelled, and a large number of families in the townships of Leslie, Haddersfield, Pontefract, Waltham, Allumette, and Buchanan, who are out off from the regular services of the Church. He also visited a goodly number of the men employed in the work of the Canada Gen. R. R. extension above Pembroke. Almost everywhere that he went he held service, and at each visit distributed literature, visiting 42 shanties, 9 depots, 20 stopping places, 52 families,—in all about 1750 persons, conducting service 101 times and baptizing 12 children.

Of the shantymen Mr. Gandler reports that, as usual, they received him most cordially, and seemed not only to feel an interest in the Mission but to derive benefit from it. He expresses an earnest desire that some Missionary could be secured to visit the men engaged on the C. C. Railroad Extension during the summer: he expects that from 600 to 1,000 men will be employed on this work during the present season, and he knows from experience that any missionary visiting them would be most kindly received and liberally sustained. Mr. Gandler desires also that the services of a Missionary could be secured, for at least a portion of the summer, to visit the scattered families in the townships through which he passed. He says "Some of these families used to live where they enjoyed regular church services; hence they greatly deplore the lack of religious ordinances, and ardently crave the annual visit of your Missionary. The day of his visit is the red letter day of their calendar, the Sabbath of the year." He pleads that arrangements be made for sending some one to visit these families for five or six weeks, and speaks of the great pleasure it gave him to meet among them a number of earnest and consistent Christians.

The Committee have considered carefully the suggestions offered by Mr. Gandler in regard to the supply of services to the men engaged on the C. C. R. R. Extension and also to the families to whom he refers.

Both of these are matters which, though closely related to our work, properly fall under the oversight of the Home Mission Committee.

We therefore recommend that they be referred to the Presbytery of Lanark, within the bounds of which that whole region lies, and that the Presbytery be requested to take such immediate action as the necessities of the field demand.

The Committee have to record their great obligations to those who have generously aided in the work of the Mission; to the Religious Tract Society, of London; and to the publishers of the British Workman, for their continued liberality in sending free grants of their publications in addition to those purchased; to the ministers, colporteurs, lumberers and others who have rendered assistance. They continue to recognize the importance of this branch of our Home Mission Work, and they entertain the hope that the Church may, in due time, be able to meet more efficiently the spiritual wants of the shantymen.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DANIEL M. GORDON, Convener.

REPORT OF THE JUVENILE MISSION SCHEME FOR THE YEAR ENDING MAY 31, 1879.

The Committee of the Juvenile Mission Scheme reports with satisfaction that the interest manifested in this Scheme has been well sustained during the past year, but has rather increased its efficiency and widened its scope, especially as regards the missions of our own Church. Owing to the general financial depression, some remittances have been delayed beyond the usual time, which will thus be thrown into next year's accounts, causing a small apparent diminution of receipts, which it is hoped will be made up by a corresponding surplus next year. Several Sabbath Schools have, however, contributed very liberally, St. Paul's, Montreal, and Sarnia Sabbath School being the largest contributors. The latter school, besides contributing to the Dayspring, has undertaken the support of two Bible-women in Formosa, under the superintendence of Mrs. Junor. Another school, that of Oakville, Ont., has undertaken the partial support of a monitor in Trinidad, and it is hoped that other schools will be found willing to aid in this direction by completing the required sum.

Our Indore Mission has been materially aided by this Scheme during the past year. As another of the Orphanages at which several Sabbath Schools formerly maintained orphans, has been closed very lately, and the number of orphans is therefore much smaller than in former years, the remittance to Scotland is much decreased, although the four day schools in and around Calcutta are still maintained by the Sabbath Schools which undertook to support them. As our work at Indore is rapidly enlarging its bounds, the funds thus set free have been opportunely applied to the support of the children who have been gathered into the Orphanage at Indore, under the care of Miss Fairweather. The Bible Class of St. Andrew's Church, Quebec, has continued to maintain the two Zenana teachers, Yamona and Venoo, at Indore, and a second printing press has also been supplied from the funds of this Scheme, for the printing of Scripture leaflets for distribution among the natives, who receive them gladly. In addition to this, a considerable amount has been contributed towards the payment of the Mission School building at Indore, lately purchased.

In conclusion, the Committee earnestly commends the Scheme to the interest and care of the Assembly, confident that, as it becomes more wide-spread and general in its range, both of contributors and objects, the more useful will it become, under the blessing of God, not only in affording material aid to our growing Missions in the present, but also in the not less important work of training a Missionary Church in the future.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

AGNES MAULE MACHAR, Secretary-Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF KNOX COLLEGE.

The Board of Management of Knox College beg to report to the Venerable the General Assembly, as follows:—

The proper work of the College has gone on during the past session with its accustomed regularity. Nothing has occurred to interfere with the orderly arrangement and satisfactory conduct of the various departments of study.

The report of the Senate, herewith transmitted, furnishes a detailed account of the subjects treated, and of the exercises performed in the different classes under the Professors, as well as of the honours gained by the students.

With regard to the Preparatory Department, it is evident that the repeatedly expressed desire of the Church is being more extensively complied with, viz., that a complete University course of instruction in Arts should be taken by the students before entering the Theological Department. A larger number of those who have the ministry in view, as has been the case during the past year, have been attending the University instead of the preparatory course in the College.

FUNDS.

The amount received in congregational collections during the past year has been $8,677.12. Of this amount the proportionate allowance to the Theological Department of Queen's University and College is $1,331.90. The sum of $750 also, by order of the General Assembly, is given to Montreal College.

Deducting these two sums, there remains for Knox College, from the regular congregational collections, $6,559.22. To this amount there have to be added the following sums: $3,868.84 from the Endowment Fund, $600 from the House Steward, $35 from Matriculation fees, $300 from the Alexander estate, $63 as contributions for Library, and a special donation of $100, making the whole revenue for the support of the College $11,576.06.

The expenditure of the College for the past year has been $12,292.14.

The income last year from congregations was $7,385.55. The income from the same source this year is $6,559.22, showing a difference of $826.33. From this it will be observed that, had there not been a falling off in that source of income, the object for which the Board have been so anxious would have been attained, viz., the equality of the income with the expenditure. The same income as last year would have given to the Board the assurance of a satisfactory state of matters on this subject as to the future.

The result is thus matter of regret. Perhaps it may be accounted for by the depressed condition of financial affairs in the country, and by the urgency of other demands. But, at any rate, the important work of Theological education should have occupied such a prominent place in the anxieties of the Congregations, as that nothing would have been lacking of what was needed for its support.

The comparison which has been made lets the members of the Congregations which form the constituency of the College see how what they did last year might have been done this year, and may be done next year, and in subsequent years, so as to secure the end in view. And surely it is not necessary now to remind the Ministers and Congregations of the Church of the indispensable necessity of having our Colleges fully equipped and efficiently supported. If the Colleges are not liberally maintained it cannot be expected that the Church will have a sufficiently educated and well-furnished ministry. The highest interests of Your Church, in all its departments of service, both Home and Foreign, are bound up in the efficient state of our Theological Halls.

Accordingly, having respect to the great importance of the work of Ministerial Education, and to the need of more fully enlisting the sympathy and co-operation of all our Congregations in this work, so that young men of suitable qualifications may have their attention the more effectually directed to the claims of the ministry upon them, and may be encouraged to enter upon the requisite course of study, whilst the more adequate financial support of our Theological Seminaries may be secured, the Board respectfully recommends to the General Assembly the appointment of a Sabbath during the ensuing year, on which, in all our Congregations the subject of Ministerial Education shall be specially brought before the members of the Church, and its claims and necessities represented and enforced.

Not much has been done during the past year in the way of raising the amount necessary to wipe out the indebtedness on the ordinary revenue. The general and unprecedented stagnation of business throughout the country was a great hindrance to the favourable prosecution of the work. The Committee also, owing to the smallness of their number, felt it impossible, in consistency with their other duties, to overtake the field as they would wish. The Board, however, having enlarged the Committee, and requested two or more members in every Presbytery to aid in the work within their bounds, hope that this necessary effort may be successfully completed before the end of the year.

Endowment Fund.—The amount at the credit of this fund is $51,492.10. There has been no increase during the past year.

Building Fund.—The amount received during the year consists of $3,984.61 from subscriptions paid, and $3,500 from the sale of Grosvenor Street lots. The debt is about $26,000, but there are outstanding subscriptions very considerably above that amount.

Bursary Fund.—There has been received for this fund, including the balance of previous year, the sum of $3,290. Of this $1,833 have been paid in bursaries and scholarships, whilst $1,000 have been invested.

All which is respectfully submitted,

ALEXANDER TOPP,

Convener of Knox College Board of Management.

TORONTO, 27th May, 1879.

REPORT OF THE SENATE OF KNOX COLLEGE:—SESSION 1878-79.

The Senate of Knox College beg to report to the General Assembly that the number of students enrolled in the Theological Department during last session is thirty-two.

The lists of the several years are as follows:—

Third Year.—R. H. Abraham, B.A.; Daniel M. Beattie, B.A.; S. H. Eastman, B.A.; David Findlay, B.A.; William Fitzsimmons, B.A.; John Ross, B.A.; James Smith, M.A.; Donald Tait, B.A.; Charles Thom; Donald Bannerman.

Second Year.—A. B. Baird, B.A.; James Craigie, B.A.; W. A. Hunter, B.A.; R. W. Kennedy, B.A.; G. D. McKay; William McKay; James Ross; J. C. Tibb, B.A.; J. K. Wright.

First Year.—John Bryden; Abraham Dobson; Jas. Farquharson, B.A.; David James; Duncan McColl, B.A.; J. A. McDonald; Mal. McGregor, B.A.; John Mowat; Thomas Scouler, Daniel Stalker, B.A.; R. Y. Thomson; J. A. Turnbull, B.A.; Andrew Wilson.

In addition to the enrolled students, J. Polson, a licentiate of the Presbytery of Manitoba, gave attendance on the classes of the third year, and A. McLeod, on those of the first year. The case of Mr. McLeod, who has been labouring for several years as a Catechist, will be submitted to the General Assembly by the Presbytery of Lindsay.

Mr. John Bryden, of the first year, after an illness of three weeks, died in the end of February. He was a student of excellent promise, and was regarded with affectionate esteem by his Professors and fellow-students, and by all who knew him. His services in the Mission field were greatly valued. The Senate would record their deep sympathy with his widowed mother under her bereavement; and would beseech Him whose holy providence is over all, to use such dispensations as the deaths of devoted young men recorded in this Report and last, for the great spiritual benefit of all the members of the College.

The following is an abstract of the Class Reports :

Dr. Caven, as in past sessions, had under his care the Classes in Senior and Junior Exegetics and in Biblical Criticism ; the first consisting of the students of the second and third years, and the two last consisting of the first year's students. In the Senior Exegetical Class, lectures were given on the first six chapters of the Epistle to the Hebrews, and on several chapters in the Books of Exodus and Isaiah. Each student of the third year prepared a Greek Critical Exercise. Several of these exercises were read and criticised in the class, the rest privately. To the Junior Exegetical Class, a course of lectures was given on the Principles of Interpretation, and the first five chapters of the Acts of the Apostles, and the first, second, third, eleventh, fourteenth and fifteenth chapters of Genesis were critically expounded. In Biblical Criticism the part of Horne's Introduction bearing on that study was the subject of careful examination, and supplementary lectures were given.

Dr. Gregg had under his care during the Session the Classes in Apologetics, in Church History, and in Bible History. The Apologetical Class was attended by the first year's students, and the subjects treated were Natural Theology, and the Evidences of Christianity.

The Class in Church History was attended by the students of the first and second years. The ground gone over extended from the eighth century to the Reformation.

The Class in Bible History, comprising all the years, reviewed the History of the Jews from the time of the Captivity to that of Malachi.

Dr. Gregg further reports that he examined the Latin Discourses of the third year's students, and the Homilies of the second year.

Prof. McLaren reports that during the Session he taught three Classes in Systematic Theology, Senior, Intermediate and Junior. In the Senior Class which consisted of the third year's students, the subjects of Future Rewards and Punishments, and of Eschatology were discussed. This Class attended also the lectures given to the Junior Class on topics not already embraced in their course. In this way they received five hours instruction weekly.

The Intermediate Class, consisting of the second year's students, was occupied with the consideration of the following topics, viz. : Creation, Providence, Origin of Man, Origin of the Soul, Man's Original State, The Covenant of Works, The Fall, Original Sin, The Covenant of Grace, the Person of Christ and His Prophetic and Priestly Offices. This Class heard lectures four hours weekly.

In the Junior Class, which met thrice weekly, the subjects discussed were Inspiration, The Rule of Faith, The Attributes of God, The Trinity, The Decrees of God, and Election.

Dr. Proudfoot reports that he taught the Class in Homiletics, consisting of the second and third year's students, during the first half of the Session. He delivered forty lectures on Homiletics, and heard and criticised all the prescribed lectures and sermons. Texts for sermons and lectures were prescribed to all the students of the first and second years. As the result of experience Dr. Proudfoot states his conviction that, in view of its great importance, sufficient time is not devoted to this department of study.

All the Professors speak with satisfaction of the attendance of students in their several classes, their deportment, and the interest manifested by them in their studies.

Prof. Taverne gave instructions in elocution during the latter part of January and the first part of February.

It is recorded with pleasure that very valuable addresses were given to the students by the Rev. Dr. McKay, of Hull, England, the Rev. Joseph Cook, of Boston, and the Rev. Dr. W. M. Taylor, of New York, who visited the College during the first term of past session.

In the Preparatory Department Mr. Donald Tait, B.A., was re-engaged as Latin tutor, and Mr. A. B. Baird, B.A., was engaged as Greek tutor.

The list of students in this department is as follows :

First Year.—F. P. Bremner, John Campbell, W. F. Johnson, K. McKenzie, Jas. McDonald, A. B. Meldrum, W. S. McTavish.

Second Year.—A. K. Caswell, G. B. Greig, Jas. Henderson, Thos. Nixon, R. B. Smith, A. Robertson, J. Willert, A. Urquhart.

Third Year.—D. Bickell, Samuel Carruthers, John Currie, D. B. McDonald, William McKinlay, John Jamieson.

James McDonald, who is not as yet a regular student, attended the junior classes from the 23rd of October till the 7th of February in order to qualify for the entrance examination next session. J. Willert left the classes in November to enter upon the regular course in the University.

Mr. Tait reports that the senior Latin class read Livy, B. xxi., 30-51, and Horace, Odes, B. iii., 1-4. The class met also once a week for Grammar and Composition. The junior Latin class read the first eighteen chapters of the "De Senectute," and went carefully over the Grammar, and eight exercises of Arnold's Prose Composition. Each class met three times a week, and in addition to the closing examination, an examination was held immediately before the Christmas vacation.

Mr. Baird reports that the Senior Greek Class, consisting of the students of the second and third years, read Lucian's Charon and Homer's Iliad, Bk. vi., 1-140. The junior class, consisting of the first year, read Anabasis, Bk. v., 1-4, and the Epistle to the Galatians. Each class met twice a week for reading, and the students of the three years met together on Monday for Grammar. The greater part of Syntax and Etymology in Curtin's Smaller Grammar were gone over.

Both tutors testify to the diligence of all the students under their care, and to their uniformly correct deportment.

Prof. Gregg has again laid the College under obligation to him by conducting a class in Mathematics for the benefit of the first preparatory year.

Mr. John Ross, B.A., was elected by the Students' Metaphysical and Literary Society as President for the past year. The work of this important Society continues to be conducted with much spirit and energy, and to the great advantage, it is believed, of all its members. The Society met weekly during the session, and three public meetings were held in the College hall, which, on each occasion, was completely filled.

The Reading Room has received some new periodicals, which have added to its interest and increased its value to the students.

All the students, it is believed are connected with the Students' Missionary Society. The importance of this organization, whether in reference to the work done in the mission field during the summer, or to its influence in promoting missionary feeling in the College, can hardly be over-estimated. Ten of their number have been designated by the students for mission work during the coming summer.

The Students met every Saturday evening for special prayer, and the Professors and Students, as in previous sessions, held monthly prayer meetings.

The late Rev. Mr. Cheyne left to the College a considerable part of his library, and also founded a bursary of the annual value of forty dollars. The Senate would gratefully record its sense of the interest ever shewn in this College by that excellent man, now taken to his rest,

It is exceedingly to be desired that funds were available for making necessary additions to the College Library. The departments of Apologetics and Exegetics are especially in need of development. The Senate will gratefully receive books which ministers or members of the Church may kindly send to the library, and they would again state their conviction, that if the library is to be maintained in a condition worthy of the Church, a fund must be established by means of which valuable books, as they appear, can be added.

Mr. Abraham Dobson was appointed Librarian at the end of last Session. He reports that during this Session now closing, 500 books were taken out of the library, and 493 returned to it. The consulting department of the library was accessible to the Students throughout the College year, and considerable use was made of it. The Librarian suggests, as necessary to the protection of the library, that it be closed during summer, and thinks that such a regulation could not be considered as unduly hard, seeing that each student is allowed to take out five volumes at the end of the Session.

The University Scholarship Scheme continues to be vigorously and successfully administered, and doubtless is a very important means of elevating the literary attainments of our candidates for the Ministry. The Senate would unite with the Board of Examiners in recording its thanks to those generous friends of the College, whether individuals or congregations, who contributed Scholarships during the past year.

KNOX COLLEGE, 2nd April, 1879.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS—KNOX COLLEGE.

The Board desires to present the following statement of its operations during the year. These have embraced three classes of students at different stages in their course of preparation for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

I. MATRICULATED STUDENTS ATTENDING UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, TORONTO.

Thirteen students presented themselves as competitors for the Scholarships, ranging in value from $60 to $40, offered by the Board to young men taking a full course of study at University College, with a view of entering the ministry of the Presbyterian Church. The number is larger than has appeared at any previous competition.

The following were the successful competitors:

In the fourth year,—

1. J. W. Cameron, 1st Londen Scholarship.
2. David McLaren, 2nd " "

In the third year.—

1. D. M. Ramsay, Cooke's Church Scholarship.
2. Thomas Davidson, The Andrew Skinner Scholarship.
3. John Mutch, Charles Street Scholarship.

In the second year,—

1. W. G. Hanna, 1st Alexander Scholarship.
2. J. S. McKay, Knox Church, Hamilton, Scholarship.
3. Thomas Hepburn, 2nd Alexander Scholarship.

In the first year,—

1. Donald McGillivray, St. James' Square Church Scholarship.
2. Alexander Scrimger, Zion Church, Brantford, Scholarship.
3. Thomas Inglis, } The Burns' Scholarship.
4. Alex. Hamilton, }

As one of the successful competitors, Mr. W. G. Hanna, was at the same time the holder of a University Scholarship, Mr. H., according to the rule of the Board, received only the third of the value of the Scholarship. The balance was awarded to a meritorious student of the same year, next in order of merit to the successful competitors.

The Board was enabled to offer these Scholarships through the liberal donations to the Fund, of Cooke's Church, Charles Street Church, and St. James' Square Church, Toronto, Knox Church, Hamilton, Zion Church, Brantford, St. Andrew's Church, London, and one individual contribution. This scheme has been assisted also by the proceeds of the Alexander bequest. The Board would bespeak for this scheme, of the beneficial results of which it is more than ever convinced, the liberal support of these and other congregations, as of members of the Church desirous of encouraging deserving students to take a full University course.

II.—STUDENTS IN THE PREPARATORY CLASSES OF KNOX COLLEGE.

Five Students appeared before the Board in October with the view of entering the Preparatory Classes of Knox College. The number was smaller than in the previous year, but their attainments were on the whole of a much higher kind. They were all assigned to the first year of the course. Their names follow: Frederick Bremner, Frederick W. Johnston, Wm. S. McTavish, John Campbell, and Andrew B. Meldrum.

The standing of a student of the first year was also assigned after examination to Kenneth McKenzie, who had attended the classes in Knox College last year, but had received no standing.

At the close of the College Session, the Board in conjunction with the Senate, examined in Latin and Greek the students of all the years in the Preparatory course, and those of the first year in Mathematics also. These examinations afforded pleasing evidence of the diligent and successful prosecution of these branches of study under the tutors in the College.

Certificates were presented from the Professors of University College by the students of the various years, attesting regularity of attendance on the prescribed classes, and in most cases, satisfactory attainments. It is only right to say that several of these Professors call attention to the defective knowledge of the English language on the part of some of the students taking this preparatory course.

A supplementary examination in Philosophy is prescribed to one student who on account of his state of health had not been able to submit to the examination along with the other students of his year. In another case, the Board was unable to allow the standing of his year to a student who failed to pass the terminal examinations in a satisfactory manner.

Five students, John Jamieson, S. Carruthers, D. B. McDonald, John Currie, D. Bleckell, having completed their studies in the Preparatory Course, will be entitled to enter on the study of Theology next Session. The case of another who has attended all the prescribed classes, but whose attainments are not as high as the Board desires to see in those who enter in the Theological Course, is referred to the General Assembly with the recommendation that, in view of the diligence of the student and his proved acceptability in the Mission field, it should be favourably considered.

III.—STUDENTS IN THE THEOLOGICAL COURSE.

Thirteen students appeared before the Board with a view to admission to the Theological Classes. Of these five were received as Graduates of the University of Toronto, viz.: James Farquharson, B.A., D. McColl, B.A., Malcolm McGregor, B.A., Dan. Stalker, B.A., J. A. Turnbull, B.A. Five were received as having completed the Preparatory Course of Knox College, viz.: Ab. Dobson, David James, John Mowat, Thomas Scouler, and Andrew Wilson; and three, who are near the termination of their under-graduate course, were admitted on examination, viz.: John Bryden, since deceased; J. A. McDonald, and R. Y. Thomson. Angus McLeod, who was sent up by a Presbytery of the Church, was permitted to attend the Classes of the first year, but his standing must be determined by the General Assembly.

The closing examinations were conducted by the Board acting in conjunction with the Senate. The results were of a very satisfactory kind in nearly every case.

As the class lists presented in the Report of the Senate to the Assembly contain the names of those who passed in their respective years, and of those who in addition gained Scholarships, it is not thought necessary to repeat them here.

Taking a view of the whole results brought out in the various examinations, the Board would congratulate the General Assembly on the number and the attainments of the students who have appeared before it, and on the progress they are making in the studies which are to qualify them for the important office to which they aspire.

All which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN M. KING,

Chairman of Board of Examiners.

TORONTO, May 19, 1879.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The Trustees of Queen's University and College respectfully submit the following report for the year 1878-9:

The Session which closed to-day is the thirty-eighth, since the foundation of the Institution.

II. ATTENDANCE.

The number of Students registered as actually attending classes in Arts and Theology was one hundred and ten. Of these forty-nine are studying for the Ministry of our Church. This is the largest attendance that Queen's College has ever registered. In 1870 the number was twenty-eight, and in 1876, when we first reported to the General Assembly, the number was sixty-nine.

In Theology, five students belonged to the third year—viz: Alexander Stewart, John Ferguson, M.A., Hugh Cameron, B.A., George Macmillan, B.A., and J. G. Stuart, B.A.; four to the second, and nine to the first year.

In last report reference was made to Hugh McIntosh, an undergraduate of the second year, who left College in the middle of the Session, on account of illness. This winter he died at his home in Pictou, N.S. Mr. McIntosh was a young man greatly beloved and respected by all who knew him. He was studying with a view to the Ministry, and as a catechist and teacher had shown great aptitude for the work to which he was looking forward. In the middle of this Session, Mr. Richard A. Lavell, an undergraduate of the first year, was suddenly called away from us by death. Mr. Lavell held the Watkins Scholarship, and gave promise of being a distinguished scholar. As usual the general health of the students has been good, and the average attendance at classes very high. In no previous session in the history of the College has there been more of a mind to work among the students. Their conduct has been all that could be desired. Of the undergraduates seven completed their examinations and obtained the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Reference is made to the Calendar for 1879-80, copies of which are herewith submitted, with the names of the students and with full information concerning the University.

III. MEDALS, PRIZES, BURSARIES, NOMINATIONS AND SCHOLARSHIPS.

Under this head our position is extremely satisfactory, thanks to the benefactors who put it in the power of the Senate to offer so many honors and valuable prizes. For full information on the subject we refer to the Calendar. It is well to call special attention to the fact that everyone who contributes $100 to our Endowment Fund, receives a Nomination, under the Seal of the University, that entitles him to send a student for the full four years' course in Arts and Science, without payment of fees; and that the donor of $500 founds a scholarship under his own or any other name he desires to give to it, in virtue of which he can send a student every year as long as he lives, and the benefit of which may be enjoyed after his death by his descendants. On Convocation day, a letter was received from John S. Macdonald, Esq., Fond-du-lac, Wisconsin, proposing to found a Scholarship to yield at least one hundred dollars per annum, and to be called the Marion Stewart Macdonald Scholarship, as a tribute to his mother, whose name it will bear. This Scholarship is to be awarded to the most deserving student from the County of Glengarry, should he require its aid. Preference is given to orphans. The Senate may divide it any year between two deserving students.

IV. THEOLOGICAL STUDIES, LECTURESHIPS AND DEGREES.

In one of the departments of the Theological Faculty, the subjects taken up were the Comparative Study of Religions, Old and New Testament Introduction, and Christology, as the beginning of a three years' course of Lectures. In the other department the subjects were—In Hebrew: First year—Wolfe's Grammar, Gen. 1. xi. xiv., Psalms xxxi. xxxv. Second year—Gesenius' Grammar, Exod. vii. xiv., Psalms c. c. c. Third year—Gesenius' Grammar, Is. xl. xlv., Psalms c. c. c. In Biblical Criticism—Galatians and Colossians, in Greek; Hammond's Textual Criticism; Lectures on recent objections to the Pentateuch. In Church History—Centuries i. v.; Killen's Old Catholic Church; Lectures on the Fathers. Special Courses of Lectures were also given (1) by the Rev. Dr. Bell, of Walkerton, on the Relations of Science and Religion. This is the third time within six years that Dr. Bell has laid us under obligations by lecturing on this important subject. (2) By Rev. Dr. Jardine on Apologetics, with reference to modern attacks on Christianity. Dr. Jardine's ability as a writer on this subject, and as a lecturer on it for many years, while President of the Church of Scotland's Institution, Calcutta, made it a source of gratification to the Board that they were able to secure his services. (3) By the Rev. John Thompson, of Sarnia, on Homiletics and Pastoral Theology. No course was more appreciated by the students than this. (4) Seven lectures, the outcome of ripe thought on the subject, by the Rev. A. F. Kemp, LL.D., on the principles and practice of Ecclesiastical Jurisprudence. In the absence of a fully equipped Faculty in Theology, these Special Lectures are necessary, and in the opinion of the Board, they are of much service in any case. The establishment of such lectureships would tend to induce our Ministers to continue their studies after leaving College and to devote their strength to the subject for which they are specially fitted by previous training and aptitudes; while the students are benefited by coming in contact with men who have mastered a speciality, or men who have come to them fresh from the active work of the ministry. The sum of from two to five thousand dollars would endow a lectureship, and we would suggest respectfully to men to whom the Head of the Church has given means, that in no better way could they give a wholesome and permanent stimulus to the learning and life of the Church than by establishing one of these lectureships, it may be as a memorial of some name deserving to be held in remembrance. In connection with our Arts Faculty, we have such a permanent lectureship, founded by the late John Watkins, Esq., of Kingston, and filled at present, much to the advantage of students for the Ministry, by A. Melville Bell, Esq.

The General Assembly having appointed a committee with reference to Degrees in Divinity, the Board respectfully represents to the Assembly its willingness to take any steps necessary to modify the Constitution of the Senate, so as to secure the representation on it of the different Theological Halls of the Church, for the purpose of conferring such Degrees.

Y. THE UNIVERSITY COUNCIL.

The members of the Council who retired on March 15th, according to rotation, were re-elected. Rev. Robert Jardine, D.Sc., was elected in the place of the Rev. Chas. Innes Cameron, of whose services the Council was deprived by death. We desire to pay a tribute to the memory of Mr. Cameron, not only for his attachment to his Alma Mater, but for his literary and poetic gifts, his earnest piety, and his devotion to the cause of his Lord and Master. His early death is a great sorrow to those who knew him and who looked for much fruit from his fine culture and noble character.

VI. LIBRARY AND MUSEUM.

The Library increases in value every year. Besides a large library bequeathed to it during the past year by the late R. Sutherland, B.A., of Walkerton, and other additions referred to in the Calendar, we have to acknowledge a gift from Her Majesty's Government of the publications of the Scottish Record Office, consisting of fifteen large folios and several octavos. These comprise the Chronicles of the Picts and Scots, the Acts of the Parliament of Scotland, the Registers of the Privy Council, of the Lord High Treasurer, the Exchequer Rolls, and all the Documents that bear on the History of Scotland from the earliest times. These publications form an addition to the library that could not be bought with money, and our best thanks are due to the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, for acceding to our application for a grant of the complete set. Their Lordships state that in acceding to the request of the Board for these rare volumes they had regard, inter alia, to the facts that the University was incorporated by Royal Charter, and bore the Queen's title. The Museum is also increasing in value every year. Prof. MacCoun has promised to fit up a complete herbarium when the new buildings afford accommodation for it. As we have now in prospect abundant space, we would remind former alumni and all friends that there is no better way of doing good with rare manuscripts, volumes, maps, plans, drawings, instruments, geological, zoological, botanical or other specimens, natural curiosities, scientific apparatus, works of art or manufacture, than by sending them for the Library, Museum, Laboratories or Convocation Hall of the University.

VII. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS.

In connection with these, we have the sorrowful duty of reporting that death has taken from us our late highly esteemed Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. William Ireland. Mr. Ireland served the Board as Secretary for nearly twenty years, and as Secretary and Treasurer for fifteen years. Absolute confidence was always reposed in him, and he vindicated this confidence by a rare combination of business ability and Christian integrity and honour.

The Treasurer's statements, duly audited, are herewith submitted. The deficit of $829 is less than the average deficit of the three previous years; and had we received the small amount asked for from the Church, there would have been no deficit at all, but a balance to credit. We believe that expenditure should be made to square with estimated revenue, and every item of our revenue comes up to the estimate save the one item of our proportion of the collection for Colleges. The consequence is that a deficit of between four and five thousand dollars has been rolled up against us in the last four years, which we have had to take from capital. A more forcible argument for the complete endowment of the College could hardly be given.

VIII. PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

The General Assembly last year "sanctioned the institution of a Preparatory Department in connection with the Theological work of the College." The Department was accordingly instituted. Rev. A. B. Nicholson, M.A., assistant to Professor Mackerras, was appointed Classical tutor, and D. A. Givens, B.A., Mathematical tutor. The total cost is $250 a year. The Assembly renewed its former recommendation that all legitimate means should be used to induce students preparing for Theological studies to take the regular Arts Course in some approved University. The difficulty in the way of one making this recommendation is that the very existence of a Preparatory Department is the strongest possible inducement to students not to take the regular Arts Course. The Church says to the student, if you enter our Preparatory Department you can get license a year sooner than if you take the regular University Course. With such an imprimatur on the Preparatory Department, it is not to be wondered at that many students avail themselves of its advantages.

IX. REQUESTS AND SPECIAL GIFTS.

We have to report this year several bequests—the first, a very magnificent one, by the late Robert Sutherland, B.A., Barrister-at-law, Walkerton. Mr. Sutherland was a graduate of Queen's University, and having no family, he left all his property to his Alma Mater, in token of the benefits he had received from her, and because he had never suffered prejudice in his student days on account of his negro blood, but to use his own words "had always been treated as a gentleman." The financial statement shows that we have already received $8,190 from this source. We have also received his very excellent collection of books on Law, valued at $2,000. This collection we purpose to make the nucleus of a Law Library in connection with the University, to be called "The Sutherland Library." A second bequest received is one of £200 stg., less legacy duty, from the estate of the late Alexander Rankin, of Leamington, Eng., to establish a bursary in the Divinity Hall. This has just come, and it comes in good time to take the place of a scholarship of £10 stg. a year formerly granted by the students of St. Andrew's University, Scotland, but now withdrawn. The Board has received intelligence at its annual meeting to-day that by the death of Mrs. Spence, the widow of the late Alexander Spence, D.D., Ottawa, bequests made by Dr. Spence to the College will become available. These are one of $3,800 for the use of the University, and one of $1,000 to found a scholarship in Theology.

X. NEW BUILDING AND ENDOWMENT.

Last year we reported that at least $40,000 were needed for new Buildings; $50,000 for the Arts Faculty, and $60,000 for the Theological Faculty of the University, and that a vigorous commencement had been made in the proposed work, especially in the City of Kingston. We have now to report that notwithstanding the general depression in business, the work has been prosecuted with a large measure of success. While contributions were received from friends for the object they were chiefly interested in, it was estimated that Kingston might give the buildings, the country to the East of Kingston the amount needed for the Arts Faculty, and the country to the West the amount needed for the Theological Department. With reference to the first of these objects, the people of Kingston have showed extraordinary liberality. When tenders were received, it was found that the building would cost $50,000; and that the site and furnishing would cost $5,000 more. To meet this required amount of $55,000 the citizens of Kingston have subscribed $43,000, and we are assured that we may depend on the $12,000 still needed being also subscribed by them. The building will thus be a noble memorial of their enlightened liberality. It is a subject of great congratulation to the Board, and we are sure that it will be also to this Venerable Assembly, that people of every Denomination in the City united in this undertaking; that at the meeting which was held to advocate it, the Mayor took the Chair, and that on the platform, Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Baptists, Methodists, and Congregationalists sat side by side, though all knew that the Institution belonged to the Presbyterian Church, and that all joined in the praise of the catholic spirit invariably displayed and of the work done by the University, and showed that they meant what they said by offering willingly, according to their means, for its extension. With reference to the remaining objects, the greater part of the amount asked has been subscribed, but as the subscriptions extend over four years, there may be a loss of from five to ten per cent. on these. Besides $60,000 will not be sufficient for the Theological Faculty. $40,000 are needed to meet the withdrawal of the grant hitherto made by the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland; and $20,000 is an insufficient sum to endow the third Professorship in Theology, so long and so urgently needed. Then there is the constantly recurring deficit caused by the inadequate annual contribution from the Church's "Collegio Fund." We mention these things not from any lack of faith that all that is required will be given. It would ill become us to be discouraged. It was impossible to canvass more than between fifty and sixty places last year; and not one of these was thoroughly canvassed. We believe that not more than half the friends of the College have yet been appealed to; and that those whom we had not time to see are as liberal as their more fortunate brethren who were waited on first.

We have spoken of a site for the new Building. Our old Campus contained six and a quarter acres, but as there was a Common alongside, belonging to the Government, we applied for a portion of it in order to obtain a more favorable site and space for future extension, should that be needed. A block of three and a quarter acres was put up at public auction, and none of the citizens bidding against the College, it was obtained for the sum of $1,300.

It gives the Board the most profound gratification to state that His Excellency the Governor-General and H.R.H. the Princess Louise, immediately on being requested, consented to come to Kingston to lay the foundation stones of the new Building, and to take any other part in connection with the ceremony that the Senate should desire.

All which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, MONTREAL.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:—

The Board of Management of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, begs leave to make the following Annual Report to the General Assembly, and to transmit therewith the Reports of the Senate and Board of Examiners, the Financial Statement and the Calendar for next session.

These papers give full information as to the work done by the College during the past session, and as to its financial position. The Board would therefore simply call the attention of the Assembly to the following points that are of more general importance.

The past year is not one that has been characterized by any very important changes, but it has been on the whole one of the most successful in the history of the College, so far as concerns its proper work in the training of a Ministry for the Church. The whole number of students on the roll has been sixty-four. This is not quite so large a number as in the previous year; but, on the other hand, the number in the Theological classes has been larger, and the number finishing their course larger than in any previous year. It is also to be noticed that of the nine who completed their course and are now applying for license, there are four who are prepared to enter upon the work of French Evangelization, and are now actually in the field. This fact is of special interest to the whole Church, as the permanence of its French Mission work must depend in a large measure upon the possibility of securing thoroughly trained missionaries to carry it on.

It will be seen from the Treasurer's statement that the financial position of the College remains much the same as at the time of the last report—the whole amount to its credit being $27,347.98, or $180.04 more than last year, so that taking all the funds together the actual receipts of the year are in excess of the expenditure by this amount.

This result, however, has been attained only by the closest economy. In the last annual report the fear was expressed that the revenue from some existing sources would probably diminish, and that provision would have to be made by additional endowment, or otherwise to meet a deficiency thus arising. This fear has been only too fully verified, and the total receipts for all purposes have been considerably less than last year; while almost nothing has been added to the endowment. The falling off has been chiefly in the special subscriptions for the second Theological chair; though the Board would also call the attention of the Assembly to the fact that a considerable number of congregations within the constituency of the College have not made any collection or sent in any contribution to the ordinary fund.

For this year, the diminution in the receipts has been met by a corresponding reduction in the expenditure. Nothing has been spent on the library, and the expenditure for ordinary purposes has been nearly $350 less than in the previous year. The ordinary expenditure cannot be further reduced without impairing the efficiency of the institution; it is doubtful if it can be maintained even at the present amount. And as, even with the reduction of the present year, there is a balance against the ordinary fund of about $150, the need for further endowment must be apparent; besides, it is to be remembered that the deficiency of about $6,000 reported last year in this fund still remains. It is to be hoped that ere long some means may be found whereby this deficiency may be met, and also adequate provision made for the future needs of the College.

The Board has pleasure in being able to report that a plan has been formed for obtaining a library endowment fund; one of the members of the Board is interesting himself specially in the matter, and has good hope of success.

The regular staff of the College has been much the same as in the previous year, except that the Rev. P. Wright has had charge of the classes in the Preparatory Department. In this work he has rendered most efficient service.

The Board regrets to have to announce that at the close of the session the Rev. B. Ouriere, who has been in charge of the French Department, and has discharged his duties in a most satisfactory manner, found it necessary to remove to France, and will not return. The Board is not in a position to suggest any successor to Mr. Ouriere as yet, and would recommend that the assembly should authorize the Board to make such provision for this work during next session as it may deem suitable.

The Board would also recommend that the Rev. John Scrimger, M.A., be re-appointed lecturer in Greek and Hebrew exegesis at a salary, as before, of $500.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID MORRICE, Chairman.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE,
MONTREAL, June 5th, 1879.

REPORT OF THE SENATE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, MONTREAL, FOR THE SESSION OF 1878-79.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:—

The Senate of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, begs to report that sixty-four students are upon its roll. Thirty-seven in theological classes, and twenty-seven pursuing the literary course in McGill College, and under the care of a special lecturer. Their names, the standing gained by them, the scholarships and other distinctions awarded them at the close of the session are contained in the accompanying report of the Board of Examiners; and the Senate testifies with pleasure to the uniform diligence and success with which they devoted themselves to their appointed duties.

The work of instruction in the several departments named was conducted by the following staff of professors and lecturers:—Rev. Principal MacVicar, LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology, Homiletics, and Church Government; Rev. John Campbell, M.A., Professor of Church History and Apologetics; Rev. John Scrimger, M.A., Lecturer in Old and New Testament Exegesis; Rev. Benjamin Ouriere, Lecturer in Sacred Rhetoric and Homiletics (French); Rev. P. Wright, Lecturer in Classics and Mathematics. Hebrew and Oriental Literature were taught as heretofore in McGill College, by Rev. Abraham De Sola, LL.D.

Three special courses of lectures were delivered during the session, viz.: five lectures on the History and Dogmas of the Jesuits, by the Rev. Dr. R. F. Burns, Halifax; eleven lectures on Elocution, by Professor Taverner; and six lectures on Ecclesiastical Architecture, by A. C. Hutchison, Esq.; besides instruction in Sacred Music for one hour per week, by John McLaren, Esq. All these special lectures were much appreciated, and proved, it is believed, highly beneficial to the students.

The weekly devotional meetings of professors and students were well sustained, and in addition to the usual exercises were addressed by the Revs. Dr. Topp, J. M. King, Toronto; Dr. Fraser, late of Formosa; D. McCrae, St. John, N.B.; Dr. Parsons, Buffalo; Dr. McKay, Hull, England, and others.

The ordinary and public meetings of the Students' Literary and Philosophical Society elicited much interest and contributed in no small degree to the literary and elocutionary culture of its members.

The same ardent missionary spirit shown in former years prevailed with undiminished force; and the fact that forty-three students, including French and English, are engaged in the Home mission field during the summer, may be taken as one evidence of the practical usefulness to which the College has attained. Nine of these forty-three have completed the prescribed Theological Curriculum and have applied for license, and four of the nine are engaged in the special work entrusted to the Assembly's Board of French Evangelization.

Without entering upon the general financial condition of the College, the Senate with great pleasure reports the following items which fall within its province:—The Alma Mater Society, at its first annual meeting, in April last, founded a scholarship of fifty dollars, to be offered yearly for proficiency in Oriental studies. This, it is believed, is only an earnest of far greater things in the interests of Theological education to be accomplished in future by this active society. The Rev. W. J. Dey, M.A., Spencerville, one of the graduates and members of the society, contributes a scholarship of fifty dollars per annum, for competition among students who distinguish themselves in their Arts course. D. Morrice, Esq., chairman of the Board of Management, has founded a valuable gold medal. The terms on which it will be awarded are still under consideration, and will be announced at the opening of next session. The scholarships and medals thus placed at the disposal of the senate will do much to widen the range of Theological learning in special directions, and to stimulate students to the very highest efforts in the prosecution of their work.

The steady growth of the Library from the very first, and the many valuable works which it contains, are matters of deep satisfaction; and it is now specially gratifying to report that steps are being taken, the details of which are given by the Board of Management, by which an annual revenue from invested funds will be available for the purchase of books. Ninety-six volumes were added by gift during the past year. What is now urgently required is a fire-proof Library building, of sufficient capacity to admit of a proper arrangement of the books, and to place them beyond the risks to which they are at present exposed. The Senate respectfully asks the early attention of the Board to this matter, inasmuch as the resources of the Library are but imperfectly available for want of such room, and specially because portions of it which are the gift of generous friends could not be replaced by money, should they by any means become lost to the College and the Church.

The Rev. Benjamin Ouriere, owing to sickness in his household, which renders it necessary for him to return to France, has resigned his position as French Lecturer in Sacred Rhetoric and Homiletics; and the Senate while deeply regretting the loss which the College thus sustains, would record its appreciation of the thoroughly efficient manner in which he discharged the duties of his office, during his term of service.

All which is respectfully submitted.

D. H. MACVICAR, Principal.

The examination papers were, on the whole, eminently satisfactory, all the members of the graduating class taking over three-fourths of the maximum of marks. The severity of the examination is evidenced by the fact that one scholarship of one hundred dollars, two of seventy, and one of fifty remain unawarded.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

MONTREAL, 29th May, 1879.

ARCH. MCGOUN, } Auditors.
A. MACPHERSON. }

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The Board begs respectfully to submit the following reports :

I. OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

On the following evening, Thursday, the 7th Nov., the new premises purchased for the use of the College, were set apart with appropriate exercises, in presence of a large gathering of the friends of the Institution. Suitable addresses were delivered by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, His Worship the Mayor of the City, Judge Jackson, the American Consul, the Rev. Dr. Waters, of St. John, W. Donald of Picton, Principal McKnight and the Chairman of the Board.

The Session which was, in all respects, a remarkably successful one, closed with a public meeting held in St. Matthew's Church on Thursday evening, the 24th April. In addition to the customary routine exercises, the meeting was addressed by the Rev. Dr. Jardine, of Chatham, N.B., and the Rev. Ephraim Scott, B.A., of New Glasgow.

II. LIST OF STUDENTS.

Third Year.—James Alexander Maclean, B.A., Archibald McDougall, Charles W. Bryden, B.A., Thomas Chalmers Jack, B.A., Andrew Gray, George Lawson Gordon.

Second Year.—Richmond Logan, B.A., Murdoch McGregor, Edward Thorpe, William A. Mason, B.A., Ewen Gillies, William Scott Whittier.

First Year.—James H. Cameron, B.A., Murdoch Campbell, Angus Sillars, B.A., James A. Forbes, John A. Fitzpatrick, Angus McMillan, Anderson Rodgers, B.A.

Although all of these have not obtained degrees, yet most of them have been general students in the Arts course at Dalhousie College, three of whose Professors are supported by our Church.

III. PROFESSORS' REPORTS.

The accompanying reports submitted by the Professors furnish full and satisfactory statements of the subjects of study, and of the progress of the students in the different departments.

DR. M'KNIGHT'S REPORT.

During the Session which has now reached its close I had two classes, one of Apologetics, attended by seven students of the first year, the other of Systematic Theology, attended by twelve students of the second and third years. The subjects of discussion in the junior class were Natural Theology, the Christian Evidences, and the Rule of Faith; in the senior class, the Divine Attributes, the Trinity, the Divine Decrees, Creation, Providence, the Fall of Man and its Consequences—in short, Theology proper and Anthropology. One day in the week I had a third class—that of New Testament Greek—in which we read nearly five chapters of the Epistle to the Hebrews, beginning at chapter vi.

Hall discourses were read and criticised in the usual way. In addition to oral examinations from time to time on lectures and text-books, I had two examinations in writing, one towards the end of December, the other about the end of March. I have pleasure in testifying to the diligence and satisfactory conduct of the students. We found our new College building convenient and comfortable. With the exception of one case of rather serious illness, the health of our large household was good.

Respectfully submitted,

A. McKnight, D.D.

DR. POLLOCK'S REPORT.

The work performed in this department during the past session may be placed before the Board in the following order. On two days of each week examinations have been held upon passages selected from two text books. The portion of Church history which has been studied is the first seven centuries, extending nearly to the close of ancient Church history. The use of two text books has enabled us, not only to take a more comprehensive view, but also to carry on the study by a uniform system of rehearsal, whereby a greater familiarity with the events of these periods is acquired. The more general views, presented by Kurtz, have been combined with a knowledge of the facts which is obtained in Mosheim.

Upon two days of each week lectures have been given upon subjects which belong to the study of the Apostolic age. In this part of the course have been discussed questions relating to the epistle to the Hebrews, the general epistle of James, the history and epistles of Peter, and the General Epistle of Jude. These studies have brought before us important subjects which have long received attention in works on New Testament introduction.

In the beginning of February, a course of lectures on Homiletics was commenced, and was continued upon two days of each week till the middle of March. Such a course occurs as part of the work of the chair on Pastoral Theology.

At the close of the course on Homiletics, the lectures on Church History were resumed, and continued till the close of the session. The subject of lecture was the history and character of the Apostle John, so far as these can be ascertained from a careful study of Scripture, taken in connection with contemporary characters and events. These lectures are designed to form an introduction to a course on that portion of the literature of the New Testament which is associated with the name of the Apostle John.

Upon one day of each week the Greek Testament has been read with as much critical comment as the time would permit. It has been thought necessary, during the present session, to read as much as possible in this way, in order to promote greater familiarity with the Greek Testament; a plan which may, in future, be modified by circumstances.

During the latter half of the session, upon one day of each week, lectures and sermons upon subjects previously prescribed, have been read and criticised. In this way six lectures and six sermons have been delivered. It may be proper to observe that in this part of the exercises considerable improvement has appeared during the present session, leading to the conclusion that the general work of the college is producing excellent fruit, as respects the most practical result of the teaching.

I feel disposed to record my great satisfaction with the character and conduct of the students. The ordinary examinations of the class, and the papers which have been inspected, prove the faithful manner in which they have been performing their work. Many of the papers have been of exceptional excellence, and could scarcely be surpassed for fulness and accuracy. I entertain high expectations both of those who are leaving us and of those whose course is not yet completed. I cannot help adding a remark upon the improved circumstances in which we have met during the present winter. We have every reason to thank the Board for the comfort and convenience of the new building in which we have enjoyed every advantage for the prosecution of our studies. This has been largely owing not only to the excellence of the premises but to the devoted manner in which the Principal and Mrs. McKnight have attended to the welfare of the occupants. It is necessary simply to repeat what has often been remarked on occasions similar to the present, that the perfect harmony and friendly dispositions which have prevailed among professors and students, add greatly to the satisfaction with which I recall the work of the past session.

ALLAN POLLOCK.

PROFESSOR CURRIE'S REPORT.

During the session just closed I conducted three classes, two in Hebrew and one in Exegetics. The Junior Hebrew, which was attended by the students of the first year, met every day, and went through Green's Elementary Grammar and Reader, a manual which presents a good outline of the Grammar of the language, with an amount of Hebrew in the form of progressive lessons equivalent to about eleven or twelve chapters of average length. The Senior class, which was composed of students of the second and third years, and which also met once a day, read selections from Genesis, Deuteronomy, 2nd Samuel, Ezra, Nehemiah, the Psalms, Hosea, Joel, Habakkuk, and Malachi. So far as time permitted, the more difficult of these passages were read exegetically. In Chaldee, selections from Ezra and Daniel were read, also extracts from the Targums of Onkelos and Jonathan. Towards the close of the session this class was able to overtake an outline of Syriac Grammar, with a series of reading lessons from the Peshito version. In the conduct of both classes considerable attention was paid to Hebrew composition. With the exegetical class, which was attended by all the students, I met thrice a week. On Mondays

I lectured on the textual criticism of the New Testament; treating such subjects as the character of New Testament Greek, the history of the transmission of the text, the sources of critical emendation, and the canons of criticism. Wednesdays, excepting the time given up to the extra course of lectures delivered by Dr. Burns, were devoted to Greek exegesis—the Epistle to the Colossians being the subject of study—and to the hearing of Greek and Hebrew critical exercises. While throughout the term Fridays furnished as an exercise an examination of a text-book on the canon of Scripture. Students of the first year prepared a Greek, and those of the third a Hebrew exegesis. Most of these exercises were read and criticised in the class. During the session two written examinations on class work were held with very satisfactory results. I have pleasure in testifying to the diligence and Christian deportment of the students.

In reviewing what has proved a very pleasant session both to professors and students, we would fain hope that the work performed in all the classes has in some measure kept pace with the increased facilities for study which the new premises afford.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN CURRIE.

HALIFAX, April 24th, 1879.

Supplementary to the Professors' Reports it may be noted that the Lectureship system has been tried to a moderate extent and in a manner not involving any extra expenditure. A special course of eight lectures, attended by all the students, was delivered during the session by the Chairman of the Board, on "The Principles, Practices, Missions and Institutions of the Order of Jesus."

IV. PRIZES.

Prizes were awarded for superiority in written examinations, held at stated intervals by the Professors. These were determined by the average of marks gained in all the three Departments combined, and ranked in the following order:—

Third Year.—1. Archibald McDougall.
2. Charles W. Bryden, B.A.
3. Thomas Chalmers Jack, B.A.

Second Year.—1. Edward Thorpe.
2. Richmond Logan, B.A.
3. William A. Mason, B.A.

First Year.—1. J. H. Cameron, B.A.
2. Anderson Rogers, B.A.
3. Angus Sillars, B.A.

Mr. Cameron, though very nearly equalled by Mr. McDougall, received the highest number of marks in all the Departments.

V. BURSARY FUND.

The Report of the Sub-Committee on the Bursary Fund is herewith subjoined.

The Sub-Committee appointed to take charge of the Bursary Fund beg to submit the following brief statement of Receipts and Expenditure, and to append a few explanatory remarks:—

RECEIPTS.

(1) From Interest and Dividends.....	$257 45
(2) " Donations.....	270 67
(3) " Congregations.....	342 54
		$870 66
Balance from last year		34 31

EXPENDITURE.

(1) Paid to Students as Bursaries	$385 00
(2) " for Prizes	165 00
(3) " towards boarding Students	221 00
(4) " Commission on St. John Coupons	0 50
		$771 50
Balance, therefore, on 1st May, 1879.....		133 47
		$904 97

It will thus be seen that during the past year the Committee had the pleasure of aiding and encouraging our students in three different ways:—

First.—By Bursaries. Seven of these were granted, ranging from $20 to $75. One was a Bursary of $50, contributed by Fort Massey Congregation, Halifax, specially for a certain student. As inquiries are often made regarding the conditions on which Bursaries are granted, it may be well to state the same briefly in this report. Bursars must be members of the Presbyterian Church in full communion; they must attend Institutions within the bounds of the Synod; they must present satisfactory testimonials; and they must labour at least two years after they have finished their College course within the bounds of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The Committee have had much pleasure in assisting so many worthy young men to overcome the difficulties with which they have to contend in preparing for the great work to which they have dedicated themselves.

Second.—By Prizes. Last year $363 were paid for Prizes; but as the donations of $146 from the Colonial Committee of the Free Church of Scotland, and of $121.67 from the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland, were this year accompanied with the intimation that they would not likely be continued in future, it was considered advisable, both by the Professors and the Committee, to reduce the grant for Prizes to $165. Nine Prizes were given (three to each year), including that of $40 contributed by the Sabbath-school of St. David's Church, St. John.

Third.—The Board of Management unanimously decided last summer to reduce the price of board to students residing in the College to $2.50 per week, by drawing upon the Bursary Fund at the rate of 50 cents per week for each student. In accordance with this resolution the Committee paid towards the board of 17 students for 26 weeks the sum of $221, as above.

A special appeal for collections and donations was made by circular last Autumn. Twenty-four Congregations responded thereto. This is better than the previous year, and shows an increasing interest in the Fund on the part of our people. There is, however, much room for improvement; and the Committee hope that the Board's recommendation to the Assembly last year will not be lost sight of—"That an effort be made to increase the number of our Bursaries and Scholarships by inducing Congregations, or Sabbath-schools, or wealthy members of the Church to found such."

Besides the usual liberal donations of the Home Churches, the sum of $2 was received from Rev. J. Layton, and $1 from a Friend, per Rev. A. Ross, Pictou. The investments remain the same as last year.

These statements are respectfully submitted with the hope that there will be a large increase next year, both in collections and donations, so that our College may be in as good a position as the Colleges in the Western Provinces and in the United States, so far as Bursaries and Scholarships are concerned.

JOHN McMILLAN, Chairman.

The Calendar, which can be had on application to the Principal or Prof. Currie, Secretary to the Senate, contains full information on these and all other matters connected with the College.

VI. COLLEGE PREMISES.

The new premises have been found in all respects admirably suitable. Besides furnishing comfortable and commodious class-rooms, and accommodation for the family of the Principal, the students, to the number of 17, have enjoyed in the main building all the advantages of a most desirable home. One married student has, with his family, been accommodated in an adjoining building within the grounds. The entire establishment has been under the direct charge of Dr. and Mrs. McKnight, to whom the Board and the students feel under great obligations for their careful, unwearying and generous supervision. The new system has given universal satisfaction. Among other advantages, it has promoted a wholesome esprit de corps among the students. At a moderate outlay, whenever it is deemed suitable, accommodation can be provided on the premises for the other two professors and double the number of students.

The buildings at Truro and on Gerrish street, together with the Robey street lot, will be disposed of so soon as a favourable opportunity offers.

VII. FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The Board regrets to be still under the necessity of reporting a shortcoming in the ordinary College Fund. In 1876, our congregations contributed $3,068, i. e., over and above the interest yielded by our investments. In 1877, $2,346 were reported. In 1878, $1,419.18. The Congregational collections for the present year have amounted to $1,698.01. The balance against the fund, 1st May, 1878, was $1,541.95; the balance against the fund, 1st May, 1879, is $1,941.47. The receipts from all sources during the year have amounted to $7,099.18.

The following is the list of the congregational collections, according to the order of Presbyteries, and a comparison with last year.

It is gratifying to find that only one Presbytery is a total blank, the same which occupied this position last year.

It should be remembered also, that although but a small amount is put down for the Presbytery of Newfoundland, the two leading Congregations in that Presbytery have subscribed between four and five thousand dollars for the Building and Endowment Fund, the greater portion of which has been paid. It is gratifying to think that ninety-five Congregations have sent in collections this year, as against sixty-nine last year, an increase of twenty-six; and that the amount thus realized has been $1,698 as against $1,419, an increase of $279. Were the seventy-five Congregations that contributed nothing, to give in like proportion, we would be easily able to meet all our engagements.

VIII. ENDOWMENT FUND.

The amount of the Endowment and Building Fund actually realized up to the 13th of May is $45,336.38. The amount paid in at the same period last year was $21,806.71.

Printed lists are being prepared, showing the sums promised and paid in each locality.

It would materially facilitate the speedy collecting of the large amount yet outstanding, if each Presbytery at its first meeting after the General Assembly, would take order in the completion of this important undertaking, as several of them did to such good purpose at its commencement. The Congregations and Mission Stations, where, for various reasons, action has been postponed, should be visited at once, and everything done that can be, to bring the matter to a speedy and satisfactory conclusion.

The B. and E. Fund account, in detail, is herewith appended.

IX. AMALGAMATION OF BOARDS.

In accordance with the instructions of last General Assembly, the requisite legislation was obtained at the recent meeting of the Local Legislature for amalgamating the College Board and the Educational Board for the late Presbyterian Church of the Lower Provinces.

X. ADMISSION OF STUDENTS.

The Board beg to submit, for the approval of the Assembly, the following draft of Regulations, respecting the admission of students to the Hall. They are framed with special reference to the curriculum of Dalhousie College, it being understood that an equal amount of work on the same subjects, duly attested, will be accepted from the alumni of these Colleges.

1. Students are advised to take the full course of Arts, and graduate as Bachelor of Arts.
2. Those who, for special reasons, desire to shorten the course of study, are required to take the following classes:—

Latin—Two sessions (1st and 2nd years).

Greek—Three sessions (1st, 2nd and 3rd years).

Mathematics—Two sessions (1st and 2nd years).

Logic and Metaphysics—Two sessions; or both classes in the same year (i.e. the 2nd).

Physics—Mathematical and Experimental—One session.

Ethics—One session.

This course may be overtaken in three Winter sessions of six months each. It is required that students who attend these classes will submit to the regular examinations at the close of the session.

3. Presbyteries are authorized to accept a degree of B.A. of Dalhousie College, or pass certificates of attendance and proficiency in all the classes above named, as sufficient evidence of the literary qualifications of an applicant for admission to the Hall.

4. When a student has failed to obtain a pass certificate in any of the above named classes, he shall be examined on the subjects in which he has thus failed by a Board of Examiners, to be appointed by the Assembly. In cases of grave deficiency the Board of Examiners shall have power to defer the admission of the student to the Hall, and require that he resume the studies in which he was found deficient.

Exceptional cases, in which a Presbytery may recommend the admission of a student who cannot satisfy the Board of Examiners, must be brought before Synod.

5. The Board of Examiners shall meet on such day as the Convener may find suitable, in the week before the opening of the Hall.

Should the Assembly sanction the above Regulations, the Board of Management would further suggest that the following be the Board of Examiners, viz.:—Rev. R. Laing (Convener), Morrison, Simpson, Principal Ross, Dr. Lyall, and Professor McDonald.

XI. RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Board would respectfully recommend for the consideration of the General Assembly—

1. The giving effect to the following Deliverance of the Synod of the Maritime Provinces with reference to the increase of the Professors' salaries, come to at Pictou in October last, viz.:—Recommend the General Assembly to raise the salaries of our Theological Professors in Halifax, to seventeen hundred and fifty dollars ($1,750) a year, each, in the meantime, with the expectation that, ere long, they may be raised to two thousand dollars ($2,000).

2. That a Board of Examiners be appointed, as previously suggested.

3. That the College and Educational Boards be united as already agreed upon and arranged for.

XII. CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, your Board would gratefully acknowledge the many tokens for good shown to our College by the great Head of the Church, and the brightening prospects opened up before her. They would also bespeak for the College a continued interest in the progress of the Church, to the end that the requisite funds may be supplied on a yet more liberal scale, and an increasing number of young men, whose hearts God has touched, may be raised up to fulfil the Ministry given us of the Lord Jesus, to testify the Gospel of the Grace of God.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ROBERT F. BURNS, Chairman.

P. G. MCGREGOR, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF MANITOBA
COLLEGE.To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada:

The Board of Management of Manitoba College begs leave to make its annual Report. The increasing population of the country is giving an ever-increasing number of desirable students to the College. The carrying on of fixed examinations yearly by the University of Manitoba, a body in which representatives of the College are associated with the representatives of the other Colleges of the Province, gives a definitiveness to the course of study hitherto impossible, and supplies a great stimulus to the students. The seven students sent up last year by Manitoba College have been followed by six this year, and the beneficial result of the stand taken by the College is seen in the large influx of students which took place last autumn in the First Form of the Higher Course. One student of the College has gone up this year to the third examination of the University in the Honour Course in Natural Science and passed with much distinction, two to the previous examination corresponding to the second year of eastern Universities, and four to the preliminary examination. Several others who have taken a part of the course during the year for these University Examinations have been temporarily prevented from completing their Session by sickness or straightened circumstances. Two students of the College, matriculated in the University of Manitoba, have gone to the Eastern Universities, and have been admitted to the same standing in these Universities. One of the Theological Students—a native of Manitoba—who had finished his course in the College, took, with the approval of the College Professors, an additional Session in Knox College, Toronto, and is now usefully employed in the mission field in his native Province. Another Student who had finished in the College has been ordained, and has done good service to the Church by taking charge of Prince Albert, and by doing his work with marked efficiency.

The Board had pleasure in meeting with Dr. Patterson, the Agent appointed by the General Assembly to proceed to Great Britain in connection with the College. The amount spoken of as adequate for Endowment and buildings, $100,000, was considered by the Board, and the Board agreed to do its best towards raising one-half of the amount required for the erection of suitable buildings, could it obtain the other half. The temporary building purchased four years ago has well served the purposes of the College, but the number of students requires more room, as during the Session just closed, the several class-rooms have been found too small. The improved character of the buildings being erected in Winnipeg renders a better class of College building necessary, and the fact that both the Roman Catholic and Episcopal Colleges—the two other Colleges affiliated to the University of Manitoba—are laying plans and taking steps towards the erection of new buildings is worthy of notice. The present College building being in a good situation can no doubt be disposed of when necessary to fair advantage, and the College has a site of two acres in a good position within the City limits, ready whenever the requisite means for building can be obtained. The Board, from communications received from Dr. Patterson, regrets to learn that on account of wide-spread commercial distress in Scotland, he was compelled to forego launching the scheme proposed to the Assembly last year, deeming it wiser to leave the matter in abeyance until more prosperous times. The Board is gratified to learn that grants for a number of years are likely to be forthcoming, obtained through the assistance of Dr. Patterson, and the thanks of the Board are due to Dr. Patterson for the interest he has taken in the matter. The opening up of the Province to railway traffic during the past year, and the expected extension of railway communication and business facilities through the Province will increase its contributing power, and the Board earnestly hopes that larger contributions toward the support of the College may be raised from local sources. It is true that the amounts raised throughout the Province have not been large, but congregations must have churches in which to assemble, and be able to support their own ministers before they can contribute with great effect towards the schemes of the Church. Knox church, Winnipeg, contributed for all purposes, College included, during the past year, $39.25 per member; and Kildonan, a country congregation, some $12 per member for all purposes. These are the only two self-sustaining congregations in the Province. It is, moreover, worthy of notice, that much effort has been spent in stimulating the contributions to the Home Mission Fund from the Province, and that has been an indirect means of contributing to the College. The interest on debt to be borne by the College is a considerable item yearly, and the Board, while pledging itself to do its best for the coming year in raising additional means, would invite the cordial co-operation of the friends of the Church residing in the older provinces. The Board would remind the Assembly that nearly a thousand dollars of the amount promised by the Assembly towards the College building, at the Assembly meeting in Montreal, has not been contributed. The amount received during the past year from local sources, as fees, board, rates, collections, and donations, was $1980.53. The Board would venture to remind its friends, upon whose bounty it is so largely dependent, that institutions for higher education, though much needed and having a powerful influence in new and undeveloped countries, are yet so difficult to sustain that in most cases where success has been attained they have depended on the donations and sympathy of those possessed of means, and, notwithstanding the fact that they supply the ministry of the Church, the mission wants, and the support of the ministry, are more tangible objects, and appeal more strongly to the majority of the people making up our congregations. The Presbytery of Manitoba, at the last meeting, in addition to furnishing the names for the College Board, as required by the Assembly, unanimously passed the following resolution: "That the Assembly be asked to leave it with the Presbytery to make all nominations of the Board of Management of Manitoba College in future, so that all parts of the Presbytery might be better represented on the Board; all nominations being subject, as now, to the approval of the General Assembly."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

EXAMINATIONS.

The College examinations were held as usual throughout the session at the close of each term, and with results generally satisfactory. Mr. D. McGregor, who was placed under the care of the College Senate by the Presbytery of Manitoba, has made satisfactory progress in the special course appointed by the Presbytery. Throughout the session he was also engaged almost every Sabbath in supplying one of the several mission stations accessible from the College.

ANNUAL MEETING.

As last year, the Annual Meeting was held this session in the College, at the December meeting of the Presbytery of Manitoba. There was a good attendance of the members of the Presbytery and other friends of the College. Medals, bursaries, and prizes previously gained were presented to the successful competitors, and highly interesting and instructive addresses on special subjects were given by the Rev. Messrs. Ross, Douglas, Bell and Scott.

MEDALS, BURSARIES, PRIZES, ETC.

The Governor-General's medal (silver) was this year awarded to W. R. Gunn for the high standard obtained by him at the previous Examination in the University of Manitoba. The Dufferin medal (bronze) was awarded to C. M. Stewart for passing the best preliminary examination in the same University. The Senate bursaries of the value of $25, $20, and $15, were this year gained respectively by D. Anderson, Kildonan, G. M. Atkinson, and J. T. Huggard, Winnipeg. It is expected that these bursaries will be offered for competition next year also. In the first form a bursary of the value of $20 was awarded to R. T. McLean, and a prize to R. R. Sutherland, and honorable mention was made of J. A. Ferguson. In the second form a prize was awarded to J. B. Polworth. A. Ferguson and O. H. Clarke, students of last session, are this year prosecuting their studies in Eastern Universities, in which they have been admitted ad eundem statum.

UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS.

A considerable number of the Students of the three affiliated Colleges are this year undergoing examinations in the University of Manitoba. The Senate records with satisfaction that six of the Students of Manitoba College have presented themselves this year—three for the Preliminary, two for the Previous, and one for the Honour Science Course.

COLLEGE LIBRARY.

The Senate regrets that though the College Library contains some valuable works, it is yet far from being in a satisfactory condition. A donation of useful books was recently made by the Rev. H. J. Burthwick, M.A., Pembina Mountain, and large and valuable additions to the Library are expected through the zealous efforts of the Rev. George Patterson, D.D. Further additions are much needed and respectfully asked for.

The Senate also regrets that during the past year no addition has been made to the number of bursaries at its disposal, and it would earnestly press upon the attention of the friends of the College the importance of providing two or three additional bursaries to aid and encourage deserving Students preparing for future usefulness in the boundless regions of the North-West—regions which though they are at present the most needy of the Mission Fields of the Church, are at the same time the most interesting and hopeful.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE BRYCE, Chairman of Senate.

MANITOBA COLLEGE.—ORDINARY REVENUE.

The Assembly's Committee on the Ordinary Revenue of Manitoba College held several meetings during the year.

At a meeting held in Toronto, on the 20th of September, it was, after mature consideration, agreed to issue a circular appealing for aid in support of the College. The circular which was issued on the 12th of November, set forth:—

1. That the General Assembly, at its meeting in Hamilton, expressed its settled conviction that the maintenance of Manitoba College, in increased efficiency, is of essential importance, not only to the interests of our Church in the North-West, but to the future welfare of that vast country; and that feeling convinced that the time has come for the more thorough equipment of the College, and believing that an obligation rests upon the Christian people of the Mother Country to share in the work of founding Christian Institutions in the great North-West, now being opened up to British Colonization, the Assembly appointed an agent, authorizing him to appeal to the Churches in Great Britain and Ireland on behalf of a fund to be raised for the permanent endowment of the College.

2. That to maintain the Institution in efficiency in the meantime, the Assembly agreed that the sum of $2,500 be paid out of the Home Mission Fund for its support during the current year, and appointed a Committee to raise such portion of the annual revenue required for its maintenance as may not be covered by such grant.

3. That the Committee after mature consideration find that in addition to the grant from the Home Mission Fund the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars will be required for the support of the College for the current year; to meet that sum and pay off arrears which have accumulated in former years, five thousand dollars will be required.

4. That ministers be respectfully requested to bring the claims of the College before their congregations, and urge them to contribute to its support for the present year.

A copy of this circular was mailed to every minister in charge of a congregation within the Church.

The Convener, in accordance with the Committees' instructions, wrote also to several ministers and other persons in cities, towns, and some country congregations, expressing an earnest hope that they would, by personal solicitation or otherwise, raise certain sums within their respective localities or congregations, and thus aid the Committee in securing the required amount.

The Committee, while regretting that only a few congregations have responded to their appeal, rejoice that these few have contributed generously. The whole amount received from congregations this year is about one thousand dollars being an increase of $650 over the amount received last year.

The Committee are glad to find that the Ordinary Fund of the College is in a better state than it was last year. Besides meeting the annual expenditure the arrears which accumulated in former years have been considerably reduced.

The following is a statement of the Fund:

REPORT OF AGENT FOR MANITOBA COLLEGE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada:

The Commission given me by the last General Assembly was undertaken with a deep sense of its importance, and at the same time of its difficulties. While firmly believing in the wisdom, if not the necessity of some such effort, and that with proper exertions it might be successful, I felt that this could only be secured by strenuous and continued efforts. At the outset it appeared absolutely necessary that I should visit the North-West, that by personal observation I might become acquainted with its condition and prospects, and be able to speak from my own knowledge of the work of the Church there. In this view all the brethren with whom I consulted concurred.

I accordingly proceeded thither without delay, and arrived at Winnipeg on the 16th July last. The Presbytery met on the following day, and I had the privilege of meeting with the brethren and taking part in their deliberations. And I rejoice now to have the opportunity of testifying that I was both impressed and gratified with the spirit of zeal and devotedness manifested by your missionaries, and this impression was confirmed afterwards as I met them at their homes and in their fields of labour. At their meeting they cordially welcomed me as your agent, entered warmly into the object of my mission, and agreed to prepare a statement regarding the work there and the wants of the field, to be signed by the Moderator and clerk, and to be used as might be judged best among the Home Churches.

As soon as possible the Board of Management of Manitoba College was convened, and I held a conference with them. They adopted resolutions expressing their gratitude to the General Assembly, for the measures taken to advance the interests of the Institution, and their readiness to do what was in their power to promote its success. They appointed a committee to draw up a statement regarding the Institution, its past history and its present necessities. This, with the similar paper of the Presbytery, was afterwards received. The Committee of last Assembly on Colleges, whose resolutions were adopted by that court, had taken strong ground against my making any appeal to the Church in Canada, but I felt that this could not apply to Manitoba. I therefore brought under the notice of the Board, the propriety of an effort being made in the Province on behalf of the contemplated fund. They acknowledged the force of the arguments used, but owing to the fact that the people of Winnipeg, where the largest contributions might be expected, were then burdened with what is for them a heavy expenditure in church building, and the state of the country generally, it was deemed advisable not to make such an effort at present. But they adopted a minute to the effect, that supposing $10,000 of the $100,000 proposed to be raised were allotted for buildings, they would endeavour to raise one half of that amount in the North-West by instalments extending over a term of years.

On the Sabbath following I preached at Kildonan and Winnipeg, and that week started on a tour to the West, visiting the stations of the brethren, preaching on Sabbath days, and sometimes on week days. I travelled about 150 miles west of Winnipeg, as far as Okanese, where the Rev. George Flett is labouring among the Indians. I had an opportunity of seeing his work, in which I was much interested, and I take pleasure in testifying to his energy and efficiency, and the measure of success which has attended his labours. I also visited Selkirk and the stations of Rev. A. Campbell, to the north of Winnipeg, and was assured that I had thus seen all the varieties of country in the North-West, and that I would see only a repetition of the same were I to travel to the Rocky Mountains.

My stay in the North-West lasted for four weeks, during which time I embraced every opportunity, both by personal intercourse and the perusal of publications, to make myself thoroughly acquainted with the condition and prospects of the country, and I may say, that in prosecuting my work afterward, I found the value of the information thus acquired. The result of all my enquiries, was to impress me more strongly than ever, with a sense of the vast capabilities of our great North-West, and the splendid future before it at no distant day. It also seemed evident that the Presbyterian Church has obtained the first position among the incoming population. The immigration has been largely from those agricultural districts of Ontario, in which Presbyterianism prevails; and the efforts of our Home Mission Board in following the settlers to their new homes with gospel ministrations, have been so blessed, that the Presbyterian Church holds not only a prominent, but as far as I could judge, the foremost place among Christian denominations in that land, and that upon her devolves a proportionate responsibility, as to its future moral and religious condition.

Equally did it appear manifest that the maintenance of Manitoba College was essential to the advancement of our cause, and all the higher interests of the country. Any drawing back now would be a surrender of the position which, through the kindness of the great Head of the Church, we have attained, and sacrificing the great opportunities afforded us, of promoting the future intellectual and social, as well as the moral and religious interests of these vast regions.

Returning, I visited the leading towns of Ontario and Quebec, with the view of obtaining letters of introduction and recommendation to parties likely to promote the object. I have also to acknowledge the assistance of the officials of the Dominion Government, who liberally furnished me with supplies of maps and pamphlets on the North-West, the then Premier adding a valuable letter of recommendation.

While in Nova Scotia, making the arrangements which the lengthened absence contemplated rendered necessary, intelligence was received of the failure of the City of Glasgow Bank. This, with the knowledge of the depression of business in the mother country, rendered it questionable whether I should go to Britain or not. There was no committee on the subject whom I might consult, and I was, therefore, left to my own discretion. After due consideration, I concluded that, having received my appointment from the General Assembly, only circumstances which rendered the fulfilment of it entirely impracticable would warrant me relinquishing it. Although the circumstances were plainly unfavourable, yet they did not seem to render success altogether hopeless. Considering the immense wealth of the Scottish people, and the large number of Christians independent of commercial disaster, it was still hoped and believed that something worth while might be accomplished, though not what might have been expected under more favourable circumstances. I therefore determined to go forward, and though the result has not been what was anticipated, I do not regret the decision or see that I could have acted otherwise.

On my arrival in Scotland, however, I found a state of things of which I had previously scarcely a conception. The depression of business was universal, but in no line was it worse than in the coal and iron trade, upon which Glasgow is specially dependent. At the very time of my arrival the community was agitated by the suspension of one of the largest coal companies in the west of Scotland. But everything was overshadowed by, what may safely be pronounced the greatest financial disaster of modern times, the failure of the City of Glasgow Bank. We had all known instances of similar events, but no ordinary case of the kind will give any conception of the effect of this upon Scottish society. The loss was enormous, but perhaps even worse was the shock to public confidence which the whole circumstances produced. None knew what was to follow, and all feared the worst. Then the blow fell upon classes not usually affected by commercial changes. Men retired from business and in the decline of life, persons unconnected with trade, ladies, married, unmarried and widowed, orphans, ministers of religion, and, in addition, persons who, in kindness, were, as trustees, managing the property of others, were in a moment deprived of everything they possessed, and involved, in addition, in liabilities which they were unable to meet. These were to be found in every part of Scotland, but especially in Glasgow and Edinburgh. In these cities scarcely a congregation could be found without some of its members being among the sufferers. Their case naturally excited such universal sympathy that every person felt that whatever he was able to give in benevolence ought to be given for their relief, so that it was useless to make any appeal for any extraneous object.

In such circumstances, those connected with the work of all the churches strongly advised, that no attempt should be made at present to raise a capital fund for Manitoba College. They stated that they would not undertake anything special on behalf of their own schemes, but would be glad if they could keep their funds to a point sufficient to meet their annual expenditure. If an appeal were made now, some sums would be received, but they would be small, and the attempt would spoil an effort, which might be made successfully at some future time. This advice was given with the best feelings toward the object. It seemed, therefore, that the only thing that could be done, was to endeavour to get assistance for the annual maintenance for the Institution for a few years, till the state of the country and the Church should be such, as to encourage an effort for the raising of a capital fund.

Immediately on arrival in Scotland I had forwarded copies of my commission to the Committees of the different churches, requesting the opportunity of presenting before them the object of my mission. The Free Church Committee met first, and the request was immediately granted. My statement was heard with attention, and the warmest interest expressed in the work in the North-West, and encouragement held out that the object would be considered most favourably. It was arranged to apply to the Business Committee of the Commission, which was to meet on the following day, to give me a hearing before that body. This request was complied with, and I accordingly addressed that court. The time was short, but I stated the case as fully as I could in the time allowed. Sir Henry Moncrieff moved a vote of thanks, and also that the matter be remitted to the Colonial Committee, with a recommendation that they aid the object, as far as their funds would admit. This resolution was passed with every manifestation of cordiality. And before I left Scotland, the Committee had acted upon it, and agreed, the Secretary intimates, "with great cordiality," to grant £150 to the College for the present year, with the understanding, though no positive pledge was given, that it should be continued for three years. In regard to aid from this Church for the general mission work in the North-West, the Committee stated that their funds were limited and their reserve diminishing, that already the Canadian Church was aided largely in proportion to other Colonial churches, and that they considered the amount granted to the Home Mission Committee of the Western Section, as virtually for the North-West.

At the time of my arrival, the Colonial Committee of the Church of Scotland were engaged in considering the question remitted to it by the General Assembly, as to the policy to be adopted in future in regard to grants in the Dominion, and their time at their meetings was so much occupied, that it was difficult to obtain a hearing. A special meeting however was called, at which I had a full opportunity of presenting the case of the North-West. One member of the Committee was strongly in favour of withdrawing all grants from Canada, and the same view was held by other members of the Assembly holding leading positions. While not interfering with the question as between this Church and our dissentient brethren, I took every opportunity both before the Committee and with the members to press upon them the fact, that whatever arguments might be adduced in favour of withdrawing grants from the Old Provinces, they could have no application to the North-West, and to show the urgent importance of the work there. The members of the Committee, concurred in these views, and expressed the deepest interest in the cause. But in the meantime, their hands were tied by the action of the last General Assembly, in restricting them from giving any grants, except where obligations had been incurred. I however presented in due form an earnest application for aid to the North-West, and especially for Manitoba College. This appeal has been published along with the Colonial Committee's Report. As to the future policy to be recommended to the General Assembly the Committee agreed, "That while reaffirming former declarations in favour of co-operation with all Presbyterians in Canada, they should wind up as speedily as possible, with a due regard to the circumstances of each case, all their operations in connection with organized congregations in the older settlements in the Maritime Provinces, and in Quebec and Ontario, and in future to confine grants in aid of Colonial Mission work in Canada to the temporary assistance required by new settlements and Provinces." This resolution was carried, by a majority of one, over another, supported by some of the most earnest friends of our Church, to the effect, that winding up all grants as speedily as could be done without inconvenience, the Church should hereafter confine its grants to the Provinces west of Ontario. The members of this Assembly will have observed that the resolution of the majority has since become the decision of the Assembly. This leaves their Colonial Committee free to aid the work in the North-West, and as they are in possession of considerable funds, and the other claims upon them will be henceforth diminishing, they will be in a position to render liberal assistance, and are fully disposed to do so.

I next proceeded to Ireland, and met with the Committee of the Presbyterian Church there. They heard me with attention, and expressed their desire to promote the object of my mission. But the same difficulty as elsewhere, from the state of trade, presented itself in regard to any effort to raise a special fund. They accordingly adopted a minute to that effect. As to grants for the annual maintenance of the College and Mission work in the North-West, their funds were not only exhausted but overdrawn, and they would not receive a collection till June, but for the in-coming year, they will consider carefully the claims of the North-West, and do what their funds will enable them.

The United Presbyterian Church have no Colonial fund, or Colonial Committee. All that they have done for this work has been by their Foreign Mission fund, under the direction of their Foreign Mission Committee. Their business was so pressing, that two meetings passed, without my being able to obtain a hearing. At the third, however, I was fully heard, and presented an earnest appeal on behalf of colonial missions in general, and the North-West in particular. They heard me with the closest attention, and expressed the warmest interest in the object of my mission. But their funds are at present in a peculiar position. About 100 congregations in England have separated from them to unite with the Presbyterian Church in England, and their contributions directed into other channels, while the Church has retained all its missions. By special exertions, the deficiency for last year was made up, but this year it is considerable. While therefore expressing interest in the object, they could not, in the present state of their funds, hold out the prospect of pecuniary aid. In my appeal to them I took the liberty of pressing upon their attention, the propriety of their having a fund specially for Colonial Missions, and the idea was cordially entertained by some of the members. But in the present state of the country, it was considered hopeless to attempt the establishment of a new scheme.

For some years the students of this body have been in the practice of raising funds for some special object outside the ordinary mission work of the Church. I had the opportunity of addressing them on the North-West; they expressed themselves much interested in the subject. They had, however, previously selected the object of their present year's efforts, but they gave me the assurance, that next year, that the North-West would receive careful consideration, and as far as those at the Hall this year could speak for the next, every prospect was held out, that it would be adopted as the object of their next year's effort. The sum of their collections now amounts annually to about £1,500.

Finding that the Committees at their meetings were limited as to time and much occupied with business, I drew up a statement of the whole case of the North West, and had 750 copies printed. Copies of this were placed in the hands of all the members of all the Committees. They were also distributed among the Theological Students of the three churches, and among other parties seeking information regarding our new territory. I also circulated two or three hundred copies of Government pamphlets on the North-West. I embraced also other opportunities that presented themselves of diffusing information on the subject. I wrote short articles for the Free and Established Church Records, for the U. P. Magazine and the Catholic Presbyterian, and prepared a more elaborate article for the British and Foreign Evangelical Review, which it was hoped would appear in the April Number, but has been unavoidably postponed till July. I also addressed the students of the New College and the Edinburgh University Missionary Society, the Edinburgh and Glasgow Presbyteries the U. P. Church and some other bodies. I found people but little acquainted with the North-West, but anxious for information and deeply interested in my statements.

As it seemed not advisable to attempt to raise funds for the College, it occurred to me that something might be done in collecting books for its library. In this I received encouragement. The Senatus of the New College gave me from their library duplicates of works which had not been entered on their catalogue. Some publishers gave liberally, in particular the Messrs. Collins gave over 40 volumes of their most valuable publications, Messrs. W. & R. Chambers a copy of their Encyclopedia and the London Tract Society's publications, to the value of ten pounds sterling, including a copy of their complete edition of Foxe's Book of Martyrs in eight large octavo volumes. I also received donations from individuals, so that before leaving Scotland I had received about 600 volumes. The matter was warmly taken up by the Rev. Wm. Gillies, Secretary of the Book and Tract Society of Scotland, who issued an appeal himself and employed the 240 colporteurs of that Society to circulate in their travels through Scotland a short appeal which I had drawn up. The result of this is not yet known.

Before leaving I had applied to the Theological Committee of the U. P. Church for duplicates of such works as are in their library. I have not heard the result, but expect a liberal response. Since my return I have also had intimation of a large donation from the Rev. John McNaughton, of Belfast, consisting of such works as Calvin's whole works in 45 volumes, Chalmers' in 22, Wall on Infant Baptism in 4, Jwett's works, Beacon's works, and it is added, "a great many others," the number not being specified. It is due also to acknowledge the kindness of Messrs. Allan, of Glasgow, who gave a free conveyance in their steamer to Montreal of all the books collected in Scotland. I may add that since my return, I have received some liberal contributions from individuals in Nova Scotia, and the Board of Management of the Halifax College have agreed to give duplicates of works in their collection to the number of between one and two hundred volumes. The College is thus provided with a library, which, though defective in some departments, yet forms a respectable collection.

I have only to add here that though not attempting to raise the contemplated fund, I received donations to the amount of £126 10s. 6d. stg., ($614.50) of which £100 was a donation. My expenses were, for travelling $438, printing and advertising, $34, total $472.

Thus, though not successful as to the immediate object of my appointment, yet my efforts have not been fruitless. I have circulated much information regarding the North-West, and excited in the minds of many in the parent churches an interest in the welfare of its inhabitants, which we have reason to expect will yet bear fruit. The way has thus been prepared for future effort. The work done in this way would require to be done under any circumstances, if the project had been prosecuted, and would probably have required as much time as I have spent. I have secured aid for the College, which will, I trust, enable the Church to bear it through present difficulties, and I have obtained a valuable Library.

Seeing no object to be gained by remaining in Scotland, that would warrant the expense, I returned to Nova Scotia in February, and it would be unpardonable not to specially recognize the special care and kindness of the great Preserver of all. During all these journeyings, I had not one day's sickness, nor did evil of any kind befall me.

After my arrival in Nova Scotia, the question of employing my time on behalf of the Institution till the meeting of Assembly, engaged most anxious thought. With this view, I consulted brethren and corresponded with others. But after careful consideration of the whole case, I concluded to await the action of the General Assembly.

In conclusion, while more impressed than ever with the importance of the work before the Church in the great North-West, and of the necessity of the College to its prosecution, and willing to devote any energies I might possess to its promotion, yet as the particular work to which I was appointed at last Assembly seems for the present impracticable, I beg leave to resign my commission into the hands of the General Assembly, with the prayer that your Venerable Court may be guided to such measures as will best promote the moral and religious interests of these regions, and that the Presbyterian Church in Canada may have grace given her to act a part worthy of the solemn responsibility devolving upon her in regard to the destiny of the millions, who will soon people these mighty plains.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE PATTERSON, D.D., Agent for Manitoba College.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FRENCH EVANGELIZATION.

In presenting to the General Assembly their Fourth Annual Report, the Board of French Evangelization desire to express their heartfelt gratitude to the Great King and Head of the Church for the measure of success vouchsafed during the past year.

THE FIELD.

As an erroneous impression exists in the minds of many as to the field for French Evangelistic effort, it may be well to state that about one-third of the entire population of the Dominion of Canada are French-speaking Roman Catholics. Although the greater number of these are found in the Province of Quebec, where there are upward of a million to a total population of 1,190,000, yet they are by no means confined to that Province. In Nova Scotia there are 33,000, in New Brunswick 45,000, and in Ontario 75,000 French-speaking people. If to these are added the large numbers in the Province of Manitoba, as well as those in Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, it will be seen that there is scarcely any limit to this department of the Church's work in the Dominion.

CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE.

For a long time the Roman Catholic Church in Canada, like that of France from which it sprang, was Gallican rather than Ultramontane, the laity successfully asserted their right to a voice in church matters; but of recent years a great change has taken place. Every student of history knows that the reign of the late Pope was one long record of the triumph of the Jesuit policy, and that nowhere was the baneful effect of this more felt than in Canada. At no time in the past history of the country was the Church of Rome more bitterly opposed to the dissemination of God's Word or more zealous in keeping the people in slavish ignorance and superstition than at present.

THE AIM OF THE BOARD.

Recognizing the truth that the Word of the Living God, applied to the heart and conscience by the Holy Spirit, is the only efficacious means of enlightening men and delivering them from spiritual thralldom, the great aim of the Board is to give this Word to one million and a quarter French-speaking people of the Dominion, under the full conviction that not only the highest interests of these people but also the social, moral and religious liberties of our children and the future destiny of our country imperatively demand this at our hands.

THE MEANS EMPLOYED BY THE BOARD.

In seeking to accomplish this aim the following three agencies are employed by the Board:—

I. COLPORTAGE.—In many of the French settlements there is not a single Protestant to be found, and so fanatic and priest-ridden are the people that to attempt opening a Preaching Station or even a Mission School would not only be a dangerous but futile step. The only method of reaching the people in these densely settled and spiritually destitute districts is by means of the Colporteur going from house to house, scattering broadcast the seed of the Kingdom, conversing on Divine things with those willing to listen, reading with them the Word of Life, and, when permitted, leaving in their homes a tract or copy of the Bible.

II. MISSION SCHOOLS.—As soon as a group of families in any settlement have been brought to a knowledge of the truth, and have abjured Romanism, one of the first steps is to open a Mission School for the education of the young, and especially for their instruction in the principles of the Bible. The Teachers employed by the Board in such Schools have been in some instances earnest Christian ladies, but more generally French students for the ministry, many of whom spend their summer vacation in this important department of the work. In addition to the training of the young, these teachers occupy part of their time in the work of Colportage and also in conducting Mission Services on the Lord's Day.

III. PREACHING STATIONS.—The main branch of the Board's work is the planting of Mission Stations and the formation of congregations, wherever, in the providence of God, there is an opening for such.

PAST RESULTS.

Notwithstanding all the difficulties and discouragements that have had to be encountered in the past, great progress has been made in the work of French Evangelization.

Forty-five years ago there was scarcely a French Canadian Protestant to be found in the whole country; to-day thousands of men and women can be found who have renounced their allegiance to Rome, many of whom have, by God's grace, become humble followers of Jesus. Forty-five years ago there was not a solitary French Protestant congregation in the land; to-day they can be numbered by the score. Forty-five years ago the Bible was virtually an unknown book in almost every French parish in the Province of Quebec; to-day there are few parishes in which the Bible cannot be found,—few parishes which have not, to a greater or less extent, felt the influence of Bible truth. A vast mistake is made when the results of French Evangelistic work are calculated by the number of congregations, or stations, or schools that have been established, or even by the number of persons that have publicly abjured Romanism. There is abundant evidence that thousands within the Church of Rome are galling under the iron yoke and are longing to be free—abundance of evidence that many of the laity, and not a few of the priests, are sick at heart, sighing for a peace which the confessional is unable to impart. Many of our French Canadians are beginning to ask why they cannot prosper as the Protestants do. They are beginning to inquire why the poorest Protestant child gets the rudiments of a good education while their own children grow up in ignorance. In these, and in various other ways, dissatisfaction with the Church and the system of Rome is manifesting itself.

There is an opinion somewhat prevalent in the Protestant community of the country, that the reformation of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada must take place from within the Church itself. No intelligent observer can doubt that there are at the present time signs of upheaval in that Church, still less can any one at all acquainted with the history of French Canadian evangelistic work, fail to trace the present unrest and growing dissatisfaction within the Church to the efforts put forth without, during the past forty years, to give the people the Gospel, and the Board of French Evangelization have confidence that the efforts they are now putting forth are, by God's blessing, helping to foster and hasten the great efforts from within Romanism itself which a long suffering and much-injured people are yet to make. When that time comes many will be surprised to find the large numbers within the Church who will hail it with delight. A much wider and deeper work is now in progress than on the surface is visible. The sowing season may to some seem long, but the reaping time will come, and rich and golden will the harvest be.

PRESENT CONDITION OF THE WORK.

The work accomplished during the past year, as well as that at present being carried on by the Board, will be found in the detailed reports of the several fields given in the following pages. It may not be amiss to state that some of our sister Protestant churches have reaped, to some extent, the fruit of the labours of our missionaries, not a few of our converts from Rome having been gathered into their churches.

Many of our converts, because of persecution for conscience' sake, or from inability to obtain employment, have been compelled to move elsewhere. Of the many families that have had to leave Montreal, two have taken up land in the County of Compton, Que. Family worship is regularly observed in their new homes. In the evening, some of their neighbours, French Canadian Catholics, come in to hear the Bible read, and, on Sabbath, quite a number gather regularly in the house of one of these converts to listen to the reading of the Gospel and to unite in the singing of hymns. It is true of many of our French Canadian converts to-day, as of the early Christians when scattered because of persecution, that they go everywhere preaching the Word of Life. From ministers of the Church in various parts of the Dominion the Board have intelligence from time to time to the effect that certain French Canadian converts from some of our Missions have come to their district, acquired a little English and identified themselves with their congregations, and not unfrequently the testimony is borne that they are adorning the doctrine of God their Saviour by a consistent walk.

Our work too has gone beyond our borders, and is blessing our neighbours in the United States. Not to speak of the large congregation under the Board in Ste. Anne, Illinois, and the French Canadian Protestants in the Western States, the number of our converts in New Hampshire and Massachusetts is very large. It is interesting to know that in the city of Lowell there is a French Protestant church, ministered to by the Rev. T. G. Cote,—a former student of the Montreal Presbyterian College,—which commands the warm sympathy and support of the Protestants of that city.

God has greatly honoured our Church beyond all the other Protestant Churches in Canada in this work of French evangelization. There are few names more honoured in the Presbyterian branch of the Church of Christ than that of John Calvin—few men to whom we Presbyterians under God owe more. About the very time he was a fugitive from his native land and in Switzerland found an asylum, another native of Northern France, Jacques Cartier, sailed into the great gulf of our Canadian water highway and gave its name to our St. Lawrence River. French Canadians are the descendants of the men of the North of France. Is it not significant that after the lapse of three hundred years the spiritual descendants of John Calvin should, in the wonderful providence of God, come with the message of mercy to the descendants of Calvin's brethren and friends of Northern France?

JOINT FRENCH AND ENGLISH WORK.

One feature of the work of the Board deserves special prominence, viz., that which bears upon the supply of Gospel ordinances to English-speaking Presbyterians in the Province of Quebec. Many districts of that Province were originally settled by Presbyterians from Scotland and the North of Ireland. Some of these were entirely neglected by the Church of their fathers, and as a consequence the people became lukewarm and indifferent, intermarried with French Catholics, had their children baptized and brought up in connexion with the Church of Rome, and to-day the descendants of these settlers are not only unable to speak the language but are utterly ignorant of the faith of their ancestors. There are other districts in the Province where a few years ago there was a regularly organized Presbyterian church with a settled pastor where to-day there is none, owing to the decrease in the number of English-speaking people. It is a well-known fact that, apart from the city of Montreal and one or two other points, the English population of the Province is yearly diminishing, and at the present time there are quite a number of settlements with a sparse English-speaking Protestant population, where, if Gospel ordinances are to be maintained at all, it must be by means of missionaries able to minister to the wants of the English-speaking section, and at the same time to make inroads on the French community. In such districts it is to the interest of the English-speaking Protestants to have a missionary who can preach in both languages, so as to ensure their having ordinances maintained among them at all, while at the same time it is in the interests of French evangelization to have the co-operation and moral support of the English-speaking community in making inroads on the masses of French Romanists by whom they are surrounded—without which co-operation and support it would in many instances be hazardous to undertake mission work at all. In some of these districts the number of English-speaking Protestants is so rapidly diminishing, owing to emigration and other causes, that if a foothold is to be maintained, active, energetic steps must be taken without delay to plant missionaries qualified to conduct services in both languages. The future of our Church in the Province of Quebec depends, under God, not so much upon our Home Mission Committee, in granting supplements to sustain ministers in weak and struggling English-speaking congregations, as upon cordial co-operation and united action on the part both of our Home Mission Committee and our Board of French Evangelization in giving the Gospel by means of missionaries able to speak in both languages to the English and French communities.

The Board are glad to state that during the past three years they have been able to overtake a considerable amount of work in this direction. At the present time fifteen of their missionaries supply Gospel ordinances more or less regularly to English-speaking Protestants, who otherwise would probably have been left entirely destitute of them.

In this department of their work they have a strong claim upon the liberality of the Churches and of the Christian public of the mother countries.

LACK OF FUNDS.

During the year the Board were greatly embarrassed in carrying on their work for lack of funds, and were compelled with very great reluctance temporarily to reduce their staff and to decline several urgent applications to enter new fields. They are most anxious to extend the work, not only in the older Provinces, but also in Manitoba, where they hope by means of the liberality of the Church and of the friends of the cause ere long to open a field. One of the most devoted of the missionaries has placed his services at the disposal of the Board in connection with work in the North-West.

CONTRIBUTIONS FROM FIELDS.

The Board leave no means untried to train the people to contribute towards the salaries of the missionaries, and they are glad to report that during the past year there has been considerable improvement in this respect.

In new fields it is often both inexpedient and unwise to at once ask the people for money, lest the work be hindered or marred thereby. In some of the older fields many of the converts are poor, and very frequently the public renunciation of Romanism is at once followed by dismissal from employment, and in such years of depression as the past two or three, it has been difficult, and sometimes impossible, to obtain other work. From such causes as these many of the converts, who otherwise would gladly contribute, are unable to do so.

In August last a copy of the following circular was addressed to every minister and missionary of the Board.

DEAR SIR,

We deem it a matter of very great importance that the people in all the Congregations and Stations under the care of the Board of French Evangelization should be trained to contribute, as the Lord prospers them, for the support of Gospel ordinances, and we now herewith enclose Subscription Sheets, with the request that you will see that all the families in and around your field are immediately called upon for contributions, so that a reasonable proportion of your salary may be obtained from them in this way. Apart from it being a duty and a privilege to contribute for the Lord's cause, there are two special reasons why we require contributions to be made at present in ALL our fields, no matter how few in number or how poor the people may be.

First.—It is not possible to retain the confidence of the Church in this French Evangelization Scheme and obtain the money necessary to carry it on, unless we are able to show that the converts themselves are contributing, according to the measure of their ability, for the support of the Missionaries labouring among them. By instructions of the General Assembly, no assistance is given by the Home Mission Board of the Church to English-speaking Stations, unless the people in these Stations themselves contribute a considerable portion of the Missionary's salary. In Supplemented Home Mission charges, the people require to contribute an average of at least $4.50 per member, and $7.00 per family, annually, before they receive any money from the Home Mission Fund.

It would be a hardship to require a similar average contribution per member and family from all our French Stations; yet in order faithfully to administer the Scheme and to retain the sympathy of the Church, the Board of French Evangelization deem it imperatively necessary that the members and families in all the fields under their care should contribute according to their ability for the support of the Mission.

Second.—The state of the Fund absolutely requires it. While our expenditure (owing to the increase in the number of missionaries) is very much greater than last year, the Contributions received thus far are nearly $2,500 less than the amount received to the same date last year, rendering it imperatively necessary to reduce the staff of Missionaries and to withdraw from several fields, unless the people in the various Stations themselves contribute a fair proportion of the salaries of the Missionaries. The Board are at present largely in debt and the Treasurer is without funds to meet salaries due.

For these and other reasons we have to request that you will, without delay, make a thorough canvass of ALL the families in your field for contributions and forward the amount received to the Treasurer not later than the 30th of September. At the same time return the subscription sheets, with the names of the contributors, &c.

We trust that you will spare no effort to obtain as large an amount as possible. It is scarcely necessary to remind you that the Board require Collections to be made at every Sabbath Service, no matter how poor the people or how small the attendance.

Again directing your immediate attention to this matter, we remain,

Yours very truly,

D. H. MACVICAR, Chairman.

ROBT. H. WARDEN, Secretary-Treasurer.

From time to time this matter is brought before the missionaries and the people, and it is hoped that each succeeding year will witness a decided increase of liberality, and that on the return of business prosperity several of the fields will become self-sustaining.

REV. C. CHINIQUEY.

The General Assembly having last year granted Mr. Chiniquy leave of absence for twelve months on account of impaired health, he left Montreal in July, and after a brief visit to Illinois and to Northern California he sailed for New South Wales, and has since been engaged in lecturing in various parts of the Australian colonies. In November last he attended the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Eastern Australia and delivered an eloquent address, after which the following resolution was adopted:

"The General Assembly having listened with the deepest interest to the address of the Rev. Pastor Chiniquy instruct the Moderator to convey to him the thanks of the Court. The General Assembly feel the deepest interest in the work and mission of the Rev. Pastor Chiniquy in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada; cordially commend him and his work to the care of the great Head of the Church, and also to the prayers and liberal sympathy of all the ministers, office-bearers, and congregations of the Presbyterian Church in New South Wales."

The Board express the hope that Mr. Chiniquy may return with his health fully restored.

REPORTS CONCERNING FIELDS.

From the monthly and annual reports of the missionaries of the Board the following details are chiefly taken:

GRAND FALLS, N.B.

This field continues as formerly under the care of the Rev. M. R. Paradis, who speaks hopefully of the work during the past year. Services are held on alternate Sabbaths at two out-stations—Limehouse and Vanburen—and every Lord's Day at Grand Falls, the attendance ranging from ninety downwards. There is a union Sabbath School, superintended by Mr. Paradis, with an average attendance of between thirty and forty. During the year five adults abjured Romanism and connected themselves with our Church. Mr. Paradis spends a large portion of his time visiting the French Catholics of the district who generally receive him cordially, and many of whom come to him for religious instruction and advice. The contributions of the people during the year amounted to $217,—a considerable increase over any preceding year.

VIOLET BROOK, N.B.

In this district the work of the Board is chiefly that of colportage; for, while there are a few English-speaking Protestant families for whom the student missionary conducts services, the French are nearly all connected with the Church of Rome. Of these there are about 125 families, to the homes of many of whom Mr. J. Allard, the Board's missionary last summer, gained access. His visits were evidently appreciated by some who not only welcomed him cordially, but also invited a few of their neighbours to hear him read and explain the Word of God. During the present summer Mr. A. L. Guertin occupies this field under the supervision of the Rev. Mr. Paradis, of Grand Falls.

GLOUCESTER COUNTY, N.B.

Towards the close of last summer an application was received from the Presbytery of Miramichi for a missionary, able to conduct services in both French and English, to explore a wide district of country in the County of Gloucester, N.B., largely settled by French Catholics. Owing to the state of the funds the Board were constrained, with great reluctance, then to decline the application. However, at the close of the Montreal College Session in April last, one of the missionaries—Mr. I. P. Bruneau—was appointed to labour in this district under the care of the Presbytery and the more immediate supervision of Rev. Samuel Houston, of Bathurst.

Mr. Bruneau has opened a preaching station at Caraque, on the Bay of Chaleurs, with an attendance of about forty, and has just organized a Sabbath School at the same place, to aid in which he has secured the services of two competent teachers—one of Scotch descent and the other a Frenchman from Jersey. Mr. Bruneau, at the date of his last communication, was engaged exploring Shippegan and Tracadie, two districts with a considerable French population—chiefly fishermen. He reports that some of these had received copies of the Bible from a colporteur who had passed through that section of country, but that by command of the priest these had been burned last winter. The missionary writes hopefully of his work and of the future prospects of the field. Although only a few weeks in the district the people of Caraque have already begun to contribute towards Mr. Bruneau's support.

STELLARTON, N. S.

The Rev. T. Brouillette continues to labour here, holding services at Stellarton and Vale Colliery, as also in the new French Settlement, some twenty miles distant, where there are six French Protestant and three Scotch families. During the year there have been twenty-two converts to Protestantism, and at present eleven of the Roman Catholic families are favourably disposed towards the Gospel, all of them attending more or less regularly Mr. Brouillette's services. The Lord's Supper was dispensed twice during the year, and twenty persons admitted to the fellowship of the Church. On one of these occasions, when thirteen communed for the first time, the Rev. T. Cumming of Stellarton assisted. One hundred French-speaking persons were present, of whom fifteen were Roman Catholics. On the revival of business it is expected that the population will considerably increase, and that many of the French Protestants will return who had to seek for employment elsewhere when some of the mines were closed owing to the depression of trade. It will be remembered that this is the field where, three years ago, a declaration of Protestantism, signed by 125 French people who had all been Romanists, was laid on the table of the Presbytery of Pictou, praying for regular ministerial supply. For the encouragement of the friends of French Evangelization, the following extract is reproduced from the report of a former missionary of the Board in this field:

"When the French people came to this district they were all Roman Catholics; now the large majority are Protestants. When they came, not one had a Bible; now a Bible can be found in almost every house. Some of the families who were with us are now in the County of Ottawa, at Namur (where the Board has a prosperous mission). They are not only good Protestants, but I am confident true Christians. The same may be said of others gone to the Western States and others returned to France. These people will carry the good seed wherever they go. Is there not reason for joy and thankfulness to think that those who were so recently without light can now enjoy it freely?"

PORT AU PERSIL, QUE.

This district is one of several in the Province of Quebec which were originally settled by Protestants, but which, because of want of men and money, were neglected by the Churches to which they belonged. Left without religious ordinances, these early settlers became indifferent; and by intermarriage with French Catholics their children gradually became aliens to their father's faith and grew up in connection with the Church of Rome. To reclaim these, and, if possible, to atone for past neglect, the Board opened a mission school three years ago in Port Au Persil and the neighbouring district of Pointe Aux Bouleaux. This school has been maintained every summer since, the attendance last year averaging fourteen. There are now eight Protestant families here. The present missionary, Mr. S. Carriere, in addition to the day-school, conducts service on Sabbath and spends a portion of his time in colporting among the French Catholics, seeking to place within their hands a copy of the Word of Life. It is a difficult field of labour. The missionary is isolated to a large extent from all Christian sympathy, almost as much so as if he were in a purely heathen land, there being no other Protestant missionary in the whole stretch of country on the north of the St. Lawrence, from Quebec to a distance of several hundreds of miles to the east.

OHICOUTIMI, QUE.

This city, the capital of the county of the same name, with a population of about 1,500, is situated on the River Saguenay, about sixty miles from the St. Lawrence. Numerically, and as a business centre, it is the most important point in the Province, east of Québec City. Several years ago a congregation was formed here by the French Canadian Missionary Society, and a church and manse erected, but for a considerable time past no service has been held. About a year ago overtures were made to the Board to receive the Mission. Owing however to a dispute between certain parties and the congregation as to the church property it was deemed inexpedient to take action then. The matter as to the property was recently settled, and after correspondence with several of the Protestants of the place, the Board have decided to send a Missionary into the field this summer in the hope, if events warrant it, of organizing a congregation and maintaining service regularly. There is at present no Protestant service in the place, though there are about fifteen or twenty Protestant families in and around the city. These promise liberal support towards the salary of the Missionary.

QUEBEC CITY.

In this city, out of a population of 60,000 there are only some 7,000 Protestants, and these almost entirely from the English-speaking portion of the community. The only French Protestant congregation is that connected with our Church. To the eye of sense it would seem utterly futile to labour with any hope of success among a people so fanatic and priest-ridden, but there is nothing too hard for the Lord, and with all its discouragements (and these are by no means few), there are not wanting indications of better days to come in this stronghold of Popish superstition. The faith of the missionary, Rev. R. P. Ducloux, and his little band of devoted followers is often sorely pressed because of the persecution the newer converts have to endure, and because of the fear of persecution which often prevents the timid inquirer from boldly espousing the Gospel. Amid all the difficulties and discouragements they have had to contend with, it is cheering to learn that during the past year the attendance at the services on Sabbath morning and evening were well maintained, a Bible-class successfully organized, eighteen Roman Catholics led to embrace Protestantism,—eight of whom were admitted to the fellowship of the Church on profession of their faith in Christ,—and eighty-three copies of the Scriptures placed in Roman Catholic homes. Referring in one of his reports to the number of Roman Catholics attending his church, Mr. Ducloux says: "Some come from neighbouring villages at considerable inconvenience and expense to hear the saving truth as it is in Jesus. One of them, Mr. —, of S— Q—, a fine looking and bright young man, came to our church last month. The first Sunday he borrowed a New Testament, the second Sunday he paid for it, and the third Sunday he told me how differently he felt and how much happier, having found what he had vainly looked for in the confessional box. Another, Mr. J. -, of C-, stepped into our church on the first Sunday of November; quietly he listened; came back; openly expressed his preference for the little French Protestant Church, lost his situation, and a week after was chased out of his earthly home. Young but hopeful, he was seen again in the church, and the Lord rewarded his faith in providing for him a place where to earn an honest living. Another recent convert was most anxious that his father and mother should know the Gospel. He paid their railway fare to Quebec that they might attend our services on Sabbath. A number of this young man's acquaintances are now seeking light. We generally receive them at the hand of Rome, very ignorant of the most simple truths. But it is interesting to see in the Bible-class men in their sixties sitting attentively by the side of younger men and women. One of them, for the first time, the other day, in a prayer meeting poured his whole soul before God, living and evidently present in the humble and touching language of prayer."

Mr. Duclos refers in many of his reports to the indifference of Protestant employers of labour and their unwillingness often to give work to French converts who have been thrown out of employment because of their renouncing their allegiance to Rome. In his last report he speaks of four of the best members of his church thrown out of work on account of the failure of a large firm in the city and their inability to obtain other situations, notwithstanding the fact that many Protestants employ large numbers of Roman Catholics by no means their superiors as workmen.

The thanks of the Board and of the Church are due to the Quebec Committee, who contributed last year, as formerly, $600 towards the missionary's salary.

WOTTON, QUE.

Mr. A. L. Guertin, one of the students of the Montreal College, laboured here last summer. His Sabbath services were attended by about thirty persons, chiefly French Protestants who formerly resided at St Paul de Chester. He also conducted a day-school, the attendance at which numbered fourteen. Considering the limited field and that the people are so near to Danville, where there is a congregation of our Church, the Board did not feel warranted in sending a missionary to this district for the present summer.

DANVILLE, QUE.

This is one of the fields under the Board where joint English and French work is carried on. The missionary, Rev. M. F. Boudreau, conducts services in both languages and in addition holds a French Bible-Class every Monday evening. The Sabbath attendance has largely increased and the membership of the church nearly doubled since the settlement of Mr. Boudreau in 1877. The list of new members includes the names of several French Canadians.

ST. HYACINTHE, QUE.

Considerable progress has been made in this field during the year. The foundation stone of a substantial brick church was laid in June last, and in the month of March the edifice was completed and opened for public worship, the Rev. Prof. Campbell, of Montreal, conducting the services on the occasion. The building, including the site, cost nearly $5,000, of which the congregation themselves contributed upwards of $1,000. The Protestant day-school meets in the basement, and is supported entirely by the people. Two services are conducted in the church every Lord's day, with an attendance of from 45 to 60. The Sabbath School, under the superintendence of Mr. Stott, one of the elders, is well maintained. The congregation recently resolved to extend a call to Mr. C. E. Amaron, B.A., a member of the graduating class of the Montreal Presbyterian College, agreeing to contribute at least $250 towards his support. St. Hyacinthe is the centre of a large and important section of country. In its vicinity are several prosperous villages, settled in part by English-speaking Presbyterians, and it is confidently hoped that through the instrumentality of Mr. Amaron preaching stations will ere long be opened in some of these and congregations of our Church planted where now there are none.

ST. VALERIEN, QUE.

Last summer, for the first time, the Board sent a missionary—Mr. S. T. Ami—to this district. At the close of his term of engagement he was succeeded by the Rev. J. Vessott, who still continues to labour here.

There are now seven Protestant families in the district who attend Mr. Vessott's services in addition to a number of Roman Catholics, who are well disposed towards the missionary, and some of whom read the New Testament in their own homes. For the benefit of the children of the district Mr. Vessott has opened a day school in which he is assisted by a lady of the congregation, who gives her services gratuitously. Mr. Vessott, who has long been engaged in the work of French Evangelization, speaks in a recent report of the great change on the French Canadian mind, their general willingness to hear the Gospel now being in marked contrast with the persecuting spirit invariably manifested twenty years ago.

ST. ANTOINE ABBE, QUE.

The mission premises erected by the Board in this field were completed during this year, since which time the day school, as also the Sabbath services, have been conducted in the new building.

Mr. George Pelletier is the Missionary teacher this summer. Having only recently entered the field he is not yet in a position to report concerning his work. The people are themselves to bear the expense of his board.

ST. JEAN CHRYSOSTOM, QUE.

This village lies contiguous to St. Antoine Abbe, and contains a mixed population of French and English. It was supplied last summer by Mr. W. Mullins, who, for several years has been one of the most vigorous and devoted of the Board's Colporteurs. He preached in the morning of every Sabbath at St. Antoine Abbe, and in the afternoon at St. Jean Chrysostom, alternately in French and English, the attendance ranging from 80 to 60.

Services were also held occasionally at St. Isidore and St. Remi. At the latter place one family formally abjured Romanism. As a sample of Mr. Mullin's work the following figures are taken from one of his Monthly Reports:—Average attendance on Sabbath morning 26, on Sabbath evening 43, at prayer meeting 39. Families visited during the month,—Protestant 32, Roman Catholic 23.

In the same report Mr. Mullins thus writes: "Three persons who have attended my services in French and English are coming forward for the first time to receive the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. One of these is a respectable merchant who was brought up a Roman Catholic. Though he has not been attending the Church of Rome for some time, yet the Priest regarded him as one of his flock. The other two are ladies, the mother of one of whom was a devout Catholic."

The Missionary appointed to this field for the present summer—Mr. J. Allard—has not thus far been able, on account of illness, to enter upon his work.

ST. ANICET, QUE.

This Parish lies along the shore of Lake St. Francis, in the County of Huntingdon. There is here a small but energetic English Congregation of our Church (Laguerre), ministered to for the last few years by the Rev. Geo. McKay.

Mr. McKay having resigned his charge last winter, the Presbytery of Montreal resolved to supply the field hereafter by means of a Missionary able to conduct services in both French and English, so as to reach, if possible, the large French population of the district.

In accordance with this resolution the Board have recently appointed Mr. T. A. Bouchard to labour here, in the hope that he may be instrumental in inducing many of the French Catholics to attend his services and to embrace the Gospel. The result of his labours in this direction will be given in the next Annual Report of the Board. Mr. Bouchard is hopeful in regard to the field, having been well received by the Catholic families he has thus far visited, some of whom expressed their intention of coming to hear him preach.

LAPRAIRIE AND LA TORTUE.

These two fields continue to be supplied as last year, services being conducted in both French and English. The attendance at La Tortue varies from 25 to 45. There are here nine French Protestant families. The Bible has found its way into the houses of many of the French Catholics of the district, and is regularly read by some of them.

At Laprairie there has long been a Presbyterian church, though of late years the congregation have been greatly weakened, owing to the removal of many of the English-speaking settlers. During the summer months several families from Montreal reside here, and help to swell the attendance at the service of our Missionary.

STE. DOROTHEE, ETC., QUE.

Mr. Joseph Morin laboured here last summer, holding services at St. Martin and St. Rose, as well as at Ste. Dorothee, to congregations numbering from 15 to 30.

The state of the fund prevented the Board from occupying the field this summer.

JOLIETTE, QUE.

The Rev. L. Dionne is the pastor of the French Presbyterian Church here—the only Protestant church in Joliette. Mr. Dionne reports that large numbers of Roman Catholics attend his services, sometimes as many as 50 being present during the winter months. About ten or twelve of these attend regularly every Sabbath evening, including leading merchants of the town. In the month of March Mr. Dionne delivered two controversial discourses, there being some 80 French Catholics present at the one and about 50 at the other, a large number of whom were women. The people contributed $76 last year towards the missionary's salary, and about $125 were collected and expended on necessary repairs to the church property.

LAKE MASKINONGE, QUE.

One of the colporteurs of the Board spent the greater part of last summer in this part of the County of Berthier. In the months of May, June, July and August he visited upwards of five hundred families, distributed several hundreds of tracts, and held thirty-four meetings attended by from fifteen to fifty persons, most of whom were French Romanists. One result of his visit was the reception by the Board of a petition from a number of families at St. Gabriel de Bandon and De Ramsay, praying for the services of a missionary. With very great reluctance the Board were constrained, from lack of means, to deny the request. They hope however to be able to organize mission stations at these points during the ensuing year.

NEW GLASGOW, QUE.

In October last the Rev. A. B. Cruchet, one of the graduates of the Montreal College last year, was ordained and inducted as pastor of the French and English congregation here, his salary being met in part by the people supplemented by grants from the Home Mission Committee and from the funds of the Board. Mr. Cruchet's labours have already been greatly blessed not only in connection with the English, but especially with the French section of his field. A year ago there were only six French Protestant families in the district, now there are thirteen, embracing twenty communicants. In addition to those who have publicly abjured Romanism a considerable number are favourably disposed towards Protestantism, and the Bible is being read in several of their homes. One of the converts of the past year is a gentleman of great influence, concerning whom Mr. Cruchet speaks in the highest terms and states that he is constantly proclaiming the Gospel to his neighbours, even to the injury of his business.

BELLE RIVIERE, QUE.

At Belle Rivière, in the County of Two Mountains, there is a French Protestant Congregation, organized many years ago by the French Canadian Missionary Society. During the year the Congregation petitioned the Board to be taken under its care. Pending the settlement of a question as to the ownership of the Church property no definite action has meantime been taken in regard to the petition.

ORENVILLE, QUE.

The Rev. R. Hamilton continues to labour in this Mission with diligence and fidelity. During the past year three of the families connected with the Congregation removed from the district, and, owing to the vigilance of a new priest who has lately come to the township, fewer Roman Catholics are seen in the church than formerly. Mr. Hamilton is most diligent and painstaking in his efforts to advance the spiritual interests of his people. He visits every family monthly, and labours both in his private and public ministrations to ground them well in the truth. He reports an interesting conversion to Protestantism and, he believes, to Christ, during the year. The new church erected here was publicly dedicated on the 7th of August. The site (which was gratuitously given by one of the converts) is a commanding one. The church is itself a model so far as the taste displayed in the architecture is concerned. It is built of frame, on stone foundation, neatly though inexpensively finished. There is sitting accommodation for 156 persons. The congregation, besides contributing money, lumber, &c., aided very materially in other ways, so that the entire money cost of the building did not exceed $500. To the missionary, Rev. R. Hamilton, very much credit is due, he having not only collected a large portion of the funds but taken the general supervision of the whole work. On the day fixed for the opening, notwithstanding the busy season of the year, the building was crowded by a large and attentive audience, composed partly of French and partly of English-speaking Presbyterians, including some twenty French Roman Catholics. The services were conducted by Mr. Hamilton, assisted by Messrs. Ouriere, Mackie and Warden. Since the opening of the Church the attendance has improved at both the English and French services. There is most urgent need for a day-school in the district, there being none within reach of the settlement, though there are between 40 and 50 children of school age. For financial reasons the Board have been unable to open a school. It is earnestly hoped that funds will be forthcoming to enable them to supply this felt want during the ensuing year.

NAMUR, QUE.

With the exception of three months in the middle of winter two missionaries of the Board have laboured in this field throughout the year, one of whom had charge of the day-school. There are about fifty Protestant families in Namur and the neighbouring district of Grand Lac. Owing to the want of suitable roads, the country being quite new, and the distance of some of the settlers from the church, the day-school and Sabbath services have not been so largely attended as under more favourable circumstances they would have been. During the greater part of the year about twenty-seven were present in school, including the children of several Roman Catholics, and an average of about fifty at church.

At Grand Lac, where occasional services were held, the attendance numbers twenty-five. The Rev. O. Camerle, an ex-priest of Rome, who was received by the General Assembly last year, has charge of the mission at Namur. He has gained access to the homes of a number of the Roman Catholic families, among whom he has distributed eighteen copies of the New Testament. Several of these families frequently attend his services.

A few English-speaking settlers having recently taken up land near Namur, the Board appointed as missionary teacher this summer, Mr. S. Rondeau, who conducts occasional services in English besides taking charge of the day-school.

Messrs. Camerle and Rondeau both reside in the mission premises, the lower part of which was designed for a dwelling-house, and the upper part for the Sabbath services. The settlers having so recently gone into the district are still very poor, yet last year they showed their appreciation of the Gospel and of the services of the missionaries by contributing $33.40 towards the funds of the Board.

OTTAWA CITY.

Several changes have taken place in connection with the work here which are deserving of special notice. At the urgent solicitation of the Presbytery of Ottawa the Board appointed Mr. L. J. Le Clair to act as Colporteur in the city. He began his work in June last and though at one time it was feared that his services would require to be dispensed with owing to the state of the fund the Board are glad to report that this was rendered unnecessary by the generous action of the Ottawa Auxiliary Bible Society, who made a grant of $60 towards the fund and agreed to meet one-half the Colporteur's salary from the 1st of January last. Mr. Le Clair has rendered excellent service during the year as his reports and those of the Rev. Mr. Ami, the pastor of our Ottawa French Church, abundantly testify. He has been most indefatigable in his work, and has succeeded in gaining access to the homes and hearts of many Roman Catholics.

Mr. Ami writes:—"Nearly every house in Lower Town and a large portion of Centre Town and the Flats have been visited by him, and the Gospel has now entered into many a household in which it must ultimately bear precious fruit in the conversion of souls." Mr. Le Clair distributed during the year 108 Bibles, 282 New Testaments, 123 portions, and about 1,400 religious tracts. May the seed thus sown yield an abundant harvest!

Another change has reference to the place in which the Sabbath services are held. Formerly a hall was used which was neither favourably situated nor attractive in appearance. Since the 1st of July the congregation have met in the Methodist Episcopal Church, the use of which, for the afternoon of every Sabbath, was granted them at a moderate rent. Though this is a decided improvement so far as the place is concerned, yet the time at which the service is held is very much against the success of the work. It was "by night" that the timid Nicodemus came to Jesus, and it is "by night" that many a timid, restless enquirer from Rome comes to hear the Gospel, stealthily entering our churches during the evening service, where the courage is wanting to come by day. If our French congregation in Ottawa are to be placed in circumstances favourable to growth and enlargement they must have a church of their own; and now, when property is so much depreciated and building material so low in price, seems a propitious time to secure one. Recognizing the importance of this matter the Presbytery of Ottawa, at a recent meeting, adopted the following resolution on recommendation of their Committee on French work: "That whereas the work of French Evangelization in this city has reached a point at which a building suitable for public worship has become a necessity if further progress is to be made; and whereas, if funds can be raised, the present is a suitable time either to buy or build, owing to the great reduction in prices of property and material. Therefore the Presbytery of Ottawa respectfully requests the French Evangelization Board to ask the General Assembly to release Rev. Mr. Ami for two months, for the purpose of making collections throughout the Church in aid of this work, and that the Assembly recommend the cause to the liberality of our people throughout the country."

Though the use of the M. E. Church is only got for the afternoon, yet Mr. Ami is not idle at night, as he conducts a service regularly every Sabbath evening in the western part of the city, in the Duke street school-house, which is gratuitously granted for the purpose. As a sample of Mr. Ami's work, the following is his last Monthly Statistical Report (for April, 1879):—

MONTH OF APRIL.	Number present at Sabbath Morning Service:	Of these how many were Roman Ca- tholics?	Number present at Sabbath Evening Service:	Of these how many were Roman Ca- tholics? During the year eight adults abjured Romanism and became adherents of the church. Twelve persons connected themselves with the membership of the church, five by certificate and seven on profession of faith. A large portion of the missionary's time was spent in securing work for the unemployed. Unable to find work, eight families of the congregation had to leave the city during the year.

The congregation contributed towards current expenses $52.60, in addition to which Mr. Ami forwarded to the Board $63.90.

MATTAWA, ONT.

This is a rising village on the Ottawa River, about twenty miles east of Lake Nipissing. The Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew have recently appointed Mr. S. J. Taylor, B.A., one of the graduating class of Montreal College, to this important outpost.

His salary is to be drawn in part from the Home Mission Committee, the Lumbermen's Mission, and the Board of French Evangelization. Though an English student, Mr. Taylor is also familiar with French, having attended the lectures in the French Department at Montreal College with a view to qualify himself for the work of the Board. Mr. Taylor having just entered the field no report has yet been received from him.

DRYSDALE AND GRAND BEND, QNT.

These Stations, ten miles distant from each other, are situated on the eastern shore of Lake Huron. At Drysdale there is a French Presbyterian Church, and at Grand Bend an English Presbyterian one, the use of which is given for our French service. Of the French-speaking population of the district thirty-five families are Protestant, and about fifty Roman Catholic. The Missionary of the Board this summer is Mr. Joseph Morin.

The pastor of the English Presbyterian congregation, on account of ill health, recently resigned his charge. The Board express the hope that an effort will be made to unite the French and English congregations under a minister able to conduct services in both languages, and they will be glad to co-operate with the Presbytery of Huron in securing this desirable end. It is believed that if such a union were effected the congregation would be self-sustaining, and thus the funds both of the Home Mission Committee and of the French Board would be considerably relieved. The attendance at the French services last summer was thirty at Drysdale, and about ninety at Grand Bend.

ESSEX COUNTY, ONT.

Mr. I. P. Bruneau spent last summer in this county, where there are upwards of 10,000 French Catholics. His headquarters were at Comber, his work being confined chiefly to the Townships of Tilbury West and Rochester. He visited large numbers of the French families, by whom generally he was well received. He held public services occasionally, which were attended by from thirty to forty Romanists, notwithstanding the threatenings of the priests. Mr. Bruneau was favourably impressed with the field as a desirable one for the Board to cultivate. He disposed of a number of copies of the New Testament and religious pamphlets and tracts, and collected $32 in aid of the fund. Mr. Alf. Blouin is the missionary here this summer.

STE. ANNE, KANKAKEE COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Twenty-five years ago the whole district between Chicago and St. Louis, vaguely known as the "Mississippi Valley," was a rich, unbroken tract of prairie land. The Roman Catholic Clergy of Canada, learning of the fertility of the district, encouraged their people to emigrate thither. Large numbers did so, including Father Chiniquy, then the Father Mathew of Lower Canada. The Church of Rome to all appearance had become the mistress of this wide section of Kankakee County.

But God in His providence had willed it otherwise, for soon Father Chiniquy and his colony withdrew from that Church and embraced the Protestant faith. The history of Ste. Anne from that period is too well known to require to be here related; suffice it to say that all the wiles of Rome have been powerless to induce the people to return to their former allegiance, and at the present time there are about 250 French Protestant families in and around Ste. Anne,—not to speak of hundreds of others who have emigrated further west, carrying with them their Protestant principles and their love for the Word of God. The settlers in Ste. Anne left behind them in the Province of Quebec many relatives and friends, with whom, during these twenty years they have kept up constant correspondence, and in this way, from year to year, much precious truth has been disseminated.

Our Church for many years has maintained an efficient Mission School at Ste. Anne, which still continues to prosper, the average attendance during the past twelve months being about 75—a much smaller number than would have been had scarlet fever and diphtheria not been prevalent during a portion of the year, preventing many children from attending. Recently a union has been effected between the District School and our own, with the Rev. C. Lafontaine, our missionary, as Principal, and the Rev. Mr. Boudreau, a graduate of one of our own Theological Colleges, as one of the teachers. This union will effect a considerable saving to the Board, the salary of the Principal only being now paid from the French fund.

The Rev. E. D. Pelletier has had charge of the Congregation during the year. He preaches in French twice every Sabbath in Ste. Anne, to a congregation averaging two hundred and fifty, and once every Lord's day in Papineau, a village four miles distant. He conducts occasionally a service in English, for the benefit of the few English-speaking persons in Ste. Anne. The Sabbath School has an average attendance of upwards of one hundred, and the weekly prayer meeting of seventy-five. Nine converts from Romanism were, during the year, admitted to the church on a profession of their faith in Christ.

MONTREAL ITALIAN MISSION.

As stated in last year's Report, the Rev. A. Internosola, an ex-priest of Rome from Italy, had begun a Mission under the auspices of the Board, among his fellow-countrymen in Montreal. Mr. Internosola has laboured with great zeal and fidelity during the year. He has ferreted out forty-one Italian families, almost all of whom were Roman Catholics, but many of whom he has been instrumental in gathering into St. John's Church (Russell Hall) to his service on the afternoon of every Lord's day. For the month of April his average attendance was twenty-seven, and the number appears to be gradually on the increase. Prior to his beginning work the spiritual interests of the Italians seem to have been entirely neglected. Scarcely however had he commenced operations than a Jesuit father from Italy crossed his path, and has been diligent ever since in endeavouring to excite the Italians against him, and prevent them attending his Sabbath service and religious classes. Mr. Internosola is however quietly making headway, and by his consistent Christian character and his kindly manner is gaining a strong hold on the people. Though but eighteen months in the country, he now converses somewhat freely in English, and can address audiences in French and German, besides his native Italian.

MONTREAL, CANNING STREET CHURCH AND SCHOOL.

The Rev. C. Chiniquy having, on account of impaired health, obtained leave of absence from the General Assembly, resigned his connection with this congregation in July last, since which time it has been under the efficient care of the Rev. B. Ouriere. A large number of families connected with the congregation have had to leave the city on account of their inability to obtain work. Most of these took with them certificates of membership or letters to the ministers of our churches in the districts to which they went, and the Board are gratified to learn from some of these ministers that the certificates were duly presented and that the French converts are commending themselves to their fellow Christians by their consistent walk. In addition to those who left the city, a number of families who were attracted by Mr. Chiniquy's personal influence ceased attending the Canning street Church when he left. In this way the numbers have been considerably reduced.

There are now connected with the congregation sixty-seven families who regularly attend, in addition to a number of others who are only occasional hearers. The work has gone on quietly but surely during the year, Mr. Ouriere labouring both in the Bible-class and in the ordinary Sabbath services to ground the people well in the truth and to build them up in the faith of the Gospel. The pastor's Bible-class was attended by an average of twenty-five, chiefly adults, and the average attendance of the Sabbath school was fifty-five.

Owing to the ill health of his wife Mr. Ouriere has been compelled to return to France. The Board part with him with feelings of deep sorrow and regret, not only because of his having endeared himself to all who were associated with him, but because of his admirable qualification for the work in which he was engaged.

The mission day school in connection with the Canning street Church has been under the care of Mr. T. Boucher St. Denis during the year, and has been efficiently conducted. The present average daily attendance is twenty-seven. Mr. Boucher, who belongs to an influential Lower Canadian family, sacrificed much in renouncing Romanism and in casting in his lot with our Church about eighteen months ago, his relatives having disowned him. So strong were his convictions as to the path of duty that he cheerfully took up his cross, but not before he had counted the cost. He has rendered efficient service, not only in the day and Sabbath schools, but in the work of the congregation generally, and designs consecrating his life to the service of Christ in the work of the Gospel ministry.

MONTREAL, ST. JOHN'S CHURCH (RUSSELL HALL).

From the Rev. C. A. Dondiet, pastor of this congregation, a very full and interesting report for the past year has been received, which the Board will publish in full in an early number of the Presbyterian Record. Meanwhile the following particulars are extracted from it:—

One hundred and twenty-four French families attend the services, all connected with the church as members or adherents. Thirty-five communicants were added to the membership of the church during the year—two by certificate and thirty-three on profession of their faith in Christ. Mr. Dondiet administered the ordinance of Baptism to twenty-three persons, chiefly children. The Lord's Supper was dispensed four times throughout the year. On an average twenty-five Roman Catholics attend the Sabbath evening service.

Eighty-one names were on the roll of the Sabbath school for the year ending 31st December, 1878, the average attendance being forty-five. Since then the number has been somewhat reduced in consequence of the opening of another school in the neighbourhood. Mr. Dondiet personally superintends the school, assisted by a staff of efficient teachers, among whom is Mr. W. B. Dawson (son of Principal Dawson) who has done much to advance the interests of the school in collecting funds to obtain a library and in other directions.

There is a Dorcas Society connected with the congregation, which expended $50 during the year in providing material for clothing for the poorer members of the church.

The congregation met all the incidental expenses of the church during the year. In a city these are somewhat large, as the following items will show: coal and wood, $65; gas, $54; water assessment, $17.

Mr. Doudiet reports the congregation as being in a much more prosperous condition than ever before, and entertains strong hopes as to its future and the future of the cause of French Evangelization generally.

OTHER FIELDS.

In addition to the fields reported in the foregoing pages as directly under the care of the Board, there are a number of others in which French Evangelistic work is being carried on by ministers of our Church. In this connection might be named the Rev. T. Fenwick, of Metis, and the Rev. C. Brouillette, of St. Louis de Gonzague, both of whom devote some time and attention to the French Canadians in their respective districts.

LADIES' FRENCH EVANGELIZATION SOCIETY.

A brief report of the Ladies' French Evangelization Society, together with a Financial Statement for the eight months ending 31st May, 1879, will be found appended.

FINANCES.

The policy of the Board has been to keep the expenditure within the income—a policy which they are sure will meet with the approval of the Assembly and of the Church. It is true that at certain seasons of the year less money is received than is necessary to carry on the work, and a loan has to be negotiated for a limited period in order to meet current expenditure. A careful comparison however, from month to month, of the receipts of preceding years with those of the current one enables the Board to form a somewhat correct estimate as to how the fund really stands, and deters them from incurring obligations there is little reasonable hope of their being able to meet.

The receipts for the ordinary fund in the first half of the year just ended having fallen considerably short of those for the corresponding period of the preceding year, the Board, in pursuance of their policy to keep from debt, declined applications to enter new fields, and temporarily reduced their staff of labourers. They are thus able to report to the Assembly that they close the year with a balance on hand of $112.91.

From the accompanying financial statement it will be observed that the total receipts for the ordinary Fund were $20,894.64, or nearly $2,800 less than the previous year. The contributions towards the Building Fund, however, were this year about $2,200 in excess of those of last, so that the total receipts of the Board for all purposes this year are only some $600 less than those of the preceding one.

It is interesting to observe that the falling off in the ordinary fund receipts is not owing to diminished liberality on the part of the congregations and Sabbath schools of the Church, for the contributions this year from these sources are fully $500 in excess of the preceding year. The receipts for 1877-78 including a legacy of $1,000 and special contributions for the ex-priest's fund of $900. These two items, together with a decrease of $1,000 in the contributions from Britain account for the diminished revenue of the Board for the year just closed. When the circumstances of the country are taken into consideration—the continuance of an unprecedentedly long period of commercial depression—there is abundant cause for thankfulness as to the state of the fund. To the Free Church of Scotland for a grant of £100 stg., and to the Presbyterian Church of Ireland for a donation of £55 stg., the cordial thanks of the Board and of the Church are due. Though the grant of £200 stg., annually got heretofore from the Church of Scotland, and that of £50 stg., from the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland have not been received in the year just closed it is hoped that these will be renewed during the ensuing year.

The Board with great satisfaction observe the growing interest of the young in the work of French Evangelization, as indicated by the large amount contributed to the fund by the Sabbath schools of the Church, and would bespeak the continued interest of superintendents and teachers.

Among the receipts will be found the sum of $1,969 received from various individual friends of the work throughout the country. The Board tender to all these generous donors their very hearty thanks, not only for their timely assistance but for the expressions of sympathy and of encouragement which in many cases accompanied their contributions. The Board's Agent in Britain—Rev. T. Stevenson—has collected $3,146.35 during the year, a large sum considering the state of business in the parent countries.

The present expenditure of the Board is about $2,000 per month, and the amount estimated as necessary to carry on with efficiency the work for the ensuing year is $25,000, of which $10,000 will be required prior to 1st October next to meet salaries, &c., then due.

CLOSE.

To maintain in efficiency this important department of the Church's work, the Board earnestly solicit the prayers and sympathy and increased liberality of all the congregations and Sabbath schools of the Church and friends of the Mission generally, and, above all, the continuance of the Divine blessing and favour, without which all else is vain.

The Board recommend that the request of the Presbytery of Ottawa be complied with, that Mr. Ami be empowered to solicit contributions towards the purchase or erection of a church for the French congregation in Ottawa, and that his Mission be commended by the Assembly to the liberality of those from whom he may solicit help; the time of his canvass, the places he shall visit, and the arrangements to be left in the hands of the Board.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

LADIES' FRENCH EVANGELIZATION SOCIETY.

In submitting the following brief Report of their work during the past year, the Ladies' French Evangelization Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada desire to express their cordial thanks to the many friends who have generously furnished the means to carry on the work, and above all, their heartfelt gratitude to God for the measure of success which has attended their efforts throughout the year.

The object of the Society is to co-operate with the General Assembly's Board of French Evangelization in extending the Gospel to our French-speaking fellow-citizens. The membership of the Society is composed of all ladies of the Presbyterian Church in Canada who are willing to aid in the work, and who contribute the sum of at least one dollar annually towards its funds. The officers of the Society consist of a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Corresponding Secretary, a Recording Secretary, and a Treasurer; who, together with representatives from the several Presbyterian congregations of the city, form an Executive Committee. The regular meetings of the Society are held in the afternoon of the first Tuesday of each month.

During the past year the various departments of the work were under the care of Sub-Committees.

The Committees on Women's Work superintended the Bible-women and took charge of the Wednesday afternoon meetings, respectively held in both the eastern and western sections of the city. The Helping-Hand Committees conducted the sewing classes for the French Canadian girls, which met on Saturday afternoon. The Finance Committee had entrusted to them the appointment of collectors in the several churches, and generally, the securing of funds wherewith to carry on the work of the Society; while the Executive Committee took a general supervision of the whole work, meeting regularly each month to receive reports and to transact all necessary business.

There are now two regularly organized French Protestant congregations in the city in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada, viz.: St. John's (Russell Hall) in the East, and Canning street Church in the West.

In former years the work of the Ladies' French Evangelization Society was carried on from one centre,—a mission house on Lagachetiere street, leased for the purpose. Since the erection of the new church on Canning street, it was deemed advisable, in the interests of economy and efficiency, to discontinue the mission house and to carry on the work in both the eastern and western sections of the city, with the two French Presbyterian Churches as centres. The Matron of the Mission House—Miss Bean—was assigned to the East, and an efficient Bible woman—Miss Clark—to the West. During the year weekly meetings have been held in both churches on the afternoons of Wednesday and Saturday. The Wednesday meetings were for French Canadian women, and were well maintained, the average number present being about 12 in the East and 25 in the West. The Saturday meetings were for girls, the number enrolled at Russell Hall being 26, and at Canning street 49.

The design of these meetings was twofold, viz., to give religious instruction to those attending and to develop ideas as well as habits of independence and self-reliance among the converts. Articles of clothing were made by the women and girls from material provided by the Society, and when made were sold at a slightly reduced price to those requiring them. These meetings have, it is believed, in more ways than one, been productive of good. As illustrative of the improvement over former years, when the garments made were gratuitously given to the converts, it is worthy of remark that during the past year the articles of clothing were not only bought by the French Canadian women, but bought at such prices that the entire burden on the funds of the Society was only $18.10 during the whole year. The garments sold were generally payable by small instalments, and, to the credit of the purchasers be it said, the instalments were promptly met, and, with one exception, the full amount has been paid.

The two Missionaries or Bible Women employed by the Society—Miss Bean and Miss Clark—have rendered efficient service during the year. Their visits at the homes of the converts have been warmly received and highly appreciated.

In addition to their regular visitation work, and to the placing of copies of the Word of God in the hands of those willing to receive them, they spend much time in procuring situations or employment for those out of work, and in ministering in various ways to the temporal necessities of the converts and their families. They keep track of the people in their frequent changes of residence, and try to surround them with a healthy religious influence, so as to weaken the force of the many temptations by which they are beset. They endeavour to dissociate the weaker of the converts from Roman Catholic companionship; they bring them to the meetings for religious instruction on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, as well as to the regular services of the Sanctuary, and in innumerable ways they seek to benefit the classes among whom they labour.

In cases of extreme need, especially where there is sickness in the home, they have discretionary power to render a little pecuniary assistance. That this is exercised with much caution is seen in the fact that the total amount expended in this way during the past year was only $23.

In this connection the cordial thanks of the Society are due to Dr. Cameron for professional services gratuitously rendered many of the converts in seasons of affliction.

As a specimen of their work, the following is taken from Miss Bean's Report for the month of May: Visits paid, 41; situations obtained for girls, 4, and employment got for 13 women.

From the Treasurer's statement appended to this Report it will be found that the receipts for the past eight months amounted to $623.82, or, including the balance on hand at 1st October last, to $677.27, and the expenditure to $570.11, leaving a balance on hand of $107.16.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

MONTREAL, 20th May, 1879.

REPORT ON SABBATH SCHOOLS, 1879.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Your Committee, being duly notified, met at Peterboro' on the 9th day of October last, and gave special attention to the department of work committed to their care. In accordance with the instruction of last Assembly, they carefully prepared, and duly issued, a series of questions on Sabbath School work, to be answered by the Session and Sabbath School workers of each congregation; these questions were grouped under the following aspects of the work, viz.:

1. SABBATH SCHOOLS.—Their number, teachers and scholars.
2. INSTRUCTION.—Embracing schemes of lessons, catechism, hymns, and method of work.
3. ORGANIZATION.—Considering connection with sessions, means of united study and preparation in weekly meetings and classes for training teachers.
4. BENEVOLENCE AND WORK.—Calling attention to methods of support, school finance, and interest in the missionary work of the Church.
5. EQUIPMENT.

These blank forms, in sufficient numbers for all organized congregations, were mailed to the respective clerks of all the Presbyteries embraced in the four Synods of the Church, making each Presbytery responsible, through its clerk, for the distribution and return of these forms; a report from these returns to be made by Presbytery, and transmitted to the Convener of the Synods of Sabbath School Committee.

It was found that only two of the four Synods had a Standing Committee on this department of work, viz., Hamilton and London, and Toronto and Kingston. These have duly reported, and that of Toronto and Kingston deserves special mention, for the care with which it is drawn up and the mature consideration given to it by the Synod, as its recommendations will show. The other two Synods, through the kindness of their respective Clerks, have materially assisted your Committee by forwarding Reports of Presbyteries submitted, and in the more perfect organization of the Synods for future work.

Having to deal with Presbyterian Reports from these two synods has greatly increased the labour of your Committee and rendered their Report to the Assembly less complete than it might have been.

The Report we present will show the wisdom of the Assembly in its instruction to call for detailed information as to the work done in our Schools, as to the means and agencies employed, and as to the methods generally adopted, and through this information take a careful oversight, recommending and guiding the churches to greater thoroughness and higher efficiency in the instruction of the people and their children.

As to schools, scholars, teachers, &c., your Committee hopes that this department of Christian work is to be found in connection with every congregation and Mission Station in the Church, and it would have been a source of strength and encouragement to have been assured of this by returns more or less complete from each congregation, but from the acknowledged difficulty of getting full returns in long organized departments of church work, this could hardly have been expected.

THE SYNOD OF TORONTO AND KINGSTON, feeling the incompleteness of the returns, has furnished no statistics, but give general statements based on the answers received.

THE SYNOD OF OTTAWA AND MONTREAL.

Out of seven Presbyteries, three have reported, namely, Montreal, Glengarry, and Ottawa, setting forth :

Congregations reporting.....	87
Schools.....	119
Teachers.....	923
Scholars.....	7233
Communicants—The Presbytery of Ottawa only reporting.....	41

This point is suggestive of overlooking a vital result of our Sabbath School work, viz., connection with God's kingdom by faith in his Son.

THE SYNOD OF HAMILTON AND LONDON.

Five Presbyteries—out of seven have reported :

Schools.....	97
Teachers.....	1097
Scholars.....	8188
Communicants.....	323

One-third of all reported are in the Paris Presbytery. One hundred of those reported have been added during the past year.

THE SYNOD OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

Out of eleven Presbyteries only five have reported, viz., Pictou, Truro, Lunenburg, Yarmouth, and Miramichi :

Schools.....	153
Teachers.....	1088
Scholars.....	3036
Communicants.....	214

Summing up these statistics as reported, thirteen Presbyteries out of thirty-three, a little over one-third :

Schools.....	369
Scholars.....	18457
Teachers.....	8099
Communicants under school instruction.....	578

This exhibit is so manifestly limited that no conclusions can be reached further than it presents about one-third of our field and work in the instruction of the young in schools.

THE SYNOD OF MONTREAL AND OTTAWA.

All report, with few exceptions, that the International Scheme of Lessons is used in the intermediate and senior departments of the school, a few using them in the primary classes also, and all report the Shorter Catechism as regularly and faithfully taught in all the classes. This Synod also report attention given to committing portions of Scripture to memory. Toronto and Kingston recommend that more attention be given to this part of school exercise. The Synod of Hamilton and London do not refer to it.

Reviews of instruction imparted are very generally attended to weekly, monthly and quarterly, conducted by Pastor, sometimes Superintendent, or a selected Teacher; a few give no attention to reviewing as part of the school work.

THE REPORT ON LESSON HELPS IS VARIED.

Montreal and Ottawa, Hamilton and London Synods are generally well supplied, while Toronto and Kingston reports many as poorly supplied. The helps reported are varied, but all healthy, and to a thoughtful teacher helpful. The following are named:—

The Westminster Series, published by the Presbyterian Board of Publication, the S.S. Times, the S.S. World, the Northern Messenger, S. S. Edition, the Presbyterian, the Halifax Witness. In connection with instruction in our schools your Committee have embraced the Psalmody or Hymnology used. There is a uniformity, in the sense that what is regarded as very modern is used, and there is a great variety in the names of the books introduced. Gall and Inglis, Sankey and Bliss, Bateman's Collections, and Sunday School Harp, etc., are among the most frequently named; a few use Psalms and Paraphrases, English Presbyterian Hymn Book, Scottish Hymnal; all comment on this matter is reserved.

Under the head of instruction is suggested, the covenant relation of our children to Christ and the Church? and it is important by this question to direct the attention of the Church to this fact formulated in our creed and fitted to be a powerful element of church life. Many give no answer, others reply by saying that monthly, or less frequent, services are held specially for the young. Others report, "When a lesson occurs in which this subject is embraced, or suggested, the Teachers and Superintendent impress upon the school this truth as a motive to immediate acceptance and confession of Christ."

THE SYNOD OF TORONTO AND KINGSTON

Reports one Presbytery as saying, "It is the doctrinal basis upon which our work among the baptized children of the Church must proceed, and furnishes one of the most powerful motives to holiness of heart and life; it is one of the precious truths which it has been the privilege of our Church, along with other Calvinistic churches to maintain in the face of sacramentarian error, Arminian vagueness, and Baptist austerity; on the ground of this covenant we are warranted in prayer for, and expecting a work of grace in the heart of the youngest scholar, or infant in our homes."

ORGANIZATION.

There can be no hopeful and fruitful instruction without wise and well adapted organization of agencies and means. As to vital connection of our schools with the congregation through the Session, the reports are hesitating and vague with some exceptions. The interest taken by the Session for the most part is individual, in personal work or sympathy, and not vitally official in oversight, legislation, and direction in church work and ordinances; and if there be, as one Presbytery fears, a tendency to "Sabbath-Schoolism," the dangers and faults do not lie so much in the "ism," but in the isolated independency in which the schools are left to do their important and difficult work, and the Assembly will discharge a pressing and imperative duty in directing attention of Presbyteries and Sessions to their duty in this matter. One Presbytery suggests that this is to be brought about by giving practical effect to the recognized Scriptural position of children in the Church. The internal organization of the schools for the better carrying out the aims and objects of a Sabbath school is far from encouraging.

About one fourth of those reporting hold weekly Teachers' meetings for the united study of the lesson. In some congregations the Pastor gives an address on the lesson at the weekly prayer meeting, a few deliver a discourse on the previous Sabbath on the lesson of the following Sabbath. All this variety of methods indicates very clearly that there is a felt necessity for help to our Teachers, but the Committee are somewhat embarrassed as to the most efficient way of giving it.

As to classes for training Teachers for their work, the Synod of the Maritime Provinces report none.

The Synod of Montreal and Ottawa reports one in the City of Ottawa and under the direction of the Presbytery. The Synod of Toronto and Kingston reports three—Peterboro, North York, and Toronto; Hamilton and London, one, at Ingersoll; with this tentative efforts have been made in this direction as illustrative of the character of the work, in Paris, Brantford, Guelph, and other less conspicuous places.

It is quite evident to your Committee from the reports received that there is no effective recognition of the grading of the schools by attainments and stated examinations in a knowledge of the Word of God and the Shorter Catechism. These departments of Primary, Intermediate and Senior, well defined by attainment rather than by choice, or age, or position, would be found a legitimate and healthy means of deepening interest, quickening a laudable zeal, and enlarging attainments in Bible knowledge, and still more important, securing an adaptation between the capacity of the scholar and the ability and equipment of the teacher. Neglecting these means of healthy stimulus, are we wise as the children of light?

BENEVOLENCE AND WORK.

Your Committee embraced this department in their schedule, not especially with the view of securing financial statistics, which will be found in fullest form in the financial reports of the Church, but it was felt desirable that our schools should have this matter kept before them. The healthy efficiency of the school work on the future of the Church in a large degree is dependent on the way our children are trained, in a spirit of liberality and attachment to the schemes of the Church.

How are the schools supported?

Whence do they derive their support?

By what means are funds secured?

The most of the schools take up collections weekly, or monthly, or even less frequently. In some cases these funds are applied to the ordinary expenses of the school, and the balance if any is applied to missionary work. As Foreign Mission work, in support of "Dayspring" Orphanages, Zenana work; also in French Evangelization, &c. Some schools devote all their gatherings to mission work, and seek their support from, one says, "begrudged grants," from the congregation contributions, from those in the work of teaching, and all kinds of entertainments. The present state of the school finance is largely weakening, and poorly fitted, to train a generation for the work of evangelizing the world and supporting ordinances among ourselves.

The Presbytery of Glengarry recommends that Sabbath schools contribute to all the schemes of the Church, as the congregation does. "Such a course would train the young to give, it would deepen their interest in the work of the Church, it would give them a recognized place in the congregation, it would increase the funds at the disposal of the Church." Your Committee would submit that to do this in the most effective way, each congregation should include the running expenses of their school in their estimates of liability for the year, and organize the classes for benevolence and work. It is gathered from various reports on this subject that fifty cents per scholar for the year is required to furnish all papers, teachers' helps and scholars' leaflets. This is exclusive of libraries, &c., for teachers and scholars.

Very few schools manifest an interest in the cause of temperance among the scholars, and very many Congregational and Presbyterian reports deeply lament this unwisdom.

Labour at this end of life, in instilling the principles of sobriety, and warning against the dangers that attend even the use of intoxicating drinks, will be more powerful to abate the evils of intemperance than herculean efforts at the other end.

EQUIPMENT.

Libraries to a certain extent are to be found in most of the schools reporting, but the returns are manifestly so incomplete that we shall not enumerate volumes. A few report a teachers' library. Very few are furnished with maps, or blackboards, or other means of carrying on primary class-work, and very few have separate rooms for the departments of the school unless in cities and towns. It was an instruction of last Assembly that Presbyteries give diligent attention to the oversight of the Sabbath school work within their bounds, by holding conferences in Presbyteries and conventions with the teachers and people; also to encourage the formation of classes for training teachers.

Your Committee are glad to report that the attention given by Presbyteries to these matters is greatly on the increase, and if some definite and uniform line of study, and subjects that would be fruitful to our teachers were indicated, or recommended by the Assembly, many a willing mind would be helped.

In view of the foregoing Report, there are two central facts that your Committee feel bound to emphasize:

1. The work, the character and equipment of our teachers, whom we ask to take this position.
2. The organization of the work, under Sessions and Presbyteries, in harmony with our doctrine and church polity.

For the last thirteen years, almost without an exception, every Report on Sabbath schools given to the Supreme Court of the churches that now form the Presbyterian Church in Canada, represented in this Assembly by Fathers and Brethren, has more or less expressly and earnestly called attention to the importance of godly and reasonably qualified teachers for our schools. Resolutions have been recorded, instructions have been sent down, but the Church, separated or united, has never put forth her power, in the strength of her strong men, and in the wisdom of her wise men, and in the experience of her experienced men, in a deliberative way to grapple with this question. By what means, through what agency, after what methods of work, can we strengthen the piety, increase the efficiency and perpetuate the supply of teachers for our work.

The instruction of last Assembly to Presbyteries, was to hold conferences in Presbytery, to hold conventions with the people, to encourage the formation of classes for training teachers. This instruction is asked by three Synods to be renewed, and before renewing such recommendations the Committee submit a statement of the objects to be attained in this regard.

"The Teachers' meeting for united study over the lesson for the coming Sabbath, is analogous to the preacher's preparation for the pulpit, only that the law of co-operation and mutual help sustains the school workers."

Reasonable preparation is the condition of hopeful and reasonable service, and in its absence injury and not good is done.

The teachers' training class proposes a general preparation in mental and spiritual quickening, by furnishing the mind with a few guiding principles of Bible truth, and methods of work, analogous to the work of our theological schools. The Presbyterial conference is, a conference of the Presbytery duly constituted, to consider and devise the best means of carrying out the above measures.

The Presbyterial convention is constituted by a gathering of teachers and parents, to stimulate and instruct in the important matter of the religious education of the people. The Toronto and Kingston Synod has a recommendation on this whole question of training classes and your Committee forbear farther remark.

The Synod of Hamilton and London press on the attention of the General Assembly the following recommendation :

" That feeling convinced that much of the literature used in our Sabbath Schools is of an unhealthy character, and recognizing the difficulty of securing proper books, agree that the General Assembly be memorialized to appoint a standing committee, whose duty it shall be " to examine books and periodicals prepared by societies and publishers for the use of schools; " and to issue from time to time a list of such books as they may deem suitable for Sabbath schools; and thus aid sessions and teachers in securing proper materials for this important department of church work."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN McEWEN,
Convener.

REPORT ON SABBATH SCHOOL LITERATURE—1879.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The Conveners of the Synodical Sabbath School Committees, with the Convener of the Assembly Committee, have, in terms of instruction of last Assembly, met and inquired into the subject of Sabbath School literature, and beg leave to report.

The subject is one that engaged the attention of one of the uniting churches in 1871, 1872 and 1873, and a list of 124 volumes for scholars' and 11 volumes for teachers' library were submitted, approved and published. Since that, the work of directing the people in the selection of religious and instructive reading has been in abeyance; indeed, the Committee referred to declined to be re-appointed in consequence of the great amount of labour involved in the winnowing of books. The subject is of too great importance, and so intimately connected with the life of the Church, that it cannot be set aside on this account.

And beg to submit the following :

1. That the Conveners of the Sabbath School Committees of the four Synods, with the Convener of the Assembly Committee and such others as the Assembly may appoint, shall be charged with this work and report to the Assembly from year to year.
2. Accept the list previously agreed upon by one of the uniting churches, and increase the list with care and consideration.
3. That each Synod take part in the work under the guidance of its Sabbath School Convener; that a list of questions be submitted by which every book shall be tested, and all persons to whom books shall be given to read with the view of adoption shall consider themselves responsible to the Church for their judgment in the matter. Questions submitted :
 1. What is the subject of the book? Say whether History, Science, Biography, Narrative, Fiction.
 2. What is its religious character and teaching?
 3. Are its teachings in sympathy with our doctrine and church polity?
 4. Are its teachings patriotic?
 5. What is its style? whether natural, polished, pretentious, or sensational?
 6. Do you approve of the volume as suitable for our schools and homes?
 7. If so, for what department? Primary, Intermediate, or Senior?

Whatever line of selection, or standard of judgment, the Assembly may indicate, we humbly submit that there is one cardinal principle of judgment that must be applied invariably, rigidly, and with fidelity, that is: That no part of the book deals with the passions, directly or indirectly, suggestively or otherwise—this is the poison of current Sabbath School literature, illustrations in the domain of the passions that are premature and overstrained—characters excessively good or excessively bad, miraculously successful, or fatally unsuccessful. To feed our children, our young men and women with such literature is to awaken fires that only consume all moral fibre and religious susceptibility. Great wrong is done and danger induced, when young minds are subjected to strong emotional excitement, above the possibilities of instruction.

"Teach that you may arouse, arouse that you may teach," is a safe axiom in Christian work.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada:

In accordance with the instructions given by last General Assembly, your Committee prepared a petition to the Dominion Parliament praying that an order might be issued to Postmasters throughout the Province of Quebec to keep the post-offices closed during the whole of the Sabbath. The petition was signed by the Moderator and was presented by Dr. Christie, member of the Dominion Parliament for Argenteuil, to whom the thanks of the Assembly are due for his great interest in the cause of the Sabbath. We regret to have to report that the petition did not meet with such favour in the House as might reasonably have been expected, and that the evil against which it was directed still continues, under the protection of public law and by order of the Dominion Government. All the more are the Churches called upon to maintain an earnest protest against this and other forms of legalized Sabbath profanation in the Province of Quebec, such as the reading and posting at church doors, on Sabbath, notices of school and municipal business and of the sale of property. Even in the House of Parliament itself there is room for improvement in Sabbath observance, seeing that at present the Library, Post-office, and Reading Room are kept open for the accommodation of members of the House, and many of the clerks, door-keepers, and other attendants, are in this way deprived of the privilege of the public means of grace. Strong public sentiment on this matter would command the respect of the House.

Your Committee are happy to be able to report that a decided improvement has taken place on the Intercolonial Railway in respect of Sabbath observance.

From the Report of the Sabbath Observance Committee of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, it is gratifying to learn that the running of street cars on Sabbath in the city of Kingston has been discontinued, to the great gratification of many and to the advantage and comfort of the employees of the Company.

It is with very special pleasure that we inform the Assembly of the formation of an International Sabbath Association, the head quarters of which are at Philadelphia, and the aim of which is to promote Sabbath observance throughout the United States and Canada. United effort on the part of the Churches and the Christian people of both nations may do much in grappling with an evil that is international. Mr. Yates Hickey, of Philadelphia, Secretary of the International Sabbath Association, intends being present, and the Committee recommend that opportunity be given him of addressing the Assembly.

Your Committee are happy in being able to report that the canals throughout the Dominion continue closed on the Sabbath, as reported last year, and that the benefits have been marked and numerous.

In conclusion, we recommend:—

1. That a deputation be appointed to wait on the Members of Government, in Ottawa, with the view of securing that all persons employed in the Parliament Buildings be relieved from duty on Sabbath, and an opportunity afforded them of enjoying the privileges of the public worship of God and the means of grace.

2. That the Committee be authorized to print and circulate as widely as possible, in fly sheet form, the civil law of the Sabbath, for the information of the public.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

OTTAWA, June 18th, 1879.

W. T. McMULLEN,
One of the Conveners.

REPORT OF THE STATE OF RELIGION.—1879.

In presenting their Report, your Committee notice with regret a slight falling off in the number of Returns. The Committee regret this all the more as the returns of the preceding year showed steady progress. To compensate somewhat for this deficiency, however, it is matter for thankfulness to know that in connection with these enquiries there have been reports prepared for each of the four Synods, and Presbyterial reports in all the Presbyteries, with perhaps six exceptions. The Committee acknowledge the receipt of these reports, which have materially lessened their labours, while they have been the means of keeping the Church, in its varied departments, fully informed on the facts and suggestions elicited by this means.

The Sessions reporting amount to 332 as against 400 of last year.

From almost every court, which has had the subject under its consideration, there has come the call for more full and prompt attention to these enquiries, and your Committee realize it as a matter of very deep regret that so many of our Sessions send no returns. Incomplete and partial as our statistics are, however, we have yet every Presbytery so represented that it is not without hope that the Committee endeavour to lay before the Venerable House such a report as may enable its members to form a fair estimate of the state of the Church's vitality and progress, so far as these have been elicited.

The questions on the State of Religion have been divided into three groups. The first relating to the FAMILY, the second to the CHURCH, while the third takes account of some supposed or real hindrances to the growth of vital Godliness. To commence then with

THE STATE OF RELIGION.

I. IN THE FAMILY.

(a) "Where one parent is a communicant," the proportion of those who observe family worship ranges from "one-tenth" to "almost all," a state of things which prevents your Committee from making any approximation to the exact state of the case. In some congregations, one Synodical report says, "this duty is observed with very great attention; almost all, if not all, the families enjoying the privilege; in others, however, we find the proportion not more than one-tenth who find time or inclination for the duty." Different localities appear to have very different experiences in this matter.

(b) "As for those families," says the same report, "where the parents are non-communicants, in some cases congregations give as many as forty-five per cent. who are enjoying this means of grace, but on the whole very few are at all careful in respect to the duty." Such is still the general condition of the field; some attend to it well; while elsewhere this duty is declared to be generally, though not universally, neglected."

II. FAMILY TRAINING.

So closely allied is this duty with the former, that where the one is engaged in, so also, generally, is the other. Where one is neglected, the other is neglected. It is cheering, however, to find that in some Presbyteries the instruction of the young at home is very carefully and conscientiously attended to. In others, however, it is reported as "discouragingly small," and the idea still remains that many parents think their duty well performed when the teaching of others is substituted for their own.

"With what loss," says one Synodical report, "to themselves and their children, this neglect is accompanied, eternity alone can tell; but this much is certain, that the Church sustains irreparable loss in that good old family attachment to her cause, and in a weakening of the Church's power which augurs ill for the future."

Among the suggestions for the more efficient discharge of this duty are, with a "more careful perusal of God's Word, a return to the old system of family catechising on the Sabbath day, reading and study of the Sabbath school lesson with the children, etc., in patient prayerful perseverance, and depending on the grace of God."

STATE OF RELIGION IN THE CHURCH.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

(a) "There is great reason for thankfulness to God for the very general attendance on public worship among our people." There appear to be comparatively few who wholly neglect this duty, although there are not many congregations where this neglect or indolence, as an occasional thing, is not seen. This neglect, however, appears to be not so much among the adherents of our Church as "in the neighbourhood," and among those who have "lapsed" from all Church relationship.

(b) To "reclaim the careless" the means most generally proposed are, faithful but kindly personal dealing, "in connection with visitation;" wise discipline where this is needed and can be properly used, an interest shown by the Church-going people, and "an increasing effort to make the house and service of God more attractive and home-like to all."

BAPTISM.

(a) Parents are said to indicate the value which they attach to the ordinance of Baptism by the "very general expression of desire for it, and by availing themselves of the opportunities of procuring it for their children." Most Presbyteries report that it is "invariably sought," that it is "sought by all or nearly all." In very few instances, indeed, do we find it neglected; in some cases neglect is "occasioned by the prevalence of peculiar views regarding infant Baptism in the neighbourhood."

(b) The means employed to instruct the people concerning the nature and design of the ordinance and the obligations which it imposes, seem to be much the same throughout our congregations, and to consist of "addresses delivered in connection with the administration of the ordinance, sermons on the subject, instruction in the Sabbath School and Bible classes, private conversation with those whose minds are unsettled, together with the circulation of books and tracts bearing on the subject." Such is the account given in the Report of the Synod of Hamilton and London, and it covers the whole ground.

(c) Concerning the administration of Baptism to children whose parents are not communicants, the enquiry has elicited quite a variety of replies, which may be grouped as follows:

1. (i.) That the administration of the ordinance should be restricted to the children of those who have actually participated in the celebration of the Lord's Supper: or (ii.) where at least one of the parents is a communicant.

2. (i.) Others would extend the privilege to non-communicants, on their pledging themselves to become members in full communion at an early date: or (ii.) to the children of adherents who are regular in their attendance on divine worship and who are of good moral character, provided always they are themselves baptized.

3. While a third class assert broadly, that "Baptized parents are themselves members of the Church, and as such are entitled to Baptism for their children."

It requires to be stated, however, that some plead the exigencies of their field of labour (that being entirely missionary) for what is to them a departure from the strict law of the Church: while in the reports of two Synods there comes an urgent request for some authoritative deliverance on this point.

THE LORD'S SUPPER.

(a) Frequency of Administration.—By far the greater number recommend a quarterly administration of this ordinance. The practice varies much throughout the Church. A few appear to desire a more frequent communion than quarterly, but without specifying any distinct number of times.

(b) The proportion of those who are communicants among the adults of our congregations, ranges, according to these reports, from one-fourth to nine-tenths. In some congregations the numbers stand from three-fourths to "nearly all."

This is a subject which comes annually before the Church and from its great importance is well worthy of her earnest consideration.

(c) In connexion with this subject it is most gratifying to notice the great pains everywhere taken to instruct those who are not communicants as to their duty. The means employed are the "preaching of the Word," "private dealing on the occasion of pastoral visitation," and Bible and communicants' classes. These last have been found eminently successful in bringing the young to a knowledge of their duty and privilege, and oftentimes to a "decision for Christ."

CHRISTIAN LIFE AND WORK.

(a) The direct and emphatic question concerning the 'increase of spirituality' is variously answered; generally with great hesitancy. "There is," one report goes on to say, "a fair amount of expectancy in regard to work done; and a fair portion unhesitatingly reporting progress;" but the greatest and prevailing impression seems to be that there is still much room for improvement. More than one Presbytery report with great satisfaction the "evidences of a growing spirituality." The Presbytery of Bangor refers to large accessions and other evidences, while Glengarry refers to the fact of a great revival of religion some two years ago, followed by the greatest steadfastness on the part of those who were then brought to an acceptance of the Saviour, and an open profession of their faith in him. These evidences it gives your Committee the greatest pleasure to record, being assured that it must needs be a source of much satisfaction to this venerable Court to see manifest signs of vitality followed by Christian fruit. Still, there are, on the other hand, many answers which point to a painful lack of Christian zeal and earnestness.

(b) Prayer Meetings.—One of the hopeful signs is the attendance at prayer meetings. Yet even here there are evident reasons why the Church should strive and plead for a revived interest in these essential accompaniments of a healthy and strong church life; for some give no report, and the answers of others vary. Yet what more refreshing exercise can there be, than to devote an hour in the midst of the week to communion with Him who is our Guide, and spiritual intercourse with each other.

(c) Liberality.—There is a fair amount of liberality displayed throughout the Church, in some instances even praiseworthy, and according to one report, "Although there has been an unusual depression in trade throughout the land, yet the people have fought well to implement their engagement: at home, as well as to spread abroad the glorious Gospel of the Grace of God." Elsewhere the lack of sufficient liberality is much felt.

(d) The best means of promoting vital Godliness and its fruits in an upright and consistent life, are found to be, first and chiefly, the ordinary means of grace. On this all are agreed. To these are added, the more active engagement of church members in Christian work; "keeping in view the cross of Christ, for the love of Christ constraineth us," "faithful personal dealing in private, with a wise and judicious use of discipline," "an active Eldership," "careful attention to the young by Bible-classes and otherwise, that the richness and fulness of the great grace of God may be realized," but above all "by a blessed and liberal outpouring of the Holy Spirit," to all which must be added earnest fervent prayer that the grace of the Lord Jesus which bringeth salvation may be abundantly bestowed.

(e) The answers to the last question under this division are perhaps more vague than the others. But among the best means for enlisting Christians in work for the good of others, are a faithful exhortation of the place of the Christian, viz., "that God has given to every man his work and that there is a work for every man to do," along with the presentations of the beauties of a Christian character in the faithful following of Christ, and a full Pentecostal effusion of the Holy Ghost. Prominence is given in some reports also to the proper use of evangelistic services, but here your Committee notice a contrariety.

Stress is laid on "giving work to do," and the judicious distribution of it among the workers. While last, but by no means least, is the earnest consideration of the redemption of our own souls and the value of the souls of others.

III. HINDRANCES.

The Church does not appear to suffer to any great degree from the prevalence of either sceptical or impure literature. Yet these are to be met with, and in some sections literature of the first class especially is decidedly complained of. Among the remedies suggested are the reading of the Bible in our Public Schools, and the free circulation of pure literature.

Intemperance still has its power, but it will be met most gratifyingly to the Venerable Court to know that that power seems, from the reports, to be very decidedly on the wane. The Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, with its power to regenerate, must always claim the first place in this victory. But the Gospel hails the temperance movement as a valuable auxiliary in the conflict with this evil. Here your Committee acknowledge with great satisfaction the "Report on Temperance," transmitted by the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, and cordially approve of the suggestion that the Church, as such, should take some more decided steps towards the suppression of this great evil.

The Committee rejoice further to see the satisfactory record given from almost all our congregations in the matter of chastity.

On the whole, then, and while there is acknowledged to be still to much ground for complaint with regard to the "worldliness" of professing Christians, and even to their seeming indifference, and possibly their "self-seeking," together with the serious injury entailed upon the cause of our Redeemer thereby; yet taking into consideration the whole face of the case, as gathered from the Reports before us, "the attendance on ordinances, the use made of the means of grace, the comparative liberality of the people to the support of the Gospel ordinances at home, and interest taken in its dissemination abroad; the further evidence and exercise of devout feeling in meetings for prayer, together with the grater advantages held out, and very frequently enjoyed, for the better study of God's Word; in these things your Committee are glad to say they see much reason to thank the Giver of all mercy for His great love to this Church. They see in these Reports also much reason for self-reproach on our part, as well as great need for a quickened zeal and self-devotion to the advancement of His cause, who gives more grace, and who has graciously said, that "all things are possible to him that believeth," and who will do for His Church, which is His body, "far more abundantly above all we ask." Let us then ask, nothing doubting but that in answer to the supplications of His people, and for the furtherance of His kingdom there will be such enlarged and abundant manifestation of His grace—such copious out-pouring of His Holy Spirit upon the hearts of His people, as will make our Beloved Zion a "praise throughout all the land." May the Lord in His good time hasten it. To Him, and to Him alone shall be the Glory.

The Committee refer with much satisfaction to the admirable "Pastoral" issued by the General Assembly through its Moderator of last year, and take this occasion to express their sincere trust that its admonitions and lessons, being hallowed with the Divine blessing, may be eminently instrumental in advancing the interests of vital godliness both in the families and throughout the congregations of our beloved Church.

All which is respectfully submitted.

In the name of the Committee,

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE MINISTERS' WIDOWS' AND ORPHANS' FUND OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF CANADA IN CONNECTION WITH THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.

No changes calling for special remark have been made in the investments of the Board since last report. The present assets, including interest due, amount to $93,489.23, being an advance of $3,262.23 upon what they were at this time last year.

Three annuitants have been added to the roll during the past year, and two have been removed, leaving the number now forty-one. The whole amount of annuities paid in 1878, including a special grant of $69, was $5,645.50, as per detailed statement.

The sum of the congregational collections in behalf of the fund for the year ending 31st May, 1879, is $1,622.51. The ministers' contributions for the same period, at the uniform rate of $12 from each minister, amount to $1,632. The interest accrued from investments has been $1,123.84. The balance at credit of the account is $2,291.69. The Board have been notified by the agents for the estate of the late Rev. Dr. A. Spence of a bequest of thirty-nine shares of Montreal Consolidated Stock, bearing 7 per cent, to the Ministers' Widows' and Orphans' Fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, but, as this description does not answer to the title of the Board, they report the matter to the Assembly, and would suggest that either the Assembly empower them to take the bequest over in trust for the fund to be created by the amalgamation of existing funds, or appoint a committee to receive it and any other bequests for the same object that may be made, as well as to receive the subscriptions of new ministers coming into the Church who are at present in doubt as to the proper course for them to pursue.

No further steps have been taken towards the amalgamation of the four funds at present in the Church.

ROBERT CAMPBELL, Chairman.

Leaving a net balance of $1,084.36 to the credit of our principal fund.

The whole amount now in fund amounts to $22,179.58, of which $22,013.25 is invested, and $166.33 is cash in Treasurer's hands. To this is to be added interest on Building Society shares not charged, but accrued and now at interest, amounting to over $2,000, making our total funds over $24,000.

No minister connected with the fund has died during the year.

Your committee had expected that ere this time arrangements would have been completed for the amalgamation of the different Widows' Funds of the Church, but as this has not been done, and as there seems to be some difficulty in the way, and as moreover the year 1878 was the time for the Septennial revision of rates on this fund, it was agreed to make the following alterations in the rates of payments by ministers and of annuities to widows till the amalgamation be effected:

1. That the rate of payment by ministers be reduced one-fifth, making them henceforth $8, $12, and $16, according to class.

2. That the annuities payable to widows be increased one-fourth, making them henceforth $75, $112.50, and $150, according to class, and the annuities to orphans be continued until they reach the age of 18.

3. That the time of admission be extended for two years, on condition of the applicant paying arrears with an additional sum of $2, $3, or $4 per annum, according to class, for the period in which he has neglected to enter.

All which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND (WESTERN SECTION)
 FOR THE YEAR ENDING APRIL 30, 1879.

Annuities have been paid during the year to twenty-two retired ministers, of whom three appear for the first time on the list presented to the Assembly, viz., Messrs. Thos. McPherson and William Meldrum, reported last year as admitted to the benefit of the Fund ; and Mr. Wm. Graham permitted by last Assembly to retire from the ministry, after thirty-five years of service. The payments to beneficiaries are as follow :—

			$4582 75

* Rev. D. Macrae remitted only $16 instead of $24, for rates for 1876-7 and 1877-8.

The amount paid to annuitants is $21.94 more than the amount paid during the previous year, but would have been about $400 more, had the income available, by the action of last Assembly, for current expenditure allowed of payments being made in full. The Assembly having ordered that bequests and donations should go to the increase of capital, and the income from other sources being insufficient to warrant the Committee to make full payments as usual, it was resolved to hold back in the meantime ten per cent. from the larger annuities (those of $250)—fourteen in number, not including Dr. Willis' allowance, which, being definitely fixed by the General Assembly, it was thought the Committee was not at liberty to reduce. It is greatly to be regretted that the Committee has been obliged to take this step. There is, however, no reason to regard it as a reduction in the proper sense of the term; and the Committee now ask the authority of the Assembly to pay up what has been held back, if the income of the year now current should warrant their doing so. That there is good ground to hope for this appears from the improvement in the state of the Fund reported this year.

The Income and Expenditure, as exhibited in the report of the Agent, are:—

I. INCOME.
Contributions from Congregations (including amount from Widows' Fund), Bequests, &c.....	$4,449 99
Interest.....	280 00
Rates paid by Ministers.....	969 55
	$5,699 54
II. EXPENDITURE.
Paid to Ministers.....	$4,582 75
Expenses of Committee (including Printing, &c.).....	93 25
Proportion of General Expenses.....	150 00
“ Salary.....	200 00
	$5,026 00

Comparing these figures with the corresponding figures of the previous year, it appears,

1. That, on the whole, the income of this year shows an increase of $2,218.84, and the expenditure an increase of $191.09; and that, while the expenditure of the previous year exceeded the income by $1,354.21, the income of this year exceeds the expenditure by $673.54.

2. That there has been a very large and encouraging increase in the congregational contributions. The amount received from bequests and donations, including $1,000 bequeathed by the late Mr. John McBean, of Toronto, is $1,050; so that we may say the Congregational Contributions for the year amount to $3,400, as against $1,900 last year, or are not far from double.

3. That there has been a small increase in the income derived from Ministers' Rates, the amount this year being $969.55, as against $903.41 last year—an increase of $66.14.

The Committee have been disappointed in their expectation of a large increase in the amount to be received from Ministers' Rates. Making all due allowance for the fact that the rate is a new feature in the scheme, they cannot but regret that the Assembly's requirement has not been more generally responded to; and they hope that this Assembly will emphatically remind all Ministers that their claim to the benefit of the Fund is conditional on their payment of the rate; and that no Minister will withhold payment, as some seem to do, till payment is more general, but that all will follow the example of those—now a majority—who have, to the great improvement of the Fund, more or less promptly complied with the requirement of the Assembly. If our hope in relation to Ministers' Rates is realized during the current year, and the Congregational Contributions continue to increase, there will be no difficulty in paying the Annuities for the year, and in making up for the reduction above referred to.

The Committee have endeavoured to carry out the instructions of the Assembly in disposing of the Income. They have added to the capital, by investing $1,005.06. They believed, however, that they might take advantage of the free balance of $383.25 to help them in keeping down the reduction which they were obliged to make. The balance this year is accordingly down to $51.73.

The Committee look to the Assembly to take such action and to authorize such steps as may lead to the further improvement of the Fund, which must be greatly improved, if claims, whose number will increase from year to year for some time to come, are to be adequately met. It is expected that several names will, by the action of this Assembly, be added to the list of beneficiaries. To meet our indebtedness (let us so call it) of $400, and to pay the twenty-four or twenty-five Annuities of the current year, it will be necessary that the Income from Congregational Contributions, Ministers' Rates, and Interest, be not much short of $6,000. But the Committee think that even more—not to say much more—than this is fully assured, if with an increase on the Congregational Contributions, the Ministers generally comply with the requirement of the Assembly. Among other steps that the Assembly may consider desirable in the interests of the Fund, the Committee are unanimous in respectfully pressing upon the Assembly the expediency of terminating the association of the Fund with the Widows' Fund. Hitherto the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund has occupied the position of half-a-scheme of the Church. If the Widows' Fund, with its large capital, giving interest of nearly $6,000, can safely occupy that position, it is, in the judgment of the Committee, not reasonable to keep in that position the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund, whose capital is not much more than enough to pay a single Annuitant, and whose expenditure in Annuities is now not much short of that of the Widows' Fund.

The Committee have given much consideration to the subject of having regard to other sources of retiring allowance, in determining the amount of annuity in particular cases. The subject, they feel, is a very delicate one. The conclusion to which they have come they now submit to the Assembly. They are persuaded, 1st, That there should be no alteration or modification of the present regulations that guide them in determining the amount given, up to the maximum hitherto reached, viz., $250; but, 2nd, That the Church should have in view the attainment of a maximum of $400, and that ministers whose retiring allowance from other sources is under $150, should, in the first instance, get the benefit of any improvement of the Fund that may warrant an increase on the present maximum; or, putting the matter otherwise, that annuities continue to be determined up to $250 as they are now, without any inquiries being made, or any regard had, to what annuitants may receive from any other source; but that the Committee shall not go beyond $250, unless, after inquiry, they find it to be necessary, with the view of securing to the annuitant a retiring income of $400. The following regulation would probably be sufficient, in the event of the Committee's views in the matter being endorsed by this or any future Assembly:—

"No annuity shall in the meantime exceed $250 in any case in which a retiring minister receives as such from any other source, or sources, income which, together with his annuity from this Fund, amounts to not less than $400."

The Committee have also had under consideration the proposal to fix the minimum annuity at $200. They are of the opinion that it is not desirable, in view of the present condition and capabilities of their Fund, to make any change in the regulations which now guide them; and they think that, in the case of a comparatively young man retiring from the active duties of the ministry, it is better that any additional allowance that peculiar circumstances may call for, should be granted under the regulation in which the Assembly reserves to itself its proper power of dealing with any case otherwise than in accordance with the regulations that guide the Committee.

The Committee commend to the favourable consideration of the Assembly a request presented by Mr. Robert Jamieson of New Westminster, British Columbia, that, notwithstanding his present connection with the Presbytery there, he be allowed to retain his interest in the Fund, on condition of his paying the ministerial rate and sending an annual congregational contribution. Mr. Jamieson's position is well known to the Assembly, and a former Assembly agreed that he should retain his interest in the Widow's Fund on the same conditions as those which accompany his present request.

Respectfully submitted.

JAMES MIDDLEMISS, Convener.

5. The expenditure for the year exceeded the income by $337.29. Last year it exceeded the income by $247.85.

6. The state of the fund at present is as follows :—

Invested	$6124 17
Balance due Treasurer	178 60
	$5945 57

7. There were in the Eastern Section of the Church last year 145 congregations with settled pastors; 46 congregations gave collections to the fund. 78 Ministers have paid the rates required of them to entitle them to being placed upon the fund.

8. If the fund is to be maintained in efficiency, it is necessary that the regulation requiring every congregation to make an annual collection for the fund should be faithfully carried out.

9. We respectfully ask the General Assembly to order that, without permission from the General Assembly, no reduction shall be made upon the capital invested and that all donations and bequests shall be added to it, except when otherwise ordered by the donors.

10. With respect to the overture referred to the Committees on the funds for Aged and Infirm Ministers, we beg to say that we strongly approve of granting every minister who retires by leave of the General Assembly, after ten years' service, an annuity of two hundred dollars. We are also of opinion that in the meantime a larger sum than two hundred dollars should not be granted in any case.

11. In an appendix to this report we give a brief historical sketch of the fund, a list of the ministers who have paid their rates, a statement showing the sum contributed last year by each Presbytery, and a list of the annuitants.

All which is respectfully submitted.

A. McLEAN SINCLAIR, Convener.

APPENDICES.

I. HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE FUND.

The subject of having an Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund was brought to the notice of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of the Lower Provinces in 1809. It was brought up by an overture from the Presbytery of Halifax. The overture was adopted with great unanimity and cordiality. It was resolved that a fund be immediately established. A Committee of Management was appointed. It was authorized to seek subscriptions from ministers, and donations from the wealthier members of the Church. In 1870 the Committee reported that in the Presbyteries of Halifax, Pictou, and Tatamagouche, the ministers had made subscriptions, and that relief had been extended to one aged minister. In 1871 rules for the management of the fund were adopted. Authority also was given to the Committee to appeal to the congregations throughout the whole Church, and sessions were enjoined to contribute to the fund either by collections or subscriptions, among the members of the congregations. A yearly collection was not asked. No further regulations were passed until 1877. The following is a brief exhibit of the sums received and the sums expended from the origination of the fund in 1869 to May 1st, 1877 :—

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON STATISTICS, 1878-79.

In preparing the blank forms for Statistical and Financial Returns, the Committee inserted two columns with headings which have not previously appeared, and regarding the propriety of which there may be some difference of opinion. One is in the Schedule for Statistics, and was intended to ascertain the number of members and adherents in each congregation not contributing to the support of ordinances and other religious objects. The thought will occur that, in such a land as Canada, there can be but a small number unable to give for these purposes, and that Managers and Sessions of congregations would see to it that those who were able fulfilled so positive a duty, or would not regard them either as members or adherents. Your Committee may state that if the conclusion may be adopted that there are no such persons in congregations which return no answer to the question, then, in by far the greatest number, all are contributors; yet there is not a Presbytery heard from in which there are not some, the one having the greatest number being that of Hamilton; next, that of Lanark and Renfrew, and the third that of Pictou, the number in each of these being upwards of three hundred, and the entire number throughout the Church amounting to 4,051, or less than four per cent. upon the membership, for your Committee have not taken means to ascertain the number of adherents. It is only proper to observe here that the Presbytery of Newfoundland returns the answer "a few," and that no report has been received from the Presbytery of Quebec for reasons shortly to be stated.

In the Report of the "Committee on Supplements—Maritime Provinces," laid before last General Assembly, there was the following recommendation: "Should the Maritime Supplementary Committee be continued as at present in the administration of a distinct fund, it would respectfully ask the General Assembly to direct its Committee on Statistics and Finance to open another column in the Schedules, so that money given to this fund may appear under its proper heading." The Assembly referred the recommendation to the consideration of your Committee, and they agreed to follow it, although at the expense of another column, there not being sufficient space on the sheet by whose size they have to be governed for retaining the old one and adding the new. Altogether fourteen Presbyteries, out of thirty-four, contribute to this fund, eleven of them being in the Maritime Provinces; Joseph Hamilton, and Huelo, being the only ones in the Western Section, the amount raised by them being only $21.70. It will be for the Committee appointed for next year to consider whether it is advisable to continue the column, as the fund is so purely local, especially as there is another one in which the entries may be appropriately made, and whether one of more general interest may not take its place.

Your Committee are sorry to have to state that there is no report from the Presbytery of Quebec. The present clerk of that Presbytery is not to blame for this, as he writes that the Returns were not delivered over to him by his predecessor in office, to whom they had been forwarded. Mr. Lindsay, the person referred to, having left the bounds, there has been no opportunity of corresponding with him on the matter, but the Convener has sent a letter to the family inquiring after the Returns, and it is hoped they may be procured and inserted before this report goes to press. The report of Chalmers' Church, Quebec, is in the possession of the Committee, but no use has been made of it. In compiling this report the statistics of that Presbytery for the preceding year have been employed in all the items in which they correspond with those for the year with which we are now dealing.

Two recommendations contained in the report of the Committee laid before the General Assembly, at its meeting in Hamilton last year, and adopted by them, have not been complied with by all the Presbyteries, namely, that vacancies and Mission Stations should be required to report, as well as settled charges; and, that where a pastoral charge consisted of more than one congregation a separate return should be made by each. By most Presbyteries the returns of such are combined, and this cannot be in all cases owing to want of space on the sheet prepared for Presbyteries, for it occurs in some which occupy only a small part of one. Your Committee think that both recommendations are valuable and should again be enjoined, for thereby the relative and actual strength of all congregations will be ascertained and the extent to which they are exerting themselves in the interests of the Church—one will not be hidden under another; and, in order to a complete presentation of the state and prospects of the Church, Mission Stations in which there are so many members and adherents, in which important work is being carried on and in which not a little is done, not merely for the support of ordinances, but also for the more general work of the Church, should be duly and fully returned. It is true that Presbyteries have considerable trouble in procuring information from each for the Home Mission Committee. This is obtained from all, because if not forthcoming, aid from the Home Mission Fund would be declined. In several particulars the information is precisely the same as asked by the Committee on Statistics and its value should be regarded as deserving the additional trouble of collecting it. In all instances in which reports have been received from Mission Stations the figures have been incorporated with those of organized congregations. Attention is called to this, for it may be thought that in giving averages, injustice is done by following this course to the members of regular congregations.

Your Committee have pleasure in stating that the Returns for the year have been fuller than usual and it is hoped that within a very short period every congregation and station will be heard from. Every Minister and Moderator of Sessions in vacancies should feel themselves bound to have reports forwarded to the Clerks of their Presbyteries in good time; some Clerks are put to a great amount of trouble for the want of due diligence here, and they are deserving of commendation for the pains they take to have the Returns from their Presbyteries as full as possible. It is within the knowledge of your Committee that one Clerk applied six times to a congregation without success, and it was only after laying the matter before the Presbytery and receiving their injunction that the Returns were sent in.

Collecting the returns which have come to hand, and not attempting to account for certain discrepancies which will be obvious, but dealing simply with the figures as they have been furnished, it is found that there are now 857 pastoral charges, not reckoning Manitoba, vacant or settled, in the Church, or 110 more than embraced in the reports for the previous year; and 1027 congregations, also exclusive of Manitoba, often two, or even more than two of these constituting a Pastoral Charge. The total number of ministers, including those who are retired with their names on the Rolls of Presbyteries, and ordained missionaries when they have been returned, and a teacher in the bounds of the Presbytery of Chatham, and the Professors in Queen's College, Kingston, and the College in Manitoba, is 637, or 19 more than for 1877-78. The entire number of vacancies is 110 with 92 mission stations. The number of vacancies would be expected to be much greater, for, if there are 857 Pastoral charges, and 637 ministers, including some that are not in the active work of the pastorate, the vacancies should be precisely double what they are reported. Reports have been received from 794 congregations and stations, most of these combining where the Charge consists of more than one congregation, and 104 give no report, but in the case of these the Committee have reckoned by congregations when able to do so, and not by Pastoral Charges. In three instances Statistics only have been reported, and in one only Finances. The Presbytery of Toronto stands highest in the number of its Pastoral Charges and congregations, London stands next, and Hamilton third. The Presbytery of Newfoundland contains the fewest, and is the only one under ten. Fourteen Presbyteries contain between ten and twenty; fourteen between twenty and thirty; two between thirty and forty, and two above forty, Manitoba not being reckoned. The number of churches and stations is 1613, being 214 more than were reported for the preceding year, while that again showed an increase of 357 on the one before it. Let it not be supposed that this increase is attributable solely to fuller returns than formerly, neither let it be concluded that so many new churches and stations have arisen; the increase is owing to both causes, and the latter affords proof that the Presbyterian Church is lengthening her cords and strengthening her stakes through the energy and liberality of her people, the faithfulness and activity of her office-bearers, and, above all, by the blessing of her Great King and Head, who, according to His promise, is pouring out His Spirit from on high. What great reason she has to thank God and take courage.

Families belonging to the Church sum up to 64,162, or 3,416 more than for the former year, and, supposing each family to consist of five persons, giving 320,810 of a population, or say one-tenth of the inhabitants of the Dominion. The 104 non-reporting congregations may be taken to include about 9,000 families at the lowest, thus giving a total of 73,162 and an addition of 45,000 to the population.

The number of communicants, according to the Returns, is 107,715 against 98,830 the preceding year, showing an increase of 8,885, and 3,842 over the increase of the former year, yet not an average of two to each family. Is not this a fact worthy of the serious consideration of Ministers and ruling Elders, for, generally speaking, and not losing sight of the difficulties which some experience about enrolling themselves with those in full communion with the Church, ought not all parents at least be on the roll of membership in the congregation with which they worship. During the year 11,308 communicants have been added, but the schedules were not prepared so as to show how many of these were admitted on their own profession and how many on certificate, an omission which it would be well to have supplied another year; and 6,490 have been removed—not from the pale of the Church, for it must be hoped that while removed from the congregation with which they were formerly connected they have joined others elsewhere, while some have entered the eternal world.

The largest number of non-paying members and adherents is in the Presbytery of Montreal, and reasons for this will at once suggest themselves; the next is in the Presbytery of Hamilton, and the next in that of Pictou, in each above three hundred. The Presbytery of Toronto reports only fifty-five and that of Huron only fifteen.

Nine thousand eight hundred and fifty-one persons, in some cases adults, have been received into the Church by baptism, and have thus been placed under the oversight of Sessions, while their parents, in the case of infants, have engaged to bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. Of these a goodly number will, in the course of time, personally profess their faith in Christ, and fill places from which others have been removed by death; and some of them may be endued with power from on high, and be called to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ at home or abroad. Her membership by baptism constitutes an important and interesting part of the Church.

Four thousand and seventy-seven elders—366 more than in the former year—are associated with ministers in the oversight of the House of God, and are giving the benefit of their knowledge, wisdom and piety to congregations and the Church, through her Courts—subordinate or supreme. Weekly meetings for prayer are attended by 32,648 persons, an increase of 1,523; 78,628 are receiving instruction in Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes, under a staff of 8,208 teachers, or nearly an average of ten to each.

Passing from the Statistics to the Finances, the Stipend reported as promised from all sources amounts to $533,797.52, but in some cases the amount is not given, and the same remark applies to the amount paid by congregation alone. Even this, however, shows an increase of $39,327.18 over the year 1877-78, and an increase of $66,522.07 over the year 1876-77. Omitting the Professors in Colleges whose names have been returned, this gives an average of about $850 to each minister. The Stipend actually paid by congregations alone was $475,573.39 or an average of $755 very nearly. Your Committee cannot institute a comparison on this item with the previous year, as no return on it was required, nor with the year before that as the corresponding column was headed in the schedule for it "Stipend paid from all sources." Taking the sum paid from the amount promised, there would be left $58,224.13 to be charged to other sources than congregational liberality and to arrearages; and if these last could be confined entirely to the year, which evidently they cannot, it would leave $35,079.73 derived from "other sources."

The column headed "Arrears due by congregation at date" is an unpleasant one to read. Only one Presbytery out of the thirty-four is blank, namely, that of Paris, which, it is believed, was the first to set such a good example, and which has maintained it for years. In some Presbyteries these arrearages are formidable. In the Presbytery of Sydney, for instance, they aggregate $2,671.55 out of a stipend promised from all sources of $6,774.00, and must be the accumulation of years. In that of Victoria and Richmond they aggregate $1,052.59, out of a stipend promised from all sources of $2,586.00, or nearly fifty per cent. In the Presbytery of Peterborough they sum up to $1,452.76, the stipend promised being $16,405.00, or about nine per cent.; and in that of Barrie to $1,729.70, the stipend promised being $17,519.00, not quite ten per cent. The total arrears are $23,144.40; last year they were only $10,292.64. In the report for 1876-77 six Presbyteries had no arrears. In that for 1877-78 four had none; in this year only one. Some Presbyteries show a decrease in the arrears since last year, and some an increase. Sydney, for example, has about $200 less than in the former year. Victoria and Richmond has reduced its arrears more than one-half; Miramichi the same, and Montreal by nearly $400. It is gratifying to be able to record these facts. May they be regarded as the result of the recommendation made in last Report, and adopted by the Assembly, that "Presbyteries be instructed to deal at once with congregations in arrears of stipend to their pastors." Your Committee trust this Assembly will repeat the instruction, and call on Presbyteries to report their diligence in the matter, and the results.

Total contributions for strictly congregational purposes amount to $915,231.37, or $49,366.48 more than in the Report for last year, and nearly $65,000 more than for the year preceeding that one.

To the Supplementary Scheme of the Synod of the Maritime Provinces $2,795.60 have been contributed, it may be said, all by the eleven Presbyteries in the Eastern section of the Dominion. To the College Funds $29,249.14 have been contributed; an increase upon the revenue of last year. To the Home Mission Fund $26,574.74, being upwards of $7,000 of an increase. To French Evangelization $12,854.58, a decrease on last year. To Foreign Missions, $21,254.62, an increase of $2,140.75.

In the Report of the Committee for last year it was recommended that Presbyteries should encourage the missionary spirit in their Sabbath schools, and afford opportunity to those attending them to aid in the extension of the kingdom of Christ. It was also remarked that there had been a great falling off in Sabbath school contributions as compared with the year immediately preceding. This year there is an increase of $1,013.41, the total amount raised being $12,599.53, or an average of sixteen cents to each scholar. In some of the congregations no contributions are raised by the Sabbath schools for mission purposes. This is not as it should be. Enjoying the benefits of Christian instruction specially designed and provided for them, they should be given to understand their obligation to assist in the spread of the Gospel. Belonging to the Church of Christ they should be taught to take an interest in her work. Most, if not all, of them favoured with missionary intelligence, let them know their duty to those in the regions beyond which the Gospel has not reached, or only of late, or in which it is contending against old and firmly-established systems of superstition and idolatry. Having to a greater or less extent command of means, or access to them, let them give according to their ability, and the Lord will accept and bless. Would it not be well for the Assembly to instruct Presbyteries when they are holding their Sabbath school conferences, in some part of which addresses are generally delivered to Sabbath school children assembled for the purpose, also ministers as well as Sabbath school superintendents and teachers to bring this means of well-doing before the young, that they may early enlist as active soldiers on the side of Christ against the rulers of the darkness of this world and spiritual wickedness in high places.

The contributions to the Aged and Infirm Ministers' and Widows' and Orphans' Funds have been $7,181.83, which is only $665.77 above those of the preceding year—an increase, it is understood, greatly needed, and to which a considerable addition must be made in order to place these funds in a healthy condition.

The contributions to Assembly, Synod and Presbytery Funds aggregate $9,570.68, an increase of $1,239.

For all purposes there have been raised by congregations and stations reporting $1,110,380.97. Last year the amount was $1,030,386.32, thus showing an increase of $79,994.65, as against an increase of $44,270.99 for the previous year,—a sum which speaks most favourably for the liberality of the Church, especially when it is considered that seldom, if ever, has there been such a year of financial pressure in almost every line of business as the past one has been. "He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed." "The liberal soul shall be made fat, and he that watereth others shall be watered also himself."

It is too soon yet to give a detailed statement of the sums raised for different Church purposes since the union. Another year, at least, must be allowed to pass before attempting this; but your Committee cannot avoid stating now, that in these last three years the sum of $3,124,727.53 has been raised for all purposes. "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

In some of the Presbyteries large amounts have been raised this past year. Toronto heads the list with its $121,033.46; Montreal comes next, with its $97,764.74; Hamilton third, with its $82,791.4; Guelph fourth, with its $59,688.15; London fifth, with its $55,109.66; Halifax sixth, with its $49,744.09, and not to proceed further, St. John seventh, with its $49,315.21; these seven Presbyteries, with their 21,909 families, and 40,108 communicants, raising an aggregate of $515,446.80. Your Committee do not wish to be understood as meaning that the liberality of these Presbyteries is proportionately greater than that of others. To determine this a different plan must be pursued from looking at figures in the bulk. They will, therefore, give the average contribution of each Presbytery per family and per communicant for all purposes, without descending to more minute details:—

Throughout the whole Church the contributions have been at the rate of $17.30 per family, and $10.30 per communicant.

* Nearly.

Your Committee learn from the Home Mission Committee's Report for the Western Section, that there were 3,707 families and 4,162 communicants connected with mission fields and stations, and that these paid for supplies during the year, including board, $16,049.14; and for building $12,939.18, an average per family, for the former, of $4.32, and for the latter $3.49; and an average per communicant for the former of $3.85, and for the latter of $3.10, or an average to each family on the whole amount of $7.82, and to each communicant of nearly $7.

"The Lord hath been mindful of us; he will bless us; he will bless the house of Israel; he will bless the house of Aaron."

For the purpose of securing more space on the Schedule for Finances by the insertion of columns for other information, in addition to that now sought, your Committee would recommend that the columns for cents be omitted in the Presbytery Returns, and that all sums under fifty cents be omitted, and all sums of fifty cents and upwards be reckoned one dollar.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION.

The Committee on Theological Education beg to report the following regulations with reference to Theological Education :—

1. Parents are earnestly and affectionately reminded of the duty of dedicating to the Lord for service in the holy ministry such of their children as, by possession of the requisite qualifications, seem marked out by the Head of the Church as proper persons to receive training for this office.

2. Sessions and Presbyteries are enjoined to make diligent and careful enquiry whether any young men are to be found within their bounds whose attention should be specially directed to the claims of Christ upon them with respect to the ministry of this Church, and to aid and encourage in all proper ways such suitable young men as may declare their purpose to consecrate themselves to this sacred vocation, watchfully keeping their eye upon any in their congregations who are prosecuting a liberal education, and whose piety and abilities make it desirable that their thoughts should be turned towards the ministerial office.

3. Presbyteries shall exercise a kind and faithful supervision over students and intending students resident within their bounds, and shall always endeavour to inculcate upon them worthy views of the exalted office to which they aspire, and to encourage them in the arduous course of study by which the Church has wisely determined that the ministry should be reached.

4. It is the duty of Presbyteries to examine all persons presenting themselves as entrants on the study of Theology, respecting their moral and religious characters, their motives, and their general fitness to study for the ministry; and if satisfied, to certify them to the College, or the Board of Examiners connected with the College in which they propose to study.

5. It is required of Presbyteries to prescribe to students—whether in Theology or in the Preparatory Course—resident within their bounds during summer, a written exercise; and, if satisfied therewith, as also with the deportment of the students, and with any mission work done by them, to certify them accordingly to the Senate of their College.

6. Students on entering Theology, or on intimating their purpose to study for the ministry, must be members of the Church in full communion; and all such students are required, during their course, to be in communion with a congregation of the church in the place where they are prosecuting their studies.

7. Students are recommended to take a full course in Arts in some approved College, and obtain the degree before entering on the study of Theology.

8. With the view of encouraging Students to take a full University course, Senates and Boards of Examiners are enjoined to use their best endeavours to institute scholarships which may be annually competed for by students taking such course.

9. Students who are unable to take the full course of Graduates are required, after passing a preliminary examination, to complete a three years' curriculum in some approved College, and to pass the examinations connected therewith; but in no case shall an actual attendance on the classes of less than two years be accepted, unless by permission of the General Assembly.

The preliminary examination shall embrace the following subjects :—

Latin—Grammar and easy prose authors; Greek—Grammar and easy prose authors; Mathematics—Arithmetic, Euclid, B. I., and Algebra, first four rules; English Grammar and Composition; Geography and English History.

The classes of the three years' course, shall be as follows :—

2nd Year.—Latin and Greek, Logic and Junior Philosophy, Natural Science and Physics.

3rd Year.—Latin and Greek, Senior Philosophy, Hebrew.

10. A student shall not, unless by special permission of the General Assembly, be admitted to the study of Theology, unless he is a Graduate in Arts of some approved University, or has completed the three years' preparatory course, or three years of a regular University course.

An Arts course, as here recognized, must embrace the study of Greek; and all Students admitted to Theology must have an elementary knowledge of Hebrew.

11. The course in Theology shall extend over three full sessions of six months each, and shall embrace the following subjects of study, viz. :—

Apologetics, Systematic Theology, Exegetics, Biblical Criticism, Church History, Homiletics, and Pastoral Theology.

12. Absolute uniformity in the order of developing the course in the several Colleges cannot be enforced; but it is recommended that Church History, including Biblical History, Systematic Theology, and Exegetics shall extend over the three sessions; that Apologetics, shall extend over two sessions; and that Biblical Criticism, Homiletics and Pastoral Theology, shall be taught during one session.

13. Besides attending the classes and preparing the ordinary class exercises prescribed by the Professors, every student shall be required to give in, during the period of his Theological studies, the following discourses: (a) a Homily; (b) a popular Sermon; (c) a Lecture; (d) a Greek and a Hebrew critical exercise, with additions.

14. At the end of each Session in Theology, every student shall be certified by the several Professors under whom he has studied, or by his College, with respect to the regularity of his attendance, his satisfactory performance of the work required of him, and as to the propriety of his conduct; and students shall, at the earliest opportunity after the close of the Session, present their certificates to the Presbytery within whose bounds they expect chiefly to reside; during the recess of the College.

15. The examinations for entrance into College Classes, whether Literary or Theological, and those held at the close of each Session, in connection with the work of the Session, together with the examinations for Scholarships offered to University Students, shall be conducted by the Senate, or by the Board of Examiners (where such a Board exists), of his respective College.

MINUTES OF COMMISSION IN MATTER OF BROOKSDALE PETITION.

At Stratford, and within Knox Church there, the eleventh day of July, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, the Commission appointed by the General Assembly in the matter of a petition from Brooksdale, praying to be placed within the bounds of the Presbytery of Stratford, met and was constituted. Sederunt, Dr. Topp, Convener, in the chair, Principal Caven, Dr. Robb, Mr. D. J. Macdonnell, Honourable John McMurrieh, and Mr. James MacLennan, Q.C. Dr. Reid, one of the Clerks of the General Assembly, was present, and acted as Clerk.

The Minute of Assembly appointing the Commission was read. The Petition referred to the Commission by the Assembly was also read.

The Convener stated that, in accordance with the instructions of Assembly, he had cited the Presbytery of London, the Presbytery of Stratford, and the congregations of Harrington, Embro, Thamesford, and Burns' Church, East Zorra.

The various parties having been called, there appeared for the petitioners Mr. T. McPherson, Mr. E. W. Waits, Mr. W. J. McBurney, Mr. W. Wilson, Mr. A. Innes, Mr. W. Innes, Mr. A. McDonald, and Mr. Geo. Cormack; for the Presbytery of London, Mr. G. Munro; for the Presbytery of Stratford, Mr. T. McPherson, Mr. J. W. Mitchell, Mr. Robb; for the congregation of Harrington, Mr. G. Munro, Mr. J. Matheson, and Mr. W. Murray; for the congregation of Embro, Mr. G. Munro, Mr. R. Murray, Mr. A. McCorquodale, Mr. James Munro, and Mr. R. Forbes; for the congregation of Thamesford, Mr. Geo. McKay, and Mr. D. Morri-son; and for Burns' Church, East Zorra, Mr. A. McTavish, Mr. D. McLevin, Mr. Donald Sutherland, and Mr. A. Murray.

There were read extract minutes of the Synod of Hamilton and London, instructing petitioners to apply to the General Assembly to be placed within the bounds of the Presbytery of Stratford.

The Commission then proceeded to hear petitioners, and the representatives of the Presbyteries of London and Stratford and of the several congregations cited.

Several questions were asked and answered. Parties having been removed, the Commission proceeded to deliberate on the case before them. The following resolution, moved by Dr. Robb, seconded by Mr. Macdonnell, was unanimously adopted, "That the parties claiming to belong to the Presbyterian Church of Zorra, formerly in connection with the Church of Scotland, and now before this Commission as memorialists, be declared, and they are hereby declared, to be properly within the bounds of the Presbytery of Stratford, and are now placed under the ecclesiastical jurisdiction of that Presbytery."

Parties were recalled, and the judgment of the Commission announced to them.

Mr. McPherson, in name of the petitioners, craved extracts. Mr. G. Munro and Mr. J. W. Mitchell also craved extracts in behalf of the Presbyteries of London and Stratford respectively. These were ordered to be given.

The meeting of the Commission was then closed with the Benediction.

ADDRESS TO HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.

UNTO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,—

May it please Your Majesty:

We, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, now convened in General Assembly, desire again to approach Your Majesty in order to testify our loyal attachment to Your Majesty's throne and person.

We rejoice to know that the grave crisis which, when we last addressed Your Majesty, threatened the welfare of the Empire over which God has appointed your Majesty to preside, has passed away, and we desire to express our earnest hope that the present troubles affecting remoter parts of the Empire may be so overruled as to issue in an honourable and lasting peace.

We beg to assure Your Majesty of the pleasure with which we, in common with all the people of Our New Dominion, have welcomed among us Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise, the illustrious consort of His Excellency the Governor-General, and that we regard the presence of Her Royal Highness in Our Land as a special token of Your Majesty's interest in our welfare and prosperity.

We desire to convey to Your Majesty the expression of our profound and heartfelt sympathy in the recent bereavement which has fallen upon Your royal household, and our sincere prayer that the God of all Comfort may grant Your Majesty abundant consolation.

We pray that Your Majesty may long be spared to reign over a united and loyal people, and to afford Your loving subjects the influence of Your Majesty's illustrious example; and that the blessing of Almighty God may be richly vouchsafed to Your Majesty and all the members of Your Royal Families.

In name, and by appointment of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

OTTAWA, 20th June, 1879.

ADDRESS TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE SIR JOHN DOUGLAS SUTHERLAND CAMPBELL, MARQUIS OF LOBNE, GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CANADA.

May it please Your Excellency:

We, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, met in General Assembly in the city of Ottawa, gladly embrace the opportunity of assuring Your Excellency of our loyalty and devotion to Her Majesty's person and Government, and of expressing our high satisfaction that our beloved Sovereign has selected as Her representative in this Dominion, a statesman whose character and public services command the entire confidence of the people of this portion of the British Empire.

Highly appreciating the invaluable privilege of civil and religious liberty, which as individuals, and as a Church Court, we enjoy, we cannot forget that this heritage has been won for us by the fidelity and the sacrifices of heroic men in the fatherland; and we are thankful to have over us a ruler whose ancestors, in times of great trial, have proved themselves standard-bearers in the cause of Truth and Freedom.

We claim, as "the Presbyterian Church in Canada," to represent a branch of the Church of Christ, with which your Excellency's ancestors have been so long connected; and with whose history, the house of Argyll, as one of the great historical families of Great Britain, will ever remain identified.

We regret that, owing to Your Excellency's absence, it has not been possible for us to seek permission to approach Your Excellency, and present this address by a deputation from the General Assembly of our Church.

In common with all our fellow-countrymen, we gratefully recognize the honour bestowed on us by Her Majesty, in sending to us a representative so closely allied to Her royal person, and in committing to the care of Her loyal Canadian people, a member of Her family, equally distinguished by her personal accomplishments, and beloved for her virtue; and we fully approve, and would now reiterate, the expression of our heartfelt sympathy with Her Royal Highness, in her recent painful bereavement, communicated through your Excellency by our late Moderator.

We beg leave to assure Your Excellency that the prayers, not only of this General Assembly, but of our people from Newfoundland to British Columbia, will continue to ascend to the Throne of Grace, that Your Excellency may be richly endowed with wisdom from Him "by whom kings reign, and princes decree justice," and so strengthened for the discharge of the duties of your high position, that your administration of public affairs, directed and blessed by God, may advance the welfare of the people of Canada, and at the same time conduce to the peace and happiness of yourself and of your illustrious consort.

In name, and by the authority of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

OTTAWA, 20th June, 1879.

HALIFAX, May 1st, 1879.

We hereby certify that we have audited the accounts of the Agent of the General Assembly for the Maritime Provinces carefully, comparing the various entries with the vouchers, and have found them correct.

We consider it our duty to call the attention of the General Assembly to the fact that nearly all the funds are in debt, and to express our opinion that the practice of continued loans to carry on the work of the Church is of dangerous tendency.

We have accordingly advised the Agent not to negotiate a further loan as proposed for the Supplementing Fund, without further instructions from the General Assembly.

FINANCE REPORT—TORONTO SECTION.—1878-9.

The accounts of the several schemes for the past year, herewith presented, show the amounts received and expended for each and the state of the several funds at the close of the financial year. While in not a few cases the balance is on the wrong side, it is gratifying to observe that, with very few exceptions, the amounts actually received during the past year have been in advance of the preceding year's receipts, notwithstanding the general depression of business and the scarcity of money. The following is a comparative statement of the receipts of the principal schemes of the Church as compared with those of the preceding year.

Years.	Colleges.	Foreign Mis.	Home Mis.	Wid. Fund.	Aged and Infirm M.	Assembly.
1877-8	$9,432 55	$21,170 83	$29,839 15	$2,643 77	$2,077 29	$3,311 24
1878-9	8,677 12	21,815 30	29,688 31	3,438 63	3,649 90	3,239 40
	—$755 43	+$644 56	—$49 19	+794 86	+1,572 70	—77 86

These figures include, in both years, collections, donations and legacies.

In the reports of the Committees connected with the various schemes the state of the funds will be more particularly dwelt upon.

In the Assembly Fund there is a small falling off in the receipts. Were the comparatively small amount asked, viz., five cents per member, paid by all the congregations, the amount would suffice for all ordinary purposes. In accordance with the deliverance of last Assembly, a small charge was made for printing the reports of those schemes which have separate funds. It is recommended that, as last year, the several Presbyteries be instructed to see that the amount for the Assembly Fund be collected and remitted by the end of the month of September.

The accounts which follow have been audited and certified by the Honourable John McMurich and John L. Blaikie, Esquire.

In presenting to the General Assembly the usual Annual Statement of what has been accomplished on behalf of Foreign Missions by the Western Section of the Church, your Committee have nothing very striking to report. The work placed under their care has gone on much as usual. In the various fields occupied the missionaries continue to labour with fidelity and energy, and an encouraging measure of success has been granted, but no very signal achievements can be registered. It has been, on the whole, rather a time of sowing the seed than of gathering in the harvest. It is, however, matter of thankfulness that the good results already manifest in the fields in which your Committee have been operating are sufficient to make sense auxiliary to faith in grasping the assurance that in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

I. MISSION TO THE INDIANS IN THE NORTH-WEST.

At Prince Albert, on the Saskatchewan, the oldest of our mission stations, two ordained missionaries have laboured during the year, viz.: Rev. Messrs. D. C. Johnson and John Mackay. Mr. Johnson has taken the general oversight of the mission interests, and has conducted the mission school with marked ability and satisfactory results. Owing to the scattered nature of the settlement and the presence in it, at no great distance, of a rival school recently established by another denomination, the attendance has not increased to any large extent, but it is quite as good as could be reasonably expected. The average has been about thirty during the year. The school has been kept open regularly, with the exception of a few weeks when, owing to the outbreak of scarlet fever in the settlement, it was found necessary to close it. The pupils have been taught the ordinary branches of a sound English education, and carefully trained in the knowledge of the Scriptures and of the shorter catechism. A considerable portion of Mr. Johnson's salary has been met by the contributions of the parents whose children attend the school. Your Committee hope that at no distant day it will be found possible, with due regard to all the interests which require to be conserved, to transfer the entire support of the school to the community more specially benefited by it. Owing to the removal of the Indians from the neighbourhood, it can no longer be regarded as to any large extent a mission agency. It is, however, doing work of great importance to the Church in the settlement; and it has been considered expedient to continue to the school a reduced grant, for at least one year, after Mr. Johnson leaves the field. The period for which he went to Prince Albert expires in autumn, and it is expected he will then return to Ontario. Rev. Donald Ross who goes out to take charge of the Home mission work at Prince Albert, and from whose presence your Committee anticipates much good, both to the Home and Foreign mission work, is very anxious to have the school continued for a time. And it is understood that when he removes to that distant out-post with his family, he will be accompanied by a lady of whose experience and ability as a teacher your Committee have had the most satisfactory testimonials. She will be prepared to take charge of the school when Mr. Johnson leaves. And for her support the Committee have agreed to make a grant for one year.

Rev. John Mackay has had special charge of the work among the Cree Indians in connection with the Prince Albert Mission, and very satisfactory accounts of his labours have been received. From his intimate knowledge of the language, character and habits of the Cree Indians, there seems good reason to hope that, through the divine blessing, he will accomplish much good. He has two fields to which he chiefly devotes himself. The one lies on the south branch of the Saskatchewan, about twenty-eight miles from Prince Albert. At this point a considerable number of Indians are settled upon two Reserves nearly adjoining each other. Between these Reserves a grant of land has been obtained for the benefit of the mission, and steps have been taken to erect upon it, without delay, a plain building in which religious meetings can be held, or a school kept. The other field is Sturgeon Lake, on the north side of the north branch of the Saskatchewan, and about twenty miles from Prince Albert. The Indians settled on this reserve are heathen, and have hitherto refused to permit missionaries to settle among them. Mr. Mackay is personally acceptable to them, and there seems every reason to believe that they will allow him to labour permanently among them. When this has been definitely ascertained, steps will require to be taken to erect a suitable building for meetings.

Rev. Geo. Flett continues to reside at Okanase, and from this centre he travels over a field two or three hundred miles in extent, preaching to the Indians in their own tongue, and administering, as occasion requires, Christian ordinances. He seems to be doing excellent service. He has visited Fort Ellice five times, Shoal Lake seven times, and Fort Pelly and Bird-Tail Creek once each during the year. When he is at home he preaches twice, and occasionally three times every Sabbath, and holds a prayer meeting on a week day. He conducts a Sabbath school once or twice, according to circumstances, on the Lord's Day. Mr. Flett reports for a period of less than ten months, twenty-nine baptisms, five marriages, and four deaths. He has twelve communicants enrolled in the fellowship of the church at Okanase, and four more preparing for admission at the next sacramental season. He is constantly coming in contact with heathen Indians, and finds many opportunities of commending to them the Gospel of Christ. Not a few of the Indians to whom he ministers had been baptized in the Romish Church, and the priest is now making great exertions to recover them to the fold, but the great majority of them remain steadfast in their attachment to the truth. He mentions as many as twenty-five who were baptized in the Romish faith who appear to have broken completely with that system of error.

Near Fort Ellice, an interesting work has been carried on among the Sioux or Dakota Indians who came over from the United States to British soil some years ago. Reserves have been set apart for them and they are likely to be permanent residents. The missionary, Rev. Solomon Tunkansuicoye, is himself a Dakota Indian who cannot write in the English language, and consequently the information your committee are in a position to give respecting his work, is not very abundant. He appears, however, to be prosecuting his work quietly and faithfully, and to enjoy the confidence of the members of the Presbytery of Manitoba who are best acquainted with his labours. It is stated that many of the Dakota Indians appear to be anxious about their future state, but not many of the heathen have made an open confession, although they come to hear the Word. The baptism of only one adult and two children has been reported to us. But as no recent information from the missionary has been received, this statement cannot be regarded as giving any idea of the work accomplished during the year. An old chief named Enoch has recently been made an elder. The missionary visited during the winter Portage La Prairie and all the Sioux tents in that neighbourhood. It is to be hoped that your committee next year will be in a position to give fuller details of this department of the work. The attendance at the Roseau School, near Pembina, has not increased during the year. Indeed it is reported as showing only an average of 11½ during the time the school has been kept open. Your committee did not feel warranted in expending any large amount of the funds entrusted to them upon the school; they agreed, however, to grant $150.00 upon the condition that the school should be kept open for seven months. This arrangement has been carried out.

II.—MISSION TO CHINA.

In this field steady progress continues to be made, and a growing body of the people are obedient to the faith. Rev. G. L. McKay pursues the course which he has followed with such marked success from the beginning. He travels almost constantly through the country dispensing medicine to the sick and preaching the glorious gospel from place to place until almost every corner of Northern Formosa has had an opportunity of hearing the glad tidings of salvation. He is usually attended on his tours by a body of students whom he is training by his example and by the instructions imparted daily, to become intelligent and effective heralds of the cross. There are now fifteen chapels connected with the mission, each of which enjoys the services of a trained native helper. Last year thirteen chapels were reported. Since the last Report Teck-Chham, the largest city in Northern Formosa, has been occupied. It is the only walled city in the north of the island, and has a population of 50,000 or 60,000 inhabitants. Bangkok and Teck-Chham, are the most important centres in the region in which the Canadian Mission operates, and they are now both occupied for Christ. The opposition has been very bitter in those large cities where the influence of the literary and official class is powerful. In Teck-Chham, if the hostility was less violent, at first, than at Bangkok, it does not appear to be less deep seated. A more letter lately received from Mr. McKay, we learn that there has been a recent outbreak of opposition. A report reached him at Tamsui that the chapel at Teck-Chham had been plundered. He set off at once to ascertain the facts and face the enemy. When after two days' journey he reached the spot, he soon learned that the report was true. "A party," he writes, "who hated us from the beginning, forced the door in, tore maps, broke tiles, carried away baskets, and threatened the life of the teacher in charge. There are several in prison already, but we don't know what the end will be. I know this, however, the enemy there is beginning to feel that the gospel of Jesus is a stern reality, and therefore bestir themselves to trample it under their feet, if possible, but that they cannot do, though hell should be emptied to assist them. I believe there is a day of bitter persecution in store for the Church in Formosa. Let us beseech Jehovah to help each one in darkness or sunshine, to shout, "God is our refuge and our strength, in straits a present aid."

A site for the hospital at Tamsui has not yet been secured. Almost innumerable difficulties have baffled the efforts of the missionaries up to the present time, but they hope in the end to be able to erect on some suitable site an edifice more adapted for the purpose. They have, however, rented a commodious house which they use in the meantime for an hospital and chapel. Mr. McKay preached five Sabbaths in succession in the new chapel, and the attendance was better than it has been for the past four or five years.

Mr. Junor since his arrival in Formosa has been chiefly engaged in the study of the language, but he has already been able in various ways to render effective service to the cause of the mission. He has met a very cordial welcome from Mr. McKay and his helpers, and has entered on his work with zeal and energy. Both he and Mrs. Junor are making such progress in the language as will enable them soon to communicate freely with the people. Mr. McKay writes, "You will doubtless be glad to learn that my dear colleague is getting on very well studying the language. One of the helpers is his teacher, and though necessarily there are many interruptions, Mr. Junor is making marked progress, and ere long will be proclaiming the gospel of peace in Chinese. Mrs. Junor comes every day to study the language with Mrs. McKay, and she too is making decided progress, and in due time will be able to help on the great work of our adorable Redeemer, Christ Jesus." Mr. and Mrs. Junor have sustained a severe trial since they reached Formosa, in the sudden death of their only child, an interesting boy. Early as he was taken from them, it was not before he had learned to love the Saviour and look forward joyfully to the better country. Your committee feel assured that the afflicted parents have had the hearty sympathy of the Church in their bereavement.

Dr. Ringer, who from the beginning of the mission has rendered it such generous service, has during the year continued to take charge of the hospital at Tamsui gratuitously. In the absence of the Annual Report, which has not come to hand, we cannot give details of work accomplished. But from the incidental notices which have come to hand during the year, we infer that the hospital work has kept up to its usual amount. It is to be hoped that, when a more suitable building has been secured, its usefulness will extend. To Dr. Ringer the Church is under a debt of gratitude for his long continued gratuitous services, well deserving of some special recognition. An interesting feature of the work in China which is full of promise for the future is the steps now being taken to reach the women more effectively. Five Bible Women are undergoing a training to fit them for usefulness among their sisters in Formosa. Mrs. McKay has done excellent service in leading the Chinese women to attend more largely the various gatherings and avail themselves more freely of the public means of grace. At a festive gathering held at Ton-liang-pong in December last, where some five hundred Christians were assembled, it is mentioned by Mr. Junor as a fact especially noteworthy that not fewer than one hundred women were present.

This portion of the report may be suitably closed with a few gleanings from a deeply interesting letter from Mr. McKay, of the 24th March, which arrived after this part of it was nearly completed. He writes, "the 3rd instant was a day of joy mingled with feelings of the deepest sadness to me. I finished my work of teaching the remaining five students, who have been travelling with me for the past two, three and four years. They are now helpers, waiting for openings to go forth and preach salvation through a crucified Redeemer.

Thus you see that, in all, there are twenty trained native preachers here in Northern Formosa all of whom I taught during the past seven years. In many places, and under various circumstances, I endeavoured to teach them the Bible, geography, church history, astronomy, anatomy, physiology, etc." . . . "You need not wonder that when I think of twenty trained native preachers here, I rejoice above measure, and when I think of the glorious time I had travelling with them being at an end, I feel as no words can express. God bless them for ever more!" Mr. McKay has been cheered by the baptism of a large number of members at Lun-a-teng Chapel, Saturday the 22nd of March, until noon, he spent examining the converts, Mrs. McKay also visiting them in their houses. "About mid-day Mr. and Mrs. Junor arrived by boat from Tamsui. In the evening we had a good meeting. Yesterday, converts began to assemble early in the morning, but some from a distance did not arrive until 10 or 11 o'clock a.m. All being seated, the services began, according to the plan I pursued since beginning work here. Myself and several helpers preached. Mr. Junor read a hymn and administered the ordinance of baptism. Twenty-seven were baptized, making a total of 255 members living. Judging from Mr. Junor's first attempt in public, I think it will not be long till he will be able to preach in Chinese. In the afternoon eighty persons sat down at the Lord's table."

It is little more than seven years since Mr. McKay landed in Northern Formosa, where unbroken heathenism then reigned, and when he last wrote he could report, "there are seven schools here, with about one hundred and fifty children in all studying daily. There are fifteen chapels with as many trained native preachers, proclaiming the Gospel to hundreds of hearers. There are five more trained helpers ready to go forth and unfurl the blood-stained banner of Jesus. There are two Bible women going about distributing tracts, etc. There is an hospital at Tamsui doing excellent service. Two hundred and sixty-three persons have been enrolled as members in full communion. There are eleven elders and five deacons, and about two thousand who might be called hearers." Of those baptized eight have been called to be for ever with the Lord, and eight other converts were taken away suddenly before they had been received into the fellowship of the Christian Church, but not before they had given such evidence of discipleship as to inspire the hope that for them to be absent from the body was to be present with the Lord.

III. MISSION TO CENTRAL INDIA.

The mission, for the time that it has been in operation, has been attended by an encouraging measure of success. It is still only in the initial stage of its progress. It employs, however, a great variety of agencies to make known the Gospel to the people of Central India. There has been no addition made to the Canadian labourers. Messrs. Douglas and Campbell and four young ladies have constituted the mission staff for the year at Indore and Mhow. They have, however, been aided by a goodly band of native assistants in the various departments of their work.

INDORE.

At Indore two services are held in English each week, on Sabbath and Thursday evenings. These are attended by Europeans, Eurasians, and English-speaking Hindoos and Mussulmans. At these services the chief officials from the Native States of Indore and Dhar, Dewas and Jhansar have been occasionally present. A Sabbath-school and Bible-class meet each Lord's day. Every morning a short service is held in the vernacular. The Catechists in turn with Mr. Douglas conduct the exercises. At this station there have been three baptisms during the year. "On the 2nd of March," writes Mr. Douglas, "our first communion was dispensed in the vernacular. Eleven in all communicated. It was to us a truly interesting occasion, rendered sad only by the absence of Sookanandan and Narayan Sing, who for the truth's sake are still in exile."

The villages around Indore, to the number of fifty-five, have been regularly visited, and the Gospel of Christ has been preached in them to audiences ranging from two or three up to three hundred. Advantage also has been taken of the great gatherings of the natives at their melas or fairs to make known to them the Gospel message.

A school for Christian girls was opened in June last. From the fact that they have to be clothed and fed, the number admitted is necessarily limited. It supplies a home for the children of Christian families, who in search of employment have found their way into these Native States. When able the parents pay a part or the whole of the expenses. This school is under the care of Miss Fairweather.

A school for boys has been opened in the city, which promises to do good service. The average attendance is about fifty-four. "The boys provide their own books, and write on small boards dusted with ground brick. Marathi, Hindi, and English are taught. All think aloud while swaying from side to side. It certainly has the hum of business." One interesting feature of this school is a class of Brahman gentlemen, who meet Mr. Douglas three times a week to study such books as Wayland's Elements of Moral Science, Paley's Natural Theology, and Butler's Analogy of Religion. Fourteen have joined this class, and they assure the missionary that it will increase.

The printing press is proving a powerful auxiliary here to the cause of Christ. By means of the printed page multitudes learn the message of life before they hear it from the lips of the missionary. Mr. Douglas says, "In Indore, we have a large reading population, almost entirely destitute of reading matter. The native press here has as yet produced nothing, and the pernicious literature which the West is pouring into such cities as Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, has not yet largely reached this region. Our Scripture tracts have gone into every lane of the city. They have been found in country villages a hundred miles distant. Fathers have sent them far hence by mail to their sons. In the ancient city of Oogin, we found that the priests in the temple of Kali had seen and heard them read. We were greeted on the street as 'Kitab denewala,' that is, the book-giver. They have been distributed along the line of railway. Thus thousands have had an opportunity of reading for themselves precious portions of the Word of God. The total issues of the press have been 203,906 copies, making in all 773,389 pages. Our Scripture booklets are in size 16mo., containing from ten to sixteen pages, and illustrated. We have supplied Mr. Campbell with them for his work, and sent some also to Poona and Ratlam. The thirst for them continues unabated in the city here. Many are distributed from the office to groups of respectable men, who walk from the city to receive them."

Your Committee are glad to report that Mr. Douglas, after encountering various difficulties, was able to secure suitable locations for mission buildings at Indore. He has been able to occupy in the meantime the building upon one of the properties secured, but steps will have to be taken, without much delay, to erect premises adapted to the wants of the mission. The obtaining of a permanent location for the mission must exert an important influence in giving greater stability to the work in Central India.

MHOW.

A large military cantonment is not regarded as usually a very hopeful field for missionary effort in India. The character of the camp-followers, and of the majority of Europeans, is found to exert a very unfavourable influence. Rev. J. F. Campbell has during the year had to labour on where these malign influences have had full opportunity to make themselves felt. He has not, however, been left without a measure of encouragement in his work. There have been a number of applications for baptism, but while several of them have inspired hope, Mr. Campbell has not seen his way to admit any of them into the fellowship of the Church. The only baptisms he reports are those of the child and grandchild of his catechist.

In October last, Mr. Campbell was happy in securing, through the kindness of Rev. Narayan Sheshadri, an excellent catechist who has proved a great comfort to him in his work. A school for boys with an average attendance of 31½ has been kept up, and Christian instruction has been imparted daily. Some of the boys have learnt the Scripture lessons with great accuracy, and the hope is cherished that in due time God's truth will exert its saving power in their hearts. A school for girls has also been sustained, but details concerning it have not been supplied. A Sabbath school, with an attendance ranging from 30 to 130, has also been kept up. A service in the vernacular has been conducted by Mr. Campbell and his catechists. The natives have evinced considerable interest in these services, and the attendance has ranged from twenty to seventy. Street preaching, itinerating through the surrounding villages and circulating portions of the Scripture are among the means which Mr. Campbell has employed to reach the people. Mr. Campbell calls attention to the necessity there is for more suitable mission buildings at Mhow. It is to be hoped that the liberality of the Church will supply the means at an early day to enable your Committee to provide buildings both at Indore and Mhow.

ZENANA WORK.

The ladies engaged in this department of work have found ready access to the homes of their heathen sisters. There does not appear to be any difficulty in finding more homes ready to welcome the ladies than they are able to visit regularly. Some indeed appear to be closed against them after a time, but more than they can overtake fully are still ready to receive them. Miss Fairweather reports that she has thirty-eight zenanas which are open to her. Miss McGregor reports the number which she visits as forty-nine. At Mhow, Miss Rodger visits thirty zenanas. In these one hundred and seventeen zenanas the average in each is four or five, but Miss McGregor remarks, "the average in each refers only to the members of the household, whereas it must be remembered that the dwellings are situated so very near one another, that the women from the zenanas gather in one house, making the average number of those who receive instruction weekly in each house from fifteen to twenty persons." These ladies have also all done more or less in teaching, Miss Fairweather conducting a boarding school with nine pupils at Indore, and Miss Rodger teaching the girls' school at Mhow. They have also visited a large number of villages and have had many opportunities of making known the way of salvation both to men and women who have come to converse with them.

Miss Forrester devoted herself chiefly to the acquisition of the Hindustani, but she was able to aid both in the boys' and girls' school, and also in various ways to assist Miss Rodger in her work. Your Committee have learned with much pleasure that on the 22nd February Miss Forrester was married to Rev. J. F. Campbell, and they feel assured that in her new sphere she will render not less important service to the mission cause than she would had she continued one of the regularly recognized members of the mission staff.

Your Committee had hoped to have sent during the present summer another zenana worker to Central India in the person of Miss A. Montgomery, of Charlottetown, P. E. I. This young lady having offered herself for service in India, the Committee last year, having received the highest testimony to her qualifications, very cordially agreed to accept her offer, provided suitable arrangements could be made for her employment and accommodation in India. This condition has been found more difficult to fulfil than was anticipated. Correspondence with the missionaries has failed, partly on account of the lack of suitable house accommodations to secure an opening for her immediate employment. This your Committee much regret, as it may deprive the Church of the services of one whom there is every reason to regard as specially fitted for usefulness in this department.

The following statement of the receipts and expenditure for the year deserves special attention. The prayer meeting is said to be the thermometer of the Church. Perhaps the finances of the Church's mission schemes supply a measure scarcely less accurate of the spiritual temperature.

It is not pleasant, however, to discover that the expenditure has more than kept pace with the growing income. There is now a debt upon the fund of $5,094.05. The debt reported to last Assembly was only $1,008.83. It has therefore increased $4,085.22 during the year. The increase in the debt is to a very large extent, if not entirely, only apparent. The sum of $550 due on account of China, of which the Treasurer was not advised until the accounts of last year were closed, belongs in reality to the debt of the previous year rather than to the expenditure of the year just closed. There has also been a change made in the mode of transmitting money to China, which requires payments to be provided for in advance. It is believed that the sum which appears in the statement for China will cover the normal expenditure of that mission for at least sixteen months. This alone is sufficient to account for nearly the entire increase in the debt. The purchase of mission property in India which the last Assembly directed, has also entailed a considerable outlay. It was hoped that a very considerable portion of the expense of this undertaking would have been met by special contributions. An appeal was made to the Church for donations, but the response was not such as had been hoped. Only a few donations were sent, and almost the entire expense has come out of the ordinary fund. But while these explanations show how your Committee are in debt, and indicate also that the income has been greater than the ordinary expenditure, they do not remove the disagreeable fact that at the commencement of another year the fund is in debt. It is true, that considering the manner in which this debt has been incurred, it need cause no special anxiety, but debt at the commencement of the financial year is always an element of embarrassment which the liberality of the Church should not suffer to continue.

The comparatively favourable financial statement which your Committee are able to present, is in no inconsiderable degree due to the steady growth of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Western Section. This organization is quietly extending itself over the Western Section of the Church and is doing much to evoke intelligent interest, in Foreign Mission work. At the date of its Annual Meeting, it had forty-two branches and eight mission bands for the young. Those subsidiary societies are scattered over fifteen Presbyteries. During the year this society, after meeting all expenses and leaving a balance on hand was able to pay $3,000 to the Treasurer to sustain mission work among the women and children of heathen lands. It has only been three years in existence, but its progress has been very marked. The first year it paid to the Treasurer $1,000.00, the second year $1,870.00, and the third year $3,000.00.

Your Committee were happy to learn that during the year the Woman's F. M. Society, of the Presbytery of Hamilton, which was previously a separate organization, accepted the Constitution, approved of by last General Assembly, and united with the general Society of the Western Section, and has thereby become directly auxiliary to the Foreign Mission Committee. The sum credited to the Hamilton Society in the receipts of the year is the amount paid prior to the union. Since that time its funds have gone into the treasury of the Woman's F. M. Society of the Western Section, for the support of a lady missionary in India.

Cordial acknowledgments are also due for liberal contributions received from St. Matthew's Church, Halifax; the Halifax Woman's F. M. Society; and the Woman's F. M. Society of the Presbytery of Kingston. The growing interest taken by the Christian women of the Church in carrying the knowledge of salvation to the heathen of their own sex, cannot but be regarded as a symptom full of hope for the future. It is also a very hopeful sign that labourers are offering themselves freely for foreign service. Your Committee trust that the liberality of the Church will provide the means that those devoted men and women who are offering themselves to labour among the heathen, may be sent forth on their mission of mercy.

Mr. John Wilkie, who completed his theological studies a year ago, has since been studying Medicine, in Edinburgh, with a view to qualify himself for greater usefulness in the foreign field. His offer of service was accepted by the Committee last year, and it will now be for the Assembly to say whether it is prepared to send him forth. The missions in China and India both need to be strengthened without delay. Most promising fields invite us to labour, and surely when earnest, devoted and carefully trained labourers are anxious to embark in the work the Church should be slow to withhold the means.

Your Committee have drawn up a series of Regulations for the conducting of the Mission in Central India which they trust will aid in the harmonious and orderly prosecution of the work. In preparing them they have been guided largely by the experience of other bodies, which are prosecuting Missionary work in the same field. Time may show the necessity of minor modifications in these rules: but your Committee do not anticipate that any very radical change is likely to be required. A copy of these regulations which have been adopted ad interim will be found appended to this report.

All of which is respectfully submitted, by

WM. McLAREN, Convener.

REGULATIONS FOR MISSIONS IN CENTRAL INDIA, ADOPTED, "AD INTERIM," BY THE FOREIGN MISSION COMMITTEE (WESTERN SECTION) OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA, APRIL 4TH, 1879.

I. Until such time as the Presbytery can be established, the male Missionaries shall be instructed to meet as a Council, quarterly at least, and consult in reference to the work of the Mission; and they shall also assume the general oversight and direction of the work, subject to the directions of the General Assembly's Committee.

II. Until there are three or more Missionaries in the field, the ordained Missionaries shall preside alternately, each for a period of one year. The Rev. J. M. Douglas shall be the first President. After three or more Missionaries are in the field, they shall elect their own President annually, in such manner as they may see fit.

III. The Committee will regard the Council as charged with special responsibility for the expenditure of the funds remitted by the Treasurer or Agent of the Church, or received in the field for the use of Missionaries,—it being understood that the salaries of Missionaries shall be paid at the par rate of sterling exchange, and also that the salaries of Canadian Missionaries shall be subject to the current rate of exchange in India; and the Committee will require the Council's recommendation of all estimates and expenses before giving its approval to them.

IV. The Committee shall designate Missionaries to particular fields of labour; and if, in the progress of the work, a change is deemed desirable, it may be determined by the Council, subject to the approval of the Home Committee.

V. All itineraries or district work shall be determined by the Mission Council, and all expenses thereby entailed, over and above the Missionary's average home expenditure, shall be borne by the Mission.

VI. No individual Missionary shall incur, in schemes of work, an expenditure exceeding $50 per annum.

VII. The Mission Council shall nominate a Treasurer for appointment by the Assembly's Committee, who shall carefully preserve all deeds of Mission property and other legal papers not transmitted to the Committee; receive monies from the Treasurer or Agent of the Church and from other sources, for Missionary purposes; pay the salaries of the Missionaries at the end of each month or at such other stated period as the Council shall determine; and defray the regular expenses of the Committee, and in no case exceeding them without its approval. He is expected to keep, in books procured at Mission expense, clear and correct account of all receipts and payments and to have vouchers of the latter; his books must be open to the inspection of the other members, or to any one of them, at any time; his accounts must be audited by a Committee of two members of the Mission appointed each year for this purpose; and a report of all receipts and payments must be made to the Treasurer or Agent of the Church yearly, or more frequently if desired, with a balance sheet, clearly exhibiting the condition of the Mission Treasury. Neither the Treasurer nor any member of a Mission may draw on the Treasurer or Agent of the Church for funds, without first receiving permission, formally expressed.

VIII. All agents employed in the Mission shall be paid from the Treasury of the Foreign Mission Committee, and the names of native agents who may be supported by Congregations or Sabbath Schools, shall be furnished to said Committee from time to time by the Mission Council.

IX. The Mission Council shall prepare, at the end of the year, a general report of missionary work, to be sent to the Committee in the first week in January. Each Missionary is requested to prepare also a personal narrative of his labours during the year, with any statement of his own views of the missionary work, or of the Lord's dealings with him, which he may think proper to give; this narrative, in the form of a letter, should be sent to the Convener of the Assembly's Foreign Mission Committee, early in January. All communications of the nature of complaints, or proposals requiring immediate action on the part of the Assembly's Committee, shall be transmitted through the Mission Council.

X. At the end of one year after the arrival of a missionary in the field, the Mission Council is requested to make a report to the Committee in regard to his knowledge of the native language and his skill in the practical use of it. The ability to write and speak the native language well, is an indispensable qualification for missionary work, without which no one can expect to continue in the service of the Committee.

XI. The Mission Council shall prepare, at the end of each year, a careful estimate of the probable necessary expenses of its work for the year ensuing, specifying the different objects in detail, to be forwarded to the Committee the first week of January. When there is more than one station in a mission, each station shall prepare its estimates, to be submitted for examination and approval by the Mission Council at its annual meeting. It is the desire of the Committee that the estimates should be so complete as to preclude special application to Churches, Sabbath Schools, or Associations, for objects not specified in them. No missionary should apply to the Committee for funds for mission work without first conferring with the Mission Council. When these Mission estimates have been approved by the Committee, they govern the expenditure of the year, and must not be exceeded. If special cases arise, calling for new expenditure, they should be made matters of correspondence with the Committee, except when funds are provided from other sources than the treasury of the Church, such as the donations of Christian friends at the station or from other sources, as those referred to in the next paragraph.

XII. The object of missionary life must ever be held sacred, that of "preaching Christ and Him crucified;" but if, without turning aside from this object, missionaries should be temporarily led, by Providential circumstances, with the consent of their brethren in the Mission and the approval of the Committee, to engage in work that brings to them pecuniary remuneration, the money so received shall be turned over to the treasury of the Mission, to be used as local funds under its direction, and to be reported to the Committee. In such cases the missionaries will continue to draw their usual salaries from the Committee.

XIII. The salary of a missionary, although varying in different countries, according to the expense of living, is fixed on the principle of giving only a comfortable support to the missionaries while they continue in the service of the Committee, in the mission field and work. Usually a house is provided or house rent paid; a salary to a married man, and an allowance to each child under eighteen years of age; two-thirds of the salary of a married man to one unmarried; and to single women, such salary as may be agreed upon after conference with the Mission Council. The salary in every case begins on the missionary's arrival at his station, and ends when he leaves it on his return to the country from which he was designated, or on connection with the Committee being terminated. Provision for missionaries on visits to Canada, or for a missionary remaining at his post while his wife returns to Canada, will be made from time to time as the Committee may consider equitable.

XIV. All female missionaries employed in zenana work shall be subject to the above regulations; and the Council shall consult them in all matters pertaining to their work.

XV. The Council shall prepare and submit to the Assembly's Committee for approval, a fixed scale of payment for all Native Agency uniform with other missionary societies in the field, which shall be framed with a reference to individual attainments and adaptation for the work.

XVI. The Mission Council is authorized to submit to the Assembly's Committee any alterations or additions to the above regulations which experience or the progress of the work may demand.
